The Norwich, always the tit-bit at Plymouth, appears to me to be getting bigger than formerly, and the judge laid particular stress on the value of head, giving it the full 15 points. Quite right, too; but there's just a bit more than a suspicion of browing on some of the big headed 'uns. Down Cornwall way they appear to have lost head somewhat, many good birds from "down along o' wee" failing in this respect. Mr. Phillips Novice CAGE BIRDS Diploma winner, for instance, had almost a perfect body, but was too small on top. Messrs. Symons Bros., so well-known for years as Crest exhibitors, appear to have deserted their old love and taken up the Plainheads. And what a stormer their winning Clear Yellow is; no weakness in head here. But just fancy such keen and experienced fanciers losing both CAGE BIRDS Champion Coupon 10s. prize and Sandiford's medal because they did not enter for same. Mr. Spillman had somewhat hard lines in Clear and Ticked Buffs, his exhibit managing to get its hind claw fixed around its leg, thereby crippling it, so that it could hardly grasp its perch, which no doubt accounted for its cardless postion.

Cinnamons were the best seen in Plymouth for many years, and I hear of several young fanciers taking up the breed; there is plenty of scope for them, and maybe some other Western shows, with increased support likely, will rescue this variety from the indignity of competing in the A.O.V. class and give them a class of their own. Mr. Dyer's name was missed this year, but I hear that owing to leaving the town last Saturday he sold out, but he is back again now and next year I expect to see him again stage winners.

The Borders were new to Plymouth, so new that I heard several well-known fanciers asking what were the points of the "little beggars," and venturing the opinion that new cage fronts would be necessary in their rooms if they decided to take up the "wee gems." There are many fanciers in the West whom I have heard express a distaste for colour feeding and who say their pocket is not long enough to buy Crests. Now's their chance; keep Borders and join the S.B.F.C.

Mules were very good, but it seems difficut to get a good lot of British at Plymouth; too early say most fanciers. There are lots of good Britishers in Cornwall but they don't show them in any number at Plymouth, and the extended classification given in the past has been a failure.

In conversation with fanciers I heard several express regret that so many Cornish shows confine themselves to that county only; they won't give Plymouth men a chance. Where's your Cornish pluck? I have heard of dog fanciers taking a house at Saltash just across the Tamar in order to qualify for confined shows in Cornwall. What do the Devonshire cage bird men think of this suggestion?

Bird-Keeping "Wholesome and Pleasant": A Well-known Author's Views.

Notes by the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE.

One of the most interesting functions of recent date was the dinner of the Authors' Club, at 2, Whitehall Court, on the 20th inst. The chairman, Mr. S. L. Bensusan, in proposing the toast of the evening, took occasion to allude to the benefits which have accrued to the community as a result of the scientific work of Dr. Mitchell, the distinguished sec. of the Royal Zoological Society. He said that Dr. Mitchell was one who "approached the vexed question of our relations with beast and bird in a fashion that is sane, kindly, and withal free from the excess of illogical sentimentality that has become the vogue of late years."

Mr. Bensusan said he had himself "in a modest fashion made certain attempts to tame beasts and birds, and keep some, chiefly birds, in a captivity that has, I believe, been wholesome and pleasant," and went on to give some entertaining accounts of his tame Ravens and other birds.

Dr. Chalmers Mitchell in his address spoke, among other things, of the enormous number of species of animals and birds known to science. He said that upwards of a million species of living animals had been described; 16,000 different kinds of mammals were known and about 200,000 different kinds of birds.

"If we get animals or birds," said Dr. Mitchell, "sufficiently young, we find that they have not yet acquired the fear of man, and it is perfectly easy to get them to like us and transfer to ourselves the devotion they would naturally give to their own parents . . . . . finding they have safety and protection, we can do what we like with them."

A full report of the proceedings appeared in the daily papers of the 21st inst., and it is to be hoped that many of the subscribers to the sentimentalist journals, which are so free with their unwarranted condemnation of the keeping in captivity of any kind of animal, and birds in particular, will ponder over the sound sense of the remarks made at the function.

A New Local Hon. Sec.

I have this week the pleasure of announcing an addition to our list of local hon. secs. in the person of Mr. C. H. Hill, Wiveliscombe, joint hon. sec. of the Wiveliscombe and Dist. F.A. Mr. Hill has a number of our leaflets setting forth the Aims and Objects of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE, and will be pleased to supply them to his fellow members of the Wiveliscombe F.A., or to anyone else making application.

CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE is an organisation of bird keepers and bird-lovers, banded together in mutual interest to promote good-fellowship and union, to inculcate the principles of humane cage bird keeping, and to protect the hobby against unjustifiable interference.

Leaflets setting forth the aims and objects of the LEAGUE will be forwarded, post free, to any reader upon application.

TERMS OF MEMBERSHIP.

ORDINARY MEMBERS shall pay an annual subscription of Two Shillings and Sixpence.

JUNIOR MEMBERS.—Members under the age of fourteen years at the date of joining shall pay an annual subscription of One Shilling.

VICE PRESIDENTS.—An annual subscription of not less than Half-a-Guinea shall constitute the subscriber a Vice President.

154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

How to become an Associate.

Many readers of CAGE BIRDS have written to say that they would like to join CAGE BIRDS' LEAGUE, but cannot afford the subscription. To meet their wishes we have decided to form, in connection with the LEAGUE, a body of Associates. All we ask of these Associates is that they will promise to give every possible attention to the wants of their birds. And they must induce others to see that their birds are kept happy and contented.

All that the intending Associate has to do is either to sign the coupon herewith, and send the same, together with sevenpence, or to get five of his or her friends to sign each a similar coupon, and send the six, together with a penny stamp, to the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE, who will forward by return an enamelled Button Badge of the LEAGUE. There will be no other charge. NOW, THEN, BIRD LOVERS!—USE YOUR BEST EFFORTS IN THIS SPLENDID CAUSE.

THE BIRD LOVER'S PLEDGE.

I hereby promise to take every care of my feathered pets and to induce others to do the same

DON'T FORGET OUR £200 PRIZES

Exhibitors, Secure Your Share at Once. You Have Only to Stick a Sixpenny Coupon on Your Entry Form.

BY the time this issue is in the hands of our readers, all diplomas of honour won up to and including last Saturday's shows (Oct. 25) will be in the hands of the fortunate winners, with just one or two exceptions, where some question concerning them remains to be cleared up. The secretary's list for Perth show, however, has not come to hand up to time of penning these lines. We shall be glad if anyone who has been overlooked (or those who may think they are entitled to diplomas at one or other of our coupon shows) will write us at once, giving full details of their claims.

In our next issue we hope to be able to publish a complete list to date of winners of our diplomas and 10s. cash specials. Many of the cash specials have now been dispatched, and those remaining over will leave as soon as the official lists of winners reach us from the various secretaries. We shall be glad if the latter will let us have their official lists at once, duly signed by themselves as being correct according to the judges' slips. In a few cases we have received protests that novice winners of our cash specials are not eligible—i.e., that they are not novices under the terms of our published novice definition; in other cases the winners have had to be revised owing to rule 7 having been contravened. In view of these facts, to safeguard ourselves we shall have to make it a rule that the cash specials will not be paid out until 14 days after the winners' names have been published in our columns. This will allow time for protests, if any, to be lodged and duly sifted and decided.

THE NEXT COUPON SHOWS.

How Exhibitors May Enter,

All who intend entering Coupon birds at these shows must do so under these conditions:—CAGE BIRDS offers the following Championship Competition prizes:—

10s. cash for best champion coupon bird.
10s. cash for best novice coupon bird.
Diplomas of honour for the best champion and the best novice coupon birds in each of the following sections; or in as many of these sections as are included in the classification:—

(1) Yorkshire Canaries.
(2) Norwich.
(3) Crests & Crestbreds.
(4) Border Fancies.
(5) Scotch Fancies and Belgians.
(6) Greens.
(7) Lancs. and Lizards.
(8) Any Other Variety Canary.
(9) Mules & Hybrids.
(10) British, Hardbilled.
(11) British, Softbilled.
(12) Foreign.

All the exhibitor has to do is to stick one of CAGE BIRDS Coupons on his entry form and write "C.B." opposite each bird he wishes to compete; except if a novice, when he must write "C.B. Novice."

Coupons, price 6d. each, may be purchased from the offices of CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C., or, if the time is short, enclose the necessary extra cash with your entry fees to the secretary of the show, and he will affix coupons opposite whichever birds you have marked on your entry form. Every coupon is numbered and a record of it kept at CAGE BIRDS offices.

NOTE CAREFULLY.—A coupon must be affixed to the entry form opposite every bird intended to compete in this Championship Competition. Any number of coupon birds may be entered by any exhibitor, either in one section or in several, as may be desired, so long as a coupon is used for each bird. For every coupon bird, of course, the usual entry fee must be paid to the show officials. Entries in CAGE BIRDS Championship Competition are accepted only on the understanding that the governing rules as published in CAGE BIRDS are to be absolutely final and legally binding.

Anyone in doubt upon any point concerning the scheme should write at once.—The Editor, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

A Brief Outline of the Scheme.

The main idea of CAGE BIRDS Championship Competition is to discover which are the Twelve Best Champion Birds and the Twelve best Novice Birds of the Season. The Competition is in progress at over 80 shows (see list appended), which cover every quarter of the United Kingdom.

TWO PRIZES OF 10S. EACH, one for novices and one for champion (under certain stipulations), at each accepted Coupon Show.

TWENTY-FOUR DIPLOMAS OF HONOUR, in addition, at each Coupon Show, 12 for Champion exhibitors, and 12 for Novice exhibitors, for the best Champion Coupon Bird and best Novice Coupon Bird in each of the 12 sections mentioned above.

The winner of any one of the foregoing diplomas will have the right to compete with not more than four birds, on payment to the Palace Show Authorities of the usual entry fee, in our final championship competition at the Crystal Palace Show of 1914.

FIRST PRIZE, £3;
SECOND PRIZE, £2;
THIRD PRIZE, £1.
FOURTH PRIZE, 10s.

The following cash prizes will also be offered for competition at the Crystal Palace Show:—£10 10s. for the best Coupon bird exhibited in the Champion classes in the above twelve sections; £10 10s. for the best Coupon bird shown by a novice other than the winner in the Champion Section. We shall also offer A TEN GUINEA CHALLENGE SHIELD, to be won three times in succession, for the best bird at the Crystal Palace Show entered in our Competition.

A full list of the Coupon Shows appeared in our issue of last week; also the rules of the Competition.

Singing Contests.

LEEDS.

Open contest for quality Linnet singing held "King's Head," Shannon Street, Oct. 25, when 14 birds sung. 1, 2, S. Hardcastle; 3, H. Wigfield. Oct. 26, 19 birds sung. 1, B. Gummersal; 2, T. Stead; 3, shared by S. Hardcastle and T. Stead. Judges, A. Jennings, W. Naylor, and J. Mellia.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

CASTLEFORD.

Weekly Linnet contest at "George and Dragon," Bridge Street, Oct. 26, when there were 27 birds entered. Winners were: 1, W. Nelson; 2, J. Wallace; 3, J. Wainwright. On Oct. 26, there were 15 birds entered. Winners: 1, W. Nelson; 2, J. Wainwright; 3, S. Morley. General meeting on Sunday night next, Nov. 2, at 7 p.m.—J. Brindley, Sec. (Please write on one side of paper only.—Ed.)

PENDLEBURY.

Linnet Club meeting, held Butchers' Arms, Union Street, Oct. 26. Officers for forthcoming season: President, J. Syddall; vice-president, J. H. Dixon; chairman, E. Wynn; sec., E. Hickman; assistant sec., J. Hodgkiss; committee, Messrs. E. Rothwell, J. Green, G. Bate, J. Caswell, A. Marshall. New member, Charles Harrison First contest, Nov. 1st; for time; first pair in window at 2.45 prompt. Hoping to see all members present.—E. Hickman, Sec.

PENTONVILLE.

During the last fortnight we have had some very nice singing, both Linnets and Chaffinches. On Oct. 25 two Chaffinches met, the winner doing 12 score 4, and the 2nd 9, score 19. On Oct. 26 there were several trials with Linnets. We are starting Linnet singing Monday nights, which will help fanciers to get their birds ready for the Christmas prizes. Hoping to see as many old fanciers as possible. Timekeeper, F. Hughes.—Tony Moore, Robin Hood, Southampton Street, Pentonville. (Please write only on one side of the paper.—Ed.)

Questions and Answers.

DOUBTS AND DIFFICULTIES SOLVED BY SPECIALISTS

Queries will be answered under the following conditions:

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and must comrade with either the correct name of querist or a pseudonym, or initials.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query. In no case must the address appear on the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must not be written on the same sheet of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated in bold letters on the left hand corner of the query.

(6)—If an answer in the same week's issue is desired, queries must be posted to reach us by Monday's first post at latest. Queries will be dealt with in the order in which they are received, and only as space permits. The earlier queries are received the better attention they are likely to have.

(7)—Queries relating to illnesses of birds, except enquiries as to cause of death (for which see Post Mortems) will be answered by return of post on receipt of a postal order for sixpence and an addressed stamped envelope. Queries of an ordinary nature will be answered by post, if desired, on receipt of a postal order for one shilling and a stamped addressed envelope.

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence, otherwise their letters will not receive attention. All the fees received from this source will be handed over in full to the "Referee's" Poor Childrens' Fund (London).

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Only queries so sent will be answered. Postcards are not admissible.

THE following gentlemen represent CAGE BIRDS staff of ADVISORY EXPERTS. Queries must in no case be addressed to any of them individually, but to the Editor.

Canaries.—Claude St. John. Mules and Hybrids—H. Norman. British Birds—H. J. Fulljames. Foreign Birds Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Wild Bird Life—H. Norman.

NOTE.—If an answer is required concerning the proper mating, etc., of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Cinnamons, Greens, Borders, Lizards, Scotch or any other variety of the Canary family, we shall, should the querist desire us to do so, be pleased to submit his questions for answer to some leading specialist of the day on the variety concerned.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

SWELLING ON NECK. (W. M.) — Thanks for sketch showing position of swelling. It is hardly possible to be definite even now, as the position is very apt to be the site of an emphysematous air-sac. But judging from the evident pain and discomfiture of this later stage I have no doubt the swelling is an abcess. At the stage it has now reached, the best thing is to prick it and gently press out the contents, and then bathe and cleanse well with warm water, in a saucerful of which you have mixed a teaspoonful of extract of Wych Hazel. Afterwards anoint place daily for a few days with zinc ointment. If the bird is a valuable one, I would advise you to get a veterinary, or your medical man, if friendly disposed, to open and cleanse the abcess in the first instance.

THE MYSTERY OF SEX. (Ignorance)—(1) Really, the only good or rational method of determining the sex of Canaries is to study and observe closely birds of known sex, and also young growing birds, keeping the latter under observation until they show unmistakable signs of sex. In a word(experience is the only reliable guide, and with the growth of experience the ability to judge the sex of a given bird will develop. Did not you see the multitude of opinions in this matter published in our columns not long ago. For a novice the full, unbroken, lusty singing, and pulsation of the throat, are the best guides to the male sex. The hen should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Buttye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Dr. Creswell's "Hygiene of Bird-keeping" (1/1); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each) No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London E.C.

looks softer, has a less graceful sweep of outline on the under surface, is pale on rump, throat, and wing-butts, and has a more harsh "tweet." All differences are very trivial, and comparative only. (2) Yes, it is just possible for a hen to be a fairly good singer. But as a rule they rarely get beyond a little twittering, and in all cases such hens are the exception to the usual rule. (3) A cock Goldie and hen Canary may agree together in a single breeding cage through the winter. Still, it depends upon the individuals, and only the actual test can settle the point.

BREED FOR PROFIT. (Bee, Leeds.) — Unquestionably, without experience in the breeding and management of high-class stock, the Roller, for breeding songsters, is the most suitable breed you can start with. Get strong, healthy birds, sound in "wind," alert, and active, and the cocks and hens unrelated, or, at least, not closely related, as they may with advantage be of the same strain. Given these qualities it matters nothing whether they are English or German bred. If, however, the room you intend to breed in is a cold one you should endeavour to get only birds which have been bred and kept in a normal temperature. It is not advisable to keep trained Rollers in the same room as Linnets, Goldfinches, and Parrots. In such circumstances the song is very liable to deteriorate.

WHICH ROLLER. (J. C.)—Taken as a whole there is nothing whatever to choose between the St. Andreasberg Roller and the one of which you sent advert. Both are very good, and a well-trained bird of either name should prove very satisfactory as a general songster. It is rather early yet for the best trained birds to be in the market. Wait another month, and then try one of the birds of which you sent advert., by depositing cash with the Editor, and having bird on approval as offered. You will then be able to hear it sing before closing the deal, and should quite satisfy yourself. If you do not like the song of bird sent return it within the specified time, explain what it is you do not like about its song, when the dealer will exchanged it, and doubtless suit your taste with the next.

SLOWLY DYING. (Anxious) I'm afraid your idea that the bird is about joining the great majority is not unfounded. It appears to be in a bad way, but you give no clue whatever to your method of feeding, or where you keep the bird, which might have helped me to discover the cause of its condition, and hence given a probable cure for it. Keep the bird in a box cage in a comfortable and equable temperature, free from cold draughts or the heated fumes from burning lights in the evenings, and do not hang it high up near the ceiling. See that cage is kept free from red mites; give a staple diet of plain canary seed only. Every second day give separately a small teaspoonful of scalded rape, and on the alternate days a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with maw seed. Give a pinch of mixed seed twice a week, and a spray of watercress four times weekly. Add to the water 20 drops of whiskey and five each of tinctures of calumba and gentian daily for a week. Bathe the eyes daily for a few minutes for a few days in a lukewarm solution of boracic acid—a small teaspoonful of acid in a saucerful of warm water.

WHEEZING AND PANTING. (W. G. G.)—Have you only had these birds lately? If so, it is not unlikely they have hitherto been accustomed to a warmer room than you now keep them in, and in that case it would be advisable to keep them in a room with a fire for a time and acclimatise them gradually. Do not, however, keep them near the fire. A cosy corner some distance away from fireplace will be more equable. If they are not recently acquired see that the situation is free from damp, and rapid extremes of heat and cold, as may be the case if the birds hang near or in a window even though the room has no fires. Also see that they are not exposed to cold draughts when, maybe, the window is opened to air the room. Having attended to these points give each bird in addition to the staple dict a morsel of bread and milk with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw every second day for a fortnight, and on the alternate days a spray of green food. In the drinking water add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much sulphate of soda as will cover a sixpence every second day for a week, and for a fortnight afterwards give the chlorodyne mixture advised "Crest" in last issue every second day. If not well by that time write again and refer to this reply.

ALMOST BARE. (Geo. Wright)—You have missed any reference to the most important point as to when the bird commenced to lose its feathers. If it is only recently I do not suppose there is anything at all wrong with the bird except that the moult is taking a very rapid course, which is an advantage rather than otherwise, provided you are careful to protect the bird from cold draughts, and throw a light cover over its cage whilst it is so bare. If this is the case the feathers will quickly re-appear, and the plumage will be perfect again a few weeks hence. If the loss has been going on gradually for some time, keep the bird in a fairly warm and equable temperature; allow it to bathe when it desires, and feed as advised to "Anxious" in this issue, but for first fortnight slightly dust the bread and milk with flour of sulphur each time before adding the maw. During this period add to the drinking water on the days which the bread and milk is omitted 20 drops of whiskey, five of syrup of saffron, and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence.

BARE ON HEAD. (J. McC.)—Possibly the sparsely feathered breast may be a natural defect, which is not uncommon among closely in-bred birds, or birds bred from double-yellows too long. If this is the case nothing yo ucan do will remedy it. You can only try to avoid it in the offspring by mating the bird with a dense profusely feathered buff, preferably one bred from double-buffs, and with lots of feather in its pedigree. It is probable that the bareness on the head was only temporary, and may be disappearing by this time. If there is no sign yet of new feathers appearing treat the bird for a fortnight as advised to "Geo. Wright" in this issue, and slightly moisten the bare skin where feathers should grow twice each week with carbonised vaseline.

AN IMPROVEMENT. (Canadian Reader)—Thanks, glad to hear that the bird has made some progress already under the treatment advised. To completely cure the wheezing, that is, if it is still curable, you should continue the treatment for a fortnight, then omit it for a week, treat again for a fortnight, and omit it for another week, and so on until the wheeziness is entirely eliminated. You should always repeat particulars when writing. I have forgotten whether this bird had moulted previously this season or not. If it has not, encourage this moult by warmth, and get it through as quickly and completely as you can. I am also doubtful what you refer to as Dr. Bowe's paste, as I have not "Our Canaries" handy to look it up. If it is the paste advised to "Novice" last week I must plead guilty to inventing it myself. It would help to bring the bird in full song, but would also tend to check the moult, so if you want to moult the bird quickly you should cease giving it until the moult is finished.

VARIOUS ("Guy Mannering").—(1) A staple diet of plain canary is best for regular use. Supplement this with half a teaspoonful of summer rape every second or third day, giving any other extras on the intervening days. For a seed mixture for occasional use and to bring bird in high condition for show, mix together two parts each of hemp and niger, one part each millet, teazle, and black rape, half part each linseed and broken groats, and a quarter part each maw, gold of pleasure, and sesame. All parts are by measure. (2) To tighten up plumage, give a little egg food every second day for, say, a week, on the alternate days half a teaspoonful of the above mixture, and add five drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of calumba, and dilute sulphuric acid to the water for a day or two. Allow bird to bathe freely. (3) If birds are in normal healthy condition, a staple of plain canary with a pinch of rape every second day, is quite sufficient to keep them up to show form. If necessary, treat as in No. 2 for a week or so prior to being shown. (4) To pull this hen together for an early show, keep her in a comfortable temperature, but do not overdo it; free from draughts and impure air; feed as in No. 2; and add 12 drops of syrup of buckthorn to the drinking water for three consecutive days. After this give 20 drops of whisky, five each of ipecac. wine and oxymel of squills, and two of eucalyptus oil, every second day for a week. Shake well together. On the alternate days give the gentian mixture named in No. 2. Offer the bath for a few minutes on nice mild days, but do not try to force it upon her.

PLAIN OR MIXED (Paul).—For regular use a plain canary seed diet, or at most a mixture of three parts canary to one part rape is undoubtedly the best for Canaries. It is also more economical, because the birds are not induced to scatter it about to find the seeds they are most fond of. See reply No. 1 to "Guy Mannering," and for staple diet either give the canary and rape separately as therein advised, or, if more convenient, give these two seeds mixed as mentioned above. In either case give, in addition, half a teaspoonful of the seed mixture named in that reply twice a week; on one other day each week a morsel of bread and milk or a small teaspoonful of egg and biscuit food; and a spray of green food three or four times a week. In winter, when green salads are not up for use, substitute a morsel of sweet fruit of some kind. See British Bird replies for answer to other query, which should have been written on a separate piece of paper.

AN OUTSIDE AVIARY (Mrs. Lamb).—I really cannot tell whether your outside aviary will require warming during the winter without some idea of its size, structure, and position. I can only say that given Canaries which have been bred and kept in a normal temperature, they are quite capable of living outdoors all the year round without any artificial heat whatever. You had better let the appearance of the birds be your guide. As regards feeding in such circumstances, give an unlimited supply of Canary and rape in separate vessels, and in addition give a little of the seed mixture mentioned in reply to "Guy Mannering," No. 1, every second day, and twice a week a little egg food, allowing a small teaspoonful per bird in each case. Should the weather be severe you may give the mixed seed daily for the time being, and also double the proportion of broken groats in it. Do not give green food when saturated with moisture from rain, snow, etc., nor when frost is about. Substitute a little sweet fruit at such times, or omit the item altogether. There is no necessity for giving warm food or water.

A DAMAGED EYE (W. M.).—Make a decoction of poppy heads, which you can get at any chemist's, by breaking up one or two heads, according to size, in a breakfast cup, filling with boiling water, and allowing to stand, covered, beside the fire for an hour or so. When cold, strain, and stir in until dissolved a small teaspoonful of boracic acid. Bathe the eye with this morning and evening for a few minutes until all inflammation has disappeared. Use a little fresh liquor each time of bathing. After bathing, gently dry off the surplus moisture and smear the tiniest scrap of boracic ointment over the eyelid. The sight may be there all right and resume its functions when the inflammation is removed, but even if the sight is destroyed, there is no reason why you should not breed with the bird next season if she is otherwise in good health and condition.

SWOLLEN FEET (W. E.).—I fancy your bird is troubled with a complaint which is rather rare in this country, though common enough in some places abroad. Try the following for two or three weeks, and then report result, and if necessary I will advise you further:—Keep cage floor and perches as clean as possible, but do not grease the perches. Catch the bird and bathe the feet for a few minutes each day in a lukewarm solution of wych hazel—a teaspoonful of the extract of wych hazel mixed in a saucerful of warm water. Whilst bathing, use a small camel hair pencil and cleanse the toes as clean as possible. Dry gently and anoint the feet all over with Lanocyllin. If there is now any festering spot, touch it with a drop of the strong extract after bathing, and allow it to dry on before anointing. Do not leave surplus grease about the feet, as it will only collect dirt and cause it to adhere to them.

BREED FOR OUTDOOR AVIARY (R. G. R.).—It depends entirely upon the structure and position of your aviary and bird room whether, or what variety of Canary, you could keep for pleasure and profit. The place is a very nice size, and if it is substantially built, so that it is not subject to excessive fluctuation of heat and cold; is properly ventilated; and in a fairly sheltered position, you could successfully keep practically any variety you choose, provided only you took the precaution to stock in the first instance with birds bred and kept under normal conditions. If you have not had experience in breeding pure-bred varieties, the best bird for you to begin with is the Roller, as you will generally find a ready sale for the young cocks as songsters, and the hens you should clear out as feeders—that is, those you do not want to breed with yourself—and thereby reduce your expenses, and increase your chances of making a fair profit. You do not say whether you want to breed in cages or with birds flying loose, so I cannot say how many you should start with. It will be best not to turn out the birds until spring, and meantime, if you will write again and give full particulars about your aviary, and how you want to breed with the birds, I will give you a more definite reply.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS.

Answered by H. NORMAN.

COLOUR FOR SHOW CAGES (A. Williams).—There is no colour so suitable as green for the inside of show cages for the majority of British birds. This colour is used in various shades to suit the taste of the many exhibitors. If you get a nice fresh laurel leaf and match it in tone, as near as you possibly can, you will find it will suit the Finches you mention admirably. Paint the interior of the cage with it, also the front bars. Do not make the mistake of having them black, they cut too sharply against the bird.

BRITISH BIRDS DYING OFF (Keadeen).—I am exceedingly sorry to hear of your losses, but I fancy if you had thought the matter out carefully you would have been able to do better with them. You say: "The only specimens to recover were those willing to feed on teasel seed alone." This should have given you the clue as to what suited freshly-caught birds. This seed is a very valuable one, and for freshly-caught birds cannot be dispensed with. Send your next consignment in the following manner. Procure some good sound hemp, pay a good price for it, and see that you have the best; many birds are lost through neglecting this precaution. Give them some of this, also canary, teasel, linseed, niger, and sunflower. Crush them all, giving the hemp fresh daily. In a separate vessel give some soaked teasel. Keep them well supplied with this at first, gradually diminishing it. Do the same with the niger until you feel you are safe in withholding it almost entirely. Watch your birds carefully, and if they prefer any particular seed let them have it, especially at first. Your object should be to keep them alive, and gradually wean them on to what one might call a rational diet. Let the drinking water be boiled before giving it to the birds. When they have been caged about a week, if looking fairly well, give them four drops of dandelion juice in the water. This will regulate the bowels, and correct any irregularity caused through change of diet.

HYBRID BREEDING WITH BULLFINCH (John D. Crawford.—The reason the Bullfinch cock is not used for hybrid breeding is because he is practically useless when in a state of captivity. He has been known to breed with a hen Bullie, but the occasions have been so rare that hybrid breeders, who have so much to contend with, will not persevere with him. They prefer to use the hen, which is, without doubt, one of our most valuable assets in hybrid production. Of course, if you could manage to get fertile eggs from, say, a cock Bullie and hen Linnet or Goldie, you would probably have young hybrids that would "lick creation," and make a name for yourself, besides filling your pockets with golden coins of the realm. The Bullfinch cock has never been used successfully for hybrid breeding, although, I believe, it was reported some years ago that one had bred with a Canary, but the evidence was not strong enough to confirm it.

MOULTING HYBRID (M. J. C.).—I gather from your letter that your Goldie-Canary is quite healthy but moulting rather slowly. Unless you require him for exhibition, why hurry him? You can do so by covering his cage almost entirely with paper or cloth and dissolving a little saltron in brandy or whisky, and giving him twenty drops of it in the drinking water; this should keep him going, but be careful when you uncover him that he does not take cold, uncover a little at a time. You say nothing about colour food, so I presume you are allowing him to moult out his natural colour, consequently the blaze will be yellow; this will deepen in tint, but never become so rich as it would do if properly colour-fed. The yellow feathers you mention as now just showing on the head are the commencement of the blaze; these will be a bit richer by the time he is quite through with the moult. Give him a spoonful of hemp, maw, and teazel seeds twice a week, and a few sunflower seeds every day.

TROUBLE WITH NIGHTINGALE (Enquirer).—There cannot be very much the matter with your Gale if he is in song, as these birds are not very general singers when in captivity. I think he is suffering from indigestion, and possibly the mealworms are the cause of it. The skins of these are very indigestible, and if a bird is allowed too many of them or has been at all improperly fed, they are very likely to upset him. Your insectile mixture should be the very best obtainable, and it should be mixed with scraped raw carrot; this will correct the constipation. Reduce the number of mealworms, and, if obtainable, give gentles, flies, spiders, or any soft skinned insects you can lay your hands on. Failing these, try him with a little scraped raw lean beef or mutton. See that it is properly fresh, and not the slightest bit tainted to the smell. Let him bathe frequently, and put him in the very largest cage you possess. With this treatment he should improve, and be fit for exhibition.

AVIARY MATTERS (A. M.).—With careful feeding and attention in cleaning there is no reason why you should not keep in your 18ft. aviary all the birds you mention, but you would only be able to keep them as pets, to be looked at; it would be too crowded to expect any success in breeding. You might, even with all these birds in, have a pair or two go to nest, build, and lay; they may even commence incubation, but some fine morning the eggs would probably be thrown to the ground, and the nest pulled to pieces by some of the other inmates. This will sometimes happen even in fairly large aviaries with just a few pairs in it, but, as a rule, the less birds you have the more hope of success. If you are anxious that some of them should nest I would advise you to reduce the numbers. You might, for instance, leave out the Siskins, as being exceptionally mischievous, the Chaffinches, the cock Bramble, and the cock Yellow Bunting. Unattached birds in an aviary are a nuisance, for ever interfering with the quiet orderly ones. A good deal also depends upon your management. Let the cock and hen fly together in an ordinary breeding cage for two or three weeks before introducing them into the aviary. When first put in the place will be strange to them, so will the old inmates, and, consequently, they will most likely seek each others company, which is the very thing you want. When the spring comes round, if you notice any bird that is rather too fond of his own company, and takes no notice of his intended partner, you had better remove him, or catch him up and cage him with the lady until there is some sign of them being "chummy," and it is as well to follow out this method if you see two cock birds constantly chasing a hen. The most likely breeders would be the Greenfinches, Linnets, Redpolls, Goldfinches, and the hen Bullfinch, the cock Bird would no doubt mate with her, and be very attentive, but it would be doubtful if the eggs would be fertile, as cock Bullies are notoriously bad breeders in captivity, but I should feel very much inclined to try this pair, because it is just possible that one of the other Finches would mate with her without deserting his proper partner. For nesting, hang up German Canary cages and ordinary square nesting boxes, as used by some Canary breeders. You could also nail up some pieces of Virginia cork, in the shape of pockets; stuff these with heather, and fasten a few branches of it round them so as to partly conceal them. The same could be done round the boxes and old cages. Birds like to be secluded and quiet when nesting, and are less likely to be interfered with by other birds than when the nest is fully exposed. Your feeding appears to be about correct for a mixed aviary, but I think you should double the amount of rape seed; this is a most valuable seed for Finches, especially when in an aviary or large flight. There are several well-known firms that put up a good collection of seeds for Finches; the main thing is to see that it is clean, and does not smell at all musty. For green food collect bunches of wild plants with seeding tops; see that they are quite free from frost before hanging up in the aviary. If you are particularly gone on Softbills you could include a pair or two, but I think you would be wise to keep to the Finches. Softbills would require insectile food mixed fresh daily; the Finches would soon sample it, and you would probably find, after a time, that you were keeping all the birds on an expensive food, or they would waste more than they would consume. Your Pied Rook requires rather better treatment. The Hound meal is all right as a staple food, but he should have an occasional dish of insectile food, a little scraped raw lean meat, cockroaches, half a dozen mealworms, and a dead Sparrow or mouse. This treatment would improve his condition immensely, and if you felt inclined you could exhibit him in a show where there is a class for Pied or rare-feathered birds.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

WHAT WEAVER? (B.K.G.).—This is evidently the Madagascar Weaver (Foudia madagascariensis). (2) The Red-billed or Red-beaked Weaver (Quelea quelea). (3). This is most probably a female, and these are practically impossible to name, apart from seeing the bird and skin comparison. Weavers have shown a greater inclination to nest in captivity these last few years, and young Weavers have been reared in more than one aviary this year—and though they have not been fully reared, several kinds of Hybrid Weavers have been hatched out.

TO KEEP WITH ROLLER CANARIES (H.J.A.).—There are several species of Mannikins whose song is almost inaudible to human ears, and these would be least likely to mar the song of your Roller Canaries. I do not consider Lovebirds or any kind of Parrakeets suitable. The worst feature of the Mannikins is that under the conditions of cage-life they are somewhat lethargic, and their claws need frequent trimming. They are, however, quite different to Canaries, and, if not gorgeous, the contrast of their colours is striking and pleasing. In a roomy cage, in which one or two millet sprays are always hanging, to keep them occupied, pairs of Spice Birds, Three-coloured, Black-headed, White-headed, Magpie and Bronze Mannikins and Bib Finches might be kept, or they would do in separate cages, but give them room, or you'll find them dull. The song of many other species does not amount to much, but sufficient, I fear, to make them unsuitable company for Roller Canaries. (2) I always use paraffin for the purpose, and finish up with crude carbons and a final swilling of cold water, then with 24 hours in the open there is no odour left; but if you require it for fixed cages, then petrol should help you to keep it within limits. I need not warn you against its inflammable nature.

FREE BREEDERS (J. S. Bingley).—During the winter months, or, say, from November to end of April, put some temporary covering over another side of your cage, leaving only the front open, and this should be kept facing due South, and in a sheltered position. For general night use a glazed shutter (provision must be made for ventilation) to close over the front, would keep the birds more comfortable in the winter, and save them from many cat-scares during spring and summer nights. You must not mix Parrakeets or Lovebirds with Finches in such a cage. Here are two alternative groups: (1) 1 pair Grey-headed Lovebirds, 2 pairs Budgerigars, and 1 pair Passerine Parrakects (Blue-winged Lovebirds). Budgies need no nesting materials; for the others simply straws, strips of natural bark and leaves; husks and small barrels for nest receptacles. (2) Pairs of Silverbills, Avadavats, Zebra Finches, and Long-tailed Grassfinches. Supply rush nests for them to build in, and hay and a little moss as nesting material. You must not put any birds out at this time of year; the first week in May is the time to do this, and they can then remain out altogether unless you are in the far North.

PEKIN ROBIN (L.W.).—Not much use buying the booklet unless you follow its directions. Stop the crushed hemp at once, and diet as advised in the booklet. There is practically no difference in the winter and summer plumage of these birds. The dark plumage may endure till the next moult, when it is probable it will become natural again. I should put one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia, once a week, in the drinking water of this bird for about a couple of months, and let the supply of fruit and soft food be ad lib., also give it a couple of mealworms daily, and any odd spider, earwig, beetle, etc., you can pick up.

WHAT PARROT? (C. E. Mitchell).—It is a Roseate or Rose-breasted Cockatoo. Its diet consists of seed mixture, ripe fruit (any kind it will take), apple and banana are very good, nuts (Spanish, Brazil, walnut, monkey). It can also have dry crusts or pieces of plain biscuit, and such green food as it will take. Grit, cuttlebone and water must be regularly supplied. A good seed mixture for these birds consists of one quart each canary, white millet and oats, one pint each wheat, hemp, dari, maize, and sunflower seeds, and a gill of chillies—well mix, and store in dust-proof receptacle, in some dry place. I have known several very talented birds of this species, but the majority of them are not gifted this way; however, if you patiently train your bird there is no reason why it should not talk, to some extent, at any rate. If it does not prove a screamer, you'll find it a droll, acrobatic and chummy bird, even if it does not make a talker, but it should speak a word or two, if no more.

YOUNG BLUE-FRONT (Algernon).—Only let this bird have a drink twice a day (tepid water), with one sdrop of laudanum mixed in it two or three times a day, and do not let it over-drink—do not leave the water in cage till the inordinate thirst has passed. You must not use a metal drinker while giving drugs. Give every fourth day half a teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia in the drinking-water, omitting the laudanum on the particular day. Give him about one tablespoonful of boiled maize daily—it only keeps fresh one day—boil till soft, drain off all water, lightly dust with flowers (flour) of sulphur, and supply to the bird. I should soak into the boiled maize half a teaspoonful of cod liver oil, or c.l.o. emulsion, before dusting with sulphur. If the mouth is furred and slimy, put a little honey and borax (it will take it from the end of a stick) till it becomes quite clean. Let it have some ripe fruit, any kind it will take, also some shelled nuts. Report progress a fortnight hence. Any ailement used must be well cleansed for each occasion.

PARROT WITH LICE (Polly). I should spray this bird with quassia solution (tepid) and when dry blow some insecticide (Keating's will do), under the wings and at root of tail feathers—use the ordinary bellows or bulb to distribute the powder. As the bird is tame you will have no difficulty in getting it to lift its wing by the aid of a stick or your hand. Avoid getting either the solution or the powder in the bird's eyes. You will, of course, take care that the bird does not get a chill while the plumage is moist. You must also give the cage, perches and hoppers an occasional cleansing with boiling water till the parasites are finally got rid of. Keep the bird's bowels moving freely (not watery loose) with an occasional laxative, and put half a teaspoonful of Byno-phosphates in the drinking water every other day, so as to keep the bird toned up.

BLOSSOM-HEADED PARRAKEETS (T.W.C.).—Diet these birds as follows: Seed mixture; one quart each canary, white millet, and oats; one pint each paddy rice and sunflower seeds, the whole to be well mixed), ripe fruit (any kind they will take); I should stop the soaked bread as soon as possible, but they must not want for food; if they will take plain biscuits soaked instead of bread, give them this at once—after moistening the bread or biscuit (do not saturate it), soak into it half a teaspoonful of Byno-phosphates. Give every fourth day in the drinking water one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia, if the bowels become too loose, then only give the laxative once a week. They have not been very common of late, though recently a fair number have come to hand, and young newly-imported specimens are quite cheap. A really good specimen (in good feather and condition) should be worth 40s.

AILING GREY PARROT (Mrs. G. C.-G.).—You give me no idea how you have fed it, and as in such cases a sudden change of diet is very harmful, I can only say that the diet should consist of seed mixture, fruit, nuts, dry crusts, biscuits, and a piece of plain cake occasionally. Of course, grit, cuttlebone and water must be always supplied. If this bird will take it I should supply a little boiled maize daily, say about one teaspoonful—boil till soft, drain off all water, soak into it half a teaspoonful of cod-liver oil, and then dust lightly with flowers (flour) of sulphur. Every fourth day put one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia in the drinking water for a month, in any case, then once a week may be sufficient, but the bowels must work freely without the voidings being watery-loose. On other days put half a teaspoonful of Byno-phosphates into the daily supply of drinking water. I fear you have applied to me too late, you have let the matter go very far. You must keep it warm and out of all draught, at the same time not in a stuffy atmosphere. If there are any skin parasites you must spray with a tepid (quite warm) quassia solution, and, of course, clear them from cage as well. It has gone so far that recovery cannot be rapid, and you must persevere with the treatment. I take it the bird is tame, do not permit it to mope overmuch, fuss about with it and pet it as much as you can without teasing it or worrying it. You were not entitled to a reply per post, as no fee was enclosed (see rules), but the case being urgent, one has been sent. Please report progress.

SLEEPING OUT (King).—Of course, up to the present time it has not mattered whether the birds have used the shelter at night or not. If it is well lighted they should certainly do so; if it is not light, the remedy is, put in another window. Now the nights are cold, if the arrangement of your aviary permits it, I should drive them in at night and shut them in till morning. I should also advise putting all the food vessels inside, this will accustom them to its occupation more—a light would be risky, and they are really better in the dark at night; far better to increase your window accommodation, if necessary, but if the shelter is really light you need not trouble further—the driving in should be done as soon as it begins to get dusk, and the probability is it will not have to be continued long, as the foreign species will soon find the comfort of it—the trouble may lie with the indigenous species.

AILING AMAZON (J.G.).—I am pleased indeed to note your bird is picking up so rapidly; continue the treatment for some time longer yet. It is quite all right about the way it is taking to the new diet, and it will ultimately take this from choice, but during the initial stages you must not let it want for food while it is getting accustomed to the changed dietary. Do not let it get a scare, but quietly pet it, and take such notice of it as the bird will permit—this will tend to keep ennui at bay, and help the bird along greatly. It it does not bathe, give it an occasional light spraying with tepid water, but guard against a chill now the cold weather is near at hand.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. Subjects for post mortem examination must be sent packed in a box direct to Mr. Yates, with the fee, this and any accompanying letter being kept from contact with the dead bird. Send by letter-post; it is cheaper and quicker than parcel post. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

C. Harrison.—Impaction of the bowels, setting up inflammation of same.

Rex.—Cock Whitethroat succumbed to pneumonia. The bird was in splendid condition, but a little too gross. I can find no fault whatever with the treatment of your bird, unless, perhaps, the diet is a little too liberal.

W. Brown.—I believe death to have occurred from septic fever. The remains had undergone rapid decomposition that excluded a really through examination. Perhaps you will send me another, should you lose any more.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

A. A.; Miss Wood; A.C.K.; and Others. Thanks for the newspaper cuttings you kindly send us.

G. Lawton. Shall be pleased to have the promised photos.

G. Millicent.—We think unpleasant incidents such as the one you relate are best left out of print; the society officials, or the "man in line," can deal with the offender.

J. H. Toplin.—We would prefer you to send a postcard direct to the cage-maker in question.

J. McHolme.—At the present stage of the case we would rather not publish your letter, preferring to leave matters to the parties chiefly concerned.

W. Williams.—You have misread the conditions. We only give a diploma to the best bird in each section, not in each class.

R. T. King.—Thanks for photograph; which shall be utilised in due course.

G. Rostron.—Awfully sorry we are unable to print your verses, but our printer simply can't stand poetry—had an overdose of nursery rhymes in his early days, we fancy, which has soured his disposition towards poets and their masterpieces.

Specials from Australia for the Crystal Palace Show.

Sir, I have again had the pleasure of receiving three guineas from the Victorian Canary Society, and Mr. F. White, to be used as special prizes at the next National Show; and am asked to acknowledge the receipt of same in CAGE BIRDS.

J. W. RAMSDEN.

The Norwich Plainhead Club and Sheffield Show.

Sir,—Allow me to draw the attention of the amateur members of the Norwich Plainhead Club to the fact that through an oversight Sheffield Society have, instead of putting on amateur classes for Norwich, put on novice Norwich classes, £5 5s. limit. I have been in communication with the society, and they have decided to alter the classes to amateur classes, without limit as to price, so that all amateur members eligible by our rules to show in amateur classes can show in classes 45 to 50, inclusive, without any danger of being disqualified or having their birds claimed for £5 5s. I trust all members will support the show as much as possible.

JNO. HOPKINS.

A New Rose Bowl for the Rochdale Good Intent C.B.S.

Sir,—By holding two successful whist drives, etc., we had a surplus of about £6, and it was unanimously agreed that a committee be formed for buying a good bowl. They have been successful in getting a solid silver one on an oak plinth. It is a beauty, and whoever is the winner will also receive an extra good special. From reports I think the competition will be keen on the occasion of our show to-day, Nov. 1st, at Parish Church Schools. I only wish we had something for the novices to compete for; if only a few more would join us, it would give us a bit of encouragement to cater for them. There are a lot of local fanciers not connected with any society, and they would benefit by joining us. We have made seven new members this year, but we have plenty of room for many more, and they will be helped in any way they desire as regards information.

WM. ADAMS, hon. sec.

A Gramophone Record of the Roller's Song.

Sir,—It is most excusable that any reference to the "needle-scrape" of gramophones should suggest that instrument of torture, a cheap common machine and its usual accompaniments. But it is only fair to say that it is not this type of machine I meant when I referred to "needle-scrape," as I had it on the authority of a recognised expert and critic in the gramophone world that "needle-scrape" is always present, even in the most favourable of circumstances. The quality of machine is, I believe, unimportant in comparison with the quality of the needle used, and the condition of the record. I think I must have heard the sound at the very minimum that can be attained, and still to my ear it has marred the softest passages of certain instrumental solos, and would, in my opinion, suffice to mar some of the most delicate tours of the Roller's song.

CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

Sir,—I have naturally been much interested in this correspondence, and I do not believe there is such a record on the market at present. My own experience is limited to an Edison Gem phonograph, and on my records the intervening portion of a bird's song is a mechanical production, or one made by a human whistler. Phonograph records will vary in their clearness of tone, while some will produce undesirable sounds, especially so when they are somewhat worn. I do not anticipate much difficulty in producing the song of an ordinary Roller on a record, simply from an amusement point of view, because the majority of birds will be capable of singing for such. To make such a record as I believe your South African correspondent and others require, that is, one to aid in the tutoring of young Roller Canaries, would be a more difficult matter. It would require a singer with a connected range of song tours, as it is not desirable that the young should constantly hear a song with the sequence of the tours disconnected. I should term such a bird a "classical singer," and they are not numerous, so it may be correctly assumed they are highly valued by their owners. There are more difficulties in the way of making a record at an exhibition than your S.A. correspondent is probably aware, even though an exhibitor was willing to allow his bird to be used for the purpose. Viewing the proposed record from a utility point of view, I believe such a one as I have described would be the next best to the living tutor, in schooling young tours that have been suitably bred, to produce that particular style of song (I have touched upon a similar subject in one instalment of my articles, which will appear later). Of course, I am assuming that the "scrape" is reduced to a minimum, and that the voice of the bird comes out sounding as natural in tone as that of the human voice in our present records. The phonograph could be placed at the opposite end, or side of the room, as the song tone would be brought louder from a record than when produced by a bird's voice, and in moderating the tone by lessening the revolutions of the phonograph barrel, it would tend to moderate any unnatural noise. I believe that such a record (given suitably bred youngsters) would be conspicuously superior to those Roller organs that I have had the pleasure of hearing, for they were lacking in being dis-similar in tone to the bird. I have no experience in the making of records. If any of your readers would give me the necessary information, I will endeavour to produce such a record as soon as my best old bird is singing again, after the moult.

A Season of Plenty.

Sir,—I have bred this season 45 Canaries and 6 Linnet Mules from 5 hens and 3 cocks, and have not overworked the stock. Accept my thanks for a good deal of excellent advice from CAGE BIRDS, which I am always looking forward to.

A Revival of the Accrington and District C.B.S.

Sir,—A meeting of fanciers was held at the "Crown Hotel," Blackburn Rd., on Oct. 23, for the purpose of reviving the Accrington and Dist. C.B.S. The following gentlemen were elected officials: Chairman, Mr. A. Hirst; vice-chairman, Mr. J. Rooney; secretary, Mr. D. Harwood; treasurer, Mr. W. Crawshaw; all the members to form a committee. Subscription 6d. per month, with an entrance fee of 1s. The meetings will be held at the "Crown Hotel," on the first Thursday in each month. At the next meeting our chairman will open a discussion on "How to keep birds in show condition." A hearty invitation is given to all fanciers to come and make this society an active one. Start at 8 o'clock.

The Staging of the Border Fancies at Clapham Show.

Sir,—I read the letter from Mr. Williams, and although it was certainly very sarcastic, I think that it only expressed (although perhaps in rather a drastic form) the thoughts of many visitors to the show. The Borders certainly were badly staged, and it would take more than Mr. Askew's letter to persuade me that boards placed across chairs standing on a table is an ideal staging for birds. When I visited the show on Wednesday evening, it was impossible to see the lower tier of birds without handling the cages, a process that is objectionable from the exhibitor's point, and which should not be necessary at a show which claims to rank as one of London's leading shows. I have every confidence in Mr. Norman's judgment, and if he suggested them being placed in the room, I have no doubt that he considered that the best place for them, but I cannot believe that he approved of the way they were staged. I think that Mr. Moore is rather too placid in the matter and allows his satisfaction at the great turn out of birds for the first patronage show to rather blind him. The Borders have had to fight for every inch of the ground they have gained, and it behoves show secretaries to remember that anything is no longer good enough for this variety. Might I suggest that Clapham have for the past three years treated the Borders far from well. They charge 2s. for entry fee, and in spite of the fact that in 1911 the entries numbered 23 and 25 in the two classes, and in 1912 29 in the unflighted, this is the first year they have been so generous (?) as to offer an extra third for classes of 20 or over. The special list has also been very meagre, a 2s. 6d. tin of patent food being the only special offered over the six classes this year by the show executive. I do not wish to hurt anybody's feelings by this letter, but would only warn the Clapham officials that if they wish to retain the generous support that Border fanciers have extended to them in past years, they must treat them generously in return.

F. W. BURTON.

THE DISQUALIFIED YORKSHIRE AT HALIFAX SHOW.

What the Exhibitors Concerned Have to Say on the Matter.

Sir,—On reading the straightforward and impartial report of Mr. Hill, the Yorkshire Union Secretary, re the disqualification of one of our birds at the Halifax show by Mr. House for alleged trimming, my first intention was to respect Mr. Hill's strongly expressed desire that the matter should be allowed to drop, but the publication of your full page report on the matter, which almost creates the impression that the same was a verbatim report of what actually transpired at the Yorkshire Union Council meeting—an impression, by the way, which is altogether false and misleading—leaves us no alternative but to reply. The said report, evidently prepared by, or on behalf of Mr. House, is so manifestly biassed, evasive and one-sided that public sentiment and our own private interests demand that the other side of the question should be granted equal treatment and publicity through the medium of your columns.

Messrs. Ogden's View of Our Report.

To our minds the report in question casts such damaging reflections upon the intelligence and fair-mindedness of those persons constituting the Council of the Yorkshire Union (at any rate such as were present at the meeting), such a dire lack of everything pertaining to good management on the part of the Halifax Society, and such disgrace and dishonour upon ourselves as prominent exhibitors, that were such report allowed to go unchallenged the public would have every justification for believing that none of the aforesaid interested parties were worthy of the slightest consideration, trust, or confidence—in fact, had forfeited all claims to the possession, in any degree, of a sense of justice, integrity, and honour. And now for the "extraordinary disqualification incidents"—the "show sensation."

For the information of fanciers outside Yorkshire, we will first state how the class is worded:—"Even, Uneven, or Heavily Variegated." Had it been specially for "Even-marked birds," possibly there may have been a temptation to make the eye-marks more perfect, but in such a class as provided it would be the last thought of any exhibitor to try and make an uneven-marked bird even, as there would be no advantage in so doing.

The first intimation received by us was a telephone message on Friday afternoon to the effect that one of our birds had been disqualified by the judge. In entire ignorance of which bird was suspected, or the nature of or parts of the bird affected by such alleged trimming, we made the journey to Halifax, a distance of ten or twelve miles, on Friday night, perfectly confident in our minds that there had been an error in judgment, and that such methods could be easily adopted as would prove beyond all doubt that such was the case. Arriving at the show room, we can assure you, Mr. Editor, that we and our movements seemed of far more interest to the many persons assembled there than the exhibits, or anything else in connection with the show. As things have turned out, I am glad it was so. We quickly ascertained the class and number of the bird disqualified, and having merely satisfied ourselves that the exhibit was ours, we took no further notice of same.

Charge That Caused Consternation.

We found the Halifax officials very courteous, but at the same time very reticent (perhaps wisely so) in the matter of giving information as to the nature of the disqualification, prefering, no doubt, that such details be first dealt with at the meeting of the Yorkshire Union Council, which was called on the following day. In order to establish our innocence and prove that the bird had not been trimmed in any way whatever, we had decided to ask the Council to hand over the bird to some independent party, who should keep it six weeks or six months or as much longer as they thought necessary, and if, in the meantime, it showed signs of having been tampered with, we would forfeit £10 to a well-known charity. One of us attended the meeting and actually informed the delegates what steps we were prepared to take, but we little knew how completely the ground had been removed from under our feet, and in such a manner as staggered the whole of the members of the Council, and has undoubtedly caused a flutter in the Fancy from one end of the country to the other. Evidently Mr. House had come to the conclusion that he must either "admit that he had made a mistake," or, otherwise, "that the bird was not the same that he judged." He decided on the latter course, and consternation ruled supreme.

We wish to say here, Mr. Editor, that we are prepared to swear before any tribunal on earth or in heaven that the bird produced and examined at the Yorkshire Union Council meeting, and still in the possession of the Yorkshire Union President, is the identical bird which Mr. House judged and disqualified as exhibit No. 3 in class No. 12.

It would not be out of the way to point out here the seeming inconsistency of the judge in saying that his attention was first drawn to the bird by its apparent beautifully-finished markings, and subsequently going on to say that the bird disqualified was marked on one side in front of the eye, up to the beak, on the other side the marking did not extend in that manner.

Evidence Alleged to be Weak.

Most people will agree that the evidence of the witnesses was painfully weak, in so far as the changing of the bird is concerned. The majority would not commit themselves to any further statement than that on the previous day, they were able to see a bare patch exhibited to them by Mr. House after having carefully subjected the bird to certain treatment. Our firm conviction is, he could have exhibited the same on Saturday under the same treatment had he so desired. One witness was bold enough to say it was not the same bird, because the one judged had a white tip on an otherwise dark feather. By reading Mr. Hill's report we find that attention was drawn to the fact that the bird before the Council possessed just such a feather. The witness could only say it was not the same feather. We can easily mention names of persons, including a capable and well-known judge, who saw the disqualified bird on Friday, and who, without any qualifications whatever, maintain that the one examined by the Council is the same bird. So, for the present, we will dismiss the question of witnesses, and ask Mr. House how it would be possible for the bird to have been changed.

So far as we can see, it could only be done either by ourselves or some official of the Halifax Society having access to the room in the absence of others. So far as we are concerned, let the following facts speak for themselves: We visited the show on Friday night at 8.30 o'clock, and left at 9.50. On Saturday one of us arrived at 2.30, and left when the show closed. During the whole of the time a good muster of visitors and officials were present, and, as you would naturally expect, all eyes were turned upon him, and practically no movement of his passed unobserved by someone or other of those present.

An Offer of Fifty Pounds.

Need we ask, is there any sane person who would believe for a single moment that it would be possible for us to take a bird from its cage on the show bench and substitute another without being detected? The idea is nothing removed from the monstrous and ridiculous. So far as the alternative is concerned, it is perhaps more a matter for the Halifax Society, but we are prepared to offer a reward of £50 to any person (official or otherwise) who will come forward and prove that we, or either of us, changed or caused to be changed (or even attempted to do so) any exhibit we sent to the Halifax show.

Apologising for the necessary length of this letter, and confidently leaving the case to the judgment of your readers, we remain,

OGDEN BROS.

New Departure at Nottingham

Sir,—The Nottingham and Notts. O.S., whose annual exhibition is to be held on the 14th and 15th Nov., desire to call special attention to the fact that they have, at considerably increased expense, arranged for the show to be held in the New Lecture Hall, Mechanics' Institute, the entrance to which is immediately opposite the Victoria (G.C. and G.N.) Station. This hall, which has recently been erected, is one of the finest of its kind in the kingdom, is splendidly lighted, well ventilated, and heated by hot water. It is larger than the hall connected with the same Institution, in which the previous shows have been held, and has the advantage also of being on the ground floor. Exhibitors should please note that the exhibition will be held on Friday and Saturday, and not on Saturday and Monday, as heretofore. Special attention is called to the fact that, unless instructions be received to the contrary, all exhibits will be delivered to the railway company on Saturday night in time to catch the main line trains. Fanciers desirous of having them kept over until Monday morning may do so, upon making a written request to that effect on their entry form. J. E. ROYCE, asst. sec.

To Exhibitors at Harlech Show.

Sir,—Re Harlech show, I wish to inform fanciers who will be unable to dispatch their exhibits early enough to reach the show in time on the Monday (show day), that I shall be most pleased to keep them over Sunday in my bird room, if addressed to me. We can assure all that the best care will be taken of exhibits. I might say that the Town Hall, where the show will be held, is an ideal place, free from draughts, and with good light. I trust we shall have an entry different to that we have had in shows around here lately. Will Llanberis, Denbigh, and Bethesda fanciers give us a hand, as I find they have a show in the near future? Mr. C. S. Maidment is giving a silver cup for best bird in show, and not E.P. cup, as stated in schedule.

J. E. Jones.

Vaynol House, Harlech.

The Southern Norwich P.C. Cup Classification.

Sir,—In answer to Mr. Pope's letter, I must say that he has not quite clearly understood our rules about the extra classes at Plymouth. It would be impossible to accept these classes in counting points with other shows, as Rule 10 states only Mr. Spillman's classes, and if I gave points at the end of the season from others, I am sure I should have some members calling the attention of our committee to my gross carelessness in doing so. That was the only reason why I would not include them in our patronage. In keeping strictly to our rules I know I must offend somebody, and perhaps, as at other shows, act on my own discretion if time will not allow for calling a committee meeting. In stating to Mr. Pope that those classes would not stand, I hope he will see the position I took in the matter as secretary of the club, but personally I see no reason to stop any club from putting in classes besides the eight that we state in our classification.

F. S. Matthes.

Among the "Chubby Ones" in and Around Plymouth.

Sir,—I recently returned from my annual holiday, having spent it in and around Plymouth. A holiday in those parts is very nice, and when one is able to visit a few of the birdy men and have a look at their stock, it makes the holiday still more enjoyable. The first fancier I was able to call on was that well-known breeder and exhibitor, Mr. Spillman. We were soon in the breeding-room admiring his stock of Plain heads. This fancier has a very cosy room in his house for the birds, plenty of roomy breeding-cages, and good flights for the young stock and hens to fly in during the winter. He has had a good year in breeding, and at the time of my visit one could spot many very promising youngsters coming along. One, a buff unflighted hen, I admired very much, also a saddle-marked yellow which looked like making a topper. The next fancier I called on was the well-known breeder of the Norwich Plainheads, Mr. W. Collings. This fancier has bred some of the best Plainheads that have ever graced the show bench. He has captured the diploma for the best Plainhead at the Crystal Palace, and was also the breeder of the famous "Hero." Mr. Collings' house is built in the garden, roomy and warm, well ventilated, and nicely stocked with cages. I am sorry he has not had the best of luck this year or two in breeding in respect of numbers, but somehow he generally manages to breed a few good ones which do some winning. This year he bred some very nice youngsters, several very promising, and several of his last year birds are looking well, having improved very much in their moult, especially a yellow hen, a grand Norwich, one of those birds it seems you cannot get away from. With Mr. Collings I went to St. Budeaux to visit Mr. Pethick, of Gill and Pethick, the well-known fanciers. I received a very hearty welcome. Mr. Gill and Mr. Pethick were in their bird house, which is built in the garden, when we got there, no doubt just sorting out some of the future winners. They have a good many to choose from, as these fanciers have bred a grand lot of youngsters, a few "chips off the old winners." The ticked buff winner of first at the last Palace Show and a host of other first prizes, looked grand, but I noticed another ticked buff (bred 1912) which looks as if it will make the old ticked buff go for all he is worth on the show bench. Then there was the winning variegated yellow which took first and special best unflighted at the last Palace Show; he was looking "hot stuff." Mr. Pethick is a sticker for colour. I don't think he will ever get a bird hot enough to suit himself. I noticed one of the best buffs I have seen bred this season, of good size, short, and cobby, a real Norwich. But there were many others which took one's eye, and well might these two fanciers be proud of their stock. My next visit was to the genial secretary of the W.C.O.S., Mr. Pope. I received a right good welcome, and, as it was getting dark, we were soon looking at the stock. This good fancier and judge has not had one of the best of seasons, but has bred a few good young birds which, when moulted, will give, I hope, a good account of themselves. This fancier has a few fine Cinnamons, as well as Norwich. I also called on Mr. Brown, but was sorry to find him out. My last call was on Mr. Parish, of St. Budeaux; this fancier has not had the best of luck the last year or two in his breeding room, but this year has several birds that look very promising, and which, I hope, will give him a little encouragement to plod on in the Fancy. His room is outside, and is well stocked with good cages. There were several other fanciers I should like to have visited, but it could not be arranged as some were away from home most of the day, and time was short. Any fancier who goes down Plymouth way will be well repaid, for they will receive a good hearty welcome, and see something worth looking at.

How to Make Shows Attractive.

A Well-known Show Manager's Sporting Idea for Next Season.

Sir,—I have read with considerable interest the letters that have appeared in your columns on this subject, also the letters re the payment of half prize-money, and the alleged ungenerous treatment of exhibitors at certain shows. Further, from private correspondence and from information given me by club secretaries, I learn that many retire from the Fancy when they cease to be eligible to compete in the novice classes, finding it impossible to compete with champion exhibitors in open classes in these days of keen competition. This loss could, I think, be prevented by the introduction of open amateur classes at the leading shows, such classes being a stepping-stone from the novice to the open sections. I have noted the demands made by exhibitors, and heard the statements made by show secretaries that these demands could not be met without the serious risk of heavy financial loss. Chiefly from the desire to keep as many fanciers in the Fancy as possible, and partly to make a sporting experiment, I have decided, unless prevented by unforseen circumstances, to run a show next autumn, at which the desires of your correspondents shall be met. At this show I will give a liberal classification for champions, amateurs, and novices, with specialist judges for each section, and the prize-money shall be on a liberal scale, while full prize-money will be guaranteed in every class. That bugbear, "half prize-money," will be conspicuous by its absence. Twenty-one days after the show I will, with the Editor's permission, publish a balance sheet of the show in Cage Birds. It will be interesting reading to both exhibitors and show secs. and will prove if a show run on liberal and up-to-date lines can be made to pay. If there is a loss, I will cheerfully bear it. If a profit, I will halve it with the exhibitors, taking half to compensate for the risk run in holding the show, the other half to be offered in the form of special prizes at the following National (Crystal Palace) show, to be competed for solely by the exhibitors at my autumn show; or I will give it in any other form the exhibitors prefer.

J. W. Ramsden.

What is the Matter with Members' Shows?

Sir,—I am very pleased that we fanciers who live by the banks of the good old Ship Canal are waking up to the fact that we have been dreaming that all was very well with us, and the Fancy too, if meddlers would only leave it alone. At last we awake to the fact that things might be a heap better than they are, especially in regard to members' shows. Since the last amalgamated show I have advocated that at the next show all prints, specials, trophies, etc., in connection with each society taking part should be competed for; also that a reasonably-priced trophy be bought by the societies to be competed for by the whole show, with starred birds, based on the number of members on the books of the society with the lowest membership. This, I think, would buck up the entries considerably, and help to make the show a success, with liberal classification, coupled with a low entrance fee. I think one big drawback to members' shows during my time in the Fancy has been amateurs and novices (also professionals and amateurs) showing together—two sections instead of four. What chance does this give the average beginner in the amateur and novice sections? Many of them soon find out that they are simply finding prize-money, and making advertisement for the men in the section above them. If we had all our members' shows co-operative, professional, amateur and novice could at every show have sections to themselves. I would even go farther than this by giving specials in each section to be competed for by first year amateur and ditto novice. It would give them something to fight for among themselves. With regard to all our Manchester societies joining hands and forming one big society, that would never do, but simply be putting the clock back. Let each society in our midst be always on the look out for new ideas as to how they can make things better for their members.

No. 632.

Sent by W. Southgate, Hardy Road, Parkstone.

Being troubled with feathers all over my floor, I tried to brush them up, and I found I had a peculiar job, so I set out and made a gummed scraper. It has a slight handle, made of a plasterer's ordinary lath, 3ft. long. I took a piece of light wood about 1ft. long

2in. wide, and ¼in. thick, then tacked on a piece of odd strip of floor lino, the same length as cross-piece, and let lino hang down about 2in. or 1½in. below. To use the appliance gum the side and draw over the floor; it is clean, cheap, and effective. The feathers can easily be wiped off, and when it is required to be used again it is only necessary to put a little fresh gum on the lino strip. A penny bottle of ordinary gum will last throughout the season.

A New Cage Bird Society for Newcastle-on-Tyne.

Sir,—I have been requested by several prominent fanciers to call a meeting for the purpose of considering the advisability of forming a new cage-bird society in the East end of the city. The idea has been under consideration for some time, and I think the time is now ripe for action. A meeting will be held at 7.30, on Nov. 12, at Foster's Café, Shields Rd., Byker (opposite Brinkburn St.). All fanciers are given a cordial invitation to attend, and already there are plenty of willing hands ready to form the new society, besides, ample support is promised in the East End of the city should the society be formed. I hope to see a good muster of fanciers present.

The Forthcoming Horticultural Hall (L.C.B.A.) Show.

Sir,—Once again the L.C.B.A. show comes round, and I venture to ask your kind assistance in our efforts to make it a success. The classification covers 201 classes, giving splendid opportunities to exhibitors of every variety for showing their stock. With regard to the management, Mr. F. Knight, of Wembley, has been associated with me, as joint show managers, and all communications should be sent to us at 67, St. Dunstan's Rd., Hammersmith, W. It is hoped that design prize cards will be sent to exhibitors with their birds. Prize-money will be sent out as soon as possible, but not later than a fortnight after show, and diplomas and awards will be placed in the writer's hands directly judging is finished, and posted as soon as returned. We have our usual band of experienced helpers, and every possible care will be exercised in regard to the birds. The show managers ask that if any cause of complaint arises—which they guarantee will not—a letter should first be addressed to them and then, failing any satisfactory settlement, they grant full permission for the grievance to be made public. Schedules will be issued early next week, and exhibitors are requested to wait until then before applying. We are issuing 2,500 to begin with.

Sir,—Readers of Cage Birds will be aware of the terrible disaster which took place on Oct. 14 at the Universal Colliery, Senghenydd, eight miles from Cardiff, when over 400 men perished in the fire which broke out, besides the large number rescued with terrible injuries. I am sure the dependents left have the deepest sympathy of all cage-bird fanciers. Could you not, sir, open a subscription list to Cage Birds readers and send the proceeds to our Cardiff Lord Mayor's Fund? Enclosed you will find photo of one of our feathered pets, which was taken down the mine to test the air. I am sorry to say that the result was not satisfactory in this case. Members of the rescue party were watching the bird for any signs of gas. He kept on "calling" and hopping about, however, with the result that the party went on and on until they dropped down "gassed," without receiving any warning from the bird. This almost caused twenty brave men's names to be added to the already long list of missing. I trust you will give above your consideration and that fanciers will help in this terrible calamity which has befallen gallant little Wales.

Alf. Shellam.

[We shall be pleased to receive whatever subscriptions sympathetic readers care to send, and to forward them in due course to the Cardiff Fund.—Editor.]

KIDWELLY.

Held Oct. 8. Unfortunately this year the cage bird section at the Welsh Natures are gaining an unenviable reputation for cancelled classes and short entries, due primarily to the dates clashing, and it seems a great pity that some arrangement cannot be arrived at whereby this can be avoided. Kidwelly also suffered through a recognised cage bird judge not being appointed; fanciers generally nowadays will not exhibit unless a specialist is adjudicating, and the society should see to this next year. Our section was well looked after by Messrs. Chas. Price and B. Morgan. The secretary, Mr. Jas. Morgan, is a very courteous and obliging official. Mr. T. H. Furness judged.

WINDSOR.

The Windsor C.B.A. one-day show, held Oct. 29, was an undoubted success. Entries were some fifty odd up from last year, and quality far in advance of anything the Association has ever had before. The Guildhall is one of the most comfortable halls in the Kingdom for a bird show, and it would scarcely be obtainable for the purpose, but for the fact that A. E. Stickland, the popular sec., is surveyor of the Borough. As a sec. he is a complete success, his management being well up to date, and every item that goes for success he personally attends to. In the work of the show he received splendid help from his committee, Messrs. King (chairman), Clark, Bryce, Belcher, Montgomery, Barker, Simms, Wilkins, and the Treas., Mr. A. Turner.

The Foreign section contained some beautiful and uncommon exhibits, in the forefront of which we must place Dr. Amsler's exquisite pair of Blue-wing Sivas, another uncommon exhibit was Mr. Watts' pair of Pectoral Quail Finches, which have only once previously appeared on the show bench, while the same owner's exquisite trio—Black-faced Waxbills, Queen Whydah and Melba Finch—were beyond praise, and if the Foreign section was not very large, it contained many very interesting species, and was a centre of attraction to all visitors. Three open classes and one members' class brought together thirty-four exhibits, all of merit, and including several quite rare species. Unfortunately a pair of Pectoral Quail Finches were entered in the Common Seed-eater class and were marked wrong class, but this may be a controversial point.

Every section was well represented, the popular Yorks, making a bold show. Novice classes did not fill quite so well, the best being the unflighted class, the winner, a topper, was put down by Mr. A. Tuplin. In Norwich, Messrs. Kilby, Rippon, Saunders, Dearlove, etc., sent in some of their well-known exhibits, Mr. Rippar's marked yell. cock adding one more leaf to his wreath of laurels. Borders were not many, but of good quality. The Hybrid class brought out Mr. Lamb's team, Mr. Howick's Canary-Bullie and others. Some good British and Foreign birds made up a capital gathering. Many visitors viewed the birds during the day, and the show was a huge success.

As usual, the members made a fine entry, mostly Yorks, as this is the variety they favour. Here one could find birds quite equal to those in the open. Special for best bird bred by a member went to Mr. Simms, for his unflighted buff, a bird of wonderful Norwich properties. Mr. H. Norman judged Canaries, Hybrids and British, and Mr. Westly Page the Foreign, and the awards seemed to give general satisfaction.

EDINBURGH (Western) O.S.

Twenty-eighth annual show held in Grindley-st. Hall, Oct. 25. Entries exceeded last year's total by 120, and some capital exhibits were staged in every section. Scotch Fancies contained a few really good birds, the cup for best going to a Yellow cock belonging to Mr. P. M. Niven, a real good one of nice size and substance. Border Fancies were a real treat, being the backbone of the show, and some bonny wee gems were staged, especially in the variegated classes. Special for best wash won by a buff hen belonging to Mr. J. Napier, of Colinton, put down in faultless order. Norwich were a choice lot; sp for best was won by Mr. C. Grant, the sec., with a typical yellow cock. The show was one of the best ever held by the society; the management was in very capable hands, and everything passed off well. The President is Mr. F. Ballantine, while Mr. C. Grant discharged the duties of sec. in a very creditable manner.

ILKESTON.

If good management, careful attention to detail, a good show room, and a liberal prize list are essential to success, then the Ilkeston and District C.B.S. deserve to succeed. The committee of management of the show held in the Victoria Hall, Oct. 24th and 25th, was composed as follows: Messrs. H. Hunt (chairman), C. H. Martin (vice-chairman), M. Marriott (treasurer), J. H Booth, W. Henshaw, J. Liddown, S. Prince, H. White, E. Eaton, J. Gregory, G. C. Shaw, C. Martin, J. Martin, A. Smith, S. Knightley, W. Bradley, H. Earnshaw, A. Kew, W. Beardsley, and A. Eaton, and a right good lot they proved themselves. They knew their work and did it. Mr. Thomas Smith, the sec., is a host in himself, a rare hard worker, not sparing himself in any way, and as courteous as he is energetic. The total entry was 350, which is some twenty up on last year; two or three of the Norwich and British classes were badly supported, whilst the Foreigners were very poor. Norwich were, as usual in this district, of most excellent quality, and we were pleased to see the veteran Teddy Fox staging one or two of the old stamp. The Novices were strong in numbers, but many of them would have been improved had they been better staged. Just a few had quite the touch of a master hand. Yorks. were a very nice collection indeed, not only in numbers, but also in merit, and many could have held their own at Yorkshire shows. Crests and C.B. were very fair, but the winning Crest of Mr. Memmott was equal to securing the CAGE BIRDS champion prize, the runner-up being Mr. Burt's handsome Blackcap. Borders were a surprise, indeed. The winners were of most excellent type. Mr. Hancock held a strong hand. The winner of the CAGE BIRDS novice prize was Mr. Baker's 3rd prize yell Yorkshire, a bonny bird, which would undoubtedly have won in its class had it not been a bit soft at the time of judging; it improved during the day, and when the specials were awarded looked splendid. The reserve for the novice prize was Mr. Bull's very nicely staged 2nd prize Stonechat, a bonny bird indeed. Many of the exhibits amongst the British Finches were short of full h, but there were a few in magnificent fettle. Mr. Kew's bonny Linnet is the best of its species we have seen for a long time, and was soon claimed at catalogue price. It should have a most successful career. The Chaffies were a bonny lot, indeed, and very little divided them. Mr. Burt's whining Blackcap secured much admiration from visitors. One seldom sees a Blackcap of such lovely colour, and in such perfect plumage. It is a grand exhibit, and was beautifully staged. The Novice Britishers made quite a nice show. There were few visitors before we left, but we hope to hear the gate was a good one. The executive deserved it.

AYR.

The sixth annual show of the Ayr and District C.B.C. was held Oct. 25, in Masonic Hall. The hall is a most comfortable one for a show, being free from draughts. Entries, 415, were in excess of last year. Quality throughout was the best seen here for some years; some of the winners stood clear away in their respective classes. Winners of outstanding merit were: President McClure's, foul green hen, Mr. Walker's Border Club's medal winner, Mr. McQuiston's light Mule, which secured the gold medal for best Mule or British bird in show. Mr. Lyall won cup for most points in British, and Mr. Telfer cup most points in Canaries. The comfort of exhibits and visitors seemed to be the goal of the hard-working committee, who did everything possible to make everyone comfortable. Mr. Aitken came through his first show with flying colours, a more obliging sec. would be hard to find; he was ably backed up by the following officials: President, J. S. McClure; vice-president, J. French; committee, Messrs. Cameron, Murray, Mathieson, Telfer, J. and F. French, Erskine, Hainey, Lovie, Cook, McKay, McLaughlan, Bell, Campbell, Kelly, Lyall, Boyd, and Lindsay. The judges were: Scotch and Borders, Mr. D. Hamilton; Yorkshires, Mr. Girvan; Brit. and For., Mr. Mason; and Norwich, Mr. Cant. The awards seemed to give satisfaction, as no grumbling was heard.

MANCHESTER ATTRACTS OVER 1,700 BIRDS.

Borders to the fore in numbers: Grand Quality Norwich and Yorkshires: An awful Slump in Crests: Management Again Superb.

Our Coupon Competition Provides one of the Sensations of the Exhibition.

What memories the name of Belle Vue conjures up! Our first remembrances of it are of annual visits when we were wont to be delighted at the sight of the many curious animals to be found there. A few years later, while we were still young (and more foolish), we still would pay our annual visit, but in search of animals of a different genus. In those days, for a Lancashire man not to visit Belle Vue once a year was for him not to live. He only stagnated. Now, when we have reached years of discretion and consequent sedateness—we still pay our annual visit, but our visits now are connected with—as the Rev. Farrar would say—"the more solid joys and lasting pleasures" of seeing the famous show promoted by the M. and N. C.O.S. When we went outside the showroom for a breather and to—ask the time!—we noticed that history was still repeating itself in the dear old grounds of happy memories among the younger generation.

All Roads Led to Belle Vue.

The show was held in that spacious and lofty room in the centre of the extensive grounds, than which there is no better in the country. Ever since the M. and N. C.O.S., in their wisdom, migrated from places which were undesirable for a show of almost national dimensions, their shows have been better patronised by the visiting public, and this one has proved no exception. As we went down to the show, it seemed as if all roads led to Belle Vue, for the people were teeming towards the show, and we knew them to be fanciers from the fact that many of them wore "Cage Birds League" buttons, and those who didn't were discussing in no uncertain manner the pros and cons of the Halifax sensation. But for that, one would have got the impression that everyone was making for a football match. But to hark back to the show.

The room is a great big structure, yet cosy withal; well lighted top and sides, and heated to any temperature the society thinks may be congenial to the birds. The exhibits are staged on the admirable three-tier system, which allows the maximum number of birds to be staged in the minimum amount of space; thereby allowing visitors to walk about in comfort.

Among the Cream of the Show.

And what birds! Are we exaggerating when we say that the cream of the Fancy were on view—and especially in the Norwich and Yorkshires? Yorkshires did not turn up so well in the champion classes, but were extra for quality. What length some of them were, with quality notwithstanding! Really, we think that the Yorkshire has almost reached perfection. Most of the cracks had teams there. These Yorkshire men generally send a few good ones down to Manchester, just to show us what a really good bird should be. But they will have to look to their laurels. Others are after them, and at a good pace too. A good share of the spoils fell to the lot of the exhibitors from outside Yorkshire. But if the Yorkies were good, what shall we say of the Norwich? It is almost an axiom in the Fancy that if you want to see good Norwich, you must go to Manchester. What colour! What size! What exquisite quality of feather without which a Norwich is not a Norwich! What enormous heads, and what numbers! True, the champions did not turn up as well as we have seen them at Manchester, but the amateurs—the back bone—more than made up the leeway—133 in six classes is going it, and no mistake! They took some sorting out. Borders were good in numbers and quality. The way Border men are going on shows that they are going to push themselves to the front, for at this show they had the best filled champion classes. Something to be proud of. Good luck to them. Belgians were all cancelled; while Scotch numbered the astonishing number of five in two classes.

The Prides of the County.

Lancashires turned up fairly well in numbers. They seem to have taken new life. We notice new aspirants taking a fair share of the honours. Mr. Beattie staged a champion in his yellow Plainhead; it was acknowledged to be about the best bred during the last ten years. Lizards also were a grand lot, but evidently the cold weather had touched a few of them, as some of the "also ran" looked exceedingly well in the afternoon. Here again the spoils were fairly well divided, Messrs. Hamer, Rukin, and Barnes taking the lions' share. Some of the work and lacing was quite a picture, so even in rowing and size. It was noticeable that the legs and toes are not quite so dark as of yore, especially amongst the lower cards. No doubt the judge allowed a few points for the darker specimens.

Greens came up capitally, and some exceptionally fine birds were staged, giving the judge a tough job. Either of the first four birds in each class could have won, so close were they in type and colour. The winning yellow is a smart unflighted, and will come up again. Messrs. Benson and Young had quite a field day with the ladies, capturing first in yellow hens with their old Palace winner, while a smart young buff hen won her heat. Mr. J. W. Metcalfe put down a storming buff cock, which easily accounted for the remaining first. Norwich Greens were an eye-opener. Someone has said they have died out; he should have been here and seen some of the toppers on parade. Mr. John Walker staged a wonderful team, capturing no less than three firsts, and he deserved it. Is the Cup sailing Westminster way this year? The odd chalk was won by a marvel of a yellow hen from the Wellingboro' stable. Messrs. Handley and Lawson put down some romping birds, which will come on later, some of them being quite "penny."

Crests a Complete Failure.

Crests were a complete failure. Where have they gone to? Twenty-three, in six classes, is poor encouragement to the executive. Certainly a few champions were on hand, but we want more of them if these classes are to go on.

Cinnamons were well up and some Any-other-variety had to take a back seat. This variety has been in too few hands, and it is time it was split up. There are plenty of working men keeping Cinnamons, and they would show out if they thought a win would come their way now and again. Type has gone up by leaps and bounds; they are more chubby, border in head and neck, and not so long-sided as they were wont to be. Also the colour has been well retained, showing a beautiful copper hue, with lacing down the waist in proportion. The Rev. B. Nume put down a grand team, closely followed by the noted Billy Dormer, with his crack unflighted. The outstanding bird was a lovely yellow hen, put down by a fair lady enthusiast, Mrs. Tweddle.

The Green Canary Association may feel proud of the Green Borders. A grand lot were staged in numbers and quality, and gave the judge, Mr. Harrison, a hard morning's work. A good few brightened up in the afternoon; no doubt the cold morning interfered with a few of the awards. The type comprises very favourably with that of the clears, and the colour is of a dark grassy green, showing very dark legs and beak. We noticed colour was taken great notice of by the judge.

Entries in Brit. and Foreign did not come up to expectations, most of the classes being half prize money. This is not encouraging for cage bird societies to put in good classifications; it is time for fanciers in the North to wake up and make better entries if they want societies to give them a decent classification. The two classes for Linnets only brought 13, and the Bramblefinches and Chaffinches only brought 10. Four of the foreign classes only brought five entries. We hope in the future that this will be greatly improved upon. Although the number was not so great, there were several good specimens shown in the British. Messrs. Hurst, Brade, Fairhurst, Metcalfe, and Sharples staged some grand specimens. In foreign birds Messrs. Mascott, Watts, Beaty, and Simpson put down excellent specimens.

A Difficult Lot to Beat.

And now, what can we really say of the management, except that it was superb? We are aware—painfully aware—that the expression only inadequately describes it, but for the moment we are simply at a loss for a word that will do adequate justice. Suffice it to say that everything was done, even that the most fastidious fancier could wish for, to make the show a success. It would be difficult to find a more enthusiastic and businesslike body of men to undertake the management of a bird show; and considering the success they have achieved, is it any wonder they possess themselves with a certain amount of pride? No wonder some of them don't wear hats!

Mr. W. A. Bladon is at the head of affairs. His is the guiding hand that regulates the traffic. Go where you will, when you will, you will find the serene countenance of Mr. Bladon. He is just the man for a president. He seems to lend that authority of manner which is a "sine qua non" in a chairman of such a large and influential society. Manchester Show without Mr. Bladon would be like—well, like Mr. Bladon without Manchester Show. Mr. G. H. Fulcher is the permanent sec. to the treasury, and this show will find him something to do. What with a gate of enormous proportions and an inflated sale sheet, he will begin to think himself a regular Jew.

Manchester is particularly rich in men with the necessary qualifications to the making of a good secretary, but rarely have we seen one with all the essential qualities combined as in Mr. Boothman. He is the personification of astuteness, gentleness and suavity. These are backed up by a committee of fanciers it is a pleasure to meet. There is Sam Cook, geniality personified; J. Coldbeck, W. Fairhurst, J. W. Jones, G. W. F. Lythgoe, H. Lewis, W. Moorbey, R. J. Metcalfe, W. N. Turner, S. Taylor, and J. A. Vint, while Mr. W. H. Tansey acts as assistant sec. All these worked with a will getting off exhibits that had a long journey. The room was crowded with visitors, with a fair sprinkling of the weaker (?) sex. Sales were brisk in the sale classes, while a few changed hands from the other classes at catalogue price. The 1st prize Cornish Chough changed hands at £5 5s., and the yellow Norwich hen in the amateur classes was claimed at £5 5s. by a well-known exhibitor. This hen is a beauty, and was responsible for annexing the CAGE BIRDS Coupon 10s. cash prize and diploma for best novice. Entries totalled approximately 1,720.

Fanciers we met and recognised were Messrs. Battye, Hirst, Trengove, Haythurst, Sutton, Riley, Fawcett, Baker (Cowes), Waring, Braybrook, Barraclough, Booth, Hunter, Johnson, Tiffen, Dent, Cunliffe, Edmondson, Fildes, Thomas, Linaker and Son, Richards, Hesketh, and a host of others whom it is not our good fortune to know.

CAGE BIRDS stall was in a very prominent position, and appeared to be doing a brisk trade. The Kozy Karrier Co. had on view a selection of their patent carrying boxes, which are very light indeed, and trade appeared very brisk with them. Messrs. Dutton had a stall of seeds and cages on view in great variety, and of their well-known quality.

Novice Diploma Winner Fetches £5 5s.

CAGE BIRDS diplomas and cash specials have seemed to catch on. It is a welcome innovation, and competition was very keen. Mr. H. H. Towers won diploma for Yorks, and annexed the 10s. special for best champion exhibit with a Cinnamon mkd. Buff Yorks cock of great length and quality. The novice cash special we have already mentioned, and was won by Mr. Watson, whose bird was claimed at £5 5s. Other diploma winners were:—Best amateur Yorks, Mr. F. E. Wilson; Nor., W. N. Turner; Lancs., T. H. Collinge; Bord., D. Whitelaw; Green, J. W. Metcalfe; Brit., W. Fairhurst; For., S. Beaty. The sensation of the show was undoubtedly their judging. Just fancy having before you Mr. Beattie's champion yellow Lancashire Plainhead, Mr. Horace Tower's crack Cinnamon mark, Mr. Metcalfe's noted buff Green Yorkshire, Mr. W. N. Turner's celebrated unflig. yellow Norwich, Mr. Millington's crack Lizard, Mr. J. S. Wilson's wonder of a yellow Border Fancy, Mr. H. Thompson's great Hybrid, and Mr. Fairhurst's winning Bramblefinch! Truly a sight for the gods! Every fancier at the show crowded round to see which would come out on top. The stewards had to form a barrier to keep the enthusiasts back; a few bets were made, each one to his fancy. After a lot of criticism by the various judges Mr. H. H. Towers gained the coveted first prize; it was a unanimous verdict.

We were in conversation with a fancier in the show who seemed to have got some information first hand, and he seemed to think that the M. and N. C.O.S. were striking out on new lines for their show in 1914. To counteract the shortage of entries in some of the classes, they intended to give smaller prizes for the 1st prize and more small prizes for the tail end of the class, much on the lines of Plymouth. We cannot vouch for the truth of this information, but we can promise the society it is a consummation greatly to be desired.

The judges were:—Lancs., Lizards, and Selling, Mr. Garner; Yorks, Mr. Cowgill; Norwich, Mr. Hirst; Crests, Cinnamons, Scotch, Belgians, etc., Mr. Roe; Bords., Mr. Harrison; Hybrids, Brit., and Foreign, Mr. Beswick.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C.B.

Eighth annual autumn show held Oct. 25 at headquarters, "Globe," Maple Street, Tottenham Court Road. Judge, Mr. T. Wright. The entry was splendid, being nearly double that of last show, and would have been better still but for birds being backward in the moult. Quality has increased wonderfully since last year. Winner of Cuthcart Cup was Mr. H. Bell with grand Norwich Plainheads of splendid colour and in fine condition, well shown. Mr. Green followed very closely with his Yorkshire, only two points behind, and secured the gold-centre medal for novice most points in Y.B.S. and autumn show combined. Mr. Cullers won silver-centre medal for runner-up with Norwich Plainhead novice. An important feature which caused some excitement was the special of a Norwich Plainhead given by Mr. Bell to best bird in show other than his own; this was awarded to Mr. R. J. Pretty for his Cinnamon, a real topper. Other cps were won by Messrs. Bell and A. Emery.

KIRKCALDY.

Great Show; An English Invasion of Scotland.

Kirkcaldy C.B.S. held its 7th show on Oct. 25, and it proved a great success, entries being well over 100 up from last year. Scotch, as usual, opened the programme, and although not strong in numbers, quality was A1. We were pleased to see some new exhibitors in this section, and it looks that the S. Fancy is still to maintain its position at the various fixtures. The section was carefully handled by a well-known breeder and exhibitor, Mr. J. Stenhouse, and his awards were well received.

Norwich Plainheads were a choice lot, a goodly number of the City of Glasgow winners being forward, and the judge in many cases had a difficult task, to separate them, but utter his selection grumbling was conspicuous by its absence. Mr. A. Chalmers judged this variety. Yorkshires were a feature of the show, an English invasion taking place, and doing havoc among the 1st prize cards. Messrs. Ogden Bros. and Dykes each sent up one of their best teams, and they fairly scooped the pool. However, the fanciers present were not downhearted, as from the comments we heard they will take something out of them the next show season. Mr. R. Hegie, one of Scotland's foremost breeders and exhibitors, judged, and his awards were well received. Borders were a great show, and here, also, many English breeders had teams forward and accounted for a good number of the prizes. The yell. cock, well shown by Mr. Nicholson, Haltwhistle, won the B.F.C. medal, while an ideal buff hen, shown by Mr. Beveridge, Methil, easily accounted for the novice B.F.C. medal. The classes were keenly contested, condition in many cases just turning the scales. British were a choice lot, all the big exhibitors having a few forward, the Linnet and Siskin classes being great, and taking the judge some time to separate. Mr. J. W. Bruce judged these varieties, and his awards were well received.

The management of Kirkcaldy has always been of the best, and this year it was no exception, everything in apple-pie order, a good hall, comfortable and well lighted, an enthusiastic committee, and an ideal sec. in the person of Mr. J. Arnott, made it a pleasure to visit. The show was well patronised, the gate when we left being better than in former years, and we hope to hear of a financial success.

The Critique.

MUMBLES.

Held October 23rd in Pier Pavilion, acknowledged by all as the finest place in Wales for an exhibition. Unfortunately owing to the fixture clashing with the CAGE BIRDS Coupon show at Abertillery entries did not come up to expectations. It seems a great pity that this clashing of shows cannot be avoided. Our section was very ably looked after by Messrs. E. M. Evans and J. Schropper, who did everything possible for the comfort of the exhibits. Mr. W. D. Lley, Sec., is a very obliging official, who has the interest of the Society at heart. We are pleased to state that the gate was a record one for the Society and there should be a good balance on the right side as a result of the exertions of the officials. Mr. D. A. S. Longden judged, and his awards were well received.

HYSON GREEN C.B.S.

Show at headquarters, "Cricket Players," Lindsay Street, Oct. 11. A fair number of birds were on view, though most of the fanciers complain of birds not yet fine. Many of the exhibits were of more than average quality. Unfortunately, Crests were short in number, though not in feather; perhaps Mr. White is getting too hot! Mr. Hayter sent a fine team, but had his classes to himself; hard luck for this sterling fancier. Mr. A. Cooper placed the awards.

CL. ETC. YELL. NOR.: 1, 2, Sharpe; 3, hc, Hill; vhc, Barnes. BUFF: 1, Bown; 2, Willis; 3, Hill; vhc, Boaler; hc, Sharpe; c, Drinkwater. VARIEG.: 1, 2, vhc, Hill; 3, Moult; hc, Willis; c, Sharpe. BUFF: 1, White; 2, Wolfe. C.B.: 1, White; 2, Wolfe. C.B. HEN: 1, 2, White. UNFLIG. CREST: 1, White; 2, Wolfe. UNFLIG. C.B.: 1, Wolfe; 2, White.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

MIDDLESBRO'.

Middlesbrough (Tees-side) C.B.S. held its eighth annual show in the Victoria Hall, Oct. 25, a splendid hall for a show, having ample space and a good light. Entries totalled just on 600, in 44 classes, considerably in excess of previous shows. Sec. Wake, as usual, had everything in perfect order, and with the assistance of Messrs. Swinsco, assist-sec.; Hauson, chairman; Watson, vice-chair; J. Carr, and other members of the committee, got through a vast amount of work in a very quiet and efficient manner. Competition was keen in all sections, and although judging was started in good time, the judges were kept busy till well on in the afternoon. There was a good attendance of visitors, including many well-known exhibitors. This, coupled with the increased entries, should make the show the financial success which the enthusiastic Tees-side fanciers so well deserve. The judges were:—T. Bennett, Yorks, A.O.V., and Sell. Can.; A. Brown, Norwich and Crests; J. Maddison, Mules, Brit., and Foreign, and their awards gave general satisfaction.

Mr. Bennett's Classes.

COVENTRY.

The Coventry Godiva C.B.S. open venture, took place on October 25th. The spacious assembly room, attached to the Plough Hotel, in the very heart of the "town of many spires," is capitally lighted, and cosy in the extreme. Norwich were the feature of the show, being both numerous and meritorious. Mr. W. Whetstone benched a magnificent team, his leading light being his noted Clear buff cock, the best we have seen in the Midlands up to date. Yorks. were not great, but neat, the plums of the section being Mr. Snead's Cl. yell. cock, and unflighted yell. Crests were few, but contained toppers. Mr. A. J. Smith's buff Cl. body D.C. won well, and secured CAGE BIRDS champion coupon spl, and diploma; the best cl. body dark living, we think. Messrs. G. Lawrance and T. Gilbert (the local enthusiasts) had on view some tip-top Mules, and with British they were well to the fore.

The officials are a most energetic and enthusiastic lot of fanciers, ably led by chairman, Mr. A. Howe, who has as his right hand man, Mr. A. Green, one who can control admirably. Auditors are Messrs. H. Mann and S. Follows, a brace of useful members. Committee consists of Messrs. W. Rowley, H. Adkins, E. Roycroft, A. Groom, R. Miles, W. Prescott, and R. Symonds. Each to his utmost ability gave most untiring and willing help, a band of both capable and efficient workers, who seemed to revel in the task set them. The show stewards worked with methodical precision, and kept top side with their efforts all through. Every praise is due to Messrs. A. Wright, J. Blackshaw, A. Payne, J. Houghton, W. Slaymaker, C. Cox, G. Shirley, A. T. Wright, C. Richards, and F. Buckley. Show Manager Mr. W. Rowley steers judiciously, and fills this role admirably. Mr. R. Symonds, treas., is a fancier of the right metal. Last, but by no means least, comes the worthy sec., Mr. H. Saunders, courteous to the highest degree, and a great helper, truly a fine holder of the reins. His able assistant was Mr. F. Green.

Councillor S. G. Poole officiated at the opening ceremony, his speech being of a very appropriate character, complimenting the officials, commenting on the capital exhibition, and promising to do whatever he could to assist the society, financially and otherwise. The flowers that decorated the various benches added greatly and effectively to the function.

Some Points Fanciers Should Remember.

Prize money and specials were paid out to all successful exhibitors present. Such promptitude should not be forgotten by fanciers when the next show comes around. Another item we must not overlook was the disappointment that cropped up over the award slips not being printed. This was no fault of the society. The catalogues from the printers had been forwarded to the secretary's address, and to the show room, as on previous occasions. When the judges' slips were taken down to the printers, all the men had left work, a curious error, as naturally the printer should have known prize slips would be required, as before Any fanciers put to inconvenience by this mishap are asked to accept the apology of the members.

CAGE BIRDS Coupon scheme once again had a capital entry, and keen battles were fought for the valuable cash prizes and diplomas of honour. The victorious "gladiator" for the champion special and diploma was the majestic Crest, belonging to Mr. A. J. Smith. The novice coupon cash spl. and diploma went to an unflighted yell. Nor. cock, staged by Mr. W. H. Thompson, a real bargain, at catalogue price, £3. If not claimed, take care of him, Mr. T., he is a "right 'un." Diplomas of honour were captured as follows: Champ. Yorks., G. Snead: novice, W. J. Dimmock; Norwich champ., J. M. Williams; noviee C. or C.B., A. Green; nov. Greens, A. Groom: A.O.V., R. Symonds; champ. Mules, G. Lawrence; Softbill, E. J. Labraham. Sandiford's special for hottest fed, went to a red hot marked yell. Nor. cock, the property of Mr. H. Leng. Members', best 1913 Nor. hen, G. Cox; best Yorkie, A. Groom. The staging was on the tier principle, and everything was in capital order, and birds well cared for. Mr. J. C. Barnes (Sheffield) judged, and his awards were well received.

FALMOUTH.

Falmouth C.B.A. held its eighth annual show Oct. 22 in the Unionist Club, an ideal place, free from draught and well lighted. The birds looked very comfortable, and were well staged in the middle of the room, the committee looking well after their charges. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Medlin, the hon. sec., who thoroughly understands his work, and had everything well in hand, leaving nothing to chance. Norwich were a good level lot, the winning yellow being a gem, we think Plymouth winner. The buff class was great, many a good one having to be left out of the cards, the non-flight class also was exceptionally good, three sets of winners could have been found. Yorks turned up in good force, and made a record entry. The hen class was extra good, the winner being a lovely dunnel, feathered like wax, good length and position. We were sorry to see British classes cancelled. Norwich cup for most points was won by Messrs. Cook and Son, Camborne; Yorks. cup, J. Thomas, Bugle. Shield for best bird bred by a member 1913, was again won by Mr. Medlin. Mr. J. Davies, St. Austell, judged.

BRADFORD EAST: Sixty-seven Unflighted Birds in two classes!

A Perfect Hen wins "Cage Birds" Championship Diploma.

Bradford East O.S. held its annual exhibition Oct. 25 in Park Chapel Schools. Entries numbered 487 423 Yorks. in 25 classes and 64 Norwich in 8 classes. The rose bowl classes were a great attraction to exhibitors, entries in these two classes numbering 67 in yellows and 27 in buffs. The winner was a clear yell. belonging to Mr. J. Hirst, of Skelmanthorpe, a wonderful bird. Champion classes, with the exception of the cinnamon marks, were exceedingly well filled. The winner of the CAGE BIRDS Conpon Competition turned up in buff hen class, shown by Messrs. Ogden Bros., slightly ticked on neck, a perfect hen, able to beat the best amongst cocks. CAGE BIRDS winner in Norwich was a clear buff shown by Mr. J. Thomas, a bird that will hold its own amongst the best. Winner in the novice section was a spointed mkd. yell., put down in fine style by Mr. J. Northrop, the markings, col. and condition of this bird are really magnificent. The best classes of the show were the unflig. classes, several good birds in each class being out of the cards. The management was excellent and the staging the best we have seen this season; everyone could examine the birds without lifting them a great consideration. Mr. Hill had charge of the show, and everything was got through in a business like manner. He was well assisted by the following: Assist. Sec., Mr. W. Cruise. Stewards, Messrs. Rushworth, Stables, Walker, Priestley, Wilkinson Bros., White and Farrar. The Judges, Messrs. H. Sutcliffe and J. Trengove, got through their duties in good time, and everything seemed to go through satisfactory.

RICHMOND (Surrey).

First annual show held in St. John's Hall, Richmond, Oct. 25. A very fine collection of Norwich and Yorks. were on view about 300 exhibits in all. Quality was really good, some very fine Norwich and York birds were put down by Messrs. Nichols, Bevington, Phipps, Cripps, Withers, Huxley, Bamber, Chance and Harriss. The trio of hybrids shown by Mr. Lamb were worth going a long way to see. Mr. W. Nichols won up for best Canary with his clear yellow, a true Norwich in every respect. A special feature of the show was a large aviary in the centre of the hall containing some hundreds of foreign birds, exhibited by Cottingbourne and Co., East Sheen, Surrey, this added greatly to the interest of visitors. The president, G. Cave, Esq., K.C., M.P., took a deep interest in the show, and seemed very pleased with the exhibits. Mr. W. Nichols, the genial sec., and other officials, worked very hard to make the venture a success. Mr. J. Holder judged, and his awards were well received.

STAMFORD.

Sixth annual exhibition of the Stamford and Dis. C.B.S. held Oct. 23 in the Corn Exchange, one of the very best halls for a show, large and well lighted, free from draughts, and with every comfort for birds. Cage health was good, 40 classes being provided, and two judges, Messrs. H. Battye and A. Silver, were appointed. The schedule was certainly deserving of better support than it received. The committee and Sec., Mr. Grimes, are all real hard workers, and need every effort to make the whole show a success; and the hanging was of the very best. In the Norwich were some splendid exhibits. Yorks, though not in great numbers, were all there for quality. Britain were a fine collection. Mules and Hybrids were quite a show, some splendid birds putting in an appearance. Foreign were quite up to average. Mr. Lawrence won cup for British and Mr. Wright for Canaries.

SOFTBILL (4): 1, 2, Sayward and Monk, splendid Magpie, in grand feather and condition, 2 Missel Thrush, topper for col. and marking. Members' classes were well filled and contained some good Canaries, and a nice collection of Brit., Mules, and Hyb., making quite a show of their own.

WOLVERHAMPTON.

Enterprise Ill Rewarded: Grand Novice Yorks. classes; But where were the Champions?

The seventh annual show of the Wolverhampton C.B.S. was held Oct. 21-25, in the Co-operative Hall, a room of great size, free from all draughts, with windows all round and lighted by electricity at night, many of the visitors declaring it to be the best hall in the Midlands for a cage bird show. Although the society was stretching a point by giving cash to every card, fanciers failed to support it, yet some thought the clashing with Coventry Godiva had a good deal to do with it. Norwich came up very poor compared with last year, being only 74 in 8 classes, but though members were small, the quality was absolutely fine. The clear yellow staged by Mr. G. V. Williams was simply a treat, no wonder he won the C.B. 10s. spl. and diploma for best champion bird. He deserves both honours. The winning buff put down by S. Cook is a stormer, splendid texture of feather and downed to the minute. Novice Norwich were not so good as last year, an average of 9 per class. The unlighted buff mkd. staged by Messrs. Gough and Loach was a real beauty, and would have given the upper class a shock; he captured "C.B." 10s. cash special and diploma, and Hyde's spl. Yorks turned up better than Norwich, averaging 59 in six classes, but this was nothing considering it was a M.C.Y.C.C. show. Diploma fell to Mr. P. Lane, with a ticked yell., a fine upstanding bird of grand length and position. Novices in this section were out for blood, 74 birds being staged in 4 classes, some grand birds having to stand down. The "C.B." diploma fell to the lot of A. Philpott's fine Yorks, which was beaten in class by three extra fine birds, which would have won in championship classes.

A Treat to Look at.

Cage Birds Coupon scheme brought together the finest birds of the show, and when they were all brought on to the tables—champions on one and novices on another—they were a treat to look at. Cash spl. and diploma for best Norwich, P. V. Williams; Yorks, P. Lane; Brit. Hardbill, G. Potter; Foreign, F. Price, with his champion Siberian Goldie looking quite in his Scottish National form; Softbill, P. V. Williams; Novice cash spl. and diploma, Gough and Loach; Yorks, A. Philpott. A.O.V., F. Proctor. Other specials were: Best bird in open, J. Gibbons' unflig. breast marked yellow Yorks, which also won spl. for best members' Yorks. Best Nor., Gough and Loach. Best Brit. or Mule, J. A. Yonks, who also won "C.B." diploma for best Mule. Sandiford's, Messrs. Crundell and Rowley.

Members' classes turned up grandly, especially the Nor. and British; spls. in these were won by F. J. Weaver, Nor.; E. Hall, Yorks; G. Raby, Brit. The society is to be congratulated upon its band of workers. Every exhibit at the show had the best of attention. At the head is Mr. F. J. Weaver, chairman, and Mr. F. Garfield turned out again at the right moment, and with his well-known ability soon got the Norwich on their tiers. The society have another fine helper in Mr. J. A. Tonks (Wednesbury), who deputised as show manager in the absence of the secretary, who had to leave the show-room for a few hours. The staging was splendidly arranged by W. Harrison in 3 tiers. Mr. J. Robson judged.

The Critique.

NOR., CL. OR TKD. YELL. (9): 1, "C.B." spl, Williams, great size, beauty for type, qual., etc., for a big 'un, wide head and chest, looks like last year's winning unflighted; 2, Hathaway, good col., size and condition, not quite so good in head or body; 3, Garfield, well up in size, rare width and depth of chest, short wings and tail, good qual., loses to winners in head; vhc, Eckersley; hc, Broadhurst; c, Collier. LONDON & P.O.S.

L. and P.O.S. Annual Members' Show, Oct. 2nd and 3rd. A more suitable room than the beautiful Holborn Hall would be difficult to find. Notwithstanding the membership limitation, birds came from Yorkshire, Hampshire, Devon, Herts, Essex, Lincolnshire, Dorset, etc., for the members of the L. and P.O.S. live far and near. In fact, in many respects the competition was as keen, and the competitors as widely separated in residence as is the case at any open show. Entries numbered between 300 and 400, and this number would undoubtedly have been largely increased had it not been that Wimbledon Show was being held on the same dates, for most of the L. and P.O.S. members supported both shows. Mr. Thos. Heath judged Canaries and Mules, and Mr. Frostick British and Foreign; Mr. C. W. Law, the popular Hon. sec., left no stone unturned to make the show a success, giving attention to every detail. His efforts were ably backed up by Messrs. Geo. Crabb (the universally respected chairman), J. W. Ramsden (the estate manager of the Great Crystal Palace Show), Matthew, Hodder, Butler, Percival, Harris, Shakespeare, and Madame Madewell, who was most assiduous in her attentions at the entrance. One of the special features was a very fine water colour announcement poster, designed by Mr. F. J. Day, a member of the committee. Six silver challenge cups were in competition, and specials numbered nearly 60. Mr. G. Crabb's special for best Norwich was won by Mr. L. J. Richardson with a bouncing ticked buff, Mr. Fulford taking Mr. Crabb's sp. for best Yorks. Mr. Marley's magnificent Blackbird won sp., best British; and Miss Bousfield's white-capped Tanager, best Foreign. Champion Norwich were a classy lot, combining type, quality, and colour, in a marked degree. Yorkshires were a splendid collection, and Mr. Fulford may be congratulated upon distancing such exhibits as came from the rooms of Messrs. Wilcock, Ogden Bros., Dykes, Anton, etc. Crests and C.B. were a good display for quality; and Borders, although not numerous, were good. In Novices some splendid Norwich graced the benches, Nov. Yorks. were a graceful stylish, superior collection, Borders few, but neat. In Mules and Hybrids there were some charming specimens of the Goldie-Can., Redpoll-Can., and Siskin-Can. crosses. British were a treat; Mr. Marley sending a splendid team. Foreign came up well, and the delightful plumage of these natives of far-off climes gave colour and finish to the show.

Mr. Heath's Classes.

NORTHAMPTON.

The 42nd annual show of the Northampton Good Intent O.S., held Oct. 22 in the Corn Exchange. The hall is in every way suitable for such a function, being well lighted and free from sudden changes of temperature. The secs., Messrs. Cox and Barrett, had everything well in hand, and anything that could tend to the comfort of the exhibits was exceedingly well looked to. The executive committee is a strong one, headed by Chairman Mr. G. Barrett; vice-chairs, J. Fisher and G. Hobbs; treas., F. Cox; and committee, Messrs. J. Mason, sen., J. Hill, A. Dickens, L. J. Bellham, C. Gayton, E. H. Woodman, F. Lette, W. F. Love, and W. Laundon; and all did their very best to make the show a success.

ROTHERHAM.

The thirteenth annual exhibition of the Rotherham C.B.S. was held on Oct. 24 and 25, in the Central Hall, Coronation Bridge, Masbro', a hall with a splendid light (electric by night), situated near to the Sections, and on the tram route. The entry was down again in the open section, producing only 213 exhibits, an average of scarcely 8 per class. Our Rotherham friends are a jovial and enthusiastic lot of fanciers, and were worthy of far greater response being accorded them. Specimens under their care are in safe hands, and are well cared for. They look to more liberal support next time. In the members' section upwards of 100 birds were on view, and many were of a most meritorious order. The two outstanding were the ticked yell. Yorkie cock, and the ticked buff Norwich cock, owned respectively by Messrs. W. Brotherton and A. Hunt, each winning members' cup for best unflighted bird in its section. The Yorks. cup has now been won outright (5 times in all, as per rule) by Mr. W. Brotherton. We congratulate Mr. B. on his achievement.

The committee, Messrs. B. Wall, G. Stringer, G. Ridler and G. Stafford, all worked with a will, and are full worthy of kind words being spoken of them. Mr. W. Brotherton, show manager, is a capital controller, and is a great asset to the society. That long-standing and genuine fancier, Mr. W. Bagnall, is the keeper of the "shekels." Secs. Bailey and Turner are a brace of the right sort. Both are real workers, courteous to the extreme, always on the move, and are responsible for many great efforts put forth on behalf of the Society. Stewards, who worked willingly and gave of their best assistance were Messrs. W. Bagnall and P. J. Smith. Staging was of a very neat order, and every specimen could be seen at a glance. Mr. H. W. Battye judged, and his awards were well received. Special winners were: Most entries, R. D. Parlett; Ramsden's, Mr. W. Brotherton; Sandiford's, Smith and Son; best in class 33, Mr. Turner.

The Critique.

YELL YORKS (7): 1, Dr. Craig, mkd. wing, delightful feather and col., wedge shaped, fine length, excellent outline, a gem, looks like Sheffield winner; 2, Thomas, cl., wonderful length, superb qual., best of backs, perfect wing carr., closely folded tail, inclined to be shade strong; 3, Norton, mkd. neck, slim and upstanding, A1 col. and feather, fine length, clever legs, beaten a little in character; 4, Dyson, very lengthy thigh tick, neat and narrow, stands well, but has a habit of crossing wings; vhc, McDade; hc, Moss; c, Brotherton. BUFF (11): 1, A. Radley, cl., straight as a gun barrel, smooth as wax, neat expression, lovely wing carr., not of the biggest but of the best, in the pink; 2, 3, Thomas, fine brace of clears; 2nd, erect, clinking contour, not a feather misplaced, nice length, full of style; 3rd, slightly more length, stands like a guardsman, tight as a Java, hardly so rich in texture of feather, yet a wonderful specimen and close up; 4, McDade, mkd. wings and head, rare length, A1 qual. and pos., not the neatness of waist of others, still one we liked; vhc, Norton; hc, Dr. Craig; c, Walsh. HEN (14): 1, A. Radley, exquisitely gowned cl. yell., shone like polished marble, straight as a rush, lengthy and well on leg; 2, 3, Norton, grand couple, leader a superb qual. cl. buff, true outline, smooth as box, full of swagger, rattling back and wing carr.; 3rd, rich fed cl. yell., slim, upstanding and stylish, superior qual., well on leg, very close up; 4, Thomas, cl. buff, lengthy, and A1 pos., lovely head points, neat and narrow, bit penny around cheeks, will look well shortly; vhc, Moss; hc, Sampson; c, Walsh. YELL. UNFLIG. (5): 1, Norton, beautifully feathered and grandly fed cl., slim and upstanding, fine length and style, well filled back, neat wings and tail, exceedingly promising; 2, Brotherton, cl., very shooty and nervy, A1 qual. and col., shows for all he is worth, not far away; 3, A. Radley, thigh tkd., superior feather, fine length, straight as a pencil, clever legs, worth its place; 4, Wilkinson Bros., thigh tkd., slashing qual., neat and narrow, true type, not of the longest but of the smartest, in the pink; vhc, Stringer. BUFF (5): 1, Norton, typical cl., smooth as a bottle, capital back flights and tail, clever legs, good length and cond., wins; 2, Thomas, cl., shade better col., hardly the qual., good length and position, well on leg, very close up; 3, Radley, shooty cl., neat head and neck, nice back and wing carr., well clothed, appearing to feel the nippy weather that was prevailing; 4, Wilkinson Bros., mkd. bead, lovely col., nice mealing, good qual. and length; vhc, Brotherton. HEN UNFLIG. (5): 1,, 2, Radley, both charming maidens, yell. mkd. cheek, delightfully dressed, A1 col., true shape, full of style, a picture; 2nd, buff mkd. cheek, smooth as marble, slashing symmetry, lengthy and well on leg, greatly admired, and staged to the moment; 3, Walsh, yell., mkd. wings and eyes, wonderful length, capital col. and feather, good front, not the pos. or style of those above; 4, vhc, Dr. Craig, cl. buff, rich col. and feather, shapely and well up, on the short side, yet very neat. SELF or FOUL GR. YELL.: 1, vhc, Eason, yell., pied tail, magnificent depth of col., like satin, slim and upstanding, plenty of length, clever legs, gem; 2, 3, c, Henfrey, buff, pied tail, tight as wax, stands well, capital back flights and tail, shows for all it is worth; 3rd, yell. self, for col., qual. and cond., all one need desire; not so lengthy as winner, and is bit wild; 4, Dyett, yell. self, A1 col. and qual., nice pos. and style, not so lengthy; hc, Peace. NOR. YELL. (9): 1, Hutchinson, cl. yell., wedge shaped, delightful qual., rich col, rare pos, and well on leg, good enough to compete in the "upper circle"; 2, Gill, cl., capital feather, neat and narrow, stands nicely, not quite so rich in col. or finish, yet one we liked; 3, Graham, red hot cl., shooty neat head and neck, grand back, flights and tail, little low on leg, and wee bit open on front; 4, J. Radley, cl., A1 qual. and col., stands like a soldier, nice length, raw on butts spoiling his finish; vhc, Storey; hc, Toulson; c, Hampshire. BUFF (7): 1, Graham, cl., marvellous length, lovely feather, rattling back and wing carr., neatly folded tail, in the pink; 2, Prior, mkd. wings and head, magnificent feather and col., when taking notes sat thick and would not show, panting very much, lucky we thought; 3, Hutchinson mkd. eye, slim and upstanding, good in feather, rattling length, well on leg, good one; 4, Storey, cl., well clothed, very shapely, neat back and wings, on small side; vhc, Charlesworth; hc, Naylor; No. 3, Dyett, w.c., a yellow-mkd., extremely choice. PREPAID ADVERTISEMENTS

UNDISPLAYED.—6d. for the first eighteen words. One Halfpenny per Word for each word over eighteen. Name and address to be reckoned. MINIMUM, 18 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and, after the first Eighteen words, are charged at two words a penny, but no single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.
Headlines or Footlines, 6d., 9d., 1/-, 1/6, according to size.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Small prepaid advertisements of a general nature and not connected in any way with the Cage Bird Trade are inserted at the rate of ½d. per word throughout. Minimum 12 words 6d.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

REPEATING OF ADVERTISEMENTS

Advt. Manager. "Cage Birds"

DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers in all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient, plus the extra postage incurred, has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller, stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expirration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

ANOTHER RECORD

During last season I sold nearly 800 pairs of clapnets; all were sent on approval on the distinct understanding that if they were in the slightest degree unsatisfactory I would immediately refund the whole of the purchasers' money. Despite this fact, not one pair were returned, nor was one single complaint received, but on the other hand, I received (and published) more testimonials than all other advertisers put together. This fact alone should prove to you who is the right man to supply really serviceable catching appliances. Clap-nets made from superfine thread netting, ¾-inch mesh, 3 yards long, 4/- pair; 4 yards, 5/-; 5 yards, 6/-; 6 yards, 7/-; 7 yards, 8/-; 8 yards, 9/-; 9 yards, 10/-; 10 yards, 11/- per pair. All guaranteed 5½ feet deep and 4 feet fly. These clap-nets consist of two nets to the pair, and each net is guaranteed exact measurement as above. Price includes all pegs, poles, and lines, ready for immediate use, and are guaranteed the only nets on the market that are properly armed or reinforced all round. Loose netting, as used in above nets, made specially for bird catching, 7 feet deep, ¾-inch mesh, 3d. yard; ditto, 9 feet deep, 4d. yard; ditto, 12 feet deep, 5d. yard; all post free. Extra stout netting, ½-inch mesh, 10 feet deep, 5d. yard; Sparrow nets, fitted on 10 feet bamboo poles, 6/6; ditto, on 14 feet poles, 5/6 each; self-acting spring net traps, latest and best, 24 inches by 18, 1/2 each; ditto, 18 inches by 14, 10d. each, post free; single trap cages, 6d. each, 5/- dozen; double traps, 1/- each, 9/- dozen; treble traps, 1/3 each, 12/- dozen; all these have separate compartment for call-bird; self-acting and self-setting trap cages (reg. No. 2292), guaranteed to automatically reset immediately each bird is caught, 1/6 each; call cages, all wire, soldered tops, and wood bottoms, 4d. each, 3/- dozen; real Italian hemp pull lines, specially spun, 60 yards long, 1/4 each, post free; genuine Japanese bird lime, guaranteed strongest lime made, stands all weathers and holds birds in the rain, ¼-lb. 6d., ½-lb. 10d., 1-lb. 1/6; large sample, 3d.; all post free; catchers' store cages, stave poles, drinkers, and thousands of other articles always in stock; send stamp for full copyright list, which also tells you how to buy netting for making your own nets. Please note:—I am the actual maker of all nets, and thoroughly understand what is required for successful catching. I supply every professional catcher in the kingdom, and as these men depend upon their nets for their living, they must have the very best articles going.

SCIENTIFIC CANARY-REARING.

Do you want to have the most up-to-date information regarding Canaries? All about the different varieties? How to rear them successfully for sale or exhibition? What to do when they are ailing? An artistic 20-page Brochure has been specially prepared for CAGE BIRDS readers, regarding these matters and other details of great interest to fanciers. It is a gift to you, and you are entitled to it free of charge.

In this booklet will be explained an easy method by which, for the small payment of 1s., you can be the immediate possessor of a magnificent volume, entitled "Our Canaries." It weighs 5lbs., and contains 133 illustrations and 33 coloured plates. The balance is payable at the rate of abont 1d. a day for a few months. This slight cost is not, of course, an expenditure at all, because the facts you will be put in possession of when you have read this wonderful manual on Canaries will pay for its cost many times over.

MEDICINES.

BIRD fancier's secret to make the best bird tonic (liquid) for all cage birds, 7d.: J. Bird, Wisbech. (990)

MOULTINE.—The only certain cure for soft moult, asthma, wheezing, huskiness, etc.; in bottles, 6d. and 1/-, post paid: T. W. Parker, 28, Parkfield-avenue, Bradford.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6," an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

WANTED A TRIAL

We are confident our medicines will give you satisfaction. We guarantee to return every penny paid if they fail to do as we advertise. Ditchfield's medicines have been used for over five years by most leading fanciers, and are supplied to the London Zoological Society. We have hundreds of testimonials, testifying to the value of our bird medicines. Mr. Clark, of Port Bannatyne, writes: "Have used most medicines advertised, but have never had anything to equal yours, and have been a breeder for 30 years." J. Duncan, West Brae, writes: "Have used your special Lung Tonic, also your Tonic Drops, for over two years, and they have never failed to cure." A. Sammons, Southend-on-Sea: "You have got a genuine remedy which no fancier should be without." Major B. Horsbrough: "Your medicine is magnificent stuff." Our medicines are perfectly safe, and can be fully relied upon. All medicines are sent per return of post; any bottles broken in transit replaced. Ditchfield's Tonic Drops are a Guaranteed cure for soft moult, not singing, going light, dulness, feather plucking, diarrhoea, and inflammation of the bowels. In 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. For bronchitis, wheezing, loss of voice, and hoarseness, get Ditchfield's Special Lung Tonic, also in 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. The grandest chest and lung tonic ever introduced for cage birds. To advertise our medicines we will send a 7d. bottle of each of the above medicines for 1/-, or two 1/1 bottles for 1/9. For cases of constitutional weakness and debility get Ditchfield's famous Revivo. There is nothing to equal it for giving new life and vigour to the bird. As a pick-me-up for birds before and after showing this tonic is absolutely unequalled. Sold in 7d. and 1/1 bottles. All medicines post paid per return. Two valuable seed recipes how to feed Linnets and Rollers for song, given free to all purchasers of our medicines: Frank Ditchfield, Bird Specialist, Oldham. (979)

GENUINE SIBERIANS

ANOTHER large consignment of Siberian Goldfinches, Bullfinches and Siskins; over 300 arrive this week; I am the only direct importer of the genuine Siberians in Hull, so beware of the small Russians offered as Siberians; cock Goldfinches, real giants, feathered like wax, 5/6, 6/6, and a few that can win, 7/6 each; monster Siberian hen Bullfinches, biggest ever seen in England, for show or muling, 5/6, 6/6 and 7/6 each; five extra large aviary moulted hens, finger tame, 10/6 each; cocks 6/6, 7/6 each; also five extra large yellow cock Siskins, grand caps and bibs, nicely laced, sure winners, 6/6, 7/6 each, and one Siberian yellow cock Greenfinch, big as a Thrush, only 3/6, approval with pleasure; cash or deposit: John Day, The Aviaries, Porter-st., Hull. (996)

for you.—Up to present moment not one real Siberian Goldfinch has been imported to England this season. The genuine birds reach me at end of November, and I am now booking orders for them. Price of genuine Siberian cock Goldfinches, 5/- each, seven for 28/-; picked birds, for muling and minor shows, 7/6 each, and 10/6 each for those fit to win in keenest competition. Please note.—These birds come all the way from Siberia in separate compartment wicker cages; they are clean and spick and span on arrival, and steady enough for immediate exhibition. The Russian Goldfinches now being sold are imported in boxes, and are not nearly so big as Siberians. If you want the Simon pure, let me book your order right now. (1002)

BRITISH EXHIBITORS

Am picking likely specimens for moulting out winners. Have picked thousands of winners this last 30 years. Goldfinches or Bullfinches, and grand Siskins, also for muling and singing, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each. Cock Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, 1/-, 1/6, 2/-; any on approval; sure to please you. Show cages, 2/-, three 5/6; order at once. Established 50 years. Editor of this journal has seen scores of original testimonials where I have supplied scores of winners, including Crystal Palace, Scottish National, one received this morning. Mr. Addison, High Shield.. Sir,—Please send Goldfinch, Bullfinch, Greenfinch, Chaffinch, Linnet for 16/- enclosed. Hoping they are as good as last year. Bullfinch won open and members' show. Linnet won twice, S. Shields and Jarrow: Sandiford, Bird Specialist and Judge, Preston, Lancs.

GENUINE SIBERIANS

Grand Selection of the above have arrived, good big birds, square blazes, finest condition, 5/6 each; show and muling specimens, win anywhere, 7/6 each; over 200 to choose from: G. Chapman, High st., Birmingham, and High-st., Sheffield (1002)

REAL SIBERIAN GOLDFINCHES, BULLFINCHES, SISKINS

These are the proper ones, not the Russian, as offered by many, as Siberians. I get the pick of the only lot that comes to England. Some beauties. Full scarlet coloured blazes, in the pink of health. Have sold scores of 1st prize-winners this last 10 years. Price, 6/-, 7/6, 8/6, 10/- each; approval. Large Siberian Cock Bullfinches, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6 each; large Siberian hen Bullfinches for Muling, as big as Thrushes, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/- each; any on approval. Hundreds of testimonials, where I have supplied scores of winners, including Scottish National, Crystal Palace, etc. For proof, write Editor of this journal, who has seen the originals. "Mr. J. Ovenstone, Grangemouth. Sir,—You will be pleased to hear Siberian you sent me won two firsts and second Scottish National last New Year's day." Show cages, 2/-. Send for catalogue. Estab. 50 years: Sandiford, Bird Specialist and Judge, Preston, also 89 Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London.

GOLDFINCHES, SISKINS, LINNETS, ETC.

We are patronised, and have been for 40 years, by every leading Crystal Palace judge and exhibitor, so our reputation stands second to none. We give above reward if it can be proved we send out unhealthy birds or hens for cocks. Editor of this journal has seen scores of original testimonials for birds we have supplied, which have bred hundreds of winning Mules. So if you intend buying British birds, buy from us, who have hundreds each week to pick from. We don't send out birds straight from the field; all are well on seed; guaranteed. Real English 1913 cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/- each, three 4/-, six 7/-, twelve 12/-; hens, 8d. and 10d.; extra picked, for muling, 2/6, 3/- each, three 5/-, six 8/6; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-; hens, 10d. and 1/-; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d. and 1/-; cock Siskins, 2/-, 2/6, 3/-; hens, 1/- and 1/6; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d., 1/- each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; Greenfinches, 6d. each, three 1/3; cages for any of above, from 6d., 9d., 1/-, 1/3, 1/6, and 2/-. Seed grinding mills, 1/6. Send for catalogue of everything. Established 50 years: Sandiford, Bird Specialist and Judge, Preston, Lancs.; also 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London.

(2d. from agents; see list on another page).

SOFTBILL keepers, take expert advice before proceeding to buy and keep the larger species of insectivorous birds. You will then have no trouble in keeping your pets in the best of health. This advice is offered in "Nutshell No. 26," by H. J. Fulljames. It is a wonderful little work, dealing with most varieties in a highly interesting and instructive manner. Foods and their preparation, and the various styles of cages also receive full attention. Can you breed Mealworms? This booklet tells you how. Post free, 2½d., from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Look at our list of agents; call on the nearest and get it for 2d.

ARE YOU LOOKING

for birds of tip-top quality at rock bottom price? Birds that are thoroughly healthy, well on hard seed, and really worth keeping in a cage? If so, just give me one small trial order, and I venture to think that no matter how hard you are to please, the result will be entirely satisfactory to you. In the unlikely event of the birds not realising your every expectation, you cannot lose one penny, as I send all birds on approval at my risk, and unless perfectly satisfactory, they have only to be returned, and the whole of your money is promptly and cheerfully refunded. I am the originator of approval system in connection with field birds, and during whole 22 years of my business career, have never traded on any other terms. I now have an enormous stock of genuine Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, all netted birds, in pink of health and feather, at 1/6 each, three 4/-, six 7/-, twelve 12/-; hen Goldfinches, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/-, twelve 7/-; specially selected larger cock Goldfinches, to moult for show, muling or singing, and guaranteed now in song, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 8/6, twelve 16/-; few clean-moulted exhibition specimens, in superb condition, 3/-, 4/-, and 5/- each; splendid lot cock brown Linnets, every bird clean moulted, with nut brown backs, and rose-red breasts, 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; large picked birds, guaranteed in song for muling, or contest singing, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 3/6, twelve 6/-; exhibition specimens, 1/6, 2/-, and 2/6 each; handsome lot cock Greenfinches, 6d. each, three 1/-, six 1/6; picked yellows, for muling, 1/- each; exhibition specimens, 2/6 each; cock or hen Redpolls, 6d. each, three 1/3, six 2/-; exhibition specimens, 2/6 each; cock Chaffinches, 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; magnificent lot clean moulted healthy Siskins, over 300 in stock, all thoroughly on hard seed, and in superb condition; cocks, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 9/-, twelve 17/-; specially picked exhibition specimens 3/-, 4/- and 5/- each; hens, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/-, twelve 7/6; splendid lot of plump, healthy, cock Larks, every bird warranted a cock, not half hens or skeletons, 6d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; specially picked, steady young cocks for singing, 1/-, 1/6, and 2/- each. Special travelling cages, 3d. per 3 birds extra. Please note, although my advertisements are extensively copied, I have no connection whatever with any other man in the trade, and I claim to have more Worcestershire birds through my hands than all other advertisers together. No birds are sent out until feeding thoroughly well on the usual hard seed mixture, and sex is guaranteed in every instance. If you cannot sex birds yourself, it would please me for you to have my birds examined by a competent judge, so that you would know you are having what you pay for, as what is more annoying to a man, after he has been keeping a bird for months, waiting for it to sing, to find it turns out a hen. I have 22 years' reputation in the bird trade, and that reputation is behind every bird sent out.

THE most up-to-date manual on this popular breed is "Norwich Canaries: How to Breed, Manage, and Exhibit," by C. A. House. It contains a beautiful coloured plate, and many black and white illustrations. In it will be found fullest hints and instructions on all the various points which go to make up a champion Norwich. It deals in a most practical manner with all the various stages of the life of a Norwich from the egg to the show bench, explains fully how to pair up the stock birds, how to feed the young, the art of colour feeding, and the way to wash and prepare birds for show. Do not be without it, post free 1/1½, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

MR. HAWKES has a few exceptionally fine exhibition deep colour-fed Norwich for disposal, having no time for exhibiting myself, will offer the following specimens at a great sacrifice. DID you ever hear or possess a Hummel Roller? if not, you cannot draw any comparison between that and the ordinary Hartz Roller, with its long monotonous drawn out steam engine whistling notes; the Hummel is a living musical box with about 16 changes of song, including deep bass rolls, sweet silvery trills, water-bubble runs, bell, harp and gong notes, etc. The ordinary Hartz Roller, sold under all sorts of fancy names, consists of about two or three long drawn-out shrills like a steam engine or a motor-car in distress. If you want music buy an English-bred Hummel Roller and compare it with any imported Roller on the market; prices 7/6 each, hens 1/9 each; 4 schoolmasters 10/- each, full week's approval on receipt of postal order: Wesson, the Roller Breeder, Ada-rd., nr. Shireland-rd., Smethwick, Worcestershire. (1001)

Genuine Trained

Seifert Hartz Mountain Rollers, direct from the Harlz Mountains in Germany. 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 16/-, 20/-, 30/- each. Hens, same strains, 2/6, 3/6, 5/-. Hartz Cocks, 4/6, 6/6, 8/6; Hens, 1/6, 2/-. Three hens, lot 4/-. Pairs, matched for breeding, 6/-, 7/6, 8/6. Cages, 3d. extra. These birds are offered without any sensational "gush" and foolish exaggeration, which only exploit the ignorance of those making such.

W. RUDD, The Bird Specialist, NORWICH.

NOTICE, Andreasberg Roller Canaries, Nightingale notes, wonderful songsters, 4/9 each, including new glass panelled ornamental cage; why pay more? purchasers delighted: Mr. Copp, Wardrobe Stores, Dartford. (1002)

AM I LATE?

Have you been waiting to see my prices? Well, here am I. Better late than never, and better songsters late. It is to give you satisfaction that I have been attending. My long experience as breeder and importer enables me to give you the right birds at the right time of the year; do not be misled with common half-bred rubbish—there is no need. I have good, reliable, well bred birds to suit all pockets. My German trained St. Andreasberg Rollers are second to none; high quality of birds without any fancy prices. Cock birds, trained day and gaslight songsters, with water-bubble runs, soft roulades, harp, bell, gong, flute, piccolo, bass, and double-rolls, etc., etc., 6/9, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6 each according to quality of song. Genuine St. Andreasberg hens 2/6, 3/- each. The cheapest songsters in England are my Hartz cocks, they are loud free singers, birds that sing by day and gaslight, making plenty of noise. The real working-man's friend, cocks 4/9, 5/3, 5/9, 6/3 each; matched breeding pairs, cock and hen, for breeding songsters, 6/9, 7/6, 8/6. Owing to the great demand for my singing Canaries, I only stock St. Andreasberg, Seifert, Hartz, Rollers. Thus keeping all birds with their pure delightful song. All birds sent on seven day's approval at my sole risk. Cash or deposit. Neat travelling cages 3d. each. The old firm, with 18 years' reputation behind it: E. I. Storey, Roller Specialist, Crowle, Doncaster.

YOU'VE NEVER KNOWN

the real merit of a Roller's song unless you have heard a Weber's Leipzig Roller, as imported by me. Instead of having one or two long drawn-out railway-whistle rolls, same as the ordinary Roller, their song consists of a splendid variety of musical changes entirely free from harshness and monotony. I have on hand a very large stock of cocks picked from first round of young, all are in free song, day and gaslight, with hollow and double rolls, sweet silvery trills, waterbubble runs, soft roulades, piccolo trills, bell, harp, gong and flute notes, and jug-jug of Nightingale, etc., price 6/6 and 7/6 each; hens, guaranteed same strain, 1/9 each, 3/- couple. I also have a splendid lot of perfectly trained Bandmasters in perfect song; these birds have exceptionally soft mellow notes, and excel in the deep bass and hollow tours; price, 10/6 and 12/6 each. For those who like a loud, noisy singer, I have a grand lot of Hartz cocks, all guaranteed in loud, free, vigorous song, just the thing for public bar or coffee house, where plenty of loud, noisy song is required; price 5/- each; seven for 29/9; singing box cages, 1/6 each; special Roller singing-cabinets, with loose fronts and folding doors, 2/6 and 4/- each; special travelling cages 3d. All birds are safely and warmly packed with food and water for 48-hour journey, and sent on full week's trial at my risk during whole time, either on receipt of cash, or same is deposited with Editor, and unless bird gives fullest satisfaction and realises your every expectation, the whole of the money is promptly returned. Please note following few unsolicited testimonials: "Jarrow, Oct. 9. Sir,—Received bird all right. He's a beauty, and if he turns out as good as he looks I shall be more than satisfied. Yours, Fred Bell." "Holly Bush, Maxwell Road, Bournemouth. Oct. 10th. Sir,—Birds arrived in splendid condition. I am delighted with them and shall remember you when ordering again. Yours, J. Stead." "7, Church Street, Gowerton, Oct. 10th. Sir,—Please send price list. I was in Gowerton Station on 8th, and there was a Canary in a cage sent from you to Mr. Thomas, of Waunarllwydd. He was singing beautiful, even shut up in the dark. I couldn't see him, but knew it was a Roller.—Yours, W. Lloyd." "188 Rectory Road, Gateshead, Oct. 10th. Sir,—Bird arrived safe on 7th inst., and gives every satisfaction. Yours, C. Rust." "12, Brockwell Street, Quebec, Co. Durham, Oct. 11th. Sir,—Bird arrived in good health, and I am highly satisfied with him. Thanking you for honest dealing. Yours, G. Johnson." All birds are stamped on wing, "Hans Weber, Leipzig," and I am only importer of this strain so send your orders to the fountain head if you would ensure getting a genuine Leipzig Roller. (961)

Destructive Garden Birds.

Country gardens are almost deserted by the common House Sparrow, but the Thrushes, Blackbirds, and Tits remain, especially where a few apples and pears are still left upon the fruit trees. The Tits are terribly destructive, pecking little round holes in the choicest specimens, and they are not content to confine their attention to one specimen, but in half an hour will sample a dozen or so, quite spoiling them for dessert. Where Thrushes and Blackbirds are plentiful it is a good plan to have one or two apples and pears lying upon the ground under the trees. The birds will frequently make a meal off these in preference to the sound fruit upon the trees.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, three words a penny.

CASTLEFORD.

Weekly Linnet sing, Nov. 1, at headquarters, George and Dragon, Bridge Street, when 31 birds entered. Winners: 1, W. Nelson, 71; 2, J. Liversedge, 56; 3, J. Williams, 45. On Nov. 2 there were 18 birds entered. Winners: 1, J. Wainwright, 73; 2, W. Nelson, 64; 3, S. Morley, 42. General meeting, Nov. 8, after the contest.—J. Brindley, Sec.

LEEDS.

Quality singing at Skinner's Arms, Buslingthorpe, Nov. 2. We had friends from Castleford, Pontefract, and Gluss Houghton to hear a grand contest. The singing was to the enjoyment of a crowded room; 33 birds competed. 1, Buttry; 2, Blackburn; 3, Ward; 4, King. Judges, Messrs. C. Clayton, J. Granger, J. Sellars. A contest will be held Nov. 8, 3 o'clock prompt.—C. Clayton, Hon. Sec.

Usual weekly contest for quality Linnet singing held at the Old Bird House, King's Head, Shannon Street, Nov. 1. 14 birds sang. 1, S. Hardcastle; 2, 3, W. Sissons. Judges, D. Madden, and W. Naylor. Also Nov. 2, 19 birds sang. 1, H. Wigfield; 2, S. Hardcastle; 3, H. Wigfield. Judges, A. Jerrings, W. Naylor, J. Mellia.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Club Reports.

[BLACKWOOD (Mon). F.S.

General meeting held at club rooms, Nov. 22, to form a new society, when 12 new members were made. Decided to run a show of cage birds, etc., date to be fixed next meeting, Nov. 4. Officers elected for coming year: Chairman, H. Palmer; Vice-Chair, D. Johns; Treas., G. Neill; Sec., W. H. Coleman. Advert. of cage bird section will appear later in CAGE BIRDS.—W. H. Coleman, Sec.

BRADFORD WEST C.B.A.

Mr. E. Butterfield will give an exhibition of cage-making at the headquarters, Shoulder of Mutton, Girlington, to commence at 7.30 p.m., on Nov. 8, and it is hoped there will be a good turn-up of members and friends to hear Mr. Butterfield explain this interesting subject. There will be other important business to discuss as regards old show, etc.—A. Cooper, Sec.

CHESTER C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, Oct. 28, "Boot Inn." Mr. F. C. Parker presided over a good attendance. Six new members were elected. Mrs. C. E. Way kindly promised to again present the Yorkshire cup for competition at the annual show, to be won outright. Decided to hold next meeting Nov. 18, to make final arrangements and transact necessary business for show, Nov. 22. There is still time for those who intend joining to do so. Don't forget the four cups are to be won outright. Full particulars from hon. sec., R. L. G. Simpson, 35, Clare Avenue, Chester.

BRITISH ROLLER C.C.

Committee meetiug held Oct. 28, the President in the chair. New members elected: Mr. J. H. Smith (Wakefield), and confirmation as a member of Mr. C. W. Wilson (Grimsby). The patronage was given to the City of Birmingham and Walsall societies. The club show will not be held this year in connection with the L.C.B.A. show; the Roller classes are being run by the L.C.B.A. under the patronage of the club. Judges, Messrs. Fisher and Wareing. The 2nd International Roller Show will be held Feb. 6 and 7, 1914. Decided to print 500 of the present judging standard for use during the present show season. As there appears to be a feeling that the present judging standard should be altered, the committee are anxious to find out if this feeling is general. They therefore invite secretaries of Roller clubs to call a meeting of members to disuses this matter, asking those members who act as judges to give their views on the subject, as to what would be the best tours to add, or take away as the case may be. The judges are in a better position to explain to members if it should be altered, as no doubt they have heard birds who have brought the tours for which it is proposed to alter the standard. A suggestion was made that there be a conference of the judges. Whether this will come to pass is doubtful, owing to the expense of getting them together.—J. W. Norris, Hon. Sec.

WIMBLEDON C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, 6, The Broadway, on Nov. 3, ladies numbering nearly one-half of those present. Mr. W. H. Stoakley presided. The chief business was the reading by the secretary of an extremely interesting report of the annual show, which stated that the decrease in the number of entries was chiefly in the members' classes, which dropped from 235 to 160, while the open exhibits had only decreased 67, more than accounted for by the absence of the Roller section. In other respects the show was a success in every way and compared very favourably with any show previously held. Not a single complaint had been received, a fact which spoke volumes for those who willingly laboured in unpacking and repacking the birds and in other ways, to one and all of whom thanks were heartily given. A rough estimate of the accounts showed a balance to the bad of £2 16s. 2d., which will probably be reduced when the accounts are finally made up. The Chairman said that considering all the difficulties they had had to face and the terrible weather they experienced on the first day of the show, the result was very encouraging and gratifying. He spoke of the great assistance they had received in the show arrangements, especially from several lady members, and passed a high compliment on Mr. Smith for his indefatigable labours, and mentioning the great assistance given him by Mrs. Smith, all of whom were later on accorded very hearty votes of thanks. A large number of letters were read from exhibitors expressing the highest gratification at the grand condition in which their birds were returned to them, the excellent way in which the show was managed, and the promptness with which their birds were returned and prize money paid. Some of the cups and other specials won at the show were presented, Mr. G. Saunders getting the "Warley," "Whittome" and "Thynne" cups, two of which he won outright. Messrs. Easterling and Carson the "Liversage" cup, Rev. H. A. Soames the "Soames" cup, Messrs. Owen and Son the chairman's prize for most points with 97 (Mr. H. Smith and Mrs. Thynne being 2nd and 3rd with 77 and 74 respectively), and Mrs. Thynne got a silver spoon for the best bird shown by a lady, and Mr. J. A. Clarke a medal as runner-up for the "Liversage" cup with 28 points as against 29 gained by the winners. A judging competition of Yorks. followed, Mr. Jeffery Jefferis acting as final judge. Some 24 members took part. The awards were 1 and 2, Mr. Carson; 3, Mr. Wright; vhc, he, Mr. Bailey; c, Mr. Smith. Mr. Jefferis was accorded thanks. There were two nominations for membership, and one new member was elected.—H. Smith, Hon. Sec.

BURNHOPE C.B.S.

Meeting held Nov. 1 at Colliery Inn, Burnhope, Mr. H. Burron in chair, with a good turn-up of members, 20 being enrolled—not bad for a new society. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. W. Rushton; Sec., Mr. J. W. Robson; Treasurer, Mr. J. Dixon; Committee, Messrs. G. Dawson, T. Usher, W. Johnston, T. Blackburn, C. Hogg, J. Robson, H. Barron, J. Anderson; Auditors, J. Robson, T. Blackburn.—J. W. Robson, Sec., Mordues Buildings, Burnhope, nr. Lanchester.

BURNLEY O.S.

Meeting held Oct. 30, at the Star Inn, Church-st., Mr. Barwise in chair. There was a good turn-up of members. New members: Mr. H. Catlow, Mr. F. Berry, Mr. Pattison, and Mr. Atkinson. Mr. A. Hirst (Accrington) was elected to judge our members' show, Dec. 20. The following classes were fixed:—Norwich Champ., 5; Novice, 5; Yorkshires, 6; Novice, 4; Brit., 2; A.O.V. of Canary or Mules, 1; Selling class, 12/6, 1; Gift, 1. We have some good specials promised. Next meeting on Nov. 13, when there will be a washing competition for novice members. Mr. Barwise will give a special prize for the best washed bird. Competitors to provide their own bird, etc. Fanciers wishing to join can do so by applying to the Sec., G. Whittaker, 18, Sandhurst-st., Burnley.

PAISLEY, TANNAHILL O.S.

Annual show meeting held Nov. 1, at 2, St. James' Street, Mr. Robert Neil (Pres.), chair, and a large turnout of members and friends. A few songs having been rendered, a most pleasing duty fell to the Chairman in presenting Mr. A. Ferguson with society's cup and gold badge, which he had won with a buff hen, also being runner-up with a buff cock. The same birds also won 1st and 3rd in Amalgamation, this being Mr. Ferguson's second year, and the fourth year in succession that Tannahill Society has had the honour of best bird in hall. Prize money and specials were paid out during the evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent with songs from the following members and friends:—Messrs. Donaldson, Fleming, Fernie, Forsyth, Hamilton, Neil, Meikle, etc. A hearty vote of thanks to the Chairman concluded a most harmonious evening. —John Stewart, Sec.

NORTHERN NORWICH P.C.

Meeting held Oct. 29, Mr. R. Topping in the chair, before a good attendance. Two new members were elected: Mr. J. Lumley (Newcastle), and Mr. J. W. Nicholson (Carlisle), and a table show and judging competition was held (2 classes), Mr. T. C. Crawhall acting as master judge and giving entire satisfaction. YELLOW: 1, R. W. Smith; 2, R. Topping; 3, c, F. W. Laidlow; vhc, he, A. Holden. BUFF: 1, 3, Holden; 2, Topping; vhc, c, Laidlow; hc, Smith. The judging competition caused a deal of interest, all present taking part, but Mr. R. W. Smith gave the same results of Class 1 as Mr. Crawhall did, and was the winner; 2, Mr. Hodgson; 3, Mr. Holden. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Crawhall. Next meeting, Nov. 26, to hold a table show, 4 classes: 1, Yell. or Buff Cock; 2, Ditto Hen (old birds); 3, Yell. or Buff Cock; 4, Ditto Hen (unflighted), and to ask Mr. Gillespie, of Gateshead, to judge. Fanciers remember next meeting and let us have a good turn-up.—F. W. Laidlow, Sec.

HIGHGATE & HAMPSTEAD C.B.S.

Meeting held Spencer Hall, Oct. 27, Mr. P. Johnston in the chair. We had a washing competition, 3 washing in champion and 5 in novice section. Mr. W. Shakespeare officiated, and awarded the medals to Mr. J. Hyde (champ.) and Mr. W. Withers (novice). Mr. Shakespeare also washed a bird, making a few remarks on how to handle them; this was much enjoyed by a large number of members and friends. Votes of thanks to Mr. Shakespeare for his services as judge, also to Mr. P. Johnston for so ably taking the chair were passed unanimously, bringing a most enjoyable and instructive evening to a close. A special committee meeting was held Oct. 29, to make arrangements for annual show. A grand lot of specials were allotted for competition. Stewards, etc., were nominated. Mr. C. W. Law kindly promised to make arrangements for social in connection with distribution of prizes on Nov. 24. We were sorry to hear of the ill-health of Mr. R. T. Dann and Mr. J. Kent, the committee passing a resolution of condolence, and wishing them a speedy recovery to health again.—J. Hyde, Hon. Sec.

GLASGOW (Queen's Park) C.B.S.

Monthly meeting and table show held Oct. 29, in the Marie Stuart Halls, Crosshill, there being an excellent turn-out of members. Nearly 60 birds, all Norwich, faced the judge, Mr. E. Barron, who had some difficulty in separating the winners, and his awards were well received. YELL.: 1, Munro; 2, J. Naismith; 3, Cairns; vhc, Findlay; he, Philip; c, A. Naismith. BUFF: 1, Stewart; 2, J. Naismith; vhc, A. Naismith; he, Morgan; c, Holliday. YELL. HEN: 1, Jeffrey; 2, Stewart; 3, Philip; vhc, A. Naismith; he, Fulton; c, Holliday. BUFF: 1, Munro; 2, Jeffrey; 3, Edward; vhc, Stewart; he, Cairns; c, Munro. UNFLIG. CK.: 1, Morgan; 2, Edward; 3, Cairns; vhc, A. Naismith; he, Robertson; c, Holliday. HEN: 1, Cairns; 2, Morgan; 3, Robertson; vhc, c, A. Naismith; he, Fulton. Mr. M. Stewart won special for most points. During the judging of the table show the members were entertained to a washing exhibition by Mr. J. A. Stewart, of Scotch Fancy fame, who washed two birds and dried same with a specially prepared powder of his own. The members watched this process very closely, and no doubt benefited largely by the exhibition. One or two members present took some of the powder to give it a trial. Mr. Stewart was warmly thanked for his kindness in coming and giving his services, and likewise Mr. Burron was thanked for judging the show. Next meeting, Nov. 26, table show for Borders and Yorks will be held, Mr. Jeffrey judging. Final arrangements for annual show will be made. Will all members do their best to attend?—R. Heggie, Sec.

Dealers Fined for Overcrowding Skylarks

Two bird dealers named William Cookson and William Wright were summoned in the Liverpool Police Court on Oct. 30 for causing unnecessary suffering to a number of Larks.

The evidence of a local bird fancier was to the effect that on the 11th inst. he was at the back of the market, when he noticed about 200 birds in a four-decker cage. They had not even standing-room, and there was neither food nor water for them.

An Inspector of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals deposed to having his attention drawn to the birds, about fifty of which were in each compartment. They were standing one on top of another in many instances, and he considered that what he saw would be injurious to the birds. He gave them some water, and they showed great anxiety to get to it. Several of the birds were allowed to fly away, and others were sold at 1d. each.

The defendants declared that they had a very much smaller number than the prosecution had stated. The birds had had water before they left home at Tarleton, near Preston, and they had been supplied with food.

The Bench imposed a fine of 20s. and costs upon each defendant.—"Daily Post and Mercury."

THE BRACING OF DECOY LARKS.

A Fine for Cruelty.

At Formby Police Court on Oct. 1, Henry Hall (77), Ralph's Wife's Lane, Banks, was summoned for causing unnecessary suffering to wild birds on Banks Common on Sept. 24. Mr. C. P. Greenwood defended.

Inspector Willcox, R.S.P.C.A., said at half-past ten on the morning in question he saw the defendant on Banks Common, bird snaring. He had net laid down for the purpose of catching the birds, and also "flirting" sticks, attached to lines, and loops. He had two Larks fastened by string attached to both legs. He saw him put the string so that first one Lark was up in the air and then the other. The motion caused each Lark to utter a low note when it was up, and continue to flutter. Witness went over to defendant and said: "You are bird catching?" He replied: "Yes." Witness said: "You know who I am?" and defendant nodded his head. Witness went to defendant's watch rods, and found one of the birds in a thoroughly exhausted condition. He took it out of the slip and found that both legs were chafed and lacerated. He took the other bird, and both its legs were in a similar state. He told defendant he was committing an offence by causing the birds unnecessary suffering. He waited while defendant packed up his apparatus, but defendant refused to come to Banks Police Station. Witness found the officer there was away for the day, and proceeded to Southport. He met P.C. Hall, and the latter examined the birds, after which they were destroyed. The legs of the birds were not broken. Not having come in contact with defendant before, he had never warned him.

Mr. Greenwood: You don't complain of his decoying birds, but of the manner in which he did it?—Yes.

In what other way could they be braced?—They could be braced by the body.

If the defendant tells you he does not know such a way of bracing, and he would be only too glad to know, would you be prepared to show him?—No. Witness further stated that they never did brace Larks on the body. He did not say it was not possible, but it was not generally done. It was always done by one leg?

You would not be prepared to tell him the proper way to do it?—No; I should not.

P.C. Hall corroborated as to the condition in which the birds were after the alleged offence.—Cross-examined: He did not know how far the Inspector had carried the birds. He had them in his coat pocket. Witness did not think that would have frightened them and caused them to become more exhausted than they were previously.

Mr. Greenwood said the Inspector did not complain of defendant snaring wild birds. This was a legitimate occupation, and one a man was entitled to follow. The Act to which the Inspector referred recognised the fact that birds might be braced or otherwise secured, and all defendant had been guilty of was bracing them in the wrong way. He was not running down the Society; it was doing a good and beneficent work, but he suggested it was in a sense cruelty to bring an old man of 77 there for such conduct as had been described. Until two years ago he worked as a labourer on the Scarisbrick Estate. At that time he had to give up his employment owing to being so afflicted with rheumatism that he was no longer able to work. He had the old-age pension, and his wife also, and that was all they had to keep them. Defendant had been catching birds for sixty years. He had always caught Larks in the same way, and did not know there was anything wrong with it. If there was, he regretted it. He only got a penny each for the Larks when they were caught. He suggested that having regard to the defendant's age and position, and the fact that he had never been warned, they should dismiss the case on payment of costs.

Inspector Willcox: How many birds have died in the loops?—Defendant: None. I change them as soon as possible, not to do them any hurt. One of these had not been in above a minute.—Didn't I show you the birds chafed?—No, that was not done then.—Didn't I ask you to come to the police station and have them examined?—That was never put to me.

The Chairman: You will be fined 2s. 6d. and costs, and we are taking into consideration your position and your record heretofore.—"Southport Guardian."

TAUNTON O.S.

Show held Oct. 30, in the Parade Assembly Rooms, a most suitable place for such a fixture, being well lighted and free from draughts. A large, well-lighted, sunny ante-room was utilised for judging purposes, which commenced at 9 a.m. prompt, with the result that catalogues with awards were on sale early in the afternoon. Owing to the unfortunate clashing of dates with Windsor and Paignton, entries were not so numerous as had been hoped for, still far a first effort the executive had every reason to congratulate themselves upon what was undoubtedly a very fine exhibition. Much of this success was due to the untiring efforts of the energetic and enthusiastic hon. sec., Mr. W. G. Elsmore, who was backed up by the following able committee, Messrs. Turner (chairman), Bryant, Fear, Fawle, Gardner, Mockridge, and Spranklin. Norwich did not come up over well; British were really good, and contained many specimens of great merit; Foreigners were quite a nice display, and a great attraction to visitors, the local class brought forth a very remarkable lot of good Parrots. The show was exceedingly well advertised in the town, and it is hoped that a good gate resulted. The judges were: Canaries, Mr. J. W. Rennie, Rev. G. W. Joyce; Hybrids, British and Foreign, Mr. J. Frostick.

Yorkshires were the feature of the show, the Society having the full patronage of the Southern Y.C.C., consequently the best in the South were on view, and in addition some from Bradford. Several good birds were passed through having bad wing carriage; breeders should note this, as it is a very bad fault. Several birds stood out far in front of the others, viz., Mr. Crisp's buff, also the same exhibitor's marked birds, which were very much admired. Messrs. Hawes Bros. staged a wonderfully good yellow hen. Norwich did not turn up so well in numbers, but the leaders were very good birds, and some very good Crests were also staged. Mr. J. W. Rennie judged Yorks and Norwich, making his debut as a judge, with credit to himself and satisfaction to exhibitors.

The Critique.

YORKS., CHAMP., YELL.: Very even class, and no doubt the leaders will change through the season. 1, Pattrick, good size, excellent quality, high on leg, well put down, condition told; 2, Hawes Bros., typical, rather too much feather; 3, Elsmore, very nervy, might be longer; 4, Hawes Bros., good col., pressed third hard; vhc, Boundy; he, Ayres; c, Wilcock; No. 1, Easterling and Carson, evidently one of the best birds in the class, but very soft. BUFF (17), some splendid birds in this class: 1, Crisp, Plymouth and Wimbledon winner, a model, high on leg, neat head, good flights, extra good feather, wins easily; 2, Pattrick, good size, lacks the winner's grand qual.; 3, 4, Hawes Bros., not so long on leg as leaders, more feather; 4th, wing tkd., plenty of shoulder, short on leg; vhc, Wilcock; he, Knight; c, Halliday. MKD. (12): 1, 2, Crisp, mkd. buff, typical, splendid length good shoulder, grand qual. of feather, well drawn; 2nd, pressed winner hard, mkd. yell., long, plenty of shoulder, high on leg, good col., these two stand right out by themselves; 3, Hawes, mkd. eyes and wings, neat bird, but not the length of winners; 4, Easterling and Carson, mkd. eyes and wings, good length, not the quality of leader; vhc, Rorke; he, Ball; c, Lushbrooke. HEN, YELL. (17): 1, 3, Hawes Bros., 1st exceptional size, true Yorks. type, plenty of shoulder, leg, etc., rather too much feather; 3rd not the size of leaders; 2, Crisp, grand type, good shoulder flights and tail, wants a little more time to fine down; 4, Knight, grand little hen, good flights, but does not tighten herself up enough; vhc, Wilcock; he, Ball; c, Rorke. BUFF (22): 1, Crisp, one that every novice should note, one of the largest, yet has not a feather out of place, best qual. of feather, good shoulder flights and pipe tail, full of nerve, wins easily; 2, 4, Hawes Bros., another good hen, cap and wing mkd., does not show off so well as winner; 4th, real good hen, shows too much feather, which put her back, cap mkd.; 3, Bousfield, little stouter, good position, neat flights and tail; vhc, Boundy; he, Ball; c, Mabey. UNFLIG., YELL. (18): 1, Crisp, good size, neat flights and tail; 2, Knight, perhaps the best in the class, but soft, which put him back, grand shoulder, good qual. of feather, high on leg; 3, Elsmore, good qual., wants more size; 4, he, Hawes Bros., good bird, a little wild, not so good in pos. as leaders, lacks shoulder; vhc, Easterling and Carson; c, Ball. BUFF (15): 1, Crisp, variegated, grand feather, flights and pipe tail, good head, wins well; 2, Wilcock, good qual. of feather, good size, nice flights, pipe tail, well on leg; 3, 4, Hawes Bros., 3rd, variegated, good size shoulder, wants a little more leg; vhc, Hill; he, Lakeman and Elston; c, Elsmore. NOV., YELL. (10): 1, Plumb, extra good bird for a novice, plenty of nerve, shoulder, good feather; 2, Nicholls, not so large, good qual., tail not so piped as winners; 3, Gardner, little rough in front, good pos., little short on leg; 4, Oddy; vhc, Hall and Milson; he, Oddy; c, Cooper and Milson. Buff (10): 1, Shadder, good size, pos., flights, and tail; 2, Nicholls, large, lacks winner's qual.; 3, Johnston, good flights, tail, and head, little short on leg; 4, Oddy; vhc, Cooper and Milson; he, Fawles; c, Hall. MKD. (8): 1, Plumb, variegated, buff, lovely qual., nice flights and tail; 2, Bishop, check mkd. yell., not the qual. of winner; 3, Mellows, tips flights not so good in feather; vhc, Parker; he, Taylor; c, Fawle. YELL., HEN (10): Parker wins well, nice head, grand qual. flights and tail; 2, Mellows, breedy, not so good in feather; 3, Gardner, lacks size, but very good qual.; 4, Scudder; vhc, Johnston; he, Hall; c, Oddy. BUFF (12): Parker, mkd. buff, lovely qual. of feather, plenty of leg, nice flights and tail, wins easily; 2, Corbin, not so large; 3, Plumb, good size, lacks qual. of feather; 4, Fawle; vhc, Hall; he, c, Gardner. UNFLIG. DOVER.

Thirteenth annual show held Nov. 5 and 6 in the Market Hall, Dover. The building is a fine one for a show and capable of comfortably holding many hundreds of exhibits. The birds were beautifully staged and were well looked after by the stewards, Messrs. Raynor and Wood. The entry was about the same as usual. Spl. for best bird went to a lovely buff Norwich put down by Mr. Pilcher. In Yorks. the local fanciers were well in the running, Mr. Lockett especially doing well, his young yell. cock taking the spl. for best members exhibit. The management was excellent, Messrs. Abbott and Austin being well up to the work, and they had everything in good order, Judging finished early and catalogues were quickly on sale. Stewards were carefully allotted for each section, so that there was no confusion. The Society has a fine Committee, consisting of Messrs. Kennett (chairman), Rayner, Lewis, Coleman, Campany, Goodwin Gardner, Hunt, Holmans, Johncock, King, R. Kennett, Olifent, Reeve, Saville, Whiting, Wood and Yates. The show was opened by Alderman W. G. Lewis, who has performed the office for twelve years in succession, and takes great interest in all live stock. Mr. H. Norman judged.

BARNSTAPLE.

Twenty-sixth annual exhibition, Nov. 4 and 5. As usual, the cage birds were staged in an annexe of the large Market Hall, which was considered by many fanciers present an ideal place, with plenty of top light, free from draughts, and snug and cosy. Belgians are the centre of attraction at this fixture, and some good birds were on view. Yorks and Nor., too, were quite a show in themselves, and grand quality throughout. Crest and C.-B.'s were small in numbers, but quality was all there. Mules and Hybrids were simply grand. The committee consists of very hard-working fanciers, who looked well after the interests of the birds entrusted to their charge. Mr. E. Collins is the enthusiastic chairman. Mr. J. D. Horrill, capable and always courteous, makes an ideal secretary. Mr. T. Heath judged.

The Critique.

BELGIAN, YELL.: 1, G. S. Baker, his old warrior, fought many a battle and still looking fit; 2, Dart, larger in size, good top end, not quite so stylish; 3, F. C. Baker, nice cond., very good shoulder and neck, bit free in tail; 4, Dix, good shoulder, about the best top end in class, fails somewhat in subs.; 5, Horrill, nice; he, c, F. Hunt. BUFF: 1, spl. G. S. Baker, with his champion again, monster in size, wins; 2, Dart, nice condition, good pose, very heavy, shows well; 3, Dix, good heavy shoulders, head carried right down, very fair exhibit; 4, 5, Harrill, very nice birds, not steady enough to show to best advantage; he, A. Baker. HEN: 1, Butt, yellow, fine subs., mother of the bowl winner; 2, 4, Horrill, nice stylish birds, hardly the subs. of winner; 3, W. Robertson (of Troon), good large buff, short of neck to winners. BRED 1913 (14): 1, and novice CAGE BIRDS spl., and bowl for best young Belgian, Butt, yell., tkd. head, very fine subs. for a yell., good back, nice shoulder, grand top, wins; 2, A. Baker, buff, nice exhibit, good shoulder and brings head nicely away; 3, Horrill, yell. hen, beauty, very large, hardly ready yet, will get higher up later; 4, he, G. S. Baker, nice birds, good qual.; 5, c, Hunt, late hatched, not ready yet; class contained some good birds. No. 10, yell., very nice exhibit, from Mr. Robertson, of Troon, very soft 1st day, in my opinion when well will want some stopping. YORKS (14): 1, Fullord, sweet head and lovely col., grand pos., smooth as glass, wins; 2, 3, Lashbrook, two more beautiful exhibits, put down in A1 style; 4, Pitt, grand feather, nice pos., fails just in length; 5, Craven, nice; he, Bishop; c, Hill. BUFF (8): 1, spl, 3, T. Richards, grand qual., rare length, beautifully drawn, feathered to perfection, about best Yorkie in show; 3rd same qual., fails only in length; 2, 4, Lashbrook, two more grand exhibits, put down in his masterly style; 5, Clift; he, c, Craven. HEN (12): 1, 2, Fullord, two beautiful hens, put down in grand style, win; 3, Pitt, beautiful feathered, close as a Java; 4, he, c, Richards, grand yell., hardly at her best today; 5, Lashbrook. UNFLIG. (10): 1, Fullord, cl. buff, regular beauty, grand length, lovely quality, wins; 2, spl, Richards, another beautiful bird, almost equal, fails wee bit in length; 3, Hill, tkd. neck buff, nice body and finish; 4, c, Craven, cl. yell., good exhibit; 5, Reynolds, good feather; he, Gallop. NORWICH, YELL. (8): 1, spl, Jones, about best Nor. in show, nice head, grand body, feather, right texture, wins; 2, Noyce, another real fine exhibit, perhaps hardly the quality of feather; 3, Pope, eye and wing mkd., very hot col., beautiful bird, nice chubby body; 4, Mrs. Scholes; 5, Redwood; he, Capp; c, Richards. BUFF (14): 1, Davies, shapely, not over large, nice qual., feathered like a Java; 2, R. Taylor, good head, chubby body; 3, Redwood, wing and neck mkd., bouncer for size, grand feather, lovely head and body, many thought should have won, better luck next time; 4, Noyce, another nice bird, not quite so chubby as above; 5, Norman; he, spl, Jones; c, Lemon. YELL. HEN (8): 1, Davies, beautiful bird, tkd. wing, wins; 2, Redwood, another grand hen, splendid head and body; 3, Follwell, a beauty, almost as good as above, hard to part them; 4, Howard; 5, Capp; he, Richards; c, West. BUFF HEN: 1, Redwood, cl., nice head and body, lovely type, wins; 2, Turner, grand shape, not quite so large, but a charming lady; 3, Mrs. Scholes, also a nice hen, well worth her place; 4, Noyce; 5, Richards; he, Capp; c, Casley. YELL., UNFLIG. (12): 1, Rowley, grand cl., nice head and body, shown in faultless cond.; 2, Noyce, another good one, very shapely, grand qual.; 3, Follwell, grand one, beautiful feather, nice head and body, the choice of some for 1st place; 4, Thorne, nice qual. and size; 5, Casley; he, Mrs. S. Challes. BUFF, UNFLIG. (11): 1, Noyce, fine, typical bird, grand qual.; 2, Rowley, mkd. neck, real topper, equal to 1st, if anything better col.; 3, Pope, nice qual., good subs. and type; 4, spl., Jones, very good exhibit; 5, Richards; he, Howard; c, Lemon. CREST.: 1, spl., Davie, lovely bird, with an immense crest, we heard cost £20, grand exhibit; 2, and "Cage Birds" champion diploma, F. G. Bale, grand one, crest, better qual. feather, but not quite so large; 3, Davey, another good crest; 4, Piper, nice one and cheap, too, owner giving up through ill health; 5, Evins Bros. CREST, HEN: 1st F. G. Bale, wing mkd. D.C., real beauty, like all his exhibits; 2, Evins Bros., very nice all over; 3, Piper, good feather, nice head; 4, W. H. Ball, also a fine hen. CREST-BRED: 1, sp., F. G. Bale, monster green, grand head, large domed skull, abundance of feather, wins; 2, 4, Davey, nice fine skulls; 3, Lanc. C.B. HEN: 1, Davey, nice head, plenty of feather; 2, spl., F. G. Bale, another fine hen, plenty of feather; 3, Evins Bros.; 4, Lane; all good hens of the best possible class. CREST (1913): 1, F. G. Bale, green, large crest, very promising, still in pipe; 2, Davey, another nice bird, large, fine crest, not quite so large as 1st; 3, Evins Bros., not much to choose between either. CREST-BRED (1913): 1, spl., Bale; 2, Lane; 3, Evins Bros.; all three rattling good young birds. CLASS 21 (9): 1, 2, 3, bc, c, A. J. Pratt, Borders, grand team, put down in A1 style; 4, 5, G. H. Pratt, also Borders, grand exhibits. A.O.V.: 1, Pope, grand cinnamon wins; 2, 4, Minty, Lanca., 2nd coppy, very nice feather; 3, spl., Richards, another cinn., nice bird; 5, Taylor, yet another good cinn.; c, Turner. PAIRS: 1, spl., Ball; 2, Davey; 3, Howard; 4, Lane; 5, West; bc, Farrow. NOVICE: 1, 2, Miss Onslow, two grand Crests, good enough for open; 3, spl., 4, Bowen, two more very nice Crests, fail only in size to above; 5, Mrs. Richards; he, Hammett; c, Shaddick. LIGHT, ETC., HYBRID: 1, Lambe, Canary-Bullie, grand bird, in lovely feather, wins; 2, 3, F. Collins, Linnet-Can., very light, a beauty, 3rd good clear; 4, he, E. Collins, noted Goldf.-Redpoll, still looking well; 5, Voysey, nice Can.-Bullie. DARK: 1, Lamb, Goldf.-Can., Jonque, grand size and lovely feather, wins; 2, F. Collins, very good Linn.-Can.; 3, Popplestone; 4, Southcombe; 5, Ball; all very nice Goldf.-Cans. GOLDF. OR BULLF.: 1, Garnish, small but in very nice condition; 2, Mrs. B. James, large Goldie, not quite ready; 3, Evans, Bullf., nice cap, breast, not good col. yet; 4, Collins; 5, Potter; c, Taylor. GREENF., ETC.: 1, he, F. Collins, Chaffinch, a beauty; 2, spl., E. Twitterings.

Class 34 in our schedule is for Border hens, writes Mr. E. Thomas, sec. Cardiff Show.

Entries posted on Saturday will be accepted, writes Mr. A. E. Jago, hon. sec. Bodmin Show.

Entries are very scarce and will extend closing date till Monday, writes Mr. J. H. Elwell, sec. Old Shildon Show.

Entries are still coming in for Bournemouth show, writes secretary Crawshaw. We have a splendid foreign class.

Entries are so short we are compelled to extend closing to Saturday, Nov. 8, writes Mr. J. Lashbrook, sec. Sidmouth Show.

At Portsmouth show, our Diploma of Honour in the British Hardbill section was won by Mr. H. W. Carrier, of Portsmouth.

Haltwhistle Show schedules will be posted this week. Will any one not receiving same kindly drop card to W. Tallantyre, South View.

Will members of York C.B.S. please note that any entry received after Nov. 10 will not be accepted, writes Mr. H. Sayles, the hon. sec.

Mr. Job, secretary Sheffield O.S., informs us that he received a postcard from Manchester on Oct. 31 with address only, no matter on at all.

Schedules for Bishop Auckland show have been sent out; will anyone missed apply to secretaries, Messrs. Elliott and Nattrass, Raby Avenue, Bishop Auckland.

Owing to the ill-health of Mr. Meades I have taken over the secretaryship of the Plumstead and Woolwich C.B.S., writes Mr. J. W. Thorne, 109, Raglan Road, Plumstead.

Up to the present, writes Mr. W. Broadbridge, hon. sec. Sittingbourne C.B.S., I have only received 12 entries for open classes. I will accept those bearing Friday's postmark.

Please note printer's error in schedule of Nottingham show, writes Mr. Royce; Crest Club specials Nos. 5 and 6 should read 1913 buff, Crest; 1913, Crest-bred, instead of 1912.

We have a large entry, and fanciers will be well repaid for paying us a visit, writes Mr. F. Moore, hon. sec. Metropolitan C.B.A. Buses from all parts pass the road. (See Advert.)

At Pontypridd Show there is a comfortable long show room set apart for cage birds only, writes the secretary, Mr. A. A. Gordon McLucas, secretary, 48, Rosser Street, Maesycoed.

Entries for Abertillery Show, November 11 and 12, are very poor indeed, and I do hope fanciers will rally round and send some at once, writes Mr. E. Churchill, the sec. (20, Tillery Street.)

Since the printing of Coventry O.S. show schedules, two specials have come in—10s. most points and a pair of boots 2nd most points in class 20, A.O.V. Canary, writes Mr. A. J. Barratt.

I have sent out some seven hundred schedules, writes Mr. Geo. Havver, sec. Blaydon-on-Tyne Show, and if any fancier would like one I will forward one on application. We are expecting a record show.

Those who receive our gifts at Bo'ness show, writes Mr. T. Cameron, the sec., are: 1st, Gift, 348, (2nd) 347, (3rd) 805, (4th) 39, (5th) 227, (6th) 31, (7th) 238, (8th) 624, (9th) 331, (10) 36, (11) 621, (12) 813.

On opening this week's Cage Birds I was delighted to see such a beautiful plate of the Blackbird, by Mr. Rankin, and also the splendid contribution written by Mr. Marley; it is most interesting.—S. White (Southampton).

An exhibitor has sent us six entries, two in class 11, and one each in 12, 14, 23, and 29, without putting any name on his entry form, writes Messrs. Woodhead and Pyman, hon. secs. Hartlepool Show. If he will send the birds on we will put on the class tickets. The post mark on the envelope appears to be Seaham Harbour.

We have made an error in our schedule, writes Mr. J. R. Chestney, hon. sec. Cramlington C.B.S., as to the additional classes which have been apportioned to our judges. It should read: Mr. Hay will judge Borders and classes 14, 15, 16, 27, 35 and 36; Mr. Holden, Norwich and classes 13 and 34; Mr. Tindale, Yorkshires and class 17.

I should just like to say that the Torbay O.S. (Paignton) are to be congratulated on the prompt manner in which they despatched birds after the show; also prize money, while the prize cards are well worth keeping.—Reginald Taylor (Bideford).

I should be extremely glad if intending exhibitors at Hastings and St. Leonards Show would apply at once for schedules, writes Miss Kirk-Bullock, the hon. sec. (44, Cornwallis Gardens, Hastings), and return their entry forms early. Entries close Tuesday, November 11.

Up to now we have not received a single entry, write Messrs. Hill and Dascombe, hon. secs. Wiveliscombe show. Fanciers, please help us. We have a splendid showroom, and good prize-money and specials. Mr. J. H. Payne judges. Last year we paid prize-money seven days after show.

Accept my thanks for the framed coloured plate which I won at Burton show. It arrived quite safe this morning, and is a very nice special. I wish Cage Birds every success; I have taken it for seven years, and have gained a lot of very useful information from it.—A. Ford (Burton).

I have been forced to extend entries to Tuesday morning, which will give exhibitors a chance to send for schedules, writes Mr. J. H. Dixon, sec. Selby Show (72, Brook Street). If any exhibitor wants his birds sending to any other show I will give personal attention on receipt of numbers and labels.

OBITUARY.

I very much regret to say that one of our oldest members, Mr. W. Wood, has had the great misfortune to lose his wife during the past week, writes Mr. J. W. Thorne, hon. sec. Plumstead and Woolwich C.B.S.

Dr. Dale (Scalby).

We very much regret to learn of the demise of Dr. F. Dale, who expired suddenly on November 1st, at the age of 56. Mr. F. J. Smith, of Scarborough, writes: Dr. Dale some few years ago exhibited Crests and Crestbreds with some success. He also, I think, contributed some letters to Cage Birds on blindness in Crests; also on bird fever. I am quite sure the sympathy of the Fancy will be with Mrs. Dale and her family in their sad bereavement.

Mr. G. A. Hankey (Annfield)!

I am deeply sorry to inform you that our treasurer, Mr. Geo. A. Hankey, passed away on Oct. 28, as the result of injuries received on Oct. 24, writes Mr. M. Archer, sec. Annfield Plain C.B.S. We have lost one of our best workers; he was only 22 years of age, a very quiet, sensible young fellow, and a genuine fancier. There were nine members of Annfield Plain F.F. and C.B.S. at the funeral which was very largely attended. All fanciers will join us in giving his mother and two brothers our deepest sympathy.

Glasgow and Dist. C.B.A. have sent out to fanciers 1,300 schedules for their show, writes Mr. Wm. Hutchinson (163, Hospital Street). A post card will bring one to any fancier overlooked. Valuable specials are offered.

The Great Eastern Railway Company have made special arrangements, we hear, for the show at Leyton for delivering promptly and carefully. Will exhibitors kindly send via G.E.R. if possible, write Messrs. Forse and Son, the secs.

I wish to call the attention of members to the necessity of putting M.C.Y.C.C. after each entry. Some societies are only paying half-prize money on classes of eight, whereas those accepting our patronage are bound by rule 11 to pay our members full prize-money; but how will the secretaries know who are members unless M.C.Y.C.C. is put on the entry forms?—W. Wells, Hon. Sec. Midland Counties Yorks. C.C.

In Review of Schedules last week, writes Mr. W. Hutchinson, hon. sec., you give last year's judges for Glasgow and Dist. C.B.A.; they should be:—Crests, J. McLay; Plainheads, J. G. Cameron; Borders, T. Arnott (Hawick); Yorkshires, L. Dykes (Bradford); British and Foreign, A. W. Watson and L. J. Arrighi.

[The mistake arose through last year's schedule having been sent for review. The particulars we gave were taken as sent.—Ed.]

A Record Special Prize List.

Surely the list of special prizes offered at the annual show of the City and Suburban A.C.B. held Nov. 14 and 15, must constitute a record for a purely members' fixture. There are no fewer than 137 of them, and all of real value! The silver cups alone total over £50. Such a happy state of affairs speaks well for the enthusiasm of the members, and the ability and popularity of the hon. sec., Mr. V. Wynn (22, Park Lane, London, W.), who is always anxious to hear from fanciers desirous of becoming members of his association.

Sheffield O.S. Record Entry.

Kindly announce we have a record entry, over 1,200 birds, writes Mr. J. A. T. Woodall.

Entries Extended.

Bodmin, to Saturday's post Nov. 8; Coventry O.S., 1st post Nov. 12; Bonsall, Nov. 13; Ilfracombe, Nov. 10; Selby, Nov. 11; Leyton, Nov. 10; Swansea, Nov. 10; Bristol, first post Nov. 10.

Hartlepool Beats Record.

Pleased to say that our society has a record entry—not only for our society, but, we believe, for the North, in a one-day show. The entries total over 650.—Woodhead and Pyman, hon. secs.

Prize-money Paid.

We hear that prize-money has been paid in respect of the following shows. Anyone overlooked should apply to the various secretaries: Hayle, Ulster O.A., Ayr, Gt. Horton, Perth, Torbay, Leinster O.S., Broughty Ferry.

A Regrettable Omission.

We regret that in our report of the L. and P.O.S. recent show, the name of that very hard-working committeeman, Mr. F. J. Day, was omitted from the list of helpers. Mr. Day, as a matter of fact, did a great deal of work, assisting to erect the staging, also during the show, and when the exhibits were being packed and the staging removed.

Liverpool's Great Show.

Will exhibitors, supporters, and helpers at Liverpool Show kindly accept our most sincere thanks for making the exhibition so great a success, write Messrs. Metcalfe and Deacon, the secs. All railway birds left the hall before 6 p.m., so if any were late it's the railway company's fault. All prize money is paid; anyone overlooked should apply at once.

For Juveniles in Woolwich District.

The Plumstead and Woolwich C.B.S. are adding to their annual show a class for juveniles, open to Plumstead, Erith, and Dartford, at an entry fee of 3d., and entries will be accepted till Friday night, writes Mr. J. W. Thorne, the sec. Another feature is a class for decorated cages. Will members please note there is a special for most points in British.

Parrot Warns Family of Fire.

Awakened by the screeching of a Parrot at five o'clock on Nov. 3, Mr. and Mrs. Bonsor, who live in Green Lanes, Harringay, where they occupy rooms over a tobacconist's shop, found the house on fire and their means of escape by ordinary methods cut off. Mrs. Bonsor, on being roused, attracted the attention of a passing cyclist, who gave the alarm. All the occupants of the house escaped injury, and the Parrot was also saved.

Corrections in Show Reports.

At Llandrindod Wells 2nd in Yorks. ck. should be Phillips (T. M.), not Morgan, as reported, and Mr. F. Heal won 2nd with a Twite, not a Linnet; at London and P.O.S. in Light Canary Hybrids, vhe Nichols should be vhe Tapper (T.G.). At Windsor 1st in Yorks Yell. and 1st in Buff Hen should be Frost and Rogers, not Rogers; at Perth, Mr. R. Watson was 2nd in Siskin class, not Smith; at Kirkcaldy, Mr. McLean won in unfligh. Yorks. hen, not Gray; at Braintree, Mr. S. E. Avery won 2nd in novice class, not Stanley, as reported, and also took vhe in Pairs selling class.

A Treat in Store.

The London and Provincial O.S. works hard to deserve its proud name of "Premier Society" of London, and its membership is steadily increasing. The society has made some records in catering for the instruction and pleasure of its members by providing, from time to time, lectures of unusual merit, and at the meeting, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m., Miss Durham has kindly consented to give a lecture on "General principles of heredity, with special reference to Canary breeding." Miss Durham will probably give a brief sketch of Mendel's laws, and illustrate their various workings, and as often as possible quote from her results in Canary breeding. Miss Durham will also refer to the conditions which affect the sex of offspring, and will make special mention of what she believes to be the cause of the value of sib-breeding in producing light Hybrids. This is the first time Miss Durham has given before a London society the results of her invaluable knowledge and experience of the general principles of heredity, and, more especially the results of her scientific breeding of various varieties of Canaries, including Cinnamons, Crests, and others. We may remind readers that Miss Durham is a scientist, collaborating with Prof. Bateson and with Prof. Punnett, of Cambridge, both great authorities, and the results of her experiments ought to be of much value to breeders. Breeders are all familiar with the expressions "a sport," "throw back," etc., but "surprises" in breeding are probably the result of want of scientific information as to the laws of heredity, and a breeder well posted up in these laws has certainly the advantage. Miss Durham's lecture, therefore, will be of much interest to breeders of every variety of Canary or Hybrid, and the L. and P.O.S., who extend a hearty invitation to members of other societies as well as their own, and a special invitation to ladies to hear a lady lecturer, anticipate a bumper attendance at this lecture. Miss Durham is anxious to have discussion after the lecture, as she is of the opinion that the practical breeder can assist the scientist by recounting the results of his experiments in breeding, and also by eliciting valuable scientific information on points which may not have been touched in the lecture.

Hawk Attacks School Teacher.

A hawk dashed against one of the windows of a school at Llanelly, and, breaking one of the panes, flew inside. It attacked one of the women teachers, and clung to her blouse until caught by one of the masters. The hawk is now in a cage in one of the classrooms.

Grand Foreign Display at Deal.

At the Deal, Walmer and Dist. F.A. annual show, write Messrs. Thompson and Lacy, hon. secs., we had 40 different specimens of foreign birds on view, most of them not for competition, shown by R. C. Roe, Esq. We congratulate ourselves on having this gentleman in our town and think this breaks all records for any show ever held in Kent.

The Latest Travelling Cases.

A leading feature of many of the shows of this season has been the display of travelling cases made by Messrs. W. Baron and Co., Ltd. (Yorkshire Street Mill, Bacup). Their speciality—well-named the "Kozy Karrier"—has created quite a sensation amongst exhibitors, and must assuredly have a big future, for it is so remarkably light that a case saves its own cost in one season by reducing the railway charges for carriage, and yet so tremendously tough as to stand any amount of rough usage with impunity. The material of which the "Kozy Karrier" is made is black vulcanised fibre, and the finished case is very neat and handsome, brass bound, and fitted with strong straps and handle, and with a natty arrangement for fixing the address card. The case, in appearance and utility, is all that any exhibitor could wish for. We advise all exhibitors to turn to Messrs. Baron's announcement under "Appliances," and to write for a quotation. Their "Kozy Karriers" have come to stay; they are reasonable in price and deserve to be very widely known, their many points of merit being indisputable.

THE HORTICULTURAL HALL (L.C.B.A.) SHOW.

A Magnificent Schedule Issued.

A magnificent schedule has just been issued for the forthcoming great show held under the auspices of the London Cage Bird Association in the Horticultural Hall, Westminster, on Nov. 27, 28 and 29. The classification is very extensive, and presents one or two quite unique features, while the prize-money is liberal and the list of special prizes very good. The hall itself is a lovely place—nothing could be better for the purposes of a bird show—and is engaged only at great expense, so that it it to be hoped the enterprise of the society will be deservedly rewarded by a generous response in the matter of entries.

CANARY Section: Yorkshires have 7 champion, 6 novice and 1 limit (30s.) classes; judge, Mr. P. Mason. Lancashires 4, Belgians 3, Whites 1, Lizards 5, Cinnamons 1, Any Other Variety 1; judge, Mr. J. Robson. Borders, 7 champion and 2 novice; judge, Mr. Robson. Norwich Plainheads, 8 champion, 6 novice and 1 limit (30s.) classes; judge, Mr. J. E. Davies. Crests and C.B., 9 champion, 2 novice and 2 limit (Crest £3, C.B. £2) classes; judges, Messrs. J. Tyson and Robson. Greens have 6 classes (Yorks. 2, judge Mr. Mason; Borders 2, Mr. Robson; Norwich 2, judge Mr. Davies). Rollers have 5 classes; judges Messrs. F. E. Fisher and G. Wareing.

HYBRID Section: 9 classes, including 1 for breeding pairs; judge Mr. D. A. S. Longden.

BRITISH Section, 25 champion classes, divided (roughly) into 12 for hardbills, 10 for softbills, 1 hens, 1 albinos and 1 birds of prey (Hawks, Owls, etc.); also there are 2 classes for Continental birds. Judges, Messrs. C. Prior and Longden. There are 4 novice classes, judge Mr. A. J. Marley.

FOREIGN section: 31 classes, the finest classification ever offered, with 7 money prizes per class (12s., 6s. 6d., 4s., 3s., 2s. 6d., 1s. 6d. and 1s.) and 2s. added to the 2nd prize in classes of over 12 entries. All classes guaranteed full prize money, irrespective of entries, by the Foreign Bird Exhibitors' League. Judges, Messrs. D. Seth Smith, F.Z.S., and Frank Finn, F.Z.S.

There are also 3 "Perseverance" classes (1 Can., 1 Hyb. and 1 Brit) solely for exhibitors who have never won a prize; and 2 Pet classes, for the exhibits of children under 16 years of age. The selling classes are 2: prizes 10s., 6s., 3s., 2s. 6d., 1s. 6d., fee 1s. 6d. single birds, 2s. pairs. Extra stock classes (birds for sale) 1, fee 6d., no prize money.

The prize money in the majority of the classes is: 1st 10s., 2nd 6s., 3rd 3s., 4th 2s. 6d., 5th 2s., 6th 1s. 6d., 7th 1s., and the entry fee is 2s. per bird. In the Roller section it is 12s., 7s., 4s., 2s.; fee 1s. 6d. In the Pet classes 3s., 2s., 1s.; fee 6d.

Exhibitors in all sections should note that this is a Cage Birds Coupon Show. It is also under the patronage of the S.Y.C.C., L. and L.F.A., U.K.B.-C.A., B.F.C.C., E. and W.B.F.C.C., S.B.F.C., C.C.C., S.N.P.C., N.B.B. and M.C., F.B.F.L., and F.B.C.

Entries close Nov. 18, and should be made to Messrs. Bray and Knight, 67, St. Dunstan's rd., Hammersmith, London, who are the show managers. They will be pleased to forward a copy of the schedule to any intending exhibitor.

The Breeding of Champion Norwich.

Some very Uncommon and Intensely Interesting Views advanced by one of our Leading Breeders. (See birds depicted on our Frontispiece).

Notes by Mr. E. J. Rippon (Chelmsford).

THE marked Yellow Norwich cock was bred from a medium sized variegated buff hen and a clear yellow cock. As an unlighted bird he was only shown once, taking 4th against old birds. Last year he won 2nd Norwich, 1st Wimbledon, 1st and sp best Norwich Leyton, 1st L. and P.O.S., 1st and sp best Norwich Chelmsford. This season he has won 1st Clapham, 1st Wimbledon, 1st Bedford, 1st Windsor, only times shown.

I am a great lover of Norwich, and have been ever since I was a boy. Four years ago I lost all my stock (except eight yellow hens, one buff cock, and one yellow cock) through gas failure, but I am glad to say I am now getting my strain together again. I am a great believer in pedigree breeding, and have always kept a record of my birds. I may say I used rings for Canaries before any were advertised, taking the idea from pigeon rings. I got a firm in Birmingham to make me some, which I used with success. Before that I used to clip a flight feather, which was not quite as successful, as sometimes the feather came out through different causes. I am not one who is afraid to breed with a fresh bird, because keeping a record you can easily see how it throws and thus find out what is best to do with it.

A Believer in the Old Methods.

I feed on the old methods, i.e., plain food: Canary seed all the winter, with a little rape given on the bottom of the cages when I go into the birdroom. During breeding I use egg and tea biscuits, and for green food watercress and chickweed. I only take two nests from a pair as a general rule. I usually pair up about the middle of March, but do not "feed up" much before pairing, as I think feeding up birds over much beforehand leads to non-feeding hens, as they get out of condition if fed on too rich food.

When colour feeding I do not give it too strong, as I find too much food does not produce as good a colour as a reasonable amount. I also breed for colour, as I am certain you cannot feed a good colour, if colour is not in the blood. In conclusion, I thank CAGE BIRDS for its reports, which are always a source of interest to me. I have a scrap book with all reports on shows that I have exhibited at for the last twenty years; when time permits they are most interesting to look over, and recall old shows and old friends.

Notes by Mr. E. Allsopp (Cardiff).

BEFORE actually proceeding with this little chat I think it well an understanding should be arrived at that what I may have to say, either in relation to certain accomplished facts, or to any impressions I may have to offer, is based solely upon eleven years' experience in the breeding of Plainheads only. Be it also understood that where I do offer my impressions or opinions, I merely throw them out for what they are worth, as I fully realise that I am still capable of making mistakes and forming wrong impressions. Above all, however, where I refer to certain things accomplished, I beg of you to accept such references as a necessary evil in recounting my experiences, and not as having been penned by me in any spirit of braggadocio.

Stud books, other books, and heaps of papers which I have accumulated during the past eleven years, all relating to Plainhead breeding, conclusively prove that the usual pairing, yellow to buff, or, as some will have it, buff to yellow, has served exceptionally well, for I find that not only have some reliable stock birds been manufactured that way, but also several show birds noted in their day, amongst which are "Old Gold," "Moonraker," "The Temptress," all winners in keen competition at Plymouth and other shows of that stamp. That it has served me well, however, I do not accept as being positive proof that this method of pairing is the only, the right, or even the most reliable road to pursue in the endeavour to breed a champion bird. I have, though, with a few rare occasions, not departed from this method of pairing—but more upon this point later.

The Choice of Satisfactory Stock Birds.

In trying to explain to you my ideas of a satisfactory pair of stock birds, I realise that I am entering upon a debatable subject, and should like to cut the question by simply stating that in my opinion a satisfactory pair of stock birds is that which will with a degree of certainty produce in the progeny some improvement, no matter how slight, in the direction you desire. It is my experience that the gradual accumulation of the necessary good features will prove your most reliable foundation in the long run. Pairs which ought to produce a champion "bang off the reel," so to speak, very rarely do so; such pairs I fear are a delusion and a snare, and have been the downfall of many budding enthusiasts.

In selecting a pair, I must have some assurance that I have plenty of feather, at least on one side. I do not care whether paternal or maternal, but it must be present, visible or latent, for in my opinion you are not going to breed those short, full-chested, wide-backed, chubby exhibition Plainheads that we all like to see, without plenty of "padding," which is, of course, feather. I have a weakness in being an admirer of a really good yellow cock. Some degree of success I feel sure has been obtained through the pairing of a snort, heavily feathered buff hen, to a medium sized, neat in every way, rich coloured yellow cock. On the one hand it is a bag of feathers which I supply, and on the other a beautiful "comb"; with these I hope to breed a youngster or so which will not only have the mother's characteristic of plenty of feather, but will have the same nicely arranged through the influence of the father.

"Old Gold," "Moonraker," and other yellow cocks have been bred by such methods, but here again, of course, I do not say that it is the way, or even the most reliable way, of breeding exhibition yellow hens or cocks. In looking round your room for such a pair, the chances are that you will nearly always find some stock birds suitable for the purpose, as these heavily feathered buff hens, even if the feather is not neatly carried, are practically sure to be of beautiful quality. So much do I find this so, that you have a wider scope in selecting a yellow cock, and it is surprising to what extent you may also go as regards the actual type of cock bird, as this method of pairing will admit of your using yellow cocks which otherwise would be considered a wee bit too lengthy, or devoid of substance, as they would appear to be if mated to a close short-feathered buff hen. For my own part I must say that I have been influenced in such pairings by the fact that I have had to record so very rarely an actual blend of the two parents (as shown in any one of their youngsters) for I find that more often the progeny of any given pair closely resemble either the father or the mother. Probably there are present minor improvements more or less important, but the fact remains that at the end of the moulting season, when carefully scrutinising the youngsters and having their parents in mind, you can say, "How like the father," or "How like the mother." The chances are that having selected a pair such as I have just described, should you breed a yellow cock which fortunately has taken upon itself the mother's characteristics of being short and chubby, with the necessary padding of feathers, and the latter has been neatly arranged by the influence of the father, then you are likely to have produced (of course, if other necessary points have not been omitted) a facsimile of certain cock-birds which you have admired at shows, and which have caught the judge's eye.

Mr. Austin L. Burgess of Watton, Norfolk, who is a keen fancier, British Birds being his especial favourites.

How Plenty of Feather is an Advantage.

There are some, I know, who denounce the freedom of feather which is evident in the breed to-day, and I do myself where this is seen in slackness at the thighs, or openness at chest, as sometimes found on the show bench. What is actually required is a good solid padding of feather, which is carried neatly everywhere, not a feather out of place, and moreover, tightly carried, giving the bird a solid, "carved out of wax," appearance. If you are to closely adhere to the standard of perfection, which it is desirable that you should do, then taking into consideration the actual contour of the Plainhead's carcase (devoid of feathers) I am sure you will agree with me that you cannot hope to reach that degree of perfection if you endeavour to do so by mating your birds to produce progeny which have sufficient feather only to cover their nakedness.

Some degree of success has also been mine when choosing a heavily feathered buff cock and a neat short-feathered yellow hen as partners. In many ways this method of pairing I regard with some favour, especially when anticipating some large useful buff stock birds. And it certainly is a more reliable method of pairing when the duties of the hen are considered; the heavily feathered buff hens not being nearly so reliable in their duties during the breeding season as the yellow hens, who usually are active, attentive, "motherly" hens in every way. I may say that any difficulties in this direction I meet during the season by retaining two or three pairs as "feeders," etc.

A singular fact stands out in my records, inasmuch as I cannot trace having produced from any pair both a champion yellow and a champion buff, for in reviewing the accomplishments of certain stock birds I find that where they may have been good in the one respect, in the other they have produced what have practically amounted to wasters. Such experience forces me to the conclusion that with the keen competition which exists to-day, and the constant advancement of the variety which we as breeders are accomplishing, it is too much to endeavour to breed champion yellows and buffs from a comparatively small stud of stock birds at one and the same time. I throw it out for what it is worth that a breeder is more likely to reach the goal at which he is aiming if he steers his course either in the direction of breeding first class yellows, or buffs, as he may choose. In forming such an opinion, I am no doubt affected by the fact that from the very first my mind has been influenced in the direction of producing good yellow exhibition cocks, and as my stud of birds has perhaps been led in the direction desired, as I find that I have produced during the past eleven years more yellow cocks worthy of special notice than anything else. This is an age of specialism, and the matter is well worth turning over in one's mind.

Specialists in Yellows or Buffs.

Where a breeder sets out to specialise in yellows or buffs, he, of course, will still be dependent to a very large degree upon the usual method of pairing, yellow to buff, but I do think that if about to specialise in yellows the breeder will more nearly reach a degree of success through the method of double yellow pairing, and in buffs through the medium of double pairing, which at the moment are methods of pairing described as "special," or "unusual." Regarding the former, I cannot speak from experience, having never so mated a pair of birds, but only because I have always considered that I did not possess the necessary material so to do. I quite think that if a breeder would encourage yellow stock birds with a superabundance of feather, of broad character (very similar, in fact, to buffs), it would help him to a wonderful degree in establishing a foundation for a yellow line of breeding, and when I have the opportunity of selecting such a pair of my own breeding, I can assure readers that I am going to embrace the opportunity, as I know full well that more than one good yellow Plainhead seen upon the show bench has been bred by such a method of pairing.

Regarding double buffing, I can speak with some certainty, as I have found during my experience that it has been a most useful servant on three occasions, the only times that I have resorted to this method of pairing. If a breeder intends to follow my suggestion of assuring himself plenty of feather, he will find that he is almost bound to resort to a little double buffing at intervals, as occasionally, especially following the introduction of green blood into the stock, there is a tendency for the feather to become a little harsh, or hairy, and far removed from that silky texture which is desirable, and I speak with confidence when I say that I know of no more sure method of improving the feather properties in this respect than through the medium of double buffing, care, of course, being exercised that one of the parents is excelling in the good features desired. You need not fear that you will produce more lengthy feather, because you will not do so. A softer, closer, and much finer webbed feather is the result, and, strange to say, there is no great loss of colour in such a method of pairing, as one might expect, or, as some breeders go so far as to assert, must follow this method of pairing.

Double-Buffing Produces the "Queen."

Exactly what double-buffing has accomplished for me on two former occasions, would, I fear, take up too much of the Editor's valuable space to narrate, and is in a measure now ancient history. What it has done for me this season, however, is proved by the fact that having selected a large heavily feathered 1912 ticked buff cock and paired him to a medium sized neat feathered 1912 clear buff hen, as a pair likely to afford some improvement in feather properties, which I found was necessary when pairing this season, they not only produced some exceptional stock birds, excelling in feather qualities, etc., but also produced "Welsh Queen," the hen which has been already described (vide Plymouth Show report) as "one of the best buffs seen out for years," and "excelling in true Norwich properties." Her success and reception by the fanciers of the West provide about the best answer to those who have openly declared in my hearing that an outstanding bird cannot be bred by this method of pairing. How good she is in all round characteristics needs no further proof, I am sure, than my mentioning that a few days after Plymouth Show I received, amongst others, a letter from Mr. W. Spillman, of Devonport, congratulating me upon having produced such a gem. Perhaps he and other Plymouth "cracks" will be surprised to learn that the "Welsh Queen" was double buff bred. I assure readers that were I about to specialise in breeding exhibition buffs, I should make double-buffing my sheet anchor, as if followed on really rational, reasonable lines, it is an exceptionally good servant, but, like fire, it won't stand a lot of fooling with.

A Record Price and a Sad Loss.

As the breeder of "Welsh Queen" I naturally was proud to be able to view the best result of my labours for many years past, and which will serve the purpose of encouraging me to still further efforts. Having received the assurance not only of the judge of Plymouth Show (by placing her at the head of a strong class of hens), but also of your reporter and prominent fanciers, that I had without any mistake produced an exceptional bird, I felt quite justified in at once deciding to exchange the bird for hard cash, and quickly found a buyer in Mr. W. H. Howe, of Wellingborough. The cheque was probably a record one for a Plainhead so young, and which had accomplished so little upon the show bench, and it is a matter of keen regret to me that within a week of receiving Mr. Howe's letter telling me how pleased he was with "Welsh Queen" in every way, I received his further communication that the bird had been taken ill at the recent Manchester Show. On her return it was found to be a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels, to which she eventually succumbed.

How plucky Mr. Howe is only those who have had experience of him can truly know, but if ever I have received a letter during my lifetime which laid bare the inner character of any individual, it was the communication I received from him advising me of the death of "Welsh Queen." A philosophical acceptance of the situation does not adequately express it, for I can assure you that I have gathered, without any mistake, that Mr. Howe has a superabundance of that faculty of accepting the inevitable, i.e., grit, which has been the backbone of the Fancy since it has been a fancy. I am sure my readers will extend to Mr. Howe a sympathetic thought in his misfortune. The disappointment to myself I do not wish to enter into. In conclusion, I trust we shall all progress in the Fancy and endeavour to produce a better bird even than "Welsh Queen."

Questions and Answers.

Queries will be answered under the following conditions:

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and must commence with either the correct name of querist or a pseudonym, or initials.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query. In no case must the address appear on the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must not be written on the same sheet of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated in bold letters on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—If an answer in the same week's issue is desired, queries must be posted to reach us by Monday's first post at latest. Queries will be dealt with in the order in which they are received, and only as space permits. The earlier queries are received the better attention they are likely to have.

(7)—Queries relating to illnesses of birds, except enquiries as to cause of death (for which see Post Mortems) will be answered by return of post on receipt of a postal order for sixpence and an addressed stamped envelope. Queries of an ordinary nature will be answered by post, if desired, on receipt of a postal order for one shilling and a stamped addressed envelope.

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence, otherwise their letters will not receive attention. All the fees received from this source will be handed over in full to the "Referee's" Poor Children's Fund (London).

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. only queries so sent will be answered. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

THE BEST ROLLER (A.T.).—It is not possible to single out any so-called variety of the Roller family as the best songster. It is far more a question of training than variety, and but little value is to be set upon the multifarious names attached to the breed. If you ask for a highly-trained Roller of the St. Andreasberg type, and one with a good variety in its song, and no bad notes, you should get what you want. It matters nothing whether it is called a St. Andreasberg, Seifert, Leipzig, or anything else. Deposit the money with our Editor and have the bird on approval, and hear it sing before closing the deal, and you should then be sure of getting satisfaction. You should get a very decent singer for 21s. upwards, and at the price you name should have an excellent songster.

A TRIO (F. S. D.).—(1) Undoubtedly, hemp is a warming food to give a Roller, or any other Canary for that matter, during the winter months, but that does not alter the fact that it is very unwise to do so. As an occasional tit-bit it is very useful, but should not form an appreciable part of a bird's regular diet. It is best given in a seed mixture for occasional use. See the No. 6 Nutshell booklet for full details about feeding Rollers. The sample of hemp you sent is a good all-round quality. (2) By the term sweet fruit I mean any kind of dessert fruit that may be in season which has a sweet flavour—banana, or apple, are the most frequently used, but grapes, ripe orange, or pear may also be given. Pears, however, are relaxing and should not be used when diarrhœa is present. As a rule I do not care for groundsel during the winter months, watercress is much preferable. (2) Two perches on the middle cross bar of your cage would be quite sufficient in addition to the feeding perches. I should say too many perches are worse than too few, as they only impede the bird's freedom of movement.

LOSING SIGHT (J. Bull).—Sorry, but the bird is suffering from cataract, and no treatment whatever will be of any use. The bird will live, and apparently enjoy life, but you should upon no account whatever breed with it any more. You might make the diet a little more generous by giving, in addition to the staple seed diet a pinch of mixed seed, as you will see advised to another querist this week, twice a week, and once or twice a morsel of egg food, bread and milk, or crushed sponge cake.

GOING BLIND (Miss A. L. C.).—The bird's age is probably at the root of the trouble, and I seriously doubt the utility of any kind of treatment. You may try the following for, say, three weeks, and if there is not a considerable improvement in that time you may just as well cease further treatment, and leave the bird in peace. It will continue to live and apparently enjoy life even though it becomes totally blind. Get a chemist to mix you 15 grains of sulphate of zinc, 30 grains of boracic acid, one ounce of rose water, and two ounces of distilled water. Also an ointment of a quarter ounce of spermaceti, and two grains of red oxide of mercury. Bathe the eyes once daily with the lotion for a few minutes, using a little fresh lotion each time, then dry gently by absorbing moisture with small wad of wool, and place a tiny scrap of the ointment about size of ordinary pin's head on each eye, and hold the bird until it has worked its way around and under the eyelids.

FEEDING AND PLUMAGE (Jack, Watford).—(1) Mix together two parts each, by measure, of hemp and niger, one part each of millet, teazle, and black rape, half part each of linseed and broken groats, and a quarter part each of maw, gold of pleasure, and sesame. Give half a teaspoonful per bird of this mixture twice a week, in addition to the staple diet of plain canary. (2) If the bird is naturally close-feathered it should remain tight in feather as long as it is in sound robust health. If it becomes loose and puffy the proper course is to discover and remove the cause. If due to some temporary slight indisposition a mild aperient for one day, followed next day by six drops of tincture of gentian and four of aromatic sulphuric acid in the water, may be all that is required. Regular free bathing is a great aid towards keeping the plumage close and tight. (3) The biscuit food you name is a very good substitute for egg-food for ordinary use. Give a small teaspoonful per bird once a week, or three times in a fortnight.

A QUESTION OF FOOD, ETC. (A.M., Willesden Green).—(1) It is quite possible for symptoms such as you describe to arise from an over-fed and congested condition. In order to avoid the same trouble this season, feed the birds on a staple diet of plain canary seed only. In addition to this give separately every second day half-a-teaspoonful of summer rape, and twice a week, on the intervening days, a similar quantity of the seed mixture which you will see mentioned in reply to another querist this week, or see reply to "Guy Mannering" last week. Give a little fruit or watercress two or three times a week. Keep birds in a comfortable temperature to expedite the moult, and allow them to bathe two or three times a week in mild weather, and always offer the bath early in the day. If they appear to be getting sluggish, add 12 drops of syrup of huckthorn to the water for two days, and afterwards 20 drops of chemical food for a few days. Stop all other tit-bits, and under this treatment you should find the birds thrive well. (2) Saffron is not, properly speaking, a dye, though it has slight colouring properties if it were given in sufficient quantity through the moult, which is, to say the least, inadvisable. Its principal use for cage birds is to assist them to throw off their old feathers more freely when they seem to have any difficulty in doing so. The petty quarrels over the seed pots will do no harm, they rarely do any serious damage.

TUTORING AND FEEDING ROLLER (R.T.S., Birmingham).—(1) I am afraid it is much too late now to teach your young Rollers a good song. As you say they are only moderate singers I take it they are now in song after moulting, which is only what might be expected, and, in consequence, they have already a certain fixed type of song of their own, which the importation of a really good trained singer may not be able to alter to any material extent. The most you can now expect is that a good tutor will improve your birds, but he will not eradicate any fixed faults which they now possess. You ought to have had them under tuition many weeks ago, before they started to moult. To make the best of them now you should, in case you get a good trained bird for tutor, keep them in closed boxes for a few weeks to keep their own song at a minimum, and hang them beside the tutor, the latter in an open cage. Open the song boxes for an hour or so in the evenings after the first fortnight to give the birds a chance to show how they are progressing, but close them again immediately either bird begins to sing badly. By this means you may save the tutor from being corrupted, and may make a material improvement in the young birds' song. (2) The dietary given in Nutshell No. 10 will serve your purpose very well, but for the sake of convenience you might make a seed mixture as advised to "Jack, Watford" in this issue, and use this instead of giving pinches of separate seeds.

HUSKY COUGH (Umsia).—You should first of all see that the birds do not hang in a position exposed to extremes of heat and cold, such as near the fireplace, or near or over burning lights in the evening, or in a window. Keep them where the air is as pure and fresh as possible, and free from dust and heated fumes, but still fairly equable, and void of cold draughts. Having done so, give each bird, in addition to its staple seed diet, a piece of bread and milk the size of a hazel nut, with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw seed, every second day for a fortnight, and on the intervening days give a pinch of the seed mixture advised to "Jack, Watford," twice each week. In the drinking water add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much sulphate of soda as will cover a sixpence for three consecutive days. After this give 20 drops of the following mixture, which any chemist will mix for you, in water every second day for a fortnight. Mixtures: Two drachms each of glycerine and oxymel of squills, one drachm each of ipecac. wine and chlorodyne, and eight grains of iodide of potassium.

FEEDING STOCK BIRDS DURING WINTER (H. Lee).—Keep the birds as far as possible in roomy flights, where they can have a fair amount of exercise. The sexes should be kept separate, but may be in groups varying in number according to size of flight, viz.: a group of several hens may be kept together in one flight, and a group of cocks ditto; but both sexes should not be mixed together in the same flight. If however, you want to get a fair amount of song out of the cocks you must cage them up separately in smaller cages. Give a staple diet of plain canary seed only. Every second day give separately a little summer rape, allowing half a teaspoonful for each bird—and once a week on the alternate days give a small teaspoonful per bird of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niga, teazle, millet, and broken groats, and once a week a similar quantity of egg-food, or any of the usual substitutes you may prefer. In fine, mild weather give a little watercress, or any green salad that may be available, two or three times a week, but when frost and snow are about give instead a little of any sweet ripe fruit. Also offer a bath two or three times a week in mild weather, and always early in the day. The proper time to start mating-up is the last week in March or first week in April.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS.

Answered by H. NORMAN.

STRANGE BIRDS (A. F. G.).—The bird you describe as resembling the Redstart in size and shape, with tail and rump rufous, would be the Black-start or more properly the Black Redstart. It is a winter visitor to our shores, coming from central and Southern Europe. It is particularly common in the valleys of the Swiss mountains, where it is as familiar with the inhabitants as our Robin is with us. A few come over here every autumn, they are much more numerous in some years than others. No doubt, like all other birds, their movements are greatly regulated by climatic conditions. The description of the other bird that you saw "resembling a Redshank, black or nearly so, with a broad white bar across the back" should make identification fairly easy, providing you have not been deceived by the bird's movements or uncertain light. Several marsh birds have the white patch, but they are not black; one, for instance, the Bar-tailed Godwit is mostly brown and considerably larger than the Redshank; Sandpipers have a good deal of white about them, but are very much smaller than the Redshanks. I am inclined to think your bird was a Redshank in winter plumage, or a young bird of the year in its first moult. I have seen these quite dark in plumage and if you do not use a field glass you could easily imagine the bird you are looking at to be nearly black; out in the open colour is very deceptive.

FIELD-MOULTED LINNET (George Butler).—You could exhibit your Linnet at almost any show where there is a class for them. If there is a class provided for field-moulted birds he would of course be quite eligible, in this class one can see birds of all colours, light ones, dark, some with a little tinge of red on the breast, others, with a considerable patch. If you enter him in the ordinary Linnet class, for which he would be eligible (unless the schedule read "House Moulted"), you would run the risk of having him put back by the judge, as most judges give house-moulted birds the preference. This you can easily understand, as when a man has taken care of a bird for say twelve months, and taken the trouble to moult him out so that he is fit for exhibition, it would be very disappointing to him to be beaten by one only recently caught. Your letter was stamped with only a halfpenny stamp, consequently we were surcharged an extra penny. Kindly note that letters require a penny stamp.

GOLDFINCH IN LIVING ROOM ("Memo.").—As a rule British birds should not be kept in a heated apartment, although I know that thousands of Finches live in the living room of their owners. If you must keep your bird in the room with you, I would advise you to put him as far from the fire and gas as possible, and be sure to have him as low as the table, during the evening, when the air in the upper part of the living room is not always so pure as it might be. If you keep him healthy and well during the winter under such conditions, there is no reason why he should not be a successfull breeding bird next spring. Respecting birds recovering their song after the moult, it is all a question of condition and health. I have had some Linnets sing all through the moult, while others do not open until the turn of the year. I would advise you to feed him fairly well, but on no account to force him; you want him to be in the pink of condition when required, and not in fine breeding form before the hen is ready. Keeping him in a warm room is likely to hasten matters.

SWELLING ON GOLDFINCH (R.E.).—Catch your bird and carefully examine the swelling; if it is fairly soft and likely to come to a head when ripe, bathe it with fairly hot water for a day or two until it is ripe enough to prick, and then squeeze all the pus out you can. When it is quite clear you can heal it by dusting with boracic powder or ointment. If on the other hand the swelling is very hard and firm paint it with iodine, just put enough on to wet it, and allow three days to elapse before doing it again. Take all the perches out of the cage, thoroughly scrub them, and return when dry, this you should do every day, or have a duplicate set to change with them. This is very necessary because the bird is sure to rub its head on the perch, and any offensive matter on the bare sore might cause you no end of trouble.

BIRDS FOR AVIARY (Variety).—You could keep thirty birds in an aviary the size you mention, and it would make a capital flight for young Canaries. In making it, be careful to make facilities for easily getting in and cleaning it out, etc. You do not say what birds you would like to keep in it, but I presume you would prefer British birds. If so, I would advise Finches. You could put all or any of them in, and they could be fed on a good brand of Finch mixture, or you could make a mixture of your own if you thought fit. When your young Canaries are weaned you could turn them in for a few weeks; the Finches would not interfere with them. They are generally afraid of each other when first introduced, but soon settle down. I have never tried any of the plants you mention in an aviary, but have found the common box to be as good as any. They will grow in big pots or tubs, and if you had a couple of spare ones to stand in the garden, and exchange with those inside, you would be able to keep them in fairly good condition. Respecting your water arrangement, you had better confine yourself to just vessels for drinking purposes and one for bathing, the latter to be put in and taken out when used. The less dampness you have in the room the better, especially in the winter months.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

BUDGERIGARS, ETC. (C. E. J.).—Providing the dampness is not too pronounced, the birds should winter all right in the greenhouse, but keep them in the coolest, least draughty, and most dry position obtainable. I am doubtful of the success of housing Zebra Finches and Budgerigars in the same cage. I fear the former may get a leg or wing broken; such frequently occurs, though sometimes there is immunity from accidents, and you must decide whether you take the risk or not. Neither of the species referred to need heat, but the most hardy of species cannot endure draught or excessive damp.

GREY PARROT MOULTING (E. M. S.).—Though you may not have moulted it, the bird must have moulted during that period; what is happening now is that the bird is plucking itself, and by eating the pen feathers prevents the growth of the plumage. Possibly there are minute insects afflicting it. Spray it with a tepid quassia solution twice weekly, guarding carefully against draught till it is dry. Every fourth day put one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia in the drinking water, and on other days (when not giving the magnesia) put half a teaspoonful of hypophosphates in the drinking water. Keep the bird in some warm position that is free from draught, yet it must have light and air. Such cases take some time to cure, and you must persevere with the treatment. Give daily a piece of biscuit that has been slightly moistened and dipped in flowers of sulphur, and otherwise continue your present dietary. Report progress a few weeks hence.

PLUM-HEADED PARRAKEETS (H. Jordison).—Full colour is not assumed at the first moult, and for several seasons the colour will become darker and richer with each succeeding moult. Some species of Parrakeets mature rather slowly, and this is one of them, but they are hardy and robust, and are really beautiful in each phase till the full brilliance of the adult bird is attained.

BLUE-FRONTED AMAZON (W. H.).—Please try the treatment advised for another month, and then report. In addition give a little honey and borax daily. Few Parrots refuse this; the simplest way to give it, is to put a little on to the end of a stick and put it against the bird's beak, when the bird usually commences to nibble the stick and takes the preparation on the end. If I remember rightly, you are giving a little boiled maize daily; if so, soak into it, after you have drained off all water, a few drops of some make of cod liver oil emulsion. If the bird does not take the maize, then soak a few drops of the cod liver oil emulsion into a piece of biscuit, plain cake, or anything similar the bird will take; give this daily for a month at least. Unless there is something wrong with your bird which is not revealed in your letter, the above treatment should ultimately prove successful. The alternative is, consult some local vet. who is accustomed to birds, who can diagnose the case from a personal inspection.

WILL IT BE SUITABLE? (J. M. Martin).—(1) If the atmosphere of the greenhouse is not too moist the birds will do well in it. It is really only a roomy cage, and I should only advise putting in two pairs of Budgerigars. They should ultimately breed when they have settled down, but I should not encourage them to do so till spring. The Green and Yellow varieties can be kept together in the same cage or aviary. (2) Half a dozen pairs of the smaller species, such as Avadavats, Gold-breasted Waxbills, Bib Finches, Zebra Finches, Orange-cheeked and Grey Waxbills. (3) Bird seed is a decided draw for mice if there are any in the vicinity, but unless these pests are somewhere near at hand, there should be no trouble from them.

SENEGAL PARROTS (T. H.).—I do not recollect any instance of this species having reared young in Great Britain, but there is no reason why they should not, if given a roomy aviary; furnish with boughs, log nest, or a small barrel. They are quite hardy, and can be kept out of doors all the year providing there is a shelter attached to the aviary to which they can retire at will. It is probable they may take one or even two years to settle down, but if you can give accommodation as above, success should ultimately come your way. Results in aviculture are most attained by "sticking at it," and profiting by the lessons gleaned from failure and partial success. They are very difficult to sex, and the price varies from 30s. to 60s. each, according to number on the market.

UNHEATED ROOM FOR BUDGERIGARS (W. D. Kenshole).—So long as they have room for exercise, these hardy birds need no artificial heat, either indoors or out. In spite of their hardiness, however, they of all species are liable to go wrong quickest if they get no wing exercise. If you have a spare room put in a good sized branch and lit up a food table, and they should be in the best of condition for next spring, but if you can give them such accommodation there is no occasion to separate the sexes. If you are going to keep them in cages, then according to size of same you can keep any number of either cocks or hens together (of course I mean each sex) in a separate cage. If the sexes are separated they should be kept out of sight of each other, but neither sex need be brought in if you have outdoor accommodation for them.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. Subjects for post mortem examination must be sent packed in a box direct to Mr. Yates, with the fee, this and any accompanying letter being kept from contact with the dead bird. Send by letter-post; it is cheaper and quicker than parcel post. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

Robert Holmes.—Acute broncho-pneumonia, following on chill contracted at show, was the cause of death. There is no infectious disease, and I should any your several losses occurred in the same manner. Perhaps they were in a draughty situation. This is one of the risks of showing, but strange that all should occur at same time. It is a very fatal form of pneumonia, scarcely any surviving.

R.K.B.—There was present old standing disease of the lungs, and it is a wonder to me the bird survived as long as it did. Necrosis was the nature of the disease—that is, local death due to invasion by the bacillus of Necrosis, inhaled or ingested at some time. It is only slightly contagious in this region, whilst that form attacking the bowels is very contagious. The diseased centres in the lungs were encapsuled; there is very little risk of your other birds contracting it. However, under the circumstances, it is better dead, as the disease would have extended with time, and have become a source of infection.

V. A. Spong. Goldfinch died of cuteritis, i.e., inflammation of the bowels.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

W. H. G. Franks.—In our opinion, as the Green Canary is considered a distinct variety of the Norwich, the proper class for it would be the A.O.V. class (No. 17).

C. Westcott.—We think your coloured drawing is quite promising.

A. H. Ilkeston.—(1) A man who shows when in partnership, and wins as a champion, cannot afterwards exhibit by himself as a novice. (2) Wins at first feather shows and wins in members' classes do not affect a fancier's novice status at open shows.

W. Hopwood.—Will have sketches made and then publish your letter. Many thanks.

A. W. Elkin.—Thanks for photograph, which shall be utilised in due course.

PUDSEY, STANNINGLEY, AND DISTRICT C.B.S.

Third members' show of the season held Oct. 25, Fleece Hotel, Stanningley. The entry was not as large as is usual for an old bird show, but what was lacking in quantity was made up in quality. 56 birds faced the judge, Mr. S. Wilcock, of Bradford, and he got through his work in a very able manner. Most points were gained by: W. Richmond 23, E. Marsh 20, H. Raistrick 19, W. Ackroyd 18, Towler and Hargreaves 15. Novice points: A. Noble and Son 8, and C. Noble 8 points, all with four starred birds.

THE DISASTER AT SENGHENYDD.

Notes by the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE.

I hope that CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE members have noticed the letter from Mr. A. Shellam, published in last week's issue, asking for help in assisting the families and dependants of the 400 brave men who perished in the appalling disaster of Oct. 14.

In the neighbourhood of the disaster there are hundreds of humble bird lovers, and many of these have met their death and have left helpless children penniless. Members of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE should be among the first to help their brother fanciers in such a terrible misfortune.

On previous occasions members of the LEAGUE have given practical proof of the existence of the goodwill and fellowship among bird lovers the establishment of which has been one of the main objects of our organisation, but nothing of such magnitude has ever before appealed to their sympathy, and I think they will not be backward in sending whatever they may be able to afford in aid of such a worthy object.

As though the explosion had not already caused immeasurable misfortune, the same district was almost immediately afterwards visited by a tornado which, like the explosion itself, was by far the most terrible ever experienced in our country, and in the daily papers of Wednesday, the 5th instant, there appears a letter from the M.P. for East Glamorganshire, Mr. Clement Edwards, which gives some idea of the devastation wrought by this extraordinary visitation of nature. In this Mr. Edwards says that, though by a miracle only six people have been killed and about 100 injured, yet many hundreds of houses have been ruinously damaged, and over 200 families have lost, beyond repair, most of their furniture, and all their bedding and bed-clothes and wearing-apparel.

I think I need say nothing further in an appeal to members of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE and readers of CAGE BIRDS generally, and any sums, large or small, which may be sent to CAGE BIRDS offices, will be acknowledged in these columns, and forwarded to the proper quarter.

Referring to the petition to Members of Parliament published in our issue of Sept. 20, Mr. G. H. Peck writes that he has already sent to the local member two foolscap sheets of signatures, and he is still going on. There is no wonder that the show recently organised by Mr. Peck was such a success; anything undertaken by this enthusiastic member is bound to succeed. I have received a beautiful photographic group of the children and their prizes, and I regret very much that the faces are so small as to render satisfactory reproduction impossible in an ordinary issue.

CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE is an organisation of bird keepers and bird-lovers, banded together in mutual interest to promote good fellowship and union, to inculcate the principles of humane cage bird keeping, and to protect the hobby against unjustifiable interference.

Leaflets setting forth the aims and objects of the LEAGUE will be forwarded, post free, to any reader upon application

TERMS OF MEMBERSHIP.

ORDINARY MEMBERS shall pay an annual subscription of Two Shillings and Sixpence

JUNIOR MEMBERS—Members under the age of fourteen years at the date of joining shall pay an annual subscription of One Shilling.

VICE PRESIDENTS.—An annual subscription of not less than Half-a-Guinea shall constitute the subscriber a Vice President.

LIFE MEMBERS.—A donation of not less than Five Guineas in one amount shall constitute the donor a Life Member.

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS.—The payment to CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE of a legacy of £20 and upwards shall constitute the administrator or executor making the payment an Honorary Life Member. A form of bequest will be sent, post free, on application

Neat and unobtrusive badges are supplied to members, without any charge beyond their subscriptions as above. The badges may be had either in button form, or mounted in rolled gold in two forms, one as a brooch for ladies or for cycling caps or coat lapel, and the other as a pendant for bracelet or watch-chain. The kind required should be specified clearly.

HENRY J. FULLJAMES,
154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

How to become an Associate.

Many readers of CAGE BIRDS have written to say that they would like to join CAGE BIRDS' LEAGUE, but cannot afford the subscription. To meet their wishes we have decided to form, in connection with the LEAGUE, a body of Associates. All we ask of these Associates is that they will promise to give every possible attention to the wants of their birds. And they must induce others to see that their birds are kept happy and contented.

All that the intending Associate has to do is either to sign the coupon herewith, and send the same, together with sevenpence, or to get five of his or her friends to sign each a similar coupon, and send the six, together with a penny stamp, to the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE, who will forward by return an enamelled Button Badge of the LEAGUE. There will be no other charge. NOW, THEN, BIRD LOVERS!—USE YOUR BEST EFFORTS IN THIS SPLENDID CAUSE.

THE BIRD LOVER'S PLEDGE.

I hereby promise to take every care of my feathered pets and to induce others to do the same Fortunate Winners of Half-Sovereigns.

Chances for Fresh Competitors Arise Every Week. No one can "Scoop the Pool." Coupons Cost but Sixpence Each.

BELOW we give a list of the winners of the 10s. cash specials at coupon shows held up to and including Oct. 30, with the exception of Upper Rhondda, from the secretary of which no list of awards has reached us. Several other secretaries, too, have failed to supply full lists of the diploma and cash special winners, despite application for the same, thus rendering it impossible for us to promptly despatch the diplomas. Will those who have not yet sent us official lists of the judges' awards in our competition at their shows, please do so at once.

As notified in our last issue, one or two objections have been lodged in certain cases, and to allow of these and any future objections being gone into, we have had to make it a rule that the cash specials will not be paid out until 14 days after the publication of the winners' names in our columns. The majority of the specials in the list below, however, have already been despatched to the fortunate winners.

All the exhibitor has to do is to stick one of Cage Birds Coupons on his entry form and write "C.B." opposite each bird he wishes to compete; except if a novice, when he must write "C.B. Novice."

Coupons, price 6d. each, may be purchased from the offices of Cage Birds, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C., or, if the time is short, enclose the necessary extra cash with your entry fees to the secretary of the show, and he will affix coupons opposite whichever birds you have marked on your entry form. Every coupon is numbered and a record of it kept at Cage Birds offices.

NOTE CAREFULLY.—A coupon must be affixed to the entry form opposite every bird intended to compete in this Championship Competition. Any number of coupon birds may be entered by any exhibitor, either in one section or in several, as may be desired, so long as a coupon is used for each bird. For every coupon bird, of course, the usual entry fee must be paid to the show officials. Entries in Cage Birds Championship Competition are accepted only on the understanding that the governing rules as published in Cage Birds are to be absolutely final and legally binding.

Anyone in doubt upon any point concerning the scheme should write at once.—The Editor, Cage Birds, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

A full list of the Coupon Shows, also the rules of the Competition and a Brief Outline of the Scheme appeared in our last issue.

A Partridge's Wedding Ring.

A Partridge shot by a sportsman in Germany was (according to the "Daily Sketch") wearing a gold wedding ring round its neck. Inside the ring are engraved the letters "M.M." and the date 17/7/97. It is assumed that the ring had been dropped on a road or in a field, and that the bird put its head through it while seeking food (!), and was then unable to get rid of it.

THE DISQUALIFIED YORKSHIRE AT HALIFAX SHOW.

The Judge, Mr. House, replies to Messrs. Ogden Bros.' letter published last week.

Sir,—Messrs. Ogden Bros. complain of the report which you published concerning the Yorkshire Union inquiry as "biassed, evasive, and one-sided," but produce no evidence in proof thereof. In fact their letter really endorses the accuracy of your report. Mr. Hill's official report certainly is all that Messrs. Ogden say it is, and in all essentials it agrees with the report which you published: Firstly, that I declared the bird before the Council was not the one I disqualified. Secondly, that myself and four officials of the show, examined separately, and not before each other, all told the same tale about the bare patch. Thirdly: That one (Mr. Macpherson) agreed with me the bird was not the same. Fourthly: That Mr. L. Ogden said the bird was their property, and had not been handled before being brought to the show. Fifthly: In the wording of the three resolutions. Therefore, if Mr. Hill's official report be correct, and Messrs. Ogden say it is, then your report must also be correct, and not as Messrs. Ogden describe it "biassed, evasive, and one-sided."

Your report gives the evidence of myself and the Halifax officials, not verbatim, as Messrs. Ogden would lead readers to suppose, but summarised. Mr. Luther Ogden's evidence summarised is also given. There is nothing one-sided about this, so far as I can see. "Evasive" would lead one to suppose that material points had been suppressed, but Messrs. Ogden give no proof of such. Everyone knows that in a meeting which lasted over two hours much more would be said than appeared in Cage Birds' report of the proceedings, but I say that the report is correct, and the proof is the similarity between the two reports. "Biassed": I have read the two reports carefully, and I fail to see any bias.

Messrs. Ogden take upon themselves not only their own defence, but also that of the Yorkshire Council and the Halifax Society. Why? Messrs. Ogden go on to describe their movements after hearing of the disqualification, and so far as I can read these agree with your report. As to what they say about forfeiting £10 if the bird changed its appearance in independent hands in six weeks; they should also have said that I told the Council that the bird before them could be kept twelve months and it would not change, but that the one I disqualified would change in a week. I have not said Messrs. Ogden trimmed this bird. I have not said they changed it. But I maintained before the Y.U. Council that the bird I disqualified had been trimmed, that it was seen by Mr. J. Trengove, my co-judge, and by the Halifax officials. Mr. Trengove was not present at the meeting, but the Halifax officials, all unknown to each other, bore out one by one the statement that I had made to the Council about the bare patch. That bare patch was to be seen on the bird I disqualified. It could not be found on the bird in the Council meeting on the following day. With regard to what Messrs. Ogden Bros. say about the eye markings, the finish I spoke of was, as I explained, behind the eye.

Messrs. Ogden ask me to state how it would be possible for the bird to have been changed? It is not for me to say how it could be done, or how it was done. The bird was not guarded in any way; it stood in its class with the rest.

There is one very peculiar remark made by Messrs. Ogden in their letter. After speaking of the witnesses saying they saw the bare patch, Messrs. Ogden go on to say: "Our firm conviction is that he (myself) could have exhibited the same on Saturday under the same treatment, had he so desired." There was no question of "desire" in the matter. I was asked by the Council to explain why I disqualified the bird. Confident that it would be easily done, I proceeded to catch the bird and examine it, but I could not find the bare patch. I turned the head feather over and over with a quill, but no bare patch was there. The feather was turned by the request of the Council as each witness was brought into the room, but no bare patch was to be seen. So staggered was Mr. Robertshaw that he said "Turn the feather up again, Mr. House," and I did. He then made his statement about swearing to what he had seen.

As to "desire," I had none, either one way or the other: I had no knowledge of the ownership of the bird. In fact, when I disqualified it I did not even know its number, because, owing to the system prevalent at Yorkshire Union shows, the number had not been uncovered.

Messrs. Ogden say the evidence was "painfully weak." It would be interesting to know what they would call strong evidence. On this point of evidence I told the Council that if they were not satisfied with my evidence and that of Messrs. Clegg, Ross, Robertshaw and Macpherson, they could communicate with my co-judge, Mr. Trengove, and Mr. Robert Sutcliffe, each of whom saw the bird on the Friday. I may say here that Mr. Fowle, of Queensbury, also saw it.

It is not a pleasant thing to disqualify, but I am not the man to be deterred from doing my duty because of fear that the results may be unpleasant to myself. I have been judging All-England shows since 1887, and in my twenty-six years' experience I never felt more sure I had sound reasons for disqualifying than when I disqualified No. 3, Class 12, at the Halifax show. The gentlemen I have named, and those who gave evidence can bear me out in this.

The decision of the Council having gone in their favour, Messrs. Ogden naturally praise its "intelligence and fair-mindedness." As one who knows the value of evidence, I cannot understand how any body of men could reject the statement of their own appointed judge, supported by four officials of the show. The Council decided against the corroborated testimony of five men. I say nothing about the two other resolutions. The Council did not secure the evidence of Messrs. Trengove and Sutcliffe. I know not what evidence they would have given, but I do know that they saw the bird on the Friday.

Judging from what members of the Council said to me after the meeting, the position of the judge in this unfortunate matter was never considered. The decision not only stamps me as an incompetent judge, but a liar as well. From the inception of the Yorkshire Union, I have been one of its judges. No other judge has held the confidence of the Union for such a length of time, and no judge has officiated at Union shows so continuously. I believe even yet I have the confidence of the hundreds of fanciers who comprise the Union, but it is evident that confidence is not shared by the Council.

Had I appeared before the Council not as a witness, but as a prosecutor, I should have taken strong exception to certain remarks and questions by some of the councillors, as they were not in accord with ordinary judicial procedure. I drew the attention of Mr. Hill, at the time, to the leading questions which one councillor in particular put to Mr. Ogden.

My connection with the Yorkshire Union has been a long and pleasant one, but it is ended. I have judged my last Yorkshire Union show, unless the Council remove in some manner the stigma of incompetency and untruthfulness which they have cast upon me. I have not come to this decision in any spirit of pique or anger, but I feel that both my ability and integrity have been impugned by the Y.U. Council, and therefore I cannot, as a man of honour, allow myself to risk such another rebuff. I have no feeling towards the members of the Council.

No man regrets more than myself the necessity which caused me to disqualify No. 3, in Class 12, whilst words cannot express the regret I felt in being compelled to state to the Council that the birds had been changed. Those who know me will realise that I did not act unthinkingly in this matter.

C. A. House.

Mesrs. Ogden Bros. Return Thanks.

Sir,—Thanks very much for publishing our letter. We have received dozens of letters congratulating us on our victory, from all over the country. We shall esteem it another favour if you will thank the writers, as they are too numerous for us to answer.

Five Pounds Reward.

Winning Hen Stolen en Route from Belfast Show.

Sir,—On arrival in Dublin from Belfast show of my case of birds which should have contained three, one was missing, viz., a wing ticked buff unflighted hen (closed ring) which stood first in her class. Mr. Trimble writes assuring me there is ample proof that when the case was handed to the railway officials the three birds were safely packed. It is quite evident that the missing bird was stolen from the train. It is a warning to all exhibitors to have their travelling cases locked. I will give £5 reward to anyone giving information leading up to recovery of the missing bird. C. A. O'Reilly.

A Manningham Fancier's Views.

Sir,—I take pleasure in acknowledging one of your bound volumes which I won at the Bradford East Show for most points gained by a member in the novice section. I am also a member of the Manningham C.B.S., and last year I only lost the cup by one point; this year I am well in front for same and should like to win. I also wish to say that I have been a reader of Cage Birds for nine years, and the knowledge I have got about breeding and exhibiting Canaries I can put down with confidence to reading carefully the notes which have appeared from time to time in your valuable paper. I consider Cage Birds the best paper ever put before fanciers.

The Effect of Vibration Upon Hatching Eggs.

Sir,—Some while ago you had several letters on the effect of vibration on eggs and young Canaries. I have waited till the end of the season before giving my experience. About seven years ago I had several pairs of Canaries, which I put in the top room (on the 3rd floor), south aspect, dry, and sunny, front of house. The noise and traffic have increased very much, till now, when standing in the room, one can feel the vibration of things going past. For the first year or so all went well, but since then the number of chicks dead in shell and dying before 10 days old has increased year by year, till I determined to do something. I wrote to several specialists, and was told the stock was weakly, food not right, etc., etc., all of which I felt was incorrect. I bought birds, good and bad ones, to test with, paired strangers together, cocks and hens to my cocks and hens; results the same. So, during the season 1912 I put several pairs that were not of much consequence out of doors, in a back entrance sort of place, such as London houses often have, walled all round, and below the level of the garden. This place I partly roofed, leaving the rest open to all weathers, roof partly glass and partly felt. I kept them in the same cages, and fed in exactly the same manner, and the result was, all chicks hatched and reared. So that proving satisfactory, this (1913) season I put all my birds out there, eleven pairs in all. I put them out in March, and they are still there. I used cages open wire all round, same as they were in indoors, fed on same food, and in every way treated them the same. The result has been highly satisfactory. Being on the ground there is no vibration, noise hardly heard at back. I will not mention the variety, as I am not seeking a free advertisement; but I will say that many people consider the variety a weakly one. It is one of the oldest varieties, certainly. I will not admit they are weakly. Funciers I've sold birds to have had better success than I have, and they have kept theirs in outdoor aviaries. I'm certain the noise and vibration were the causes. A bootmaker near here lost his in the same way as soon as they had machinery put in. Through the season I have not seen one red mite, though carefully searched for.

The Late Receipt of Cage Labels from Longton.

Sir,—Seeing in Cage Birds that the Longton C.B.S. had paid out all prize money I should like to know if any exhibitor is in the same position as myself and Mr. Girle. We both forwarded on to the show secretary five clear days before the show 3s. 10d., being 1s. 6d. entry fee for my Light Mule, 6d. for Cage Birds Coupon Prize Scheme, 4d. for marked catalogue, and 1s. 6d. for Mr. Girle's entry, a Bullfinch. I did not receive labels for my entries until Saturday morning, so therefore was unable to send my bird, or Mr. Girle's to the show. The secretary wrote to me to say he would return my money, but up to the time of writing we have not received it. One can only make showing pay by winning a fair amount of prize money, but more often it is a balance on the losing side, and if we cannot get a run for our money and cannot get our money returned, it is almost time to leave the Fancy. I know in some cases the secretaries of shows are hard working and very obliging, but the exhibitor does not have much of the benefit of the doubt on his side, so I think that one ought to get one's money back when there is no chance to show the birds.

The Rescued Starlings.

How One of them Fell in Love with his Rescuer.

Sir,—Some years ago I resided in a place called Estcourt, in Natal, South Africa. Every morning I used to go bathing at a certain spot in the river. One morning, after a very heavy rain, the river had risen considerably. On the opposite bank in a hole was a Starling's nest with young ones. I swam across and rescued four of them. Three I gave away to friends, and the fourth I kept. I have never seen a tamer bird in my life. It was never caged, and always accompanied me to my bathing place every morning, often flying away for some minutes out of sight, but always returning to escort me up to the house. Every evening at dusk it used to fly on my shoulder and chatter away, wanting to be put to its usual sleeping place on a saddle rack. Every morning when I came to fetch him he used to chatter incessantly, and then go for a fly. He was very fond of flying in at the window, and helping himself to the delicacies on the table, and we then had to shut him out, but he always pecked at the window, wanting to be let in. He would pick me out of a dozen men on horseback and come on to my shoulder and accompany me for hours, either flying or sitting. Ultimately I left the country for England, and I gave the bird to a German friend, who was very fond of him, but I heard the bird died within a fortnight of my departure—I think of a broken heart.

Mealworm Breeding.

Sir,—Could any reader kindly tell me what is the time of the breeding process, so that my box may be cleaned out—that is to say, the waste matter sifted out? I find that there is a lot of dust left from the eating of the contents of the box, but I do not wish to disturb the mealworms during the breeding process.

Amateur.

Gramaphone Records and the Roller's Song.

Sir,—Mr. Tomlinson's letter converts this question into one of phonograph records—a different thing from gramaphone records. The latter term is frequently, but erroneously applied to the phonograph. Judging from my knowledge of four different makes of phonograph, I should say the sound analogous to "needle-scrape" in gramaphones is less pronounced, as might be expected from the wax-faced cylinders. Possibly this is the reason phonograph records are employed in teaching foreign languages. Consequently, they may, perhaps, be more successful in recording the Roller's song. If Mr. Tomlinson will write the Edison Phonograph Company, City Road, E.C., they will send him full particulars for making phonograph records. I am not sure whether he can make records on the Gem machine, and in any case he will require a special attachment—a Recorder—for this purpose, and a specially shaped horn. The latter may, however, be improvised out of thin cardboard or thick brown paper. A wax record making is placed by the company on a par with amateur attempts at photography, so one must not expect too much from first attempts. One point that must not be overlooked is that when a record is being made any undesirable extraneous sounds, such as talking, moving about, etc., may be recorded, as well as the sound desired, and should be strictly avoided whilst a record is being made. If Mr. Tomlinson makes the effort I trust he will succeed, and shall be interested in hearing the result.

For Visitors to Leyton Show.

Sir,—Visitors to Leyton Show can book to Leyton (Midland Railway) or Leyton (Great Eastern). On alighting at either station a halfpenny fare on car or 'bus will take them to Grange Park Road. Fast trains from Liverpool Street do the journey in eleven minutes. The fare is sixpence return. The show may also be reached by car or 'bus from all parts of London, but those visitors who come via Lea Bridge Road should alight at Manor Road, Leyton.

The Secretary of Belfast Show's Great Loss.

Sir,—I am sure the sympathy of all true fanciers will go to Mr. R. Trimble in the great loss he sustained at the above show, finding on the second morning of the show his fine young Yellow Scotch Fancy cock dead in its cage. He was a good winner at this show, and with a little time I believe he would have been the best yellow cock in Ireland, England, or Scotland. He was bred, I understand of Mr. Trimble's yellow pied, which was the champion young cock last year of Ireland. It is believed inflammation killed him. We wish Mr. Trimble better luck next time, knowing that he is a good sportsman and a genuine fancier. He has been secretary of the above show for a number of years, and is the right man in the right place.

A Yorkshire Canary Club for Wales.

Sir,—A meeting of this newly-formed club will be held at Swansea Show, November 13th (second day), at 5 p.m., when all fanciers of this variety who are interested are cordially invited. For the benefit of those who cannot attend Mr. H. Webster, who is acting as sec. pro tem. will be pleased to hear from any one wishing to join. The entry fee is fixed at 1s., payable on joining, and annual subscription 2s. 6d., due on the 31st March, 1914. It is open to receive members in North and South Wales, and the county of Monmouthshire. It is to be hoped that Yorkshire fanciers will not fail to respond, as this is the first specialist club to be formed in Wales for one variety. I shall be pleased to give any further information that is required.

Popularising the Norwich Plainhead Club.

Sir,—At the N.P.C. annual meeting held at Manchester show, comment was made at the paucity of entries in some of the classes at patronage shows, and a few suggestions were forthcoming as an antidote to the apathy of the members. Never was the Biblical axiom "To him that hath shall be given" more true than in the case of these specialist clubs. Generally, a cup or some large money prize is given over a certain number of shows for the most points gained, and it is generally won by the member who has won most 1st prizes, while the members who have been getting the 4th and vhc's get nothing. Now if the N.P.C. really want to popularise their shows, and to make societies fall over one another in their scramble for their patronage, let them do away with points specials and cups, and add two more small money prizes—in addition to those already given by the society—in each class which their patronage covers. Societies can't afford to give six money prizes, so let the N.P.C. guarantee the two extra ones. It will both popularise the shows, increase entries and membership, and make their patronage something that will be desirable to societies, because of the increased entries. Of course, the two extra prizes would only be competed for by N.P.C. members. If that sugestion were adopted, some of the rank and file—those members who consistently come in for the "codding" cards—would benefit occasionally. It is worth considering (I say it with all modesty), and the increased number of money prizes need only take effect in classes which are well filled, that is, the club could arrange it that small classes of six or eight wouldn't benefit by the addition. But there would soon be no small classes under that scheme. I should like to hear what others say about it.

Sub Rosa.

HOW THE CUCKOO EJECTS EGGS FROM A NEST.

Also Some Notes on the Problem of Migration.

Sir,—In my opinion birds are guided in their migration from this country to Africa by knowing the position of the sun. They know where the heat is coming from, and direct their course accordingly. At one time I had a lot of Canaries which I kept in the kitchen, and I often let them out of their cages for a fly; they would then perch on the rack in front of the fire to warm themselves. They turned round their back to the fire, and spread out their wings and tail, and when it became too hot for them they would move a little to the side, but they sometimes got their tails singed. Now, these birds found their way to the fire by feeling the heat. I do not think that birds find their way from this country to Africa by instinct. A blind bird has just as much instinct as one that can see, but it would never find its way from this country to Africa. But I think birds do know where to fly, as old birds, in the spring migration, generally return to the same locality year after year, so they must have a good knowledge of the country. An adult Cuckoo has been in the habit of frequenting some gardens in Beith for several years. This year it was last seen or heard on June 27. Another was heard about a mile from Beith on June 29, but was not heard or seen afterwards. Now, July and August were the warmest months this year, and in 1911 May and June were very warm months; in fact, May was said to be a record, and in that year the latest date the Cuckoo was seen or heard was June 15. There can be no doubt about this, as a postman whom I know goes with the letters round the country where Cuckoos abound, and I asked him (which I do every year) when he heard the Cuckoo last. He could not give me a definite date, as they had left so early, but he thought it was about the middle of June, which confirms my observations. The earliest date for the Cuckoo arriving here (Beith) is April 20, and the latest date for departing is July 4, which is ten weeks and six days—a very short stay, indeed. Even although birds started from this country with a north wind, it is no guarantee whatever that they will reach Africa, for the wind might change before the birds were far on their journey, and there is no saying where they would land if they were guided by the wind. Birds can direct their course southwards without a north wind. I may say it is rare for the wind to blow from due north here (Beith), but it often blows from the north-east. Perhaps "Sub Rosa" will send some notes to Cage Birds saying in what direction the birds are coming before they reach the observatory, and what direction they take when leaving it, also what kind of birds they are, and where the wind is blowing from; this might throw some more light on the subject. I think it was Mr. E. Kay Robinson who said that the young Cuckoo, when ejecting eggs and young birds from the nest, found out the open space by the sun shining on its unopened eyelids. It finds out the open space by experience, as I can prove. In 1897 I saw a Meadow Pipit's nest with a young Cuckoo in it about three days old. The nest was on a flat surface, which was covered all round with grass, except for about one and a half inches, which was the only place where an egg could be ejected. I put two Canaries' eggs into the nest, and the young Cuckoo, while still blind, hoisted one of them on its back and climbed up the side of the nest backwards, but it was at the wrong place. It then climbed round the nest, but before it reached the open space the egg rolled off its back into the nest again. I visited the nest the following day, when the two eggs were lying outside the nest, and I put them into the nest again. The young Cuckoo hoisted one of them on its back, and climbed up the side of the nest, but it was again at the wrong place. It then climbed round the nest, but before it reached the open space the egg rolled off its back into the nest again. It repeated the operation this time with success. I put the eggs into the nest again, and it suffered them to remain. In 1899 I saw another Meadow Pipit's nest with three of the owner's eggs and a Cuckoo's. The nest was on the face of a hill. The Cuckoo hatched in due course. The young Cuckoo had one of the Pipit's eggs out before it was twenty-four hours old. I again visited the nest the two following days, when all the Pipit's eggs were lying outside the nest. I put one of the Pipit's eggs into the nest again, and the young Cuckoo hoisted it on its back and climbed up the side of the nest backwards, while still blind, but it was at the wrong place. It then climbed round the nest, still keeping the egg on its back till it reached the open space and sent it over the side of the nest. The above shows that the young Cuckoo finds out the open space by trial and experience, as any person who wants to be fair must agree.

CHELTENHAM.

A Splendid All-round Display.

We are pleased to chronicle another success by the Society at the show held Nov. 5 and 6 in the Montpelier Rotunda, a roomy place quite free from draughts, but not the best of light on a dull day. The exhibits were well staged, and we need hardly say they had the best of care and attention from a committee of keen and enthusiastic fanciers. Entries were well up to the average, and quality was splendidly maintained. Crests and Crestbreds, always a strong feature at Cheltenham shows, were again a hot lot, probably the best collection yet seen here. From these sprang the best bird in the show in Mr. Dobson's buff Crested cock. The yellows were a good lot about the best we have seen here. Mr. Bale did a big thing when he annexed both the C.A.C. cups for best Crest and Crest-bred, bred 1913, and he is to be heartily congratulated on his fine performance. Yorkshires and Norwich were not so strong numerically, but many high class birds were staged. In the latter section two grand hens headed their respective classes. The yellow of Mr. Collings is a real charmer, such shape, size and quality are rarely seen; she is indeed one hard to find fault with. Mr. Houghton's buff is another grand one, and she did a smart performance when she captured the CAGE BIRDS Champion Diploma. The diploma for the best novice bird went to Mr. Bavage with his fine Crest. The Borders were a strong and representative lot, the local enthusiast, Mr. Madagan, putting down a nice team and doing well, capturing the special for best with the winning yellow cock. British and foreign were good, amongst the latter being many charming exhibits.

The stewards—Messrs. Child, Hayling, Hiles, Hamblin, Stevens, Williams, Hope, Brown, Elston, A. Smith, R. Smith, Short, Hands, Holloway, White and Mitchell—worked with a will and with every gate. The hon. sec., Mr. A. S. Treasure, and the show manager, Mr. W. Pounsett, both worked grandly, and did all in their power to make everything pass off as smoothly as possible, and the Society are distinctly fortunate in having such a pair of capable and popular officials. Mr. Robson judged Crests, Nor., and For.; Mr. Battye, Yorks., Lord., and A.O.V.; Mr. Longden, Brit. and Hybs.

DULWICH AND PECKHAM.

Tenth annual open show held at the Conservative Club Hall, Rotherhithe, Nov. 4 & 5; upwards of 100 birds were on view. Amongst Norf and Yorks. some of the cream of the Fancy were put down by many prominent exhibitors. Mr. Richardson's young buff hen claimed a good deal of attention, having won 5 spls. Norwich classes were so strong that two or three lots of winners could have been picked out. Yorks. also were a very fine lot, and so were the novice Norwich, some of which could have won in many open shows. Mr. L. J. Richardson, show manager, and other officials worked hard to ensure success. The exhibits were well staged, and great credit is due to the management for the care and attention given to the birds. Mr. J. Hobson judged. The show was opened the first day by Mr. John Lort Williams, and on the second day by Alderman Harbord.

MARYHILL O.C.

Thirty seventh annual show held in the Burgh Hall, Nov. 1. Judges, A. McLachlan, Govan, and J. Price, Barrhead; 73 birds entered. Sec. Ferguson and many others of the Association report a bad breeding season; plenty of young birds, in some instances up to 30, but only one left, and others with none, consequently the entries suffered, but quality was good. Considerable speculation was evinced re the probable winner of the cup. It was won by a buff hen belonging to Mr. Andrew Jardine, the runner-up, and very close, being Mr. Thomas Ferguson's yellow hen. The Jardine cup now becomes the property of the winner, who has won it three times. Mr. Andrew Jardine is very popular with his fellow members, and deservedly so; a most enthusiastic Scots Fancy breeder and sportsman, and it is hoped that he will present the club with some other trophy for annual competition. Arrangements were ably carried through by Sec. Ferguson, assisted by his able committee of workers. There was a fair attendance, and we trust the gate will prove a satisfactory one. For the best bird belonging to a member, and best opposite sex, who has never won a first prize, cup and spl. was won by Mr. James Young's buff pied cock, a good all-round bird; this was a very popular win.

The Critique.

YELL. CK. (4): 1, R. Taylor, nice size, reach, and droop, good thickness through, and top end, takes spar nicely; 2, Aitkenhead, fails a shade in thickness to first, nice length of side, fine reach and style. YELL. PIE. (8): 1, 2, Usherwood, good size and thickness through, plenty of style, nice erect pose, good droop; 2nd, barely the weight; 4, Blackstock, fails a shade in size, nice reach and pose; 5, 6, Wilson; 7, Young. BUFF (6): 1, 2, Young, good size and length of side, nice pose and reach, good droop; 2nd, very close up, fails in thickness through; 3, Usherwood, nice type, a shade on the small side to those in front. BUFF PIE (7): 1, sp, 5, sp, Young, winner of members' cup, very typical; 2, Blackstock, nice size, fine top end, tail well to spar, takes nice pose; 3, sp, Usherwood, well up, good shoulders and reach, keeps head well down; 4, sp, Wilson, fails only in size, shade light to those in front. GREEN (5): 1, 2, Young, fine droop and reach, takes erect position, tail well under, fair thickness through; 2nd, on equal terms with 1st, little between them; 3, 4, 5, Blackstock, 3rd a very fair bird, shade thin; 4th, nice style, too light to winners. YELL. Hen (5): 1, sp, Ferguson, real gem; 2, Usherwood, another nice one, good style and finish; 3, Wilson, nice size, good top end, fails a shade in weight to others; 4, 5, sp, Blackstock. YELL. PIE. (4): 1, Usherwood, typical, good top and reach, nice droop, well set on spar, tail well under spar; 2, Wilson, fails a shade in size to winner, good style and reach, nice goer; 3, Blackstock, good style, more weight wanted. BUFF (11): 1, sp, Jardine, nice size and reach, grand length of side, nice erect pose, fine position on spar, shade hollow on shoulder; 2, 5, Wilson, not the size of winner, good bird, nice pose and finish; 3, sp, Usherwood, nice buff hen, good size, barely the thickness through of those in front; 4, sp, Blackstock, very close on 3rd. BUFF PIE. (6): 1, 2, Young, fair size, and top end, good style and finish; 2nd, better for size than winner, might have changed places; 3, Aitkenhead, shade thin on top, good style; 4, Blackstock; 5, Pringle. FOUL (3): 1, Wilson, good size, nice style and pose; 2, 3, Blackstock, better for size than winner, not quite the thickness through; 3rd, small to those in front. MARKINCH O.S.

Fortieth annual exhibition held in the Town and Masonic Halls, Nov. 1. Entries, 330, were much in excess of former years, but there is still room for improvement in the cage bird section. It behoves fanciers to give this society more support in future. The classification is good and the birds are staged in a separate hall, well lighted and free from draughts, with a first class executive to look after their needs. Norwich and British made a nice show, some grand exhibits being on exhibition. Mr. D. Summers secured the S.C.C. medal, also Hydes' spl. with his C.B. cock. Mr. A. Dewar won spl. for best Mule or Hybrid with a grand Greene Mule; while Mr. J. Nicholson, Bathgate, won the Connelly medal for best British with his champion Goldfinch. Judges were: Scots Fancy, J. Cook, Cowdenbeath; Nor., C. Campbell, Glasgow; Bord., A. W. Thomson, Newtongrange; Brit., Wm. Sharp, Bathgate.

FALKIRK.

Twenty fifth annual show of the Falkirk C.B.S., held Oct. 25, in Oddfellows' Hall, a very suitable venue, being free from draughts and fairly well lighted. The society is fortunate in having the patronage of some gentlemen who take a keen interest in the hobby, particularly Mr. R. M. Sutherland, of Solsgirth, his generosity being greatly appreciated. Mr. Rennie, the genial secretary, has little to learn in the art of show running, and his efforts were ably seconded by a crew of workers whose names are household words in the Fancy. Entries were slightly down in the Canary section, but British were well advanced on previous years, 141 facing Mr. Steel, whose decisions were fairly well received; we only heard one grumbler. The judge spent considerable time over his sections, many exhibits being rather wild, which told against their chances. We should advise the stewards to arrange the classes in a more separate manner; many were mingled to a degree which made location most difficult, and as there were no marked catalogues this was doubly felt. The slip system would suit here. The show was well patronised by the public. In Norwich Mr. Holmes adjudicated, Borders and Crests Mr. K. Lamlae, and their decisions were well received.

AYLESBURY F.S.

Fifth annual show, held in the Town Hall, Oct. 30. There was a crowded attendance, many from outlying villages, in the evening. The hon. sec., Mr. F. Rayner, who is an adept in the art of show management, excelled himself if possible this year in his efforts to please. Entries were about the same as last year, and quality was really good. Several other shows clashing somewhat reduced the entries in the open classes, but the members made up fully for this drawback. Dr. J. C. Baker is the president of the society, and the society has amongst its vice-presidents, Lord Rothschild, Lionel de Rothschild, M.P., and A. de Rothschild, Esq. A very strong working committee have the management, and it may be fairly said that one and all of them rendered yeoman service. Cup and silver medal for best member's bird fell to a spanking ticked buff Norwich hen, shown by Mr. F. W. Horne, after keen competition, and this bird also secured special for best in classes 95 and 96. Other specials were won by Messrs. J. W. Hodges, W. J. Dimmock, W. Buckingham, and R. J. E. Fonntain. Mr. Rayner won special for the best colour fed bird. Mr. Geo. Gardner judged, and had a difficult task.

SOUTHEND.

Seventh annual show held in the club hall at the "Blue Boar," Prittlewell, Nov. 4 and 5. The hall is an ideal one, roomy, plenty of light and comfortable, and capable of staging five or six hundred birds. It was tastefully decorated for the occasion and looked well with its rows of exhibits. The entry was about the same as last year, but not up to what the Society expected. They gave a good classification, have a splendid hall, and give the birds every attention, yet several of the British Bird classes had to be cancelled, and many of the Canary classes were only moderately filled. Although the number was not excessive no fault could be found with the quality. Many winners at other big shows competed once more. Yorkshires were quite up to present-day form. Mr. A. E. Pattrick sent a grand team and succeeded in winning outright the open Yorks. challenge cup for most points, an achievement that he may well be proud of. He also won the Society's challenge cup for three starred birds. Mr. Kent, Walthamstow, staged a beautiful buff cock and marked bird, both of which were much admired. Novice buff hen class had a good entry, the first half-dozen being hard to separate.

The management was simply perfection, and no one could find fault with the staging, care of exhibits, or serving of judges. Messrs. Pattrick and Nicholls are old stagers and know how to arrange these things as well as any. Messrs. Deer and Cundy attended to the secretarial department and everything went swimmingly. The Committee, Messrs. Askew, Bates, Capp, Hunt, Lockwood, Nicholls, Hume and the Chairman, and Vice (Messrs. Bert Rand and C. Hume) all gave ample assistance. The show was opened by the President, Alderman J. C. Ingram, who takes a great interest in the doings of the Society, and was keenly alive to the beauties of the exhibits. The show was well attended. Mr. H. Norman judged Canaries, and Mr. Dewhurst Hybrids and British, and everyone seemed satisfied.

Real Grit Well Rewarded at Liverpool Show.

Record Entry of over 1,000 Birds. Our Coupon Competition Highly Popular.

Not so long ago an article was published asking the question: "Is the Britisher losing his pluck?" If the writer had had the good fortune to pay a visit to the show run by the Liverpool O.S., on Oct. 31st and Nov. 1st, had seen the 1,050 birds staged for exhibition, and had been told that exactly twelve good men and true stood the enormous risk of a loss on such a show, he wouldn't have had to ask the question. Just enough men in the society to form an ordinary jury. Who can ask if the Britisher is losing his pluck? A few years ago these few men put heads together and hands in pockets (their own, of course), and said to themselves: "Here is a city like Liverpool, with thousands of fanciers, and the city doesn't run a bird show; it's a blot on its escutcheon"; and these men forthwith commenced to remove the blot. Theirs is now one of the leading shows in the country, and we are looking forward to the time when the St. Martin's Hall will not be big enough for them. With fanciers such as these there is nothing to stop them from aspiring to the Corn Exchange, or even the St. George's Hall; and we believe the time is not far illstunt when the Liverpool O.S. show will be looked upon as of national importance, ranking with Manchester, or even the Scottish National, as an annual rendezvous for fanciers from all parts of the country. A show of only semi-local interest will not satisfy these enthusiasts. They will aspire to a show more in keeping with the brains, courage, and up-to-date management which are the chief assets of this society. The officials all worked with a will in getting off exhibits from a distance, and birds with a long journey were on their way to the station by 5 o'clock.

Exhibitors Implored to Take Their Cash.

The room is a large one, and well held the large army of visitors, amongst whom were a good sprinkling of the gentler sex. Mr. Geo. Green was an efficient show manager. He worked until the sweat poured from the side of his face, and until you had to look twice to see whether there were tears or not. His voice was hoarse from shouting for reluctant fanciers to come and fetch their prize money. We have often seen and heard of persons shouting themselves hoarse pleading for money, but never until to-day did we know how difficult it was to give it away. Mr. Green's was a businesslike method of dealing with the despatch of exhibits. Messrs. Metcalfe and Deacon were in charge of the secretarial department and the war chest. They were kept busy all the afternoon attending to sales, and seeing to it that no exhibitors went away with less prize money than they were justly entitled to. Nor must we forget to mention a lady worker. If a catalogue was wanted, there were plenty to be bought from Mrs. P. H. Deacon. If birds required packing, Mrs. Deacon was there to do it. If an exhibitor had to be seen from the room with his birds, Mrs. Deacon was the person to escort him. In short, Mrs. Deacon was just "it."

Our Diploma Scheme Proves Popular.

CAGE BIRDS diploma scheme is fairly taking exhibitors by storm. No fewer than 80 birds competed at this show. Some hot stuff was entered for it, and after a hard tussle, the Redpoll-Bullie Hybrid belonging to Mr. H. Walsh, Accrington, was awarded the diploma, and 10s. special for best champion cup bird. Mr. Walsh bred the bird himself, which makes the honour of more consequence to him. The novice diploma and 10s. special went to the unflighted buff Norwich of Mr. W. H. Cottam's, 1st in a class of 27, a fact which speaks well for the bird itself. Other diploma winners were: Champ. Nor., Mr. Joe Thomas; best hardbill, Mr. W. Blancon; best softbill, Messrs. A. and O. Wellings; best novice Yorks., Mr. T. Green.

Greens, The Chief Dish.

Liverpool Show without the Greens would be like a race-meeting without spectators, and naturally fall flat. This year the "pencillers" came up to expectations, and some glorious specimens were on view. The awards were wonderfully split up, which speaks highly for the many breeders who are trying to get on top. Now that the celebrated stud of Mr. Tom Rowlands is spread about every exhibitor has an equal chance. Quality was very high, in fact the best bird in the show proved to be a yellow green Yorkshire hen, belonging to Mr. W. C. Robinson. We have seen larger classes in the green Yorkshire section, but the late moulting season and the six classes for novice greens robbed the champion classes. This innovation of providing novice classes in Yorks., Norwich, and Border Greens, has proved a great success, and competition for the £5 5s. cup is intensely keen. There will be different winners every week, as many of the birds are of equal merit.

Norwich Greens were simply rotten, to speak out straight. Here's a grand opening for some one, and some one without a big banking account, too. When this variety was in the hands of one man, we had cause to grumble at scanty support, but now it seems there are no Norwich Greens about. Come, you who have them, support the patronage shows, else you'll get your sails trimmed next season.

Border Greens came up well. The Tyne-side stables supported Mr. Geo. Large well; he had a hard morning's work to separate the top birds, so even were they in type and colour. We shall not be satisfied at Liverpool until we see the Scotsmen competing in the Green Border section.

Something Extra Good in Cinnamons.

Yorks. made a great show. Special for best went to Mr. W. R. Knowles with a bird of outstanding merit. Norwich were an admirable lot. Many of the Manchester and Burnley winners were on view, some of the former decisions being reversed, while in some cases the past winners held their own. Cinnamons were extra, as was to be expected when the club gave its patronage. The bird of outstanding merit was the unflighted yellow belonging to Mr. Dormer. We never remember seeing a better Cinnamon. He is a treat, great size combined with quality, rare colour, real Norwich properties, and carrying a good top. Borders were well filled classes, some notable birds being on view, and we were pleased to find a new lady exhibitor in the person of Miss Cooper. Borders are just the birds for the ladies, and it is a wonder why more of them do not take them up instead of pampering snuffling dogs, or scrambling for the vote.

The stewards worked very hard, getting exhibits away, and when we left, comparatively early, the benches were looking decidedly thin. The judges were: Messrs. H. W. Battye, Yorks.; C. Houlton, British and Hybrids; J. Trengove, Norwich; and George Large, Borders. Their awards were well received, and they must have had a hard day's work.

Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds.

There was just one class for any variety Canary Hybrid or British Bird Hybrid, but what a turn-up! The 23 entries comprised eleven or twelve distinct crosses. The winner is a lovely Redpoll Bullfinch Hybrid; it won CAGE BIRDS spl. best Hybrid, and also won CAGE BIRDS champion coupon over all sections. British came up in large numbers and quite surprised everybody. Some of the very best were on view, and competition was of the keenest all through. So heavy were some of the classes that extra cards were awarded. One class for small Foreign birds was headed by a very smart pair of Black-headed Gouldians in fine condition. Staged on the front of the large platform, this section looked very imposing indeed. There was talk of dividing up into more classes the Hybrids next year. If so, fanciers must not forget to respond generously when the time comes. Mr. Blanchon's Goldfinch won CAGE BIRDS coupon for best Hardbill, and Messrs. A. and O. Welling's Thrush that for best Softbill.

HYB. (23): Wonderful class for quality and quantity, and a hot one to judge: 1, two spls., H. Walsh, unique Redpoll-Bullfinch, grand in every respect today, and well deserves his honour of CAGE BIRDS coupon champion at this show; 2, extra hc, Johnson, pretty Can.-Bullf., grand order; 3, extra c, Griffiths, good Goldf.-Bullf., best of its cross in class today; 4, J. R. Metcalfe, fine size and shape Linnet-Bullie, in grand order; vhc, c, Parlett, his champion yell. Greenf.-Can.; hc, Oldham, very neat and pretty Redpoll-Greenf., in faultless feather; several more good Goldie-Bullie and Linnet-Bullies, and var. Linnet-Canaries in class. GOLDF. (13): 1, Capt. Hurst, fine bold bird, big square level-coloured face, deep body col, nice moons and bars, tight cond.; 2, 4, Blanchon; 2nd takes CAGE BIRDS coupon spl. best Hardbill; a grand pair of Finches, good blaze, grand moons and bars, good tanning, and will improve; 3, Tams and Son, good chubby bird, fine expanse of blaze, when quite ready should make a fine bird, face a little pale yet; vhc, Mullock; he, Davies; c, Mort. BULLF. (4): small class, but good birds; 1, 3, Woods, pair of gems, first largest; 2, Griffiths, grand bird, runs very close, only least shade smaller than first; 4, Sharples. LINNET (28): Best class of Linnets for many years at Liverpool, and extra cards given; 1, hc, Joe Davies, typical shaped Linnet, good size, rare head, neck and shoulders, well coned off, niee col., distinct markings and tight, glossy cond.; 2, Tams and Son, well forward, good col., markings, and tight cond.; 3, Pitchford, bit narrower in head and neck, fine body col. and markings, nice cond.; 8, Boyd, very like 3rd, in fine order; vhc, extra vhc, c, Wilsen, good pair of birds, little behind leaders; ex. vhc, Kilner & Son; ex. hc, Brade; c, Boyd; ex. c, Barnett; all close up. GREENF. (11): nice lot; 1, R. J. Metcalfe, rare shape, tight, silky feather, sound level col.; 2, Capt. Hurst, fine buff, grand shape, qual and cond; 3, Johnson, grand medium sized yell., A1 cond.; 4, E. Goode, niee size and shape, will improve; vhc, Barker; hc, Edwards; c, Bodden. SISKIN, Etc. (26): a stiff class; 1, Fairhurst, fine size, good shape Siskin, grand bright yell. body col., neat rather light laced cap, grand markings and cond.; 2, Handley, junr., grand Lesser Redpoll, size, shape, bib, markings, col. and cond. all there; 3, Bostock, nice conditioned Twite, medium size, hardly standard of 1st and 2nd; 4, Barker, Siskin, pretty col. and dense cap, bit smaller than 1st, niee bib, just beaten in side markings; vhc, Oldham; hc, Parlett. BRAMBLE, Etc. (11): 1, Hurst, fine Bramble, good shape, plenty body col., very deep dark points and spangle, just a shade heavy about head and neck, grand glossy cond.; 2, Barnett, very good all-round Chaffinch, size, shape, col., markings and cond. all there; 3, Parlett, good body Bramble, well spangled all through, beaten in head and size a little only; 4, c, R. J. Metcalfe, fine shape Chaffinch, only beaten in head col. by 2nd; vhc, Fairhurst; he, Bond and Son. A.O. MATLOCK.

At Matlock, the "Palace of the Peak," the annual exhibition was held Oct. 30, in the spacious Victoria Hall. The entry was a record one, being practically double that of last year. Our Derbyshire friends were delighted at the capital response recorded them. Norwich were a very fine collection, many notable all-England winners being on view. Yorks. were also a capital lot. In Mules, Mr. Parlett's noted Yell. Greenie-Can. led once again (its 66th first prize—truly a grand record). British were captivating, the Hawfinch (W. Bull) and the Chough and Waxwing (L. Fallding) were a trio of charmers. Foreign were neat and gave an extra touch of tone. Members' classes contained some most useful stuff, Messrs. W. J. Dean, J. W. Buxton, C. W. Lill, J. Else, and T. W. Shaw, putting down quality.

Chairman, Mr. A. H. Slater, and vice-chairman, Mr. T. Boden, are a brace of enthusiastic officials, controlling in a masterly and judicious way. The committee are a band of real workers, and Messrs. Allwood, Mitchell, Cooper, Brookes, Richards, Bannister, G. E. Slater, Shaw, Lill, Searle, and Platts, with hon, treas., Mr. H. Loveday; hon. auctioneer, Mr. E. Hodgkinson; hon. solicitor, Mr. C. Granville Heny, are all great assets to the society. Hon. general sec., Mr. J. W. Buxton, and hon. financial sec., Mr. W. J. Dean, are rare workers, highly courteous to all, ever on the go, and, doing the right thing at the right time; the "Peakites" are admirably served with the best in the way of painstaking officials.

CAGE BIRDS Coupon Scheme was in evidence at this fixture, and once again created very heated competition amongst the many entrants for the good things offered. When all the coupon exhibits were grouped together an imposing sight of real gems was to be seen. The winner in the champion section was Mr. R. D. Parlett, his renowned Yell. Greenie-Can. claiming the 10s. sp and diploma of honour. Runner-up was a grand Buff Grizzled Crest, owned by Mr. G. Dodd, truly very close up. The novice 10s. sp and diploma went to Mr. W. Bull with a magnificent Hawfinch in absolutely the pink of condition; runner-up a grand Cl. Buff Nor., put down in style by Mr. W. J. Dean, again close on the heels of winner. Diplomas of honour were won as follows: Champ. Nor., W. Vardy, var. buff hen, Burnley, etc., winner; Novice Nor., W. J. Dean; Champ. Yorks., W. Brotherton; Nov., J. Burton; Champ. Hardbill, C. Nicholson; Nov., W. Bull; Nov., Softbill, A. Ward; Champ., A.O.V., G. Dodd. Members' specials winners were: Dean (5), and Wragg (2). The cup fell into the hands of Mr. W. J. Dean, who also owned the runner-up.

Staging was neatly carried out on the tier principle. Prize cards were quickly put up. The Stewards who rendered most useful and untiring efforts were Messrs. J. Woolley and W. Wherrett. Mr. J. C. Barnes (Sheffield) judged and his awards were well received.

The Critique.

YELL. NOR. UPPER RHONDDA.

First annual open show held at Cardiff Arms Hotel, Treorchy, Oct. 29. The room was lofty, well lighted, and free from draughts. The exhibits were well staged and every attention was paid to their wants. The show was one of CAGE BIRDS Diploma shows, and a great number of birds were brought out to do battle for the 10s. specials and diplomas.

Yorkshires were a fine lot, and the competition was very keen. Messrs. Richards, Griffiths, and Beaven put down fine teams, and their birds handled well, being very steady and well staged. In the Norwich section also were some good birds, the buff tick unflighted hen of Mr. Lewis taking special for best Norwich in show, winning CAGE BIRDS 10s. special. Borders, though few in number were a fine lot, Mr. D. Jenkins had his birds in rare fettle, and won all the first prizes. In Mules and Hybrids twenty-three birds were benched in the two classes. In Members' classes some grand birds were staged. The Rhondda fanciers are a keen lot, and Mr. Thomas, the sec., never left the show all day, working hard for the benefit of the birds and comfort of the exhibitors. The committee who assisted him were Messrs. Richards, Curtis, Watts, Davies, Hoehardy, Jones, Davies, Gless, Thomas. Mr. W. Mundell, Bradford, judged, and everybody seemed satisfied.

BO'NESS.

Held November 1. The management was all that could be desired. A good hall, splendid staging, and everything in tip-top order. Mr. Cameron, the worthy sec., was, as usual, at the head of affairs, and was ably assisted by an enthusiastic committee, and everything passed off as merry as a marriage bell. The show was well patronised, and we hope to hear of a financial success.

Canaries we expected to see in larger numbers, but what was wanting in numbers was there in quality. Crests and Crest breds were a grand collection, some real good ones being staged, and in many classes difficult to separate. Plainheads were few in numbers, after the splendid classification allotted to them, but there were some good ones among them. These varieties were judged by Mr. A. Chalmers, and his awards were well received. Borders were up to former years, some real good specimens being out, the medal winner being a very sweet buff hen, well shown by Mr. Dunsmore. Yorkshires were also good, Mr. Gray accounting for the two classes with some of his gems. Mr. J. Hamilton judged these classes, and his awards seemed to give complete satisfaction.

A good entry in the British and mules' sections faced the judges, Messrs. Mackie and Steel, the first-named taking even numbers. Their awards were well received, and we were pleased, while conversing with that old and well-known judge Mr. Moreland, of Falkirk, to hear him say that he would not have altered a single award in Mr. Steel's classes. Linnets and Redpolls were out in full strength, over sixty in the various classes took some separating. We notice the judges had an admirable agreement to consult together in deciding any close finish. Special interest was centred on the small insectivorous section, the two leaders, staged by Mr. Taylor, being much admired. The Goodie-Bullie staged by Mr. M'Lean is a marvel for a baby. We hear he bred thirteen of this cross; if there were any more like this among the lot, Mr. McLean must have made a pile, as we know he has had some tempting offers for this one, but wisely prefers to await its maturing. Most of those fanciers who have come to be recognised as the "Nuts," had some of their best birds forward, which provided useful models for the judges.

Delicate Questions of Bona-fides.

Nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the event, though we noticed the judges putting the glass over a few exhibits, and subsequently we overheard one exhibitor getting talked to in a manner which will do him good, but the cordial handshake and a promise of "Never more," which ensued were perhaps better than a more drastic action. We noticed the recently wrong-classed Waxwing among the winners, and ventured to question its bona-fides. Mr. S. assured us that this bird was caught in Fife, but apart from that it would be impossible to draw a line, as this species, like quite a few others, including even the Siskins, is a migrant.

Surely the rule that all sales must be made through the secretary might as well be discarded, or amended to read: "Parties will be stationed at all neighbouring bars to detect offenders." We had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with many veterans of the Fancy, and they were unanimous in declaring that the younger exhibitors had now to be reckoned with, and the picking of British unpolished gems is quite an art with them. For example, Mr. J. Moreland, who, of course, has the benefit of his father's experience, has secured with one bird no less than seven prizes during the past fortnight, including cup and medals, an object-lesson for his brother novices.

Canary and Mule Sections.

British and Foreign Birds.

GOLDF.: 1, Aitken, grand Finch, rare col. and expanse of blaze, rich tans, put down in splendid order, wins; 2, 4, Bell, former better even in tans than leader, but scarcely expanse of blaze, yet a real good one; latter, just fails in cut of blaze, though more expansive, excels buttons; 3, Allan, just beaten in size and face, no disgrace, in such company; 5, Pringle. BULLF. (5): 1, Bell, c.-n., great, but not suspicious size, grand depth of breast col. and dense cap, wins; 2, Taylor, even better in breast, just beaten in size, well put down; 3, Liddle, scarcely the col. of leaders, yet a good one; 4, McGillivray; 5, Messer. LINNET, H.-M. (8): 1, 3, Bell, leader grand size and well pencilled, just a little open in front, and inclined to cross wings at times; 3, best polish in class, but scarcely subs. of leaders, nice tone and whites; 2, Robertson, scarcely size, but better peg-top shape, nicely pencilled, a good one, must have pressed for premier position; 4, Laurie, largest in class, nice polish, just fails in pencilling; 5, Craig; 6, Scobbie; 7, Boslem. F.-M. (14): 1, Robson, a mass of breast work, good size, and excels whites, very steady; 2, A. W. Watson, another good one, just beaten in size, closer up in breast, fine tone, must have pressed; 3, 7, Hodge and Hoxton, largest and best shape in class, just beaten in breast and tone of col., will improve; 4, Gentleman, a good one, best breast in class, beaten size and steadiness, good wings, some fancies for 3rd; 5, Nicholson; 6, McGillivray. SISKIN (8): 1, Calder, a bonny one, judiciously fed, grand cap and flanks, wins nicely; 2, Corbett, hot one for col., very faint bib, just beaten in flanks, equal in cap to leader, in grand order; 3, R. Watson, non-fed, no bib, better size than leaders, nice cap, will improve; 4, Laurie, very similar stamp, scarcely the colour, but some faneled for 3rd;; 5, Bishop; 6, McGillidray; 7, McGregor and Boyd. LESSER REDPOLL, H.M. (12): 1, Nicholson, good size and expanse of bib, nicely laced, shining order, a bonny 'Poll; 2, Thomson, another good one, scarcely weight of leader, but nice shape, better wings, just beaten bib and flanks; 3, Gardner, a hot one, good bib and head, hardly size for such a class, staged in A1 order; 4, Brown, similar stamp, better flanks, just fails in head; 5, Baird; 6, Atkinson; 7, Anderson (wet). LESSER REDPOLL, F.-M. (23): 1, Muir and Adamson, real good one, marvel for col., expanse of bib, and wing bars, wins well; 2, Quin, scarcely size of leader, grand bib and flanks, good second; 3, Bell, another grand 'Poll, just beaten in head, hard lines to meet such company; 4, A. W. Watson, some preferred for 3rd place, a regular wee dandy, shining like satin, well put down; 5, Scotland; 6, Palmer; 7, Gentleman. A difficult class, many good birds out of cards. MEALY REDPOLL (13): 1, Calder, "Magnum Bonum," a grand 'Poll, rare size and tone, expansive bib and distinct flank markings, wins in a strong class; 2, Quin, another giant, must have pressed, just beaten in bib, fine texture, well put down; 3, Crosse, largest in class, hardly up to col. of leaders, and fails to them in flanks; 4, Messer, some fancied for 3rd, better col. and flanks, just a little slack at thighs, might improve; 5, Boslem; 6, Bell; 7, Bishop. TWITE (9): 1, no name in catalogue, a real good one, good shape and subs., excels lacing, shines like glass, well staged; 2, 4, Bell, former hardly so dense in breast as leader, yet a grand Twite, good feather; 4, rather rakish, nicely pencilled, rather unsteady; 3, Leitch, our fancy for 2nd, not so dark, better in pencilling and shape, steady, a good one; 5, McCallum; 6, Finnie; 7, Gardner. A strong class. GREENF., FED (10): 1, J. Moreland, topper, grand cobby shape, excels head, nicely fed, wins; 2, Burnett, another short one, good bars and tone, warmer tone, just beaten size, a good specimen; 3, Messer, great subs., inclined to cross wings, scarcely up to col. of leaders, yet a good one; 4, 5, McGregor and Boyd, former a hot one, too hot we think, just beaten in head; 6, Braid; 7, Aitken. NON-FED (9): 1, Messer, grand size and shape, fails wing bars, in A1 order; 2, Henderson, scarcely size of leader, good shape and head, better col., must have pressed; 3, Sykes, best col., rare condition, just a trifle on long side, beaten head; 4, Bell, wet when taking notes; 5, Taylor; 6, Liddle; 7, Craig. GREENF. HEN (16): 1, Sykes, good size, rare col. for a hen, staged as this exhibitor knows how, wins; 2, R. Watson, just a shade behind in col., good head, beaten subs., yet a good one; 3, Lambie, better shape, fails wings, could be improved, a good one next season; 4, Bruce, better stamp but hugs perch, good col., some preferred, nice bars; 5, Craig; 6, Finnie; 7, Livingstone; good class, most failing in slackness of feathers. CHAFFINCH OR BRAMBLE. (9): 1, 6, Sykes, Baillie and Linnet; 4, Rayner, well mkd. Siskin; vhc, Acland; hc, c, Wood. FOR. (4): 1, Miss Rackhouse, beautiful Blackheaded Gouldian; 2, Pink, very pure white Java Sparrows; 3, Roe, Orange Weaver; 4, Pink, Waxbills. MEMBERS' YORKS., CL. OR TKD. GLASGOW SOUTHERN O.A.

Twentieth annual show and competition of Scotch Fancies held in the Grand National Halls, Gorbal, October 25. Judges were Messrs. Allan Lee, J. Price, J. Park, and J. Watson. The 12 classes had an entry of 166, which compares favourably with last year's number. The competition for the Motherwell Silver Cup was keen, and it was won by Mr. T. Y. Millar's Buff cock, a nice typical bird, the runner-up being a Buff Pied hen belonging to Mr. Wm. Gray, a real gem for size and style, close up on the winner. Quality was about the average. Buff and Foul cocks were a good turn-out. Sec. Turnbull, assisted by a hard-working president in Mr. John Fulton, Mr. Adam McLauchlan, and the ex-sec., Mr. James Fleming, etc., spared neither time or effort to make the show a success. Ex-sec. Fleming's daughter, introduced by Mr. R. G. Jolly, kindly handed the prizes to the winners. There was a fair attendance, and we hope the gate was a satisfactory one.

DEAL F.S.

Ninth Annual Show, held Oct. 29 and 30, in the Nelson Hall, Deal, was a grand success, brought about in great measure by the patronage of the Kent County C.H.S. Quality was excellent and competition very keen, many beautiful birds in both Norwich and Yorks. being staged. Messrs. Thompson and Lacy, the excellent hon. secretaries, were most indefatigable in their efforts for the comfort of the exhibits, and the convenience of the exhibitors and general public. A beautiful day added to the advantages under which the show was held. The members' silver challenge cup was won handsomely by Mr. F. Pilcher, with a really grand unlighted buff Norwich. The bird was the cynosure of the critics. Lovely in feather, with grand undercolour, rich in meal, good back, head, neck, and wings, a front rank bird in any competition. Novice cup went to Mr. T. Pink, with a very sweet unlighted yellow Yorks. No show could have been better managed, neither could more enthusiasm be shown by any committee. Mr. Geo. Gardiner judged, and had a tough task in sorting the winners in many of the classes.

The Critique.

NOR., CL. (9): 1, Olive, buff, grand body, head, and qual., short wings and tail; 2, Borman, yell., rich col., nice qual. and carr.; 3, vhc, Pilcher, buff, good shape, bit slack in feather, but nice; vhc, Olive; hc, Taylor; c, Roberts. TKD., ETC., YELL. (8): 1, Taylor, variegated, yell., rare type, rich col., a bold bonny bird; 2, Pilcher, very sweet, grizzled cap, lovely qual.; 3, Roberts, similar bird of grand qual.; 4, Taylor, rare shape and nice col., bit slack; vhc, Kew; hc, Pilcher; c, Borman. HEN (7): 1, Pilcher, tkd. buff, typical, rare qual.; 2, Pilcher, grizzled in tail, sweet feather; 3, Borman, buff, trifle flat in col., but beautiful feather and shape; 4, Taylor, yell., nice col., silky feather; vhc, Kew; hc, Brown; c, Taylor. UNFLIG. (8): 1, cup, Pilcher, glorious buff, true Norwich properties; 2, Pilcher, nice, but not the symmetry of leader; 3, Wickham, very smart Norwich, a hot lot these three; 4, Thompson, good again; vhc, Borman; hc, c, Taylor. YORKS. (6): 1, Johnson, yell., grand pose, whip and taper, nice length behind the leg, good qual.; 2, 4, Thompson, leader, very sweet buff, stands well up from the perch, good feather; 3, Austin, tkd. buff, perhaps a bit longer, but hardly the style of leaders; vhc, Johnson. UNFLIG. (13): 1, 4, hc, Johnson, really nice trio, winner, a yell., grand carr.; 2, 3, Austen, buffs, close as wax, well on the leg, rare taper; vhc, Rayner; c, Lockett. BORD. (8): 1, 4, Mrs. Aitken, winner a sweet little cl. buff, grand close feather, natty and jaunty; 2, 3, Wood, very pretty varieg. buff of nice carr.; 3, a dainty little cl., probably a hen; vhc, hc, Soames; c, Burton Bros. MULES (6): 1, Acland, very fine dark Greenie-Can.; 2, Dr. Mason, varieg. yell. Goldie-Can., good size; 3, 4, Mrs. Soames, dark buff Goldie-Can., good face; vhc, Thompson; hc, Eade; c, Brunger. GIFT (3): 1, Roe; 2, Pilcher; 3, Lacy. SELL., 15s. (4): 1, Taylor; 2, 3, Pilcher; 4, Thompson. 10s. (5): 1, Taylor; 2, 3, 4, Pileher; vhc, Thompson. GREENF., ETC. (10): 1, Rayner, sweet Goldie, nice bars, buttons, and condition; 2, 3, Wickham, topping leader Chaffie, great subs., rare tone of breast col., and distinct wing bars, wins easy; 2, Robertson, Bramble, good one, nice spangle, and fair depth of breast, staged in good order; 3, Rennie, Chaffie, good breast col., rather pinched in head, good texture, steady; 4, Henderson, Bramble, better size, nice mantle, fails mask, bit bare on eyes, perhaps a bit lucky; 5, 7, Bell; 6, Sykes. YELLOW BUNTING (7): 1, Stewart and Dalling, a big one, good V and cheek markings, nicely fed, in good order; 2, Rennie, scarcely size, hot col., more distinct, just beaten breast and size, presses, a good Bunting; 3, McGillivray Bros., another big one, scarcely so distinct in markings, nice tone, will improve; 4, similar, better markings, shade too dark in front, well staged; 5, Dunlop; 6, Fraser; 7, Bell. A.O. BRITISH, SMALL (7): 1, 2, Taylor, Grey Wag leading, often described, in A1 order, wins, pressed by 2nd, grand Redstart, good breast and face, steady, and staged to perfection; 3, Arnott, Blackstart, good size and col., slightly ruffled at neck, in good company, steady, we liked very much; 4, Bell, Yell. Wag., grand col., just a little coarse in feather, will improve, nice one; absent, 5, 6, 7, Robertson. LARGE (3): 1, Sykes, Chough, well-known winner, great sheen, and well rubied, rather fond of cage bottom, easy win; 2, Anderson, Waxwing, old warrior, rather bad in wing, might have given way to 3, Quin, Redwing, grand size, and excels eyes and flank, staged in good order. HEN BULLF. (10): 1, Gentleman, good size, rare back and dense cap, in A1 order, wins easy; 2, Roy, nice lady, just fails subs. to leader, equal in other points; 3, Jamieson, hardly so slaty in back, good expanse of cap, steady, some fancied; 4, McGregor, nice one, soft, bellows to mend; 5, Laurie; 6, Wilson; 7, Ogilvie. We noticed the judge discarded one for suspicious size. HEN A.O.V. (11): 1, Bruce, Blackstart, we thought lucky, rather rough, and tail damaged, nice col. and steady; 2, 5, Taylor, Corn Bunting, good size and nice breast work, steady, our choice; 3, Miller, another Corn Bunt., scarcely up to size or col. of former; 4, Gentleman, Bramble, nice spangle and sheen, well put down; 6, 7, Strachan, an interesting class. BRIT., SELL. (6): 1, Henderson; 2, Strachan; 3, Bell; 4, 6, McGillivray; 5, Millar. GOLDF. OR BULLF. FOR. (3): 1, McKigen, a graud one, good square blaze and tans, put down in good order, quickly claimed, a bargain; 2, A. W. Watson, scarcely up to size of leader, beaten blaze, steady, well shown; 3, Muir and Anderson; all Goldies. A.O. FOR. (5): 1, 2, 3, Arnott, leader Blue Sugar Bird, a gem of the first water, greatly admired, wins easy; 2, Fruitsucker, very interesting exhibit, in grand order, well staged; 3, pair Tanagers, a contrast indeed, Pride and Humility; 4, we failed to locate; 5, Bruce.

LEICESTER (Hand-in-Hand).

Fourteenth Annual Exhibition, held Nov. 1, 3, under the patronage of the N.B.B., and M.C., and CAGE BIRDS championship scheme in the spacious, lofty, well ventilated, and capitally lighted room (electricity by night) attached to the "White Swan Hotel." Situated in the heart of the town, it commends itself as a most suitable venue for a function of this kind. Entries were very fair: 385 in 40 classes, about 20 down on last year. Pres., Mr. W. A. Gibbons, Vice-Pres., Messrs. J. E. Wood, E. H. Hulse, and C. Walton, make up a quartette of enthusiastic workers, each putting forth strenuous efforts towards the welfare of their society. Mr. F. Peberdy acts as treasurer, and is the right man in the right place; committee consists of Messrs. W. Hale, W. Moores, J. Hayes, J. Wood, F. Gilbert, F. G. Green, E. Kilsby, F. Pole, J. Allen, J. Jolly, W. Neal, and G. H. Reeves. With such stalwarts as these to control none can wonder at the superb management that was in evidence throughout the entire show. The worthy sec., Mr. A. Freestone, is courteous to the highest degree, and always in the thick of the fight. Stewards who worked energetically and judiciously, attending promptly to their duties, were Messrs. V. Sarson, Lmndon, F. Pole, Burbridge, J. F. Green, and C. E. Sturgess; all deserved kind words being recorded of them.

Norwich, as usual, here were the feature of the show; a marvellous collection of "chubby ones." type was well to the fore with substance in plenty, with magnificent feather and high colonr; outstanding were the exhibits of Messrs. E. Fox, E. H. Hulse, W. Elliott, Walton, and Noakes, W. T. Judd, and the wonderful team put down by Mr. Hathaway, which gained six firsts, besides other mentions. Yorks were neat, Lancashires good. Mr. F. J. Green benching toppers, and Norwich novice classes provided many full worthy of competing successfully among the champions. British, although not over numerous, contained some glorious exhibits. Foreign were a nice lot. Members put down some "good 'uns," as usual.

Again we have to record a complete success in CAGE BIRDS Coupon Scheme. We were informed that the innovation has been gripped in a most hearty fashion by all the members. The number of birds entered for cash specials and diplomas proved the manner in which it has been accepted. The competition both in champions and novices alike, was one exceedingly warm. The battles were fierce and furious. The "Napoleon" amongst the champions was a gem of a cl. yell. Norwich, owned by Mr. W. Neal, which took the 10s. special and diploma. Runner up was Mr. F. J. Green with a very fine Lanc. P.H. The 10s. special and diploma for novices fell into the hands of Mr. B. Lewis, a most enchanting cl. buff Nor. hen doing the needful. Other diplomas went as follows:—Champ. Yorks., T. Harriman; Lancs., F. J. Green; A.O.V., C. E. Farrow; Hybrid, J. Wood; Softbill, A. Martin. Sandifords was won by Mr. T. Holder with a yell. Nor., hot enough almost to fire his happy home. Hyde's went to a grand Lanc., coppy, the property of F. J. Green. The North cup, Mr. W. Neal landed with his charming yell. wing mkd. Nor ck. Young bird cup, Mr. E. H. Hulse. Best shown in open by a member, went to W. Neal (the North Cup winner). Novices, Mr. C. B. Day. Runner up for Young Bird Cup, Mr. C. E. Sturgess.

At one end of the room five choice and valuable silver cups, nestled on a table, the Inter Society cup, won by Coventry four years in succession; the North Cup, Young Bird Cup, British Most Points Cup, and the Nor. P.H. Challenge Cup. Judges were Messrs. J. Robson, Canaries; and R. J. Howe, British.

The Critique.

NOR. NAT. COL. PERTH.

The City and County of Perth O.S. held its annual show in the Co-operative Hall, Canal Street, on Oct. 25. The hall is a capital place for the purpose, having splendid light from both ends, and the exhibits were staged round the walls, leaving the centre free for visitors, and there was a fair attendance during the afternoon. Entries were about 40 up on last year, and quality was of the very best, a goodly number of the City of Glasgow winners being forward in all the sections, and competition in many classes was very keen. Crests were poor in numbers, averaging less than six per class, and do not give the society much encouragement to persevere with them. Norwich were not much better in number, the average being eight per class. Borders were better, averaging about 11, but the society have themselves to blame for this, not being even better, as fanciers will not show under such a classification as cl. tick or var. hen; while unflighted classes do not seem to be wanted by the Border men. If this were put right, we fancy such a centre as Perth could not fail to draw a better entry. A.O.V. had 15 entries and was a good class, while the Hybrid or Light Mule class brought out the best entry we have seen at Perth for many years, and some grand birds were forward, while Dk. Mules had also a good entry, 27 in two classes, and some capital birds were forward, notably Mr. Roy's team. Mr. Roy secured Inch's Cup with his noted winning Goldie Mule, and Sir John A. Dewar's cup and gold medal, with his young Linnet Mule, a very promising bird, 3rd in open. Mr. Cranna won Dewar silver medal with a nice Goldfinch. British had a fair entry, and some capital classes, averaging full 8, lower than usual here, but the quality was grand all over. Mr. R. F. Duncan secured Hyde's special with a nice clear body D.C. CAGE BIRDS Coupon Scheme seems to be getting a good hold on exhibitors in the North, and there was great interest shown in the competition here. The 10s. cash special and diploma for champion Coupon bird was won by Mr. Roy with his noted winning Goldie Mule, and the novice 10s. cash special by Mr. Crawford, Perth, with his 2nd prize unflighted Buff Norwich cock. The management is a good one, headed by Pres., Mr. Forrest; vice, Mr. Duncan; treas., Mr. Blyth; and sec., Mr. J. L. Smith, with a good committee, while the stewards, Messrs. Todd, Borrie, Carstairs, Blyth, and Crawford had a lot to do with the success of the show, and we noticed our old friend Mr. John Adams, Dundee, as usual working like a hatter to get things ready for the judges: Messrs. Sandison, Crests and Norwich; Craig, Borders; and Watson, Mules, British, and For., and their awards seemed to give general satisfaction.

Mr. Sandison's Classes.

CREST CK. OXFORD F.S.

Annual show held in the Corn Exchange, Oct. 30. Although the entry was not quite so good as usual owing no doubt to so many shows being held on the same date, and a cage bird show being held recently in Oxford, quality was exceedingly good. Special for best bird was won by Mr. Holliday with his Blue Macaw, a most beautiful specimen; ch. cup for best unflighted bred by exhibitor, was won by Mr. Lewin, with a good yell. Nor.: and ch. cup for best members' Can., Brit. or Hyb., not being the winner of No. 1 cup, was won by Mr. W. White with his grand Bullie-Greenfinch. Mr. A. H. Calcutt, sec., and Mr. W. F. Cross, chairman and treas., ably assisted by Mr. Holliday, the sec. of the C.B.S., and Mrs. Holliday, saw that everything passed off smoothly. Messrs. White, Lees, Lewin, and Gough acted efficiently as stewards. Mr. G. H. Billett judged.

The Critique.

NOR. YEL. (7): 1, Hall, bouny bird, very even and good col.; 2, 3, members' sp, vhc, Lewin, two rare good qual. birds, close up; 4, Williamson and Moss; hc, Lees. BUFF: Cancelled. UNFLIG. SELL. 20s.: Canc. 12s. 6d. (5): 1, Lees; 2, 4, Holliday; 3, Oliffe. Holliday won the points prize.

GLOUCESTER COUNTY F.S.

First annual show Oct. 29-30, in the Corn Exchange, Southgate Street, an ideal building for the purpose. A good and painstaking committee and an excellent schedule deserved better support. Fancy Gloucester and Bristol, Cheltenham and other towns in the county, making a total entry of 10 birds in 5 classes! It is disgraceful, and very disheartening to societies to cater for fanciers who will not exhibit. Now Cheltenham, Gloucester, and Bristol, throw a little enthusiasm into the matter, otherwise don't blame committees for curtailing their classification next year. The promoters of these shows, principally working men, have very frequently to make a personal sacrifice to meet deficits. Mr. T. J. King judged.

The Critique.

CL. YELL. NOR.: 3, Houghton, good bird, but not yet ready, therefore given a 3rd. BUFF: 1, Houghton, good shape and col. SOFT (1): 1, Elston, lovely steady Redwing, will take beating. The show was well managed by a competent committee, and the birds were well cared for.

BORDER CITY

(Carlisle) C.B.S.

Fifth annual show held Oct. 29 and 30, in the King's Hall. The classes totalled the same as last year, but the classification had been rearranged, with the result that the entries were considerably more. Border Fancies, as usual, were the strongest section, averaging 17 per class. Yorks. also were well up in numbers. This section provided the winner of the silver cup for best bird in show, a grand buff hen shown by Mr. P. Mason, Norwich were forward in strong force and competition keen. Some of the best known Mules in the Fancy were present, and the British were an excellent lot, headed by a class of 20 Goldfinches, the best we have seen this season. Some grand Foreigners also were on view. Mr. J. C. Bell was the secretary, Mr. T. J. Robson show manager, and committee, Messrs. G. Higgins, chairman; G. Davidson, Treas.; Jas. Robson, R. Thomlinson, T. J. Robson, R. Macartney, J. Robson, junr., F. Bell, T. Johnston, and H. C. Palfrey. Major S. C. Ferguson, Mayor of Carlisle, visited the show on the opening day, and appeared to be greatly interested in the birds. He exhibited a very handsome cinnamon coloured Song Thrush, which was awarded 2nd prize. The judges were, Mr. J. Robson (Canaries), and J. Maddison, the remainder.

EDINBURGH O.S.

Sixty-sixth annual show held in conjunction with the Edinburgh Western Society in Grindley Street Halls, Oct. 25. This society is principally confined to breeders of the 'Bird o' Circle,' and this year's fixture was quite up to previous exhibitions both in regard to entries and quality. The Bull cock belonging to Mr. John Dalgleish secured cup for best Scotch Fancy, also special for best bird in hall. In the Variety Section Mr. W. Allan, of Scotch Fancy fame, staged two lovely Goldie Bullies—a new sphere for this gentleman. They were both of good size and shown in grand trim, and with another week or two should do well for their owner. The show was a decided success, the working was in the hands of the following officials:—Pres., Mr. Wm. Allan; vice-pres., Mr. J. Wilson; sec., Mr. Alex. Weston; committee, Messrs. W. Carson, J. Dalgleish, A. Paterson, and W. Wilson.

DERWENT VALLEY.

Seventh annual show, held Oct. 25. For the last four or five years this society has been holding an open show, thanks to the aid of the popular prize drawing, which means so much to many of the smaller societies. The prohibition of the prize draws, however, which alone means a loss of nine or ten pounds (a serious thing for a small society with only 13 or 14 members), caused the committee to think twice before venturing an open show again this year, and it was finally decided to hold a members' show only, and wait until they had a few pounds in hand before venturing into the open again. The show was again held in the Church Hall, Hamsterley, a really nice place for the purpose. The hon. sec., Mr. E. Jameson, had everything in grand order, and evidently thoroughly understands his work, and although this was his first attempt, the whole show passed off without the slightest hitch, and we hope that in the hands of this courteous and obliging sec. the affairs of the society will again turn into a prosperous channel. He is ably assisted in his work by the assist. sec. and treasurer, Mr. Johnson, who got through a great amount of work to the satisfaction of everybody. The chairman is that fine old fancier, Mr. Geo. Barkass, whose courteous and kindly manner makes him popular with everyone, and to whom a good show acts like a tonic, while equally keen is the genial vice-chairman, Mr. M. U. Gardiner. They are well backed up by a grand body of fanciers, Messrs. W. Curry, T. Betton, G. Barkass, junr., W. Tomlinson, W. Marsh, R. Nicholson, G. Charlton, E. Carlill, M. Simpson, W. Routledge, and J. Lindsay, who all do their best for the good of the society. Special prize winners were —most points Canaries, Mr. G. Barkass, in British Mr. Jameson, and Foreign Mr. Johnson. Other specials were won by Messrs. W. Curry, T. Betton, G. Charlton, W. Routledge, W. Marsh, M. U. Gardiner, W. Tomlinson, E. Carlill, R. Nicholson and T. Lewis. Mr. W. Reid (Sunderland) judged.

BERWICK C.C.

Semi-jubilee show, held Oct. 25, in the King's Arms Assembly Rooms, an ideal hall for the occasion. Entries were better than last year, and quality was all there. Mr. Purvis took Challenge Cup for best bird with a typical buff Bord. hen, that also took the B.F.C.C. Medal. Mr. Grey again accounted for Brit. and For. Cup. Mr. Hay took Sandiford's medal. The secretarial duties fell upon Mr. A. Hay, and everything was carried out in tip-top order. Messrs. Patterson and Dixon judged.

GREAT HORTON (Good Intent).

Novices to the Rescue.

This society held its annual exhibition in the Congregational Schools, Nov. 1. Entries totalled 312 in 22 classes, not so many as we should like to see. It was, as usual, the novices who pulled them through, with no less than 160 in 10 classes. Quality was quite up to the standard, many noted winners being in competition. Of the champion classes No. 1 was the best with 19 entries, a very good class. In novice classes the hen classes were a long way the best, 47 were in two classes, 23 yellows and 24 buffs.

The outstanding feature of this show was the management. The way in which the work was done reflects great credit upon the workers; seeing that they could not get the room before 9 o'clock on the Friday night, and that they had all the station birds to fetch, they must have had a very hard time of it. Pres. Mr. Kaberry was amongst the workers; Mr. A. Brown, sec., got through his duties in a very able manner, and he was exceedingly well assisted by Mr. H. Gornall, assistant sec. The stewards were Messrs. Bartle, Pedder, Holden, Ackroyd, Oldfield and Worsnop. All the prize money was paid at the show to those who attended; this is a very good idea, as it induces exhibitors to come to the show, when they can see their birds are properly packed in their own cases. The way the packing of birds and sending off to the stations were got through was really marvellous; every bird was got away before 8.30. Mr. F. Allen judged, and his awards met with general approval.

LEAMINGTON SPA.

Tenth annual exhibition held Oct. 30, in the Winter Halls. Cage birds had one end of the large hall to themselves and made a very attractive display; it was a great pity the fixture was not better supported by the cage bird men, but no doubt so many shows being on during the week had a bad effect. The first three Nor. classes had to be cancelled, and the two Yorks. classes amalgamated, as also the two classes for Mules and the two British, hard and soft-billed, having, therefore, to compete together. Although the entry was small, the show was, no doubt, a financial success, as the hall was packed. Mr. G. Lawrance, Coventry, judged, and his awards gave general satisfaction.

PARTICK.

Fifteenth annual show held Nov. 1 in the Subway Halls, a very suitable place for the purpose—abundance of light and entirely free from draughts. Birds were finely staged all round the four sides, having plenty of room for visitors. Mr. Priest as a very capable and obliging official, and had all arrangements in good order. He was ably assisted by Pres. T. Fraser, Vice-Pres. J. F. Park, Treas. J. McMillan, and a strong committee comprising Messrs. Sinclair, Muir, Walker, Maxwell, Anderson, Webster, Henry, and Steel, who one and all worked with a will. Entries confined to members were much about the same as last year—250. The nine open classes for Yorks only brought an entry of 60—not very encouraging considering full prize money was guaranteed. Although lacking in numbers, quality was all there. Mr. R. Heggie had a fair field day, gaining five firsts. Members' classes contained some very nice specimens capable of winning in open competition. Cup for best young bird was won by Mr. J. McMillan with a very fine variog. Crested cock of outstanding merit; cup for best young Plainhead, Mr. A. Maxwell with a grand typical cl. yell. cock; best novice, T. Fraser, with a grizzled mkd. Buff Plainhead of extra good quality; best British, P. Henry; best foreign, D. Webster. Visitors turned out well, and we hope to hear of a financial success. The judges were:—Yorks, Mr. T. Penman; Nor. and Bord., Mr. A. Sloan; Brit. and For., Mr. J. H. Adam; and their awards appeared to give general satisfaction.

GRANTHAM.

Third annual members' show held Oct. 25, in the Co-Op. Hall, a large and cosy room, just right for the occasion, being well lighted and fitted with up-to-date heating apparatus. There was a record entry, just over 100 birds being staged. Mr. W. E. Allen judged, and every satisfaction was given. The show was managed by Messrs. H. Lowther, sec., and E. Bond, treas., assisted by a hard-working committee. The stewards were Messrs. W. E. Bond, sen., and A. Geeson. Amongst the visitors was the president, H. G. Snowdon, Esq. After such a show as this, we may well look forward to a good open annual.

BRECHIN.

Good Entry for Jubilee Show.

This old-established society held their Jubilee Show of cage birds in the Temperance Hall, Brechin, Nov. 1. There was a good entry, slightly up on last year. Norwich were not quite so numerous as formerly, but quality was of the very best. Some of the most consistent winners in Scotland were on exhibition, and in nearly every instance kept their position. Mr. Smeaton (Musselburgh) won S.F.C. medal for best hen, and cup for best Norwich, with his grand non-fed hen. This bird also won the same cup in 1912. Mr. Allison (Aberdeen) won S.F.C. medal for cocks, and Sandilord's medal was won by Mr. Hampton's hen. Borders were a grand show, and here the team shown by Mr. John Craig almost cleared the decks, winning B.F.C.C. medal and cup for best Border with a dandy yellow cock, shown for the first time this season. The great bulk of the entries in this section were from the district, and generally were of very high quality. In the Mule, Hybrid, British and Foreign sections entries were slightly down from last year, while the quality was rather poor. We expected to see a record show considering the host of good specials offered, this being Jubilee year. Perhaps an extended classification would bring increased entries. Mr. Fyfe won medal for best in section with a nice young Goldf.-Bullf. Hybrid.

CAGE BIRDS Coupon scheme created a lot of interest here, and there was a very good entry for the diplomas and specials. We fancy when the simplicity of this competition is realised by Scotch fanciers there will be even a better entry, good as it now is. The cash prizes were won by Mr. Maxwell (Glasgow) for champions, and novice by Mr. A. Brand (Brechin), a young fancier. Diploma winners were:—Champ. Bord., Craig; Nor., Maxwell; Brit., Fyfe (Forfar); Nov. Bord., Robertson (Brechin); Nor., Brand. There was some dissatisfaction at the action of certain exhibitors who were winning in selling classes buying their own birds. While the society were in no way to blame in the matter, a short rule inserted in prize list would help to stop a practice which is not by any means confined to Brechin.

The executive is a splendid band of workers, and the Pres., Mr. George Davidson, is a glutton for work, and had a lot to do with the success of the show; he was ably backed up by a grand committee, not forgetting our old friend John Craig, vice-pres., and the stewards, Mr. Burnett, Mr. Irvine, and Mr. Weston; while Sec. Mr. Mitchell had all his arrangements in a forward state, and everything went on like clockwork. Judges were:—Nor., Mr. Thomson (Aberdeen); Bord., Mr. Hislop (Stirling); Mules and Brit., Mr. Finnie (Aberdeen); and the awards gave general satisfaction.

Causes roars of laughter. Sold in neat perfume bottles, 1/- (sample 7d.). Suffragette Stink Bombs, size of a bee, but stronger than an elephant; try one at your next party; will soon cause loud cries of eau de Cologne, production of handkerchiefs to the noses, etc. Three large boxes, 7d., with instructions. Electric Fleas. Blow or place a few on your friends, will soon cause them to scratch away and be unable to keep still; three boxes, 7d. Mysterious Voice: Place it on a chair when anyone is going to sit down, or place it in a cushion, and watch your friends jump, or can be carried in the pocket; on pressing it will give way a funny voice; Price only 7d. for 2. Large catalogue of Jokes, etc. (nearly 200 illustrations), 1d. All lots mentioned above, value 3/-, for only 2/6. Everything post free. —YOUNG, 5, Misterton, Somerset. (992)

The Mystic Skeleton.—Latest mystifying conjuring trick; anyone can do it, no skill required. A jointed figure of a skeleton, 14in. in height, will dance to music, lie down, and perform various gymnations and movements, while the operator may be at any distance from it. May be examined by the spectators, and when handed back the operator simply puts it on a chair or table, when it seemingly becomes endowed with life and begins to move at the command of the operator, who may be in any part of the room. It is similar to the wonderful skeleton used by Prof. Pepper for public exhibitions, parlour and social gatherings, schools, etc. Never fails to create a sensation; lasts for years. Price 7d., three for 1/1, with full directions. Send for one to-day, and astonish your friends and the public. Large number of testimonials received. Mr. H. C., near Truro, writes: "The Mystic Skeletons" are very satisfactory, and cause great amusement." It is posted free, from F. Young, 5, Misterton, Somerset. (994)

PREPAID ADVERTISEMENTS

UNDISPLAYED.—6d. for the first eighteen words. One Halfpenny per Word for each word over eighteen. Name and address to be reckoned. MINIMUM, 18 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and, after the first Eighteen words, are charged at two words a penny, but no single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Small prepaid advertisements of a general nature and not connected in any way with the Cage Bird Trade are inserted at the rate of ½d. per word throughout. Minimum 12 words 6d.

Advt. Manager, "Cage Birds"

ALWAYS USE OUR DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit system should be insisted upon

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient, plus the extra postage incurred, has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller, stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expirration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

ANOTHER RECORD

During last season I sold nearly 800 pairs of clap-nets; all were sent on approval on the distinct understanding that if they were in the slightest degree unsatisfactory I would immediately refund the whole of the purchasers' money. Despite this fact, not one pair were returned, nor was one single complaint received, but on the other hand, I received (and published) more testimonials than all other advertisers put together. This fact alone should prove to you who is the right man to supply really serviceable catching appliances. Clap-nets made from superfine thread netting, ¾-inch mesh, 3 yards long, 4/- pair; 4 yards, 5/-; 5 yards, 6/-; 6 yards, 7/-; 7 yards, 8/-; 8 yards, 9/-; 9 yards, 10/-; 10 yards, 11/- per pair. All guaranteed 5½ feet deep and 4 feet fly. These clap-nets consist of two nets to the pair, and each net is guaranteed exact measurement as above. Price includes all pegs, poles, and lines, ready for immediate use, and are guaranteed the only nets on the market that are properly armed or reinforced all round. Loose netting, as used in above nets, made specially for bird catching, 7 feet deep, ¾-inch mesh, 3d. yard; ditto, 9 feet deep, 4d. yard; ditto, 12 feet deep, 5d. yard; all post free. The Art of Rearing Prizewinners.

Can you name the prize points of any type of Canary? Do you know how to breed winning strains? To be able to sell your surplus birds for pounds instead of shillings? An artistic 20-page Brochure has been specially prepared for CAGE BIRDS readers, regarding these matters and other details of great interest to fanciers. It is a gift to you, and you are entitled to it free of charge.

In this booklet will be explained an easy method by which, for the small payment of 1s., you can be the immediate possessor of a magnificent volume, entitled "Our Canaries." It weighs 5lbs., and contains 133 illustrations and 33 coloured plates. The balance is payable at the rate of about 1d. a day for a few months. This slight cost is not, of course, an expenditure at all, because the facts you will be put in possession of when you have read this wonderful manual on Canaries will pay for its cost many times over.

WANTED A TRIAL

We are confident our medicines will give you satisfaction. We guarantee to return every penny paid if they fail to do as we advertise. Ditchfield's medicines have been used for over five years by most leading fancies, and are supplied to the London Zoological Society. We have hundreds of testimonials, testifying to the value of our bird medicines. Mr. Clark, of Port Bannatyne, writes: "Have used most medicines advertised, but have never had anything to equal yours, and have been a breeder for 30 years." J. Duncan, West Brae, writes: "Have used your special Lung Tonic, also your Tonic Drops, for over two years, and they have never failed to cure." A. Sammons, Southend-on-Sea: "You have got a genuine remedy which no fancier should be without." Major B. Horsbrough: "Your medicine is magnificent stuff." Our medicines are perfectly safe, and can be fully relied upon. All medicines are sent per return of post; any bottles broken in transit replaced. Ditchfield's Tonic Drops are a Guaranteed cure for soft moult, not singing, going light, dulness, feather plucking, diarrhoea, and inflammation of the bowels. In 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. For bronchitis, wheezing, loss of voice, and hoarseness, get Ditchfield's Special Lung Tonic, also in 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. The grandest chest and lung tonic ever introduced for cage birds. To advertise our medicines we will send a 7d. bottle of each of the above medicines for 1/-, or two 1/1 bottles for 1/9. For cases of constitutional weakness and debility get Ditchfield's famous Revivo. There is nothing to equal it for giving new life and vigour to the bird. As a pick-me-up for birds before and after showing this tonic is absolutely unequalled. Sold in 7d. and 1/1 bottles. All medicines post paid per return. Two valuable seed recipes how to feed Linnets and Rollers for song, given free to all purchasers of our medicines: Frank Ditchfield, Bird Specialist, Oldham. (979)

GOLDFINCHES, SISKINS, LINNETS, ETC.

We are patronised, and have been for 40 years, by every leading Crystal Palace judge and exhibitor, so our reputation stands second to none. We give above reward if it can be proved we send out unhealthy birds or hens for cocks. Editor of this journal has seen scores of original testimonials for birds we have supplied, which have bred hundreds of winning Mules. So if you intend buying British birds, buy from us, who have hundreds each week to pick from. We don't send out birds straight from the field; all are well on seed; guaranteed. Real English 1913 cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/- each, three 4/-, six 7/-, twelve 12/-; hens, 8d. and 10d.; extra picked, for muling, 2/6, 3/- each, three 5/-, six 8/6; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-; hens, 10d. and 1/-; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d. and 1/-; cock Siskins, 2/-, 2/6, 3/-; hens, 1/- and 1/6; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d., 1/- each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; Greenfinches, 6d. each, three 1/3; cages for any of above, from 6d., 9d., 1/-, 1/3, 1/6, and 2/-. Seed grinding mills, 1/6. Send for catalogue of everything. Established 50 years: Sandiford, Bird Specialist and Judge, Preston, Lancs.; also 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London.

REAL SIBERIAN GOLDFINCHES, BULLFINCHES, SISKINS

These are the proper ones, not the Russian, as offered by many, as Siberians. I get the pick of the only lot that comes to England. Some beauties. Full scarlet coloured blazes, in the pink of health. Have sold scores of 1st prize-winners this last 10 years. Price 5/- 6/-, 7/6; sensational winners 8/6, 10/-; approval. Large Siberian cock Bullfinches, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6 each; large Siberian hen Bullfinches for Muling, as big as Thrushes, 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/- each; any on approval. Hundreds of testimonials, where I have supplied scores of winners, including Scottish National, Crystal Palace, etc. For proof, write Editor of this journal, who has seen the originals. "Mr. J. Ovenstone, Grangemouth. Sir,—You will be pleased to hear Siberian you sent me won two firsts and second Scottish National last New Year's day." Show cages, 2/-. Send for catalogue. Estab. 50 years: Sandiford, Bird Specialist and Judge, Preston, also 89 Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London.

C. PRIOR

having in hand a collection of field-moulted British seedeaters, far in excess of his own needs, invites everyone wishing to acquire really good and well chosen specimens to state their wants to him, enclosing stamp for reply. The show reports and his own postbag amply prove that his former collections have provided winners, now innumerable, ranging from the leading classic events down to small local shows. The present collection will be equally prolific, and is at the moment exceptionally strong in Goldfinches, Siskins, Lesser Redpolls, Linnets, and Chaffinches. All exhibitors, from wise old hands, wishing to strengthen existing teams, to beginners anxious to make a good start, should take the hint: Hill Farm, Ropley, Hants. (1020)

AN EYEOPENER

for you.—Up to present moment not one real Siberian Goldfinch has been imported to England this season. The genuine birds reach me at end of November, and I am now booking orders for them. Price of genuine Siberian cock Goldfinches, 5/- each, seven for 28/-; picked birds, for muling and minor shows, 7/6 each, and 10/6 each for those fit to win in keenest competition. Please note.—These birds come all the way from Siberia in separate compartment wicker cages; they are clean and spick and span on arrival, and steady enough for immediate exhibition. The Russian Goldfinches now being sold are imported in boxes, and are not nearly so big as Siberians. If you want the Simon pure, let me book your order right now. (1002)

I AM SUPPLYING WINNERS EVERY WEEK

at all the leading shows in Great Britain. I am receiving repeat orders daily from satisfied customers, and have received as many testimonials in three weeks as would fill this column. If you want value for money, give me a trial order. You will not regret it, as I have one of the largest and best stocks of birds in England. Bear in mind, mine is not a small backyard with a few Linnets in it, and I don't claim the childish title of bird champion, but I claim to have the only bird-rooms and aviaries, and the only stock of birds worth a visit in the city. Buy good birds. Yellow cock Siskins, real giants, with good broad caps and bibs, well laced at thighs, sure winners, 3/6, 4/6, and one extra good, fit for the Palace, 7/6; a few that can win at small shows, 2/6 each, every one guaranteed with caps and bibs; others good healthy cocks, 18/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, full colour, 2/-, 2/6 each; a few that can win, with good deep square cut blazes, nicely tanned, well buttoned, can be shown at once, 4/6, 5/6, and one of the best I have ever seen, 7/6; also a monster cock Bullfinch, large skull and cap, very rich colour, can win anywhere, 7/6; and an extraordinary large cock Linnet, showing plenty of white, well pencilled, Norwich type, can win all before him, only 3/6; and one of the best Redpolls ever put in a show cage, with large cap and bib, extra well pencilled, a real gem, 2/6; cock Goldfinch Mules, on full song, 5/6, 6/6 each; Linnet Mules, on full Linnet song, 7/6; genuine Siberian cock Goldfinch, biggest ever seen in England, 5/6, 6/6, 7/6 each; Siberian hen Bullfinches, real giants, feathered like wax, only 4/6, 5/6, 6/6 each; two aviary moulted hens, 10/6 each; Roller Canaries, full song, 6/6, 7/6 each; grand singing cock Linnets, on full song, 1/-, 1/6 each; other good cocks, 3/6 dozen; all on approval with pleasure; cash or deposit: John Day, The Aviaries, Porter-st., Hull. MOST OF YOU have had a little experience of sending for birds by post. May I ask: Has the result always been to your satisfaction? Haven't you felt just a little disappointed when you found that the stock which you expected was going to "flock creation" was only just the ordinary after all? By dealing with me you avoid all this. I guarantee everything I sell to be accurately described and exactly as represented in my advt., so that by sending to me you know exactly what to expect. Moreover, I send everything on approval (as per "Cage Birds" rules) on the distinct understanding that unless you are perfectly satisfied you have only to return birds and the whole of your money is promptly and cheerfully refunded. I have on hand a splendid lot of genuine Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, in perfect health and feather all warranted clean moulted, in full colour and superb condition, 2s. each, three 5/-, six 8/6, twelve 16/-; grand lot of selected steady cocks, all separately caged and in free song 3/ each, three 7/6; few real exhibition birds, with full complement of show points, 4- and 5/- each; hen Goldfinches 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/6. Handsome lot cock Siskins, in full colour, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 9/6, twelve 16/-; selected birds, 3/-, three 7/6; exhibition specimens 4/- and 5/- each; hen Siskins, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/-, twelve 7/-. Grand lot cock Brown Linnets, in superb condition, 9d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/6; selected steady cocks, guaranteed in song, 1/- each, three 2/-, six 3/6, twelve 6/-; exhibition specimens 2/6 each. Cock Greenfinches 6d each, three 1/-; exhibition yellows, 2/6 each. Cock Chaffinches 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-. Cock Bramblefinches 1/- each, three 2/-; cock Twites 1/- each, three 2/-; cock or hen Redpolls 6d. each, three 1/3; magnificent stock cock Larks, all big bold birds and real cocks, 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; selected steady cocks, guaranteed in song, 1/6, 2/- and 2/6 each; cock Bullfinches, 2/- and 3/- each, hens 1/- and 1/6 each; special travelling cages, 3d. per three birds extra. Exhibitors please note: I do not tell you a lot of rot about "massive giants," and "best in world," etc.; sufficient for me to say is that what I call an exhibition bird is a bird good enough to win first prizes. I know what is wanted, and I know that you know that also. I probably handle more English hardbills than any other three men, and out of them get a few tip-toppers weekly, and as I do not exhibit birds, all are for sale. Every bird I sell is guaranteed properly netted by expert catchers working solely for myself. I get the whole catches, and do not buy from any man that advertises: W. Gore, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (1024)

GENTLEMEN, READ THIS

Facts speak louder than bluff. Field-moulted birds are at a disadvantage with house-moulted birds, yet I can prove that my birds have more than held their own. Mr. Taylor, of Newcastle, won at Newcastle, Gateshead, Sunderland, Doncaster, 2nd Hull, Blaydon, etc. Mr. Snaip, 2nd at Sheffield; Mr. Harrison, 3rd at Altercliffe; Mr. Carr, 1st at Chopwell, 2nd Leeds, 2nd Newcastle, 2nd Carlisle; Mr. Potter, 1st at Hull; Mr. Mitchel, vhe at Penrhelcher; Mr. Thomas, 1st and 4th at Cummock; Mr. Laing, 3rd and 5th at Leslie; Mr. Craven, 2nd at Pockington; Mr. Barras, 4th South Shields, in fact, I could fill a page of winners. The reason of my success is because I know what is wanted. I have many trying to follow, but they have a long way to go yet. I have the oldest established shop in Hull, and have more birds than all other dealers in this town put together. My birds are a credit to anyone. Look, real giant yellow cock Siskins, grand caps and bibs, well laced, steady as rocks, 3/6, 4/6, 5/6 each, and one of the best living, 6/6; also 200 giants, in full song, at 2/-, and 2/6 each; real giant Peartree cock Goldfinches, real gems, beautiful square cut blaze, broad heads, 4/6, 5/6 each, and a grand lot of mulers, at 2/6, 3/- each; giant house-moulted Corn Bunting, can win anywhere, 15/6; House-moulted Chaffinch, one of the best, 7/6; Siberian cock Goldfinches, the largest in England, 4/-, 4/6, 5/6 each. I can now supply last year's customers, with sticks of 7; write at once, specials, and not 2 to pick from. Now, gather round, and listen. I am the only dealer in Hull who understands the Linnet song, so if you want a good bird learnt under the Champion of England, you must send to me (see Nutshell Series, No. 2); cock Linnets, singing day and gaslight, a treat to hear, 1/6, 2/-, and a few toppers, 2/6; contest cage, 1/- extra. Now, exhibitors, I have the largest Linnets in England; real Norwich type, well pencilled, and magnificent deep, rich colour (you must have colour to win), only 2/- and 2/6; try one, you will not regret it. If I can't send you a winner, no one else can. Cock Larks, singing day and gaslight, 1/6 and 2/- each; cock Thrush, a beauty, 3/6; giant cock Greenfinch, a gem, 1/6; gem Redpoll, can win, 1/6; Ubal Rollers, 8/6; Seifert Rollers, 7/6; St. Andrcasberg Rollers, 6/6, guaranteed free from clicks, nasty shouts, etc., the sweetest songster in England, har none. I guarantee all birds same as described; moreover, I send them ou seven days' approval, for cash or deposit with Editor. Just read these, please, all arrived together. "Sir,—Birds arrived safe, and give every satisfaction. Send Siskin, etc.—Mr. Moore, Stonebroom, nr. Alfreton." "Sir,—Birds arrived safe, and immediately started singing. He is a sweet little treasure.—Mr. Johnson, Ruardeau Hill, nr. Drybrook." "Sir,—Siskin arrived safe. He is a picture. Thanking you for such a good one.—Mr. Colville, Earlseat Mines Cottage, Thoruton." "Sir,—Birds give every satisfaction. Send following, etc.—Mr. Campbell, Aurn Cottage, Row." "Sir,—Birds arrived safe. Am highly satisfied.—Mr. Pegg, 59, Furness-st., West Hartlepool." "Sir,—Send another Linnet for a friend. My two are gems.—Mr. Alison, Main-st., Wemyss." I have testimonials like these arriving every post. Note the address. Thanking you all for patronage: Fred Allen, British Bird Champion, 156, Porter-st. Aviaries, Hull. The Hull Corporation have placed another order with me for Picker, ing, Pearson, and East Parks. (1023)

Important to Norwich Plainhead Breeders.

There can be little doubt but that at the present moment I possess the finest stock of this variety for sale in Europe, for independent of my own large collection, I bought the surplus of three large breeders and private exhibitors (I mean by private, fanciers who exhibit as sportsmen, not for "pot hunting" and advertisement). Amongst the birds are several winners that will be sold at reasonable prices. I do not mean the so-called winners continually advertised by certain classes at a few shillings (that cheap talk is an insult to the intelligence of any sane person; but I will select and match some of the best stock pairs ever seen (so far as value goes) at 21/-, 30/-, and 40/- per pair. Odd Cocks or Hens, same quality, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-. Make a comparison of these with some of the "Stereotyped Bargains." Others as follows:—5/0, 6/6, 8/6 upwards; hens, 2/3, 2/6, 3/6; pairs, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/0, 15/-, 20/-; cages, 3d. On approval. Easiest of easy payments by joining my Bird Club. Distance no object.

THE most up-to-date manual on this popular breed is "Norwich Canaries: How to Breed, Manage, and Exhibit," by C. A. House. It contains a beautiful coloured plate, and many black and white illustrations. In it will be found fullest hints and instructions on all the various points which go to make up a champion Norwich. It deals in a most practical manner with all the various stages of the life of a Norwich from the egg to the show bench, explains fully how to pair up the stock birds, how to feed the young, the art of colour feeding, and the way to wash and prepare birds for show. Do not be without it, post free 1/1½, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Advt. Manager, "Cage Birds"

PURE SEIFERT ROLLERS.

I have now a splendid selection of these marvellous songsters, in full rolling song, with many changes, including the beautiful hollow-roll, hollow bell, water-roll, shockel and Glucke tours, prices 8/0, 10/-, 12/6, 15/- each. Schoolmasters, specially trained for contest singing, 17/6, 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/- each. Hens, guaranteed same pure strain, 2/0, 3/0, 4/-, 5/- each. Every bird sent on 10 days' approval at my sole risk. Travelling cages, 3d. extra. JOE THOMAS, Breeder, Exhibitor, and Exporter, Ambler Thorn, Halifax, Yorks. Over 35 years same address.

TWO high class Rollers, grand stock birds, bred by Arthur Chilcott; B.R.C.C. ring, 1911; cost 25/- each, accept 15/- each; another, Randall's direct, accept 12/6, perfect health and condition; approval, deposit. Aber Gill, 50, Castle-st., Skipton. (1001)

CHILLCOTT and Randall's strain, Seifert Rollers for sale, B.R.C.C. ring; cocks, 10/-, 12/6, 15/- each; hens, same strain, 4/- and 5/- each; two Schoolmasters, 1913, 17/6 each: Charles H. Smith, 205, Boulevard, Hull. Exhibitor and breeder for twenty years. (1016)

I HAVE nine more trained Rollers to spare, all tutored under cock, contest winner, best blood obtainable; prices, 10/-, 12/6, and 15/- each; also good Schoolmaster, 25/-; exchange woollen blankets, boys' suits, Dutch rabbits; approval; Percy Taylor, 71, Thursby-rd., Burnley. (1019)

I HAVE some of the best Rollers in England bar none; real contest singing birds; no steam whistles, but birds it is a pleasure to hear, with the full piccolo trills and jug-jug of the Nightingale; send 7/6 for a full week's approval and be delighted: Hedford, 159, Mary-st., Balsall Heath, Birmingham.

NOTICE.—Andreasberg Roller Canaries, also Bohemian and Hartz Mountain Roller Canaries, Nightingale, water-bubble, deep bass rolls, beautiful beyond description; 4/9 each, including new glass-panelled drawing-room cage; try one and be convinced; why pay more?—Mr. Copp, Wardrobe Stores, Dartford. (1022)

TWO 1912 Glucke and (deep) Water Glucke Rollers, fit for any contest, or tutors, 30/- each; two Water Gluckes, good variety, 20/- each; hens 5/- and 7/6; all BRCC ring; cold room; all Glucke strain; bred from winners of five cups, numerous medals; exchange anything: A. Harper, 2, Cooper-st., Bilston, Staffs. (1015)

DID you ever hear or possess a Hummel Roller? If not, you cannot draw any comparison between that and the ordinary Hartz Roller, with its long monotonous drawn out steam engine whistling notes; the Hummel is a living musical box with about 16 changes of song, including deep bass rolls, sweet silvery trills, water-bubble runs, bell, harp and gong notes, etc. The ordinary Hartz Roller, sold under all sorts of fancy names, consists of about two or three long drawn-out shrills like a steam engine or a motor-car in distress. If you want music buy an English-bred Hummel Roller and compare it with any imported Roller on the market; prices 7/6 each, hens 1/9 each; 4 schoolmasters 10/- each, full week's approval on receipt of postal order: Wesson, the Roller Breeder, Ada-rd., nr. Shireland-rd., Smethwick, Worcestershire. (1001)

2nd and CUP INTERNATIONAL SHOW. 4th WOLVERHAMPTON (74 in Class).

WANTED ONE MORE

customer. Will you be that one? If you are looking for a Roller Canary, I have no hesitation in saying I can give you better value at a lower price than any man in the trade. For years past I have invited intending purchasers to test a Leipzig Roller from me against an ordinary Roller costing any higher price from elsewhere, and I have repeatedly published letters from persons who have done this, saying the Leipzig Rollers have beaten birds costing three times as much elsewhere. I now hold a very large stock of genuine Leipzig Roller cocks in full song day and gaslight, with long, hollow and double rolls, sweet, silvery trills, water-bubble runs, soft roulades, piccolo trills, jug-jug of the Nightingale, bell, harp and flute notes, etc., and guaranteed entirely free from any harsh or objectionable notes whatever, price 6/6 and 7/6 each; special Bandmasters, which have an exceedingly soft, mellow tone, and excel in the deep bass and bubbling water tours, 10/6 and 12/6 each; hens of same strain, 2/- each, 3/6 couple. These Bandmaster Rollers are real professor birds, and just the thing for tutors for young birds. For those who prefer a loud, noisy singer, I have a splendid lot of free singing Hartz cocks, all loud, vigorous singers, day and gaslight, and just right for public bar or coffee house, price 5/- each. Special travelling cages, 3d. extra in all cases. Singing box cages, 1/6 each; special Roller cabinet cages, with loose fronts, and folding doors, 3/- and 4/- each. Following few letters are sample of the hundreds I receive, and are guaranteed entirely unsolicited, and unduplicated. Note full name and addresses given in each case. "1, Caroline-st., Seaham Harbour; Nov. 1st. Sir,—Roller arrived in good, health, and singing a treat. I am highly satisfied.—Yours, R. Wilkinson." "Cheddleton Leek, Nov. 3. Sir,—Roller arrived safe, and I am highly satisfied. He sang grand at night. Thanking you for way you have treated me.—Yours, G. Oakley." "15, King's-rd., Whitlhorn, Nov. 1st. Sir,—Birds give every satisfaction. The cock is singing night and day. Thanking you for such good birds, at the price, and quick dispatch.—Yours, A. C. Christine." "Syhil Villas, Clydach, Oct. 25th. Sir,—Roller to hand, a beauty. I paid double the price for one from ——, which was not so good.—Yours, M. Morgan." "34, South-rd., West Hartlepool, Nov. 2. Sir,—Please send two Leipzig hens. The Roller cock I had from you has done extra well. His singing is great, and better this year than ever.—Yours, G. Wilson." "154, Swanston-st., Glasgow, Nov. 4. Sir,—I am more than pleased with Leipzig Roller cock, as he is singing from early morning ever since arrival. I shall recommend you.— Yours, J. Foley." "14, Herberton-rd., West Southhourne, Bournemouth, Nov. 5th. Sir,—Birds arrived safely, and give me every satisfaction. I shall be pleased to recommend you.—Yours, H. Miller." "35, Kay-st., Frectown, Bury, Oct. 30. Sir,—I have received birds in the perfect condition you advertise them. I can hardly express my thanks, as they are the three nicest birds I have seen, and anyone wishing to see them can with greatest of pleasure.—Yours, J. Lindley." "169, Lenton Sands, Derby-rd., Nottingham, Nov. 10th. Sir,—Please send two more Leipzig Rollers. I was highly pleased with those I had last year; they have such a nice mellow tone, and the changes are so nice.—Yours, H. Garton." Please note all genuine Leipzig Rollers are stamped on wing. "Hans Weber Leipzig," and I am the sole importer of this strain. All are safely and warmly packed with food and water for 48 hours' journey, and sent on full week's trial, solely at my risk, during whole time, immediately on receipt of cash (or if same is deposited with Editor), and unless bird proves in every way satisfactory, and realises your every expectation, you only have to return it, and the whole of your money is promptly and cheerfully returned, and remember, when you deal with me, you are dealing with a continuous advertiser for past 22 years, not here to-day and gone to-morrow sort. AM I LATE?

Have you been waiting to see my prices? Well, here am I. Better late than never, and better songsters late. It is to give you satisfaction that I have been attending. My long experience as breeder and importer enables me to give you the right birds at the right time of the year; do not be misled with common half-bred rubbish—there is no need. I have good, reliable, well bred birds to suit all pockets. My German trained St. Andreasberg Rollers are second to none; high quality of birds without any fancy prices. Cock birds, trained day and gaslight songsters, with water-bubble runs, soft roulades, harp, bell, gong, flute, piccolo, bass, and double rolls, etc., etc., 6/9, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6 each according to quality of song. Genuine St. Andreasberg hens 2/6, 3/- each. The cheapest songsters in England are my Hartz cocks, they are loud free singers, birds that sing by day and gaslight, making plenty of noise. The real working-man's friend, cocks 4/9, 5/3, 5/9, 6/3 each; matched breeding pairs, cock and hen, for breeding songsters, 6/9, 7/6, 8/6. Owing to the great demand for my singing Canaries, I only stock St. Andreasberg, Seifert, Hartz, Rollers. Thus keeping all birds with their pure delightful song. All birds sent on seven day's approval at my sole risk. Cash or deposit. Neat travelling cages 3d. each. The old firm, with 18 years' reputation behind it: E. I. Storey, Roller Specialist, Crowle, Doncaster.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, three words a penny.

CASTLEFORD.

Weekly Linnet contest at "George and Dragon," Bridge Street, Nov. 8, when there were 22 birds entered for three minutes' time singing. Winners: 1st, W. Nelson (63); 2nd, J. Wainwright (41); 3rd, S. Morley (36). On Nov. 9 there were 14 birds entered. Winners: J. Williams (52); J. Wainwright (40); W. Nelson (36).—J. Brindley, Sec.

KIPPAX.

The Kippax and Dist. Linnet Club general meeting was held Nov. 2nd at headquarters, Commercial Hotel. Good attendance of members present to arrange officials and special sings for 1914. Decided to open our singing season on Boxing Day, Dec. 26th, with a members' special sing, entrance fee 6d. each bird, when we hope to welcome a few new members. I hope the season will prove successful. —A. Tomlin, sec. (School Lane, Kippax).

LEEDS.

Quality singing contest, held Skinners' Arms, Buslingthorpe, Nov. 8, when 19 birds, best in Yorkshire, sang. 1, Binns; 2, King; 3, Hullen. On Nov. 9, 19 birds sang. 1, Chadwick; 2, King; 3, Peas. Judges, Messrs. C. Clayton and J. Granger.—C. Clayton, Hon. Sec.

There was a large muster of birds at the "Prince Albert" Linnet Club, Newtown, Leeds, Nov. 9, when 28 birds sang. Chipindale 1, Binner 2 and 3. Judges, Lorrimer and Maden.—R. Ridyard, Sec.

Open contest for quality Linnet singing, held "King's Head," Shannon Street, Nov. 8, when 17 birds sang for three good prizes. 1, S. Hardcastle; 2, 3, E. Wood. Judges, S. Hayes and W. Naylor. Nov. 9, 19 birds sang. 1, H. Wigfield; 2, E. Wood; 3, W. Sissons. Judges, J. Mellia, W. Naylor, A. Jennings.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

PENDLEBURY.

Linnet contest, held Butcher's Arms, Union Street, Nov. 1st, when 18 birds sang for three prizes. Considering the birds are only just through the moult, some very good time was done: 1, J. Syddall, 187 secs.; 2, T. Knowles, 185; 3, J. Green, 140. Timekeepers, E. Wynn, and J. Hodgkiss; minutes, J. Caswell; birdman, J. Edwards. Next contest, Nov. 15th, for time; first pair up at 2.45 prompt. Contests every fortnight, as usual, and the yearly prizes will be given the same as last season.—E. Hickman, Sec.

LONDON, N.

Last week, at the Robin Hood, Southampton Street, Pentonville, we had several handicaps, Linnets and Chaffinches, and there has been good singing. On Nov. 16, at dinner time, Sylvester and Pony Moore are going to sing Linnets for trophy. As usual, Chaffinches at night. Timekeeper, F. Hughes. —F. Westmore.

Club Reports.

BRANDON COLLIERY C.B.S.

Meeting held Miner's Reading Room, Nov. 4th. Owing to our chairman, Mr. Basey, being absent through illness, Mr. A. Robson took the chair. Moved that annual show be Feb. 14th, 1914, in the Miner's Hall, with 31 classes, 20 open, 11 members'. Mr. Wm. Reid, Sunderland, was elected to judge. One new member was made, and a pleasant night was spent.—G. Reed, Sec.

NORTH LIVERPOOL C.B.S.

Decided to hold next members' show, Dec. 26th; to be a full day's show. Birds received up to ten o'clock morning of show. All fanciers wishing to join for season 1914 will be eligible to compete. We have some very useful specials. All fanciers intending to join are requested to send their names and addresses as soon as possible. Next meeting, the Hall, Royal Street, Nov. 26th, at 8 p.m., when final arrangements for show will be made.—E. Broadbent, Hon. Sec., 25, Wellfield Road, Walton, Liverpool.

EMPIRE (Stanley) F. AND F.C.B.S.

Next meeting, Nov. 16, at 7 p.m., when we expect members to turn up with as many entries as possible, as it is the closing date. We give a hearty invitation to any fanciers to come and visit our show, either on Saturday or Sunday, when they will be made welcome. Admission free. It is the best show, bar none, in either Northumberland or Durham, as a club show, both for quality and quantity. We have 6 cups, besides medals and other specials. —Wm. Robinson, Sec.

NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, Nov. 6th. Mr. R. Tindale in chair. Vote of thanks accorded officials, and all who assisted in various ways at late show. Decided to fix date of 1914 show, at next meeting, also question of members' prize-money will be discussed. The thanks of the society are due to Messrs. Cuthbert and Thompson, the auctioneers. I wish to thank Messrs. Crawhall, Farrer, Laidlaw, Coltman, and Craig for their assistance before the show. Nominations for officials for 1914 to be sent to me before the Dec. meeting, in writing.—J. W. Reed, Sec.

CITY OF BRADFORD O.S.

Meeting, held "Flying Dutchman," Leeds Road, Nov. 8, only a half-dozen members (except officers) being present; one of the worst attendances this year. Surely out of 65 members we ought to do better than this, especially on final meeting before open show. If we wish our society to continue its successful course, members will have to rally round, and do a little more than enter birds in members' shows, as this is only a minor item towards keeping the society on a flourishing basis. Principal business, working and show committees for open show, advertisements, printing of catalogues, etc., receiving and despatching of birds, and other necessary arrangements, which brought the meeting to a successful finish.—P. N. Jenkinson (Assist. Sec.)

SUNDERLAND C.B.A.

Fortnightly meeting, Nov. 8th, Mr. Farrer presiding over a good attendance. Decided, to apply for B.F.C.C. patronage, with champion and novice medals. Also that we give 2s. 6d. special in each open class at our show, the Chairman and Secretary promising a diploma for best bird in show, and best bird in each section. As an early start for specials, Mr. Connerton promised 6 cage fronts. Rules and regulations were decided upon, as also the prize-money, 1st 10s., 2nd 5s., 3rd 3s., 4th 2s., making a total of 20s. per class, for an entrance fee of 1s. 6d., with half-prize money if seven entries or less. The schedule was almost completed, the exception being matter required for printing from some of the specialist clubs. Proposed to have prize cards only, and no gummed slips as last year. The classes (81 in number) were then divided up for the judges as follows: Mr. Johnston (Borders and Selling classes); Mr. Cowgill (remainder of Canaries), and Mr. Wilson (Brit. Mule and For.). Question of advertising, etc., was left over.—J. Peacock, Hon. Sec.

READING C.B.S.

Meeting Nov. 5, before a good attendance. Four new members were elected, viz., Mrs. Cleminson (Shiplake), W. McCullum, and Mr. Knott (Reading), Mr. Gale (Guildford). A letter was read from Mr. Geo. Wm. Palmer, thanking the members for their sympathy in her sad loss. Stewards were elected and details settled for show, Nov. 26th, so that every member will know his duties. Hon. Sec. brought forward a suggestion to further encourage a good sporting spirit amongst members, that the amateurs should club together and buy a trophy to be competed for by the novices only, and in return the novices should do the same for the amateurs. There are so many of each now that a good sum ought to be got. Decided to talk it over at the show with every member, and report progress at the next meeting in December. Tickets were applied for in good numbers, so evidently the splendid prize offered by Mr. G. H. Aeton for members selling most tickets will cause some competition. Mr. E. J. Smith was elected show manager. Any member getting "sat on" for breaking rules will remember it, as his weight is about 20 stone. Everything promises well for a record show, and enthusiasm is splendid amongst members.—W. H. Pyke, Hon. Sec.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.

Meeting held Nov. 10th, at the Church Institute, 60, Paddington Street, Mr. W. A. Shepherd in the chair; Mr. V. Wynn, hon. sec., and 30 members present. Letters were read and acted upon. Result of judging competition in Yorkshires at last meeting: Mr. W. Styles and Mr. F. Eaton, 56 points; Mr. W. Sanders and Mr. W. Large, 55 points; Mr. W. Knight, and Mr. A. Dosset, 49 points. There being so many ties, a draw took place, resulting in Mr. W. Styles being placed first, Mr. F. Eaton second, and Mr. W. Sanders third. The feature of the evening was a washing competition, 5 members taking part, Messrs. W. Sanders, Wakefield, W. Styles, W. Knight, and A. Salter. Mr. H. Tringham, who was to act as judge, wrote regretting his inability to attend, and one of our oldest and most respected members, Mr. A. W. Curtis kindly consented to act in his stead. Each competitor washed one bird, and then placed them in the electrically heated drying cage, belonging to the Association. At the conclusion of the washing, the judge commented upon the various methods adopted by the competitors, and awarded Mr. Salter first prize, Mr. W. Knight second, and Mr. W. Sanders third. A very interesting and instructive discussion then took place. Mr. C. W. Curtis, who is one of the ablest and most expert washers of Canaries in the Fancy, giving members the result of his experience, and also gave them details of a drying cage, made to his own design, one of which he had used for many years with great success. A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded him for his services, and a vote of thanks to chairman closed a very pleasant meeting. —F. Thynne, Assist. Hon. Sec.

CITY OF DUNDEE C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, held Doig's Rooms, 5th Nov. Mr. Jas. Huschell in the chair. Principal business, appointing of stewards for open show, on 29th Nov. It was agreed that the secretary send reports of meetings to CAGE BIRDS. After an animated discussion on minor topics, the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks to the chair.—A. Miller, Sec.

NORTHERN BORDER & SCOTCH FANCY C.C.

Monthly meeting and table show, held Nov. 3, Pellars Cafe, Mr. W. Smith in the chair. Proposed and seconded, that next meeting a table show be held, five classes each section. Class (1), Clear or marked Yellow Ck.; (2) Do. Buff; (3) Hen, any col.; (4) Green; (5), Cinnamon. Judges, Mr. T. Parker and Mr. W. P. Smith. Winners at table show: Class 1: No entry. Class 2: 1, Espie; 2, Montgomery. Class 3: 1, 2, Montgomery; 3, Farrar. Class 4: 1, Farrar; 2, W. Espie. NOVICE: Class 5: 1, Smith; 2, hc, P. Reed; 3, vhc, Snaith; 4, Affleck. Class 6: 1, 3, hc, Snaith; 2, Reed; 4, Smith; c, Affleck. Class 7: 1, Cossar; 2, vhc, Reed; 3, hc, Affleck; 4, Wilson; c, Smith. Class 8: 1, 4, Churnside; 2, vhc, Cossar; 3, hambers; hc, c, Smith. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the judges, Mr. W. Affleck and Mr. M. C. Potts. This brought a splendid meeting to an end.—M. C. Potts, Sec.

DERWENT VALLEY C.B.S.

Meeting held Oct. 8th, in the Church Hall, Hamsterley Colliery, Mr. G. Barkess in chair. Pleased to see such a good turn-out of members, and hope it continues. Prize-money paid out in full, and balance-sheet passed as satisfactory. In his donation book Mr. M. N. Gardiner (our worthy vice-chairman) had the handsome sum of £5 4s. 6d. Great praise is due to that gentleman for the way he sets about his work. We are very sorry to learn that he is giving up the hobby of bird-keeping, owing to lack of time. It was proposed to make him a small present, as a token of respect for his past services to the above society, and at once the hat was handed round, and a small sum raised. Other members who were not at meeting, please note that secretaries will be glad to receive any small donation towards this fund. Decided to have a social in a few weeks time; left to secretaries to find a date suitable.—Jamieson and Johnson (Secs.).

LOANHEAD AND DIST, C.B.S.

Financial meeting, Mason's Arms, Nov. 8th, Mr. A. Jardine, President, in the chair. The secretary showed an income of £20 6s. 1½d., against an expenditure of £8 11s. 7d., leaving a balance for prize-money of £11 14s. 6½d., which meant the society was to pay 7s. 6d. per class this year. The President expressed the pleasant surprise that he had got on hearing the balance sheet read, and proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the secretary and local committee, which was very warmly responded to. The Secretary then read a letter in Mr. John Steel's absence, Mr. Steel explaining that our show, being so early, many a good bird had to stand down on account of it not being finished; secondly, by putting it back, we would have a much larger entry. A great discussion took place, in which nearly all present took part. Decided not to alter date, as it had been proved to be very good, as we had shows round about, and this was the means of helping the drawings at the door. By getting club show early, members were then free to support open show. Election of office bearers resulted in unanimous re-election of all, after which four new members were admitted, Messrs. Weir, McConnel, Innes and Watson. A hearty vote of thanks to the chairman closed the meeting.—W. B. Smart, Sec.

LARKHALL C.B.A.

Annual members show held Oct. 25. Financially and otherwise the same was a great success. The Y.M.C.A. Hall again was the venue; it is needless to mention its splendid features for such a show. The staging, nicely arranged to suit the convenience of visitors, was in charge of Mr. Robert McEwan, treas. Gate money far exceeded previous years. The members had a busy time showing their wives and friends their winning exhibits, and hurrying them past those that were out of the tickets. Some members, who in previous years had a good share of winnings, were completely out of it this show, and still they smiled. Entries reached 250, being an increase on last year. Quality was far above the standard of previous years. The most interesting exhibit was the Redpoll-Bullfinch Hybrid bred and exhibited by Mr. Robert Perrie. Mr. Haddow judged Canaries, and Mr. Raine British, their awards being very satisfactory. Special prizewinners were: Points cup, R. McLure; runner-up sp., Allan Thomson; young bird cup, R. Perrie, Redpoll-Bullie; Norwich, W. Clark, jun.; Bord., R. McLure; rose-bowl for best Brit., A. Kerr, with a nice Linnet; novice medal, Alex. Thomson, with a grand Greenie Mule; novice (gold), points medal, S. Fergnson, jun.; medal best Bord., R. McLure; 6 best nominated Brit., R. Perrie; 6 ditto Canaries, J. Graham; most points any one class, ditto Canary section, R. McClure. From the catalogue received, we gather that the principal winners were: NOR.: Clark, Rundell, M'Ewan, Chalmers, Haston, M'Lean, Pollock, Kennedy. BORD.: M'Lure, Haston, Graham, Marley, Pollock. CRESTS: Arnott. YORKS.: Fergnson, Marley. A.O.V.: M'Lure, Clark. MULES: Perrie, Thomson, Haney, Smith. BRIT.: Alex. Thomson, Clark, M'Lure, Kerr, Pollock, Allan Thomson, Perrie, Cummings, Orr, Melvin, M'Lean, Arnott. FOR.: Perrie, Cummings, Clarke.—(Ed.)

HAMILTON (Cadzow Oak) O.S.

Annual show, held Nov. 8, in Town Hall, Hamilton. The gate, as well as entries, showed an increase, and the management kept the hall at a temperature which added greatly to the comfort of exhibitor and bird alike. Hamilton has always been a popular one-day fixture, evidence of this was borne out by the amount of "sweet kent faces frae a' parts." The quality of the exhibits was quite up to standard, and in Border fanciers quality was of a very high order, especially in bulls, very little separating the winner. Pre. Shearer, Sec. Marley, Vice-pres. Braidwood, and Allan, along with the following hard-working committee, all wrought for the welfare of their society, and merited the praise accorded them: Messrs. Clark, Easton, Allan, McIntyre, Williams, Hamilton, jun., Shearer, sen., Thomson, Whiteford, Forrest, Johnstone. Judges were: Plainheads and Crests, W. Watson, Kilmarnock; Borders, W. Mossie, Annbank, Hybs., Brit., and For., W. Clark, Larkhall. In the majority of cases their awards were well received.

PORTSMOUTH.

27th annual show of the Portsmouth F.S., held Nov. 12, 13, in the Kingsley Hall, a most suitable hall for the purpose, cosy and comfortable, and well lighted. The entry was a very moderate one, and several of the classes had to be cancelled. The liberal classification and good prize money deserved better appreciation, but the clashing of shows at this part of the season is very severe, and the entry here was doubtless especially affected by Bournemouth show, held on the same date. Sec. Mr. W. E. J. Tyrrell worked hard to make the show a success, and seemed fully capable of seeing to the proper working of a much bigger thing. His efforts were well backed up by an efficient committee with Mr. E. J. W. Matthews (chair) at the head, supported by Mr. Frampton (vice) and Messrs. Moody, A. and J. Coffin, Hawes, Morton, Lavis, Marshall, Squibb, Shott, Tout, Hollings and Smith. Such a well managed show deserves better support another year. Challenge bowl went to Mr. Howick's Can.-Bullf. Hybrid, a lovely bird which merited the success. The Rev. G. W. Joyce judged, and seemed to give general satisfaction.

EDINBURGH SOUTHERN O.S.

Twenty-second annual competition, held in Buccleuch Parish Church Hall, Nov. 1. Entries were about up to last year's, but quality showed a decided improvement. For the second year in succession Mr. Menzies won the "Anderson" Cup, with a grand Buff Scots Fancy Hen, a perfect model, Mr. Ross being runner-up with a buff cock of good merit. Mr. Farquhar won medal for best Norwich. Mr. Carson, Easthouses, judged the Scotch Fancy, and Mr. W. R. Finnie, Edinburgh, the Nor., Bord., and Brit., and their awards gave the utmost satisfaction. At the close Mr. C. R. Drysdale, in handing over the specials, congratulated the winners, and hoped that next year the entries would show an increase, and that the quality would be maintained. Mr. D. McPhail exhibited two White Border cocks, which were greatly admired by the many visitors to the show.

SOUTH BIRMINGHAM O.S.

Young stock show, with British bird section, held Nov. 1, at new quarters, the Marlboro' Hotel, Anderton Road, Small Heath. A splendid entry well paid the committee for their trouble. The room is ideal, and the management excellent. The Yorkshires again topped the tree. The members were sorry to find the Vice Chairman, Mr. J. Hughes, absent through illness, but he could not resist demanding to know the winners by messenger. The points counted towards the silver cups of the Society. Mr. Burke takes a good lead for champion, and Mr. Swinden, novice, while Mr. Raby is topping the bill in British. Points towards a dinner service resulted in Mr. Burke leading by one point. Mr. Burke secured sp. for champion Yorks., Mr. Leonard, novice, Mr. Raby, Brit., Mr. Murray, Borders. Mr. J. H. Roe judged, and over 80 birds were staged.

CHAMP. YORKS., CL. or TKD. YELL. (10): 1, 2, Swinden; 3, 4, Burke; vhc, Harding; hc, Clay; c, Sheppard; a wonderful class, every bird in tip-top condition. A.O.V. YELL.: 1, Burke; 2, Constable. YELL.: 1, 2, sp., Leonard; 3, Bayliss; 4, Barron; a nice class. BUFF: 1, 4, Bayliss; 2, Luckman; 3, hc, Rees; a topping class, every bird in the pink, and little to choose from first three; MULES, LIGHT: 1, Raby, BRIT. (2): 1, sp, Raby, grand Goldie; 2, Johnson. A.O.V. HARD. (10): 1, 2, Raby; 3, 4, Johnson.

N.W. GLASGOW C.B.C.

First annual show and competition held Blythswood Rooms, Nov. 8. There were 64 classes with an entry of over 380. The management are to be congratulated on the great success both as to entries and quality; some well-known winners being staged. The hall has a nice light from the roof, but is on the small side. Sec. Loan, assisted by a committee of able and willing workers from president downwards, had every arrangement made for the comfort of visitors and exhibits. Norwich, Borders, and British were fine collections, and there was a grand array of special prizes, including a handsome rose bowl, and medal for the winner of the Derby. Medal presented by Mr. Doherty for best novice exhibit was won by Mr. R. Brown's var. yell. ck., a grand Norwich. Mr. J. Stewart, junr., was runner-up with a Buff Pied Scotch Fancy hen. The Derby winner, rose bowl, and medal for best young bird was Mr. Naismith, with a Yell. Nor. hen, a nice typical bird, close up was Mr. Pinnock with a col. fed Yorks. cock, of grand lines. Best British novice Mr. G. Manson, with his noted winning Redstart, runner-up Mr. J. D. Brown, lovely Bullfinch ck., grand colour. The judges awards gave general satisfaction.

HEYWOOD O.S.

Seventh annual show, held Nov. 8, Rochdale Hall. Mr. J. Hopkins judged, and his awards met with general satisfaction. Yorks. were only moderate in numbers. Norwich came up rather better and contained some choice specimens. Among them was found the best bird in show, a lovely mkd. buff cock, owned by Mr. J. Greenhalgh. Lancashires and Lizard were rather poor in numbers but contained some which have held their own in good company. British were sadly wanting in numbers. Some members had sent further afield, where they would get better competition. The society's cup and special was won by R. Schofield, closely followed by Mr. Leach and Mr. Hordern in order named. Sandiford's medal went to Norwich section, and was carried off by Mr. J. Waddington.

LARNE

and Dis. C.B. and Pig. Ass. 5th Ann. Show of Cage Birds and Pig. will be held in McGarel Town Hall, Larne, on Thursday and Fri., Dec. 11 and 12. Under pat. of Norwich Plainhead C.C. of Ireland. Judge, Mr. C. A. House. Entries close Dec. 6. Schedules: Thos. Mayne, 35, Barnhill, Larne.

STRANRAER and Dist.

Dec. 12th. Cage Birds, 17 classes; 10/-, 5/-, 2/6. 7 Specials (open); popular judge. Entries close Dec. 5th.—W. McMeekan, 8, Glenoch St., Stranraer.

Will fanciers send their entries to me, writes Mr. J. Gray (23, Guthrie Port, Arbroath) by Monday, last post, as we want to make this Arbroath fixture a record show for Forfarshire. Anyone not having a schedule should send postcard for one, or send entries on, and I will classify them and return numbers.

Will there be war in Ulster if Home Rule passes? Redmond says "Full steam ahead!" Carson says "Stop!" Asquith says "Wait and see!" Any-way, now's the time to see the greatest battle in London. Over 470 birds, all in their glittering armour, led by the champions of England, to be seen to-day, Friday, and Saturday, at the City and Suburban 18th annual show, at the Church Institute, 60, Paddington St., Baker St., W. Come by 'bus or by tube.—(Advt.)

The L. and P.O.S. lecture by Miss Durham on Thursday next, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m., will be at the Raglan Hotel, Aldersgate Street. For full details of this interesting event, see last week's notice in CAGE BIRDS. This lecture is entirely due to our valued friend and president, Mr. G. Crabb, who, I regret to say, has been very ill for some time. Will members and friends please turn up in large numbers and thus show their appreciation. I am sure everyone wishes Mr. Crabb a speedy recovery.—C. W. Law, hon. sec. L.P.O.S.

We thank you for your extensive report of our show, write Messrs. Treasure and Pounsett, hon. secs. Cheltenham C.B.S., and also the 190 exhibitors who contributed towards the 800 odd birds. We trust that all the visitors who came from a distance (and there were many) enjoyed their visit, and that all the birds arrived home safely and in good time as they were handed to the railway co.'s. before 11 o'clock, in time to catch the mails. All prize money has been paid.

At Liverpool show last week the sales were £75, and gate extra good. The prize-money has all gone (paid during the show). The railway birds had all gone from the hall before 6 p.m.; room cleared at 7 p.m. This society is only twelve strong, but every man is a worker, and every one a prominent exhibitor. Workers from other societies, to whom they personally tender thanks, are Messrs. Clem. Hillmen, Tom Evans, Tom Howeroft, Tom Cutts, J. C. Crowe, Alec Nimmo, A. Parsons, Geo. Morton, W. Jones, T. R. and Mrs. Jones, J. Lomax, T. P. Baxter, J. Lloyd, J. McDermott, and G. Skilling. J. W. Cutmore (who took charge of the feeding of Softbills, etc.), T. Handley, S. Jackson, junr., and last, but not least, Mrs. F. E. Deacon. "Wright Crossley" cup was won outright by Mr. W. Dormer; runner-up Mr. J. W. Metcalfe.

We hear that Mr. J. Walsh (Blackburn) has been engaged to judge at Rossendale, Nov. 29, and Clitheroe Dec. 6.

Entries for Cockermouth show will close on Nov. 18, not the 17th, as announced, writes Mr. Jackson, the sec.

Entries for Dartford show will be received up to first post Wednesday, Nov. 19, writes Mr. A. Lambert, the sec.

In Launceston schedule class 12 should read A.O.V. Mule or Hybrid (not A.V.), writes Mr. H. Hoskin, the hon. sec.

Entries are coming in very slow; must accept up to Nov. 16, write Messrs. Hill and Dascombe, hon. secs. Wiveliscombe show.

There is a mistake in Stockton-on-Tees schedule; class 2 should read Yorkshire clear buff cock, writes Mr. J. W. Lowes, hon. sec.

The meeting of the Metropolitan C.B.A., which had been fixed for Nov. 20, is cancelled on account of the date clashing with the S. London show.

Ilkeston C.B.S. monthly meeting arranged for Nov. 15, will be postponed owing to Nottingham show being on the same date, writes Mr. T. Smith, the sec.

Will secretaries please note, to avoid clashing, that Burton-on-Trent C.B.S. hold their next annual open show on Oct. 17, 1914, writes Mr. A. Wood, the sec.

For Whitby show, Nov. 26, excursions are being run from Leeds, York, Malton, Darlington, Hartlepools, Middlesbrough, etc., Mr. J. G. Tomlinson, the sec.

At Brechin show the cup presented by Mr. R. Cumming (Larkhall) for most points in British section, was won by Messrs. Black and Hendrie (Brechin) writes Mr. Geo. Mitchell, sec.

We hear that there is a grand entry at the City and Suburban show held this week-end—close on 500 birds. The British section promises to be one of the best in the history of the society, and Canaries are also good.

Upwards of 400 schedules have been sent out for West Bromwich show, Nov. 21 and 22, and anyone who cares to have one can do so by applying to me, writes Mr. W. G. Andrews, hon. sec., 1, Hayes Street, Carter's Green, West Bromwich.

There will be a nice little show of cage-birds at Dartford (Kent) on Nov. 25 and 26, judge Mr. G. Gardner. The prize-money is guaranteed, and the sec., Mr. A. Lambert (Wilmington, Dartford) will be glad to send a schedule to all enquirers.

I am requested by the members of the Beamish C.B.S. to call a meeting at the Bird Inn, High Hold, Beamish, on Saturday night, Nov. 15, at 7 o'clock prompt, writes Mr. R. Peart, sec. pro tem. I hope all members will try to attend, as the business is very important.

It is with regret I have to announce that Mr. C. J. Godfrey, a well-known and honoured fancier, has been compelled to give up his birds, writes Mr. L. J. Richardson (Rotherhithe), as his outhouse was too damp, and myself and Mr. A. H. Campbell have bought the whole of his stock and accessories.

Pontypridd F. and F.S. hold their annual show on Nov. 26th. Any exhibits entered for Pentrebach the following day (ten miles distant) will be sent off in plenty of time to reach that show. The secretary also wishes to draw particular attention to the fact that the cage-birds will be staged in a comfortable room, set apart purely for them. Schedules may be obtained from Mr. A. A. Gordon M'Lucas, sec., 48, Rosser St., Maesycoed, Pontypridd.

OBITUARY.

We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. W. Hawkins, wife of the well-known exhibitor, of Ashgrove, near Queenstown, Cork. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins's most beautiful collection of Yorkshire Canaries was, writes a correspondent, cared for almost entirely by Mrs. Hawkins, who, being in indifferent health, spent hours a day over them, and the birds were always kept as if on the show bench. She was a great lover of them, and a gentle, unassuming friend.

Mr. T. Crane (Chester).

I am deeply sorry to inform you, writes Mr. R. L. G. Simpson, sec. Chester C.B.S., that we have had the misfortune to lose our oldest member, Mr. T. Crane, who expired suddenly on Nov. 8, as the result of a stroke. Mr. Crane some years ago exhibited Norwich and British with much success, and was well known among the older fanciers. I am quite sure the sympathy of the Fancy and members of our society will be with Mrs. Crane and family in their sad bereavement.

Mr. W. Knowles (Beamish).

I am deeply sorry to inform you that Mr. W. Knowles, the esteemed secretary of the Beamish C.B.S., and one of our most highly respected members, was accidentally killed whilst following his employment at the Alma Pit on Nov. 6. It seems hard to realise it, as he was amongst us a week ago, full of enthusiasm about the forthcoming Beamish show on Nov. 22. He was a genuine fancier, and the mainstay of the Beamish C.B.S. He leaves a widow and one daughter, and I am sure all fanciers will join us in giving to Mrs. and Miss Knowles our deepest sympathy.—R. Peart, sec. Anfield Plain C.B.S.

Mr. J. D. Maxwell (Falkirk).

I regret to announce, writes Mr. William Niven, the sudden death of Mr. J. D. Maxwell, which took place at the High Station on Nov. 7th, about five o'clock. He was in the act of sending his birds away to Kelty show. Mr. Maxwell had been a member of the Falkirk Ornithological Society for about forty years. He was a keen fancier, and took a leading place in the prize-list with his birds. The deceased gentleman, who was 64 years of age, was a native of Redding, near Falkirk. He was of a benevolent and lovable nature, and much respected in the neighbourhood. For his bereaved widow, son and daughter much sympathy is expressed.

Mr T. Parkinson (Newcastle).

I regret to announce the sad death of Mr. Thomas Parkinson, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, which happened on Saturday last under tragic circumstances, writes Mr. Jos. Scott. Mr. Parkinson carried on business as a naturalist for about twenty years in High Friar Street, until a few months ago, when he removed to more commodious premises at the corner of Nelson Street and Clayton Street. For the past few days he had not felt very well, and on Saturday morning, about 2 a.m., he left his bedroom and shortly afterwards his wife heard a thud on the stairs. She found that her husband had fallen down and broken his neck, the poor fellow dying immediately. Tom was well known to fanciers all over England and Scotland, and he took a keen interest in exhibiting. The news of his death will cause a widespread feeling of sympathy for wife and family left to mourn his loss.

illustrated catalogue and price-list, a copy of which any fancier can have free on sending a postcard to Messrs. Hogg and Co., 23, Ancoats St., Manchester. We may state that they are actual makers of cages, aviaries, and all appliances for the Fancy. Fanciers can rely on having best quality goods at a price within reach of all. They are also makers of wirework, improved wire fronts, etc.

Changes of Address.

We are asked to notify the following changes of address:—Mr. F. J. Wickham to "Boatswain and Call," Rainham Rd., Chatham; Mr. R. J. Metcalfe from Village St. to The How, Sedgely Park, Prestwich, Manchester.

Fanciers Visiting Liverpool.

Should this catch the eye of any fancier abroad who intends to come over to this country via Liverpool, I beg to say that I shall be pleased to run him round all the Green fanciers' rooms.—J. W. Metcalfe (68, Brunswick Rd., Liverpool).

Entries Extended.

Wiveliscombe to Nov. 16, Cockermouth to Nov. 18, Whitehaven to Nov. 15, Windermere to Nov. 17 post.

A Record for Blaydon.

At Blaydon show we had a record entry of over 800 birds, writes Mr. G. Havver, the hon. sec.

Manchester's Secretary Giving Up.

I am giving up the secretaryship of the Manchester and N.C.O. Society, writes Mr. H. Boothman, so will all who had tickets let we have moneys for them, or return same, so I can get my accounts balanced up by the end of the month.

Prize-money Paid.

We hear that prize-money has been paid in respect of the following shows. Anyone overlooked should apply to the various secretaries: Muirkirk, Dulwich (members' specials at special night early in Dec.), Middlesbrough, Manchester, Wisbech, Leicester Hand-in-Hand, Barnstaple.

The Senghenydd Disaster.

In response to Mr. Shellam's letter of appeal in our columns, we have received two sums, amounting to 17s., which will be sent to the Lord Mayor of Cardiff's relief fund. E. W. A. (Cardiff) sends 15s. as "a thank-offering for a successful season"; and Mr. T. Flynn (Kildare) 2s.

A Centenarian Cockatoo.

Not the least of the attractions at the forthcoming show at the Horticultural Hall will be the veteran Lemon-crested Cockatoo, the property of the veteran British bird exhibitor and Crystal Palace judge, Mr. Joseph Hill. Mr. Hill has a record extending back for at least ninety years of this bird's life, and it is thought to be at least 120 years

Y.U. Novice Medal Winners.

The medal winners in the novice section of the Yorkshire Union for the first half of the season are:—Yorks section, R. Seager, 53 points; J. W. Redforth, 49; J. E. Hudson, 43; A. C. Ellis, 42 points; Nor. section, B. Airton wins the medal with 99 points. These all move into the champion section for the second half of the season.—H. Hill, sec.

The Sheffield Blades' Ambition.

The officials of the Sheffield O.S. of late have worked most strenuously, and their labours were crowned with success on Nov. 7 and 8—truly a mammoth show. Our Sheffield friends, we hear, are ambitious to hold in the "City of Steel" the greatest show of the North, and mean to "stick to their guns" until victory has been achieved.

A Wholesale Clearance.

It may interest your readers to know that four of my winning Norwich Greens were claimed at Sheffield Show on Saturday last, writes Mr. John Walker (Liverpool). Three of the birds took 1st at Manchester, the fourth one being 1st at Sheffield. The foul yellow won your diploma at Liverpool for best Green and I consider it the best Norwich Green on the show bench to-day.

A Parson in Luck.

During the Saturday evening at Sheffield O.S. show, the gift class birds were drawn for. The winning specimen was a very neat Crest, put down by Messrs. Colton and Dawn. The number of this exhibit corresponded to one produced by some reverend gentleman. On receiving his may-be unexpected prize, he promptly and joyfully made his exit. Who was the lucky parson, we wonder? He that expected little, received much.

Corrections in Show Reports.

At Upper Rhondda vhc Weeks, hc Watkins in the nov. Yorks. class should be vhc, hc, Stoakin; in var. yell. Nor. hens Mr. A. M. Gardiner was 2nd, not Harris; at Oxford Mr. J. A. Lees won 2nd and 3rd in Nor. yell., not Lewin; in Liverpool report 1st and 4th Nor. greens should be Harding, not Hardy; at Border City show Mr. L. Dyson won 1st in cl., etc., buff Yorks., not Dykes; at Bo'ness, Mr. W. Pringle won 1st in Goldfinches, not Aitken; at Maryhill Mr. Young was 1st in Yell. Pied cks. and club cup, not Fergusson, as reported, and the runner-up for the Jardine cup was Young, not Fergusson.

Cardiff's Challenge Cups.

I fear our cup conditions are not quite so clear as they might be, writes Mr. E. J. Davies, treasurer Cardiff C.B.S. The Yorks., Norwich, Border, and British cups are for open competition. Any number of birds may be entered (one or more in each class), and all will compete, but only the 6 highest birds of each exhibitor will count, thus giving an exhibitor with only 2 or 3 good birds, an equal chance with those having 6 or 8 moderate ones. The cups are solid silver, and of sterling value. The gold medal for members will be won by most points in novice classes, with one variety only, the 4 highest birds to count.

THE KEEPING OF FOREIGN BIRDS.

A practical and interesting lecture delivered by Mr. G. Fletcher, of Sheffield, to the members and friends of the Walkley C.B.S.

MR. CHAIRMAN and Gentlemen: I am very pleased to come here to-night to try to explain to you my personal experience of keeping Foreign birds, and in so doing I will confine myself entirely to the novice. Now the first consideration is the place to keep them and where. I suppose there are not many of us here to-night who live in such a position that we can have an aviary outside, which is beyond doubt the best way. So I will surmise that we have nothing to begin with beyond a garret.

The first thing to do, which is of great importance, is to find out whether you have any mice in the house. If you have you can depend they will find their way by some method into the bird-room, so it is as well to lay zinc round the whole bottom of the plinths round the room. Having done that you then require some cages.

No Special Cage Needed.

I have found that the ordinary double breeder, with the sliding partition in the middle and draw out bottom, is as cheap and as suitable for these birds as any cage you can possibly buy, but in place of the ordinary wire fronts you want wire fronts made with no more space between the bars than three-eighths of an inch; the drinking holes and seed holes can be the same size as ordinary, as you may wish to put in the same cage some larger birds which would require more head room to get to the seeds and water than the smallest of the foreigners, and it is always easy to fix a bit of wire across the top of the hole if you are afraid of small birds getting out.

Before fixing the cage front in it would be as well to put in each top corner of the cage a cigar box cut in half and partially boarded up. In each put a little hay, as the birds are very fond of sleeping in such at night, and if they have any pretentions to bring up a family the box will be a very suitable nesting place. Cover the bottom of the cage with rough sawdust, and put a small handful of sand in one corner. As regards perches, you can either have ordinary perches supplied with the cage or go to a hedge and cut a branch off with plenty of twigs on, this fastened to the back of the cage finds the bird something to hop about on.

Now, the next thing to get is seed boxes. These I prefer to be of tin with a glass front going right to the inside of the top of the tin, so that if the bird comes through the seed hole it cannot get out into the room. As regards water vessels there is nothing to beat the ordinary wire fastener and glass drinker.

Ninety per cent. of the foreign birds have never known what it is to put their head through a seed hole to get at their seed, and if you put the seed box on in the usual way, expecting the bird to find out that there is seed in it, you will very soon find some of them dead, and it is both expensive and dirty to put loose seed in the bottom of the cage.

My method of teaching them to eat out of the box is as follows: Lay the seed box in your hand, glass front downwards, fill it till it is above the square, then hook it on to the front of wires. The seed that is above the square will run into the cage, and as the bird is feeding inside it will keep gradually falling, and the bird, noticing this, will not be long in looking where it is coming from, and so see by putting its head through the hole there is plenty to be got. As regards water, place the empty glass outside and pour in water from a pitcher, holding the pitcher well above the glass so that the bird can see it coming in, you have then no need to be afraid of them not knowing where the water is. I have never since my absolute novice days done anything different than this.

The Seeds that are Liked.

In the matter of seed you cannot do better than make an equal mixture of one part white millet, one part Indian millet, and one part small canary seed; this, with an addition of any grass seeds that you can gather, or grass put inside the cage, will practically form their ordinary diet. Notice when you are buying birds what they are being fed on, if Indian millet alone, only add a little of white millet to it, and gradually increase till they are taking it, then begin with a little bit of Canary seed, and so on.

Having got seed and cages you will be very anxious to buy some birds. First of all you had better buy birds that are fairly hardy and likely to live, and pick from the following: Grey and Green Singing Finches, Bengalese, Spice Finches, White-headed Mannikins, Black-headed Mannikins, Tri-coloured Mannikins, Java Sparrows, Cut-throat or Ribbon Finches, Weavers, Combassous, Steel Finches, Zebra Finches, etc., and after you have had these as an experience you could then go and buy some of the smaller finches which are more delicate to keep, such as the Silver Bill, Bronzed-wing Mannikins, Bib Finch, Lavender Finch, Common Avadavats, Zebra or Golden-breasted Waxbills, Orange-cheek Waxbills, Green Avadavats, St. Helena Waxbills, Cordon Bleus, or Crimson-eared Waxbills, and any other of the small cheap finches.

There is one finch, and that is the Fire Finch, which I should like to draw your attention to. I might say I have had 20 or 30 pairs of these, and have never been successful in moulting them. I cannot explain why, but a celebrated fancier in London once told me that any man that can keep a pair of Fire Finches and moult them out and exhibit them above one year ought to have a gold medal as large as St. Paul's Cathedral. Still, you may try a pair, as you may have better luck with them than I have had. The majority of these birds can be bought from 2s. 6d. per pair.

What to do When Buying.

When buying these birds it is well for the novice to buy them from some dealer in the town he lives in, who is reliable and straight. Even though he may have to pay a trifle more per pair than he could get them from places advertised. Any respectable dealer will, when you have chosen the birds, place them in little cages and leave them a few moments so that you can see what condition they are in. If they are loose feathered, or go in a lump, or are breathing heavy, or have a look about them as though they were wishing it was Sunday, don't buy them, but if they look tight and sprightly, and hop about the cage, then by all means buy them.

After you have got used to keeping these birds you might start to keep a few of the more expensive birds. Any of the following would do: Paradise Whydah, Pintail Whydah, Cuban Finch, Black-headed Gouldians, Parrot Finch, Pintail Nonpariels, Masked Grass Finch, Longtailed Grass Finch, Parson Finch, Diamond or Spotted-sided Finch, Red-headed Finch, etc. These you should not buy unless you are thinking of going in for exhibiting in open competition. You will find that sometimes none of these birds can be bought except at extortionate prices, and sometimes a lot will come on the market which will be at remarkably cheap prices. As an example, I have seen Diamond Sparrows fetch 8s. per pair, and a bit less, and sometimes 50s. per pair. So therefore you must use your own judgment when you think that the bird you want is cheap enough to buy.

I believe in having a short flight, if it is only five or six feet long and five or six feet high and three feet wide, fixed on the side of the room, as I find that it saves me many of the birds' lives, for as soon as I see a bird thick in the cage and looking for something in the seed box that is not there, I catch him and turn him into this flight, when I find that a great many of them pick up again and live. Put a branch of a tree in the flight, not forgetting a bowl of water, and plenty of mixed seed; also a spray or two of millet hung from the top of the flight would be much enjoyed by the birds, and a spray of millet placed occasionally in the cage would be very beneficial, as when the birds are picking the millet they are not picking one another's heads, which seems to be a favourite pastime with them.

Practically all the above birds would eat soaked ant eggs, gentles or maggots, and also a mealworm or two. You might also turn a pair of Budgerigars into the flight. These you will find very easy to breed. All they want is a couple of cocoanut husks hung in the flight and they will not be long before you will see some of the most curious courting antics I have ever seen. If you are thinking of getting a pair of Cockatiels, which are easy to breed, be very careful that you get a good neighbour at each side of the house, as their method of love-making is very noisy. They are most enjoyable birds, but their noise does not compensate you for the pleasure you derive out of them otherwise.

Tips About the Drinking Water.

I believe in giving them fresh water every day, twice a day if possible, and it is a very good thing to put as much Epsom salts in their water once a week as will cover a sixpence, and five drops of tincture of iron about once a fortnight would do them no harm. When washing the drinkers out put a spoonful of Condy's Fluid in the water in the bucket that you are washing them in. Also if you wish to be on good terms with your "good lady" keep a mat at the top of the stairs and wipe your feet before coming down-stairs every time, and if you should win any "specials" be sure to give them to the "good lady." You have then a certain cure for any dirt, etc., that you might make.

In winter time you had better light up and feed the birds between 7 and 9 o'clock at night, as owing to our climate the day closes at four, and it does not come daylight till towards half-past seven, and these tiny birds, some of which hardly weigh half-an-ounce, have to do without food for about fifteen hours out of the twenty-four, which I contend accounts for the loss of more of these tiny creatures than disease, ill-treatment, or anything the novice can subject them to.

EVERYBODY SHOULD BE DOING IT NOW!

The pathway to success has been cleared: Seize YOUR opportunity—and your Diploma.

WE have in preparation a full list of the Diploma winners in our Coupon Competition, and this we purpose publishing in our next issue. We would again remind secretaries of coupon shows of the necessity of promptly supplying to us a signed list of the full awards (both cash specials and diplomas). Several have neglected this in the past, and so made it impossible for us to promptly send out the prizes and print the names of the winners.

Our diploma list now contains the names of some hundreds of fanciers, and all of these, of course, are ineligible to take a second diploma in the same section. So the chances of those who have hitherto failed to secure one, or who may not yet have tried, are now very bright, and the coupon shows coming along ought to be well patronised. Exhibitors should not overlook the smaller fixtures; many chances have been let slip in the past through doing so, as for instance, at Paignton, where not a single novice exhibitor spent 6d. on a coupon, and our 10s. and diplomas went a-begging!

In the list of winners of 10s. specials published last week, an unfortunate slip occurred, viz., the novice cash special at Plymouth show should have been credited to Mr. G. Mellows, 2, Bedford St., Ford, Devonport, whose yellow Yorks. hen secured the honour.

A Few Opinions of Our Diplomas.

I am very pleased with my diploma of honour. I think it very artistic.—R. W. Claydon (Weybridge).

Very many thanks for diplomas. I consider they are of a very pretty design, and I feel proud of being the happy possessor of two, in Nor. and Yorks. (novice) sections, at the recent Portsmouth show.—D. Walker (Southsea).

I wish to thank you for the diploma of honour you sent for my bird at the Manchester show. It is a very nice one, and I shall value it much.—C. Forester (Broseley).

Received diploma won at Leicester. I am very pleased with same.—T. Harriman (Barley Thorpe).

THE NEXT COUPON SHOWS.

Nov. 19.—Bishop Auckland.—R. Elliott, 1, Diamond Terrace, Butterknowle, Co. Durham.
Nov. 19.—Inverness.—J. Connochie, Craigielea, Perceval Rd.
Nov. 19-20.—Cardiff.—E. Thomas, 48, Craddock St.
Nov. 19.-20.—Ramsgate.—F. Thomas, 29, Chatham St.
(Any entries for the above must be sent immediately.)
Nov. 21-22.—Haltwhistle.—W. Tallantyre, South View.
Nov. 21-22.—Preston.—T. Barton, 101, Church St.
Nov. 22.—Cramlington.—J. R. Chastney, Quarry Cottage.
Nov. 22.—Arbroath.—J. Gray, 23, Guthrie Port.
Nov. 22.—Chester-le-Street.—R. M. Ward, 16, Wark St.
Nov. 22.—Cockermouth.—J. Jackson, 14, Crown St.
Nov. 25.—Tideswell. W. F. Swarbrick, High St.

Received diploma and cash special. I am very fond of my diploma; it is splendid. I wish your coupon scheme every success.—R. Parker (Wolstanton).

Accept best thanks for fine diploma of honour, which I received quite safe.—J. Gillespie (Durham).

Many thanks for the lovely diploma safely received this morning; I am very pleased to have won it.—(Mrs.) M. H. Askham (Torquay).

Thank you very much for the diploma. It is splendid, and it is well worth anybody's while to try for one.—Wm. Bradley (Heanor).

Received diploma, won in Newcastle foreign section, for which I thank you very much. It looks very neat, and I shall prize it.—C. G. Petterson (Gateshead).

I am very pleased with the diploma of honour won at Sheffield show. It is a treat, and something to be proud of.—J. Chadwick (Bridlington).

The Next Coupon Shows.

Entries for the above shows are due to close now, and should be sent on at once. Those who wish to join in CAGE BIRDS Coupon Competition should note the paragraph "How Exhibitors May Enter," printed below. Secretaries will be glad to affix the necessary coupons to the entry forms of exhibitors if the conditions of entry are duly observed.

CRAMLINGTON has 17 classes, covering Nor., Bord., Yorks., A.O.V. Can., Hyb. and Brit. Prize-money, 14s.; entry fee, 1s. Entries close Nov. 17.

ARBROATH has 37 classes, covering Nor., Bord., A.O.V. Can., Hyb., Brit., and For. Prize-money, 20s.; fee, 1s. 6d. Entries close Nov. 17.

CHESTER-LE-STREET has 27 classes, covering Nor., Yorks., Bord. (with novice classes in each), Crest, Brit., and For. Prize-money, 14s.; fee, 1s. Entries close Nov. 18.

COCKERMOUTH has 38 classes, covering Bord., Yorks. (1 novice class), Nor., A.O.V. Can., Hyb., Brit., and For. Prize-money, 17s. 6d.; fee, 1s. 6d. Entries close Nov. 17.

TIDESWELL has 36 classes, covering Yorks., Nor. (novice classes in each), Crest, Lancs., Liz., A.O.V. Can., Hyb., Brit., and For. Prize-money, 17s. 6d.; fee, 1s. 6d. Entries close Nov. 21.

Schedules of Haltwhistle and Preston shows do not seem to have reached us.

How Exhibitors May Enter.

All who intend entering Coupon birds at these shows must do so under these conditions:—CAGE BIRDS offers the following Championship Competition prizes:—

10s. cash for best champion coupon bird.
10s. cash for best novice coupon bird.

Diplomas of honour for the best champion and the best novice coupon birds in each of the following sections; or in as many of these sections as are included in the classification:—

(1) Yorkshire Canaries.
(2) Norwich.
(3) Crests & Crestbreds.
(4) Border Fancies.
(5) Scotch Fancies and Belgians.
(6) Greens.
(7) Lancs. and Lizards.
(8) Any Other Variety Canary.
(9) Mules & Hybrids.
(10) British, Hardbilled.
(11) British, Softbilled.
(12) Foreign.

All the exhibitor has to do is to stick one of CAGE BIRDS Coupons on his entry form and write "C.B." opposite each bird he wishes to compete; except if a novice, when he must write "C.B. Novice."

Coupons, price 6d. each, may be purchased from the offices of CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C., or, if the time is short, enclose the necessary extra cash with your entry fees to the secretary of the show, and he will affix coupons opposite whichever birds you have marked on your entry form. Every coupon is numbered and a record of it kept at CAGE BIRDS offices.

NOTE CAREFULLY.—A coupon must be affixed to the entry form opposite every bird intended to compete in this Championship Competition. Any number of coupon birds may be entered by any exhibitor, either in one section or in several, as may be desired, so long as a coupon is used for each bird. For every coupon bird, of course, the usual entry fee must be paid to the show officials. Entries in CAGE BIRDS Championship Competition are accepted only on the understanding that the governing rules as published in CAGE BIRDS are to be absolutely final and legally binding.

A Brief Outline of the Scheme.

The main idea of CAGE BIRDS Championship Competition is to discover which are the Twelve Best Champion Birds and the Twelve best Novice Birds of the Season. The Competition is in progress at over 80 shows (see list appended), which cover every quarter of the United Kingdom.

FIRST PRIZE, £3;
FOURTH PRIZE, 10s.

The following cash prizes will also be offered for competition at the Crystal Palace Show:—£10 10s. for the best Coupon bird exhibited in the Champion classes in the above twelve sections; £10 10s. for the best Coupon bird shown by a novice other than the winner in the Champion Section. We shall also offer A TEN GUINEA CHALLENGE SHIELD, to be won three times in succession for the best bird at the Crystal Palace Show entered in our Competition.

For full Rules see issue of Oct. 25th.

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and must conclude with either the correct name of querist or a pseudonym, or initials.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query. In no case must the address appear on the query.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated in bold letters on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—If an answer in the same week's issue is desired, queries must be posted to reach us by Monday's first post at latest. Queries will be dealt with in the order in which they are received, and only as space permits. The earlier queries are received the better attention they are likely to have.

(7)—Queries relating to illnesses of birds, except enquiries as to cause of death (for which see Post Mortems) will be answered by return of post on receipt of a postal order for sixpence and an addressed stamped envelope. Queries of an ordinary nature will be answered by post, if desired, on receipt of a postal order for one shilling and a stamped addressed envelope.

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence, otherwise their letters will not receive attention. All the fees received from this source will be handed over in full to the "Referee's" Poor Childrens' Fund (London).

NOTE.—If an answer is required concerning the proper mating, etc., of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Cinnamons, Greens, Borders, Lizards, Scotch or any other variety of the Canary family, we shall, should the querist desire us to do so, be pleased to submit his questions for answer to some leading specialist of the day on the variety concerned.

CANARY QUERIES

GAPING (F. J. K.).—You might try a little more ventilation when the weather is muggy, as it has so often been of late, but do not go too far and set up draughts In addition to the staple of plain canary seed give separately every other day for a fortnight half a teaspoonful of scalded summer rape to each bird affected as you describe, and on the alternate days give a similar quantity of crushed sponge cake, with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion and four of sherry mixed in it, and sprinkled with maw seed. Twice each week give a morsel of banana, and for the next fortnight give the paste, and also the squills mixture in the water which you will see advised to "Novice E. T." in this issue. By the way, is your house substantially built, so as to be tolerably free from extremes of temperature?

AVIARY AND BREED (R. G. R.).—I think you have done quite right to cover the back and roof of your aviary with felt. You might even have gone a little further, and covered the whole of the front side of roof with the felt, and thus helped to keep the floor of the aviary dry in wet weather. There is no advantage at all in having the roof open. It will probably be no advantage to have grass on the floor of the outer portion, but you might try it as you suggest on a portion of the space, and see how it answers. Unless the west end of the aviary is fully exposed to the elements I do not see the necessity for any further protection than you would get from a creeper or two, such as ampelopsis, hops, or a mixture of both, trained over the wire at this end. A good-sized bush or two of yew or box a few feet away from the west end of the aviary would afford good shelter if you found any more advisable to screen off the winds. The Roller, if bred, and kept under normal conditions, is, as your experience shows, quite capable of living outside all the year round. It is, in fact, as hardy and easy to manage as any variety you could take up. Still, if you wish to try some other variety, Clear Norwich, Yorkshire, or Border Fancy will suit you in the order named.

OBSTINATE DIARRHŒA (H. B. S.).—I think there must be something wrong wrong with your feeding, or, perhaps, the locality or situation where you keep the birds may be very relaxing. See that your hemp particularly is sound and sweet in the kernel, and that your rape is really summer rape, and of good quality. Good summer rape certainly ought not to increase the looseness as you say. The tendency is decidedly in the other direction. Neither do I think the Standard bread would be likely to cause the looseness, and giving the water supply cold certainly would not cause it. Try the following treatment for a fortnight, and then write again and say what effect it has. But be sure and look into the quality of the seeds, as just mentioned. Continue to give a staple of plain canary seed, but in addition to this give half a teaspoonful of boiled summer rape every second day, and on the alternate days a morsel of bread and milk dusted with carbonate of bismuth, and also a pinch of a mixture of equal parts hemp, teazle, and maw. Do not give any green food at present, but a morsel of banana may be given two or three times a week on the days when you are giving the boiled rape. Keep the cage floor and perches as clean as possible, and cover the floor with clean dry sawdust instead of sand until the looseness is checked. Give a supply of gritty sand in a tin on the floor of the cage. It would be much more advisable to clean the cages at least twice a week whilst this trouble lasts. In the drinking water give a pinch of Epsom salts for one day only, and after this give six drops of tincture of gentian, and four of tincture of opium in the water daily until the droppings become normal.

PUFFY AND WHEEZY (Thirkley).—The bird is doubtless suffering from digestive trouble, which is the cause of its condition. Treat as follows for a month, and if not quite well by the end of that time write again, and I will advise you further. In addition to the staple diet of plain canary seed give separately half a teaspoonful of summer rape every second day, and twice a week on the alternate days give a morsel of bread and milk, with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw seed. On two other days give a pinch of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, millet, teazle, and black rape. Give a small spray of green food, or a morsel of banana, two or three times a week. In the drinking water add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much sulphate of soda as will cover a sixpence every second day for a week, and afterwards five drops each of tincture of gentian, tinct. of calumba, and aromatic sulphuric acid every second day for a fortnight. See that bird is not exposed to any cold draughts, and do not allow it to hang near or over a burning light in the evening.

A GREAT TOPER (A. G. B.).—The bird is suffering from diarrhœa, and the excessive drinking is an effect rather than a cause. Feed as advised to "Thirkley" in this issue, for a fortnight, but in your case scald the rape fresh every day before giving it to the bird, and also give a pinch of good sound hemp every second day, alternately with the scalded rape, and on each of these days during the first week add a small piece of bread and milk dusted over with carbonate of bismuth. Give no green food for the present, but a morsel of banana instead will do no harm. Add a pinch of Epsom salts to the drinking water for one day only, and after this give six drops of tincture of gentian and four of tincture of opium daily until the droppings become normal.

A WRONG START (Fed Up).—No, you are not proceeding on quite correct lines to start successfully. You ought not to keep the birds of both sexes together in one cage. You might keep all the hens together in the Crystal Palace aviary, but the cocks should be kept separately, either all together in another large cage or aviary, or singly in smaller cages. The latter method is necessary if you want the cocks to sing their best during the winter months. It is quite possible the birds you have bought for cocks are really of this sex, as, being in the aviary with the hens at this season would tend to keep them from coming into song for some time. Cage those you believe to be cocks separately, in single cages, and you will probably soon have more convincing evidence of their sex. The only way you can hope to pick out the cocks if they do not make any efforts at singing is to take the most alert and upstanding birds, showing the most dominant and pushful demeanous, the boldest eye, and the richest colour on the lower part of back, butts of wings, and on the throat at the base of the lower mandible. The under-tail coverts are usually better padded, making a more graceful outline from the abdomen to the tail. The call is also more clear, incisive, and metallic, compared with the harsh note of the hen. If you succeed in sexing the cocks they will doubtless begin to sing sufficiently to betray their true sex very soon after being caged singly.

BEST TIME TO BUY (H. L.).—From now until about the end of January is the best time to buy stock after they are quite over the moult. If you wait until March there is a risk of being too late to get just the birds you wish, and there is always less to select from. You cannot do better than follow the advice you will find in "Our Canaries," which will help you to avoid many pitfalls. (2) I cannot tell whether you can breed successfully outdoors without knowing something of your conditions, where, and how you purpose keeping the birds, and to what extent the situation is sheltered or exposed. You will find this question fully discussed in "Our Canaries," which, you say you are sending for. (3) As a beginner you cannot do better than start with one of the hardy and easily-managed, free-breeding varieties, such as Border Fancy, Norwich, or Yorkshire.

AFTER THE MOULT (Novice, E. T.).—The bird seems to have got a little cold during the moult, which clings to it, as might be expected of a bird which is of a rather weakly nature, as this one doubtless is. Keep him in a cosy part of the room, and feed him for a fortnight the same as advised to "Thirkley" in this issue. Also make a paste by mixing on a hot plate a teaspoonful of honey, the same quantity of cod liver oil emulsion, as much chlorate of potash as will cover a shilling, and the same quantity of powdered grain of paradise. Mix thoroughly together with the blade of a knife, adding meanwhile sufficient finely-powdered biscuit to make the mass into a paste of the consistency of soft cheese. When cold it will become a little harder, and may be cut into small cubes as required for use. Stick a cube in the wires for the bird to peck at, and renew it from time to time as it becomes necessary for two or three weeks. In the drinking water add twenty drops of whiskey, five each of oxymel of squills and ipecacuanha wine, and ten of lemon juice, daily for a week or so.

SAMPLE OF CANARY SEED (P.R.).—The sample of canary seed sent is of very fair all round quality, and is quite good enough to feed young Norwich, or in fact any other variety of Canary.

MOULTING AND PANTING (M.L.A.).—It is a very common thing for any physical weakness to show itself in an exaggerated degree during the moulting period, and I suspect your bird has had some bronchial weakness for some time, though it may not have shown itself to more than a slight extent until after the moult commenced. Keep it in a fairly warm and equable temperature to expedite the moult, but see that the atmosphere is pure and fresh, and free from any direct cold draughts. Offer a bath only about twice a week when the weather is mild, and always in the early part of the day. In addition to the staple seed diet give a morsel of bread and milk with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw every second day for a fortnight. In the drinking water give six drops of syrup of rhubarb, and as much sulphate of soda as will cover a sixpence for three consecutive days, and afterwards 20 drops of whisky, five each of oxymel of squills and ipecacuanha wine, and two of eucalyptus oil, well shaken together, every second day for a fortnight, or longer if necessary.

EVIL COMMUNICATIONS (Enquirer).—It depends upon the quality of the Rollers whether it would ruin their song to keep them in the same room as Linnets. In such circumstances there would always be a few exceptional specimens which would mimic some of the Linnet notes, but not every Roller would do so, and in the case of ordinary untrained Rollers it is simply a matter of taste whether anything they acquired from the Linnets would be a detriment. But if you refer to Rollers which have been trained to sing a good, pure song, it would most certainly be very risky to keep them in such a position if you wished to preserve the purity of their song. The risk is not exactly that they would drop their own song and acquire that of the Linnets, nor yet lose their vocal powers, but that they would doubtless sooner or later pick up stray notes from the Linnets, and intersperse them casually among their own notes to the detriment of the latter.

FOOT DOUCLED UP (W.S.M.).—You ought to have said how long it is since you first noticed the toes curled underneath the foot, or how long it has had the habit of sitting on the floor? If the deformity is of any standing, my advice is to leave it severely alone, as no treatment, short of amputation, is likely to remove it, and will only put the bird to unnecessary suffering. There may be some other cause for the bird not perching, as with only one foot deformed it should be able to perch, and hop about perches, on the sound foot with great ease. Make the perches decidedly flat on top surface, but with no sharp ridge, and oval-shaped underneath. Place them in a quite convenient position, not overcrowded, and bathe the feet once a day in a warm solution of boracic acid—a teaspoonful of acid in a saucerful of warm water. After bathing, dry carefully, and paint all over feet with a feather dipped in Friar's Balsam. If this does not put matters right, write again in the course of a week or so, and give particulars mentioned above.

MOULTING AND MOPY (Anxious, Rotherham). Your treatment must be very faulty, I fancy. To give a bird half a tablespoonful of mixed seed as a tit-bit every second day, as you say you do, is most excessive. Half a teaspoonful would be quite sufficient. The sample of mixture sent is a very fair all-round mixture for occasional use in proper quantities. If you are quite sure the bird is not exposed to draughts, see that it is also in a fairly equable place, and not exposed to the heated fumes from burning lights in the evenings, and see that its cage is free from red mites. Having attended to these points, give, in addition to the staple diet, half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with four drops of sherry and two of cod liver oil emulsion mixed in it every second day, and on the alternate days a similar quantity of summer rape and a morsel of banana. Twice a week give the same quantity of the seed mixture of which you sent sample. In the drinking water give daily for one week twenty drops of whiskey, and five of syrup of saffron, and after this give four drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of calumba, and aromatic sulphuric acid, every second day for a fortnight. Continue the above dietary for three or four weeks.

BLACKBIRD UNWELL (Irish Terrier).—Your bird is probably suffering from indigestion, which is an ailment many hand-reared birds are subject to. The Blackbird is not by any means the hardy subject (as regards food) that some imagine, and requiries at times, really good high-class feeding. You had better put into a small drinker about half a dozen drops of syrup of rhubarb and a piece of glauber salts about the size of a pea. Give him this every other day for a week—that will be three times. Procure some good insectile food, and make a complete change in his diet. When you have finished with the medicine, give him a spoonful of bread every morning that has been sopped in hot milk and then squeezed nearly dry. This he will easily digest, and it should help him along to recovery. See that he does not catch cold, but give him facilities for bathing on bright sunny days. When nearly recovered, four drops of tincture of gentian in the water would brace him up.

COLOUR-FEEDING HYBRIDS (Enquirer).—If you are anxious to moult your hybrids out a good rich colour another year, you must commence to give them colour-food some time before they begin to drop their feathers, say, not later than the middle of July. The idea is to get the colouring matter well into the blood before they moult. You need not make your food strong to begin with, or you will possibly have some difficulty in getting the birds to eat it freely. The colour food is sweet tasteless pepper pods ground into powder; this you mix with egg and biscuit and give a little to the bird every day during the moult. All good vendors of colour food supply you with directions, and you cannot do better than follow these. It is usual to give the birds a little every week during the show season, not only to keep up the colour, but for fear a feather or two get knocked out, which, of course, would be replaced by lighter ones if the bird was not fed.

SEX OF BLACKBIRD (W. C. Tucker).—Your Blackbird is probably a male, and will no doubt soon come into song strongly. The low warbling is its preliminary song. Your description is quite in keeping with the plumage of a young cock bird. After its first moult the beak is generally dark, and there are always some brownish mottlings under the throat, and the wing feathers are more or less brown. These will disappear at the next moult, and the bird come out a rich deep black.

MATING FINCHES AND CANARIES (Fresh Starter).—I would advise you to select your hen Canaries as mates for your Finches as early as possible, one hen for the Linnet cock, and one or two for the Goldfinch, whichever you prefer, as it is quite a simple matter to run the Goldie with two hens if you feel disposed to do so. Put the Linnet and his partner in a good big cage, and let them fly together during the winter months, and in another cage place the Goldie and the two hens (that is if you decide to try two). As the Goldfinch will require rather richer feeding than the hens, it is a good plan to use what is known as a three-compartment breeding cage, and occasionally shut him off by himself, and give him a good feed of hemp and mixed seeds. If you do not do this, you had better be liberal in your use of sunflower seed. This is good for the Goldie, and the hens will not hurt if they take some also. (2) Both the crosses between Finches and Canaries and between two British birds are really Hybrids, although fanciers usually describe the former (that is with one parent as a Canary), as Mules, and those between the two British birds as Hybrids.

MIXED SEEDS FOR FINCHES (Paul).—You can hardly with safety feed Goldfinches and Bullfinches on the same seeds—that is, mixed in the same proportions. For instance, Goldfinches will thrive on a fair quantity of good hemp, and do well on it, but the same amount given to Bullfinches would probably prove fatal. If you must keep the two species together, you had better accustom them to eat sunflower in place of hemp, as it is far less stimulating. I would advise you to feed them on separate mixtures, if possible, say for the Goldfinch, one part teazel, half part linseed, one part hemp, half part niger; give him a spoonful of this every other day, and a pot of canary always on hand. He should also have a few sunflower seeds, say, half a dozen daily, and a pinch of maw seed occasionally. This will keep him in fine condition. He should be kept in a good sized cage, and have green-food or flowering seed-heads when procurable. The Bullfinch must not be fed so liberally. Let canary and rape be his staple food, with a spoonful of the above mixed seeds once a week, and the sunflower seeds daily. If he shows signs of putting on weight you must reduce the sunflowers, but he should not do so with a nice cage for exercise.

LOSS OF VOICE (J.F.).—Your bird has at some time caught a cold, which has affected the throat. It should have been attended to at once, as these cases are sometimes very obstinate when they have been neglected. I would advise you to make a mixture of honey, glycerine, and fresh lemon juice, in equal quantities, and put 20 drops in his drinking water. A few drops of cod liver oil emulsion, on some bread that has had hot milk poured over it, and then squeezed dry, will greatly assist him. Let him have plenty of fresh air, but do not hang him outside on dull or wet days, and take him in early in the evening. It would be as well, if you value the bird, to procure a little high-class insectile food, and give him that in place of your present mixture.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

AILING BUDGERIGAR (F. W. Todd).—I should say this bird does not get sufficient exercise, as your diet is about right; you might offer it a little sweet apple. On receipt of this reply, take away the drinking water and put in place of same a small vessel (not metal) containing one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia, and do not remove this till you see the bird has had a good drink. After it has done so, fill up the vessel with water and leave it in for the day. Give in all six such doses with an interval of three days between each; and on the days you are not giving the above, put half a teaspoonful of byno-phosphates in the drinking water. Keep a millet spray in the cage, and at the end of the period stated report progress, but if the bird can be given a fly round the room occasionally, it will be greatly benefited thereby.

WHAT BIRD? (Constant Reader).—The bird you describe is the Indian Shama. It will thrive with you on some good insectile mixture (soft food) and live insects. As regards the latter, mealworms will be the stand-by during the winter, but any spider, earwig, beetle, smooth caterpillar, gentles, ants, and wasp grubs can be given. The bird should not be kept to one kind of insect; vary these so far as the respective seasons will permit. It is a bold, active bird, and should have a roomy cage, but as it is already very tame, it will benefit greatly by a daily fly round the room—of course, with closed windows and doors, and a fire screen. Its value is 30s. to 35s., when there is a good supply on the market, but much more when scarce.

BUDGERIGAR WITH GROWTH (E. F. A.).—It will be far better to leave the growth alone. I expect the abnormal part will scale away in due course. It will be well, however, to put the bird on a course of phosphates for a time. You only require a small drinker for these birds, one holding about one fluid ounce is sufficient, as they drink very little. For a month, at least, put half a teaspoonful of byno-phosphates in the drinking water daily, except that twice weekly you use one teaspoonful of Dinneford's Magnesia in lieu of the phosphates. Give them a small leaf of lettuce, first cutting out the fleshy midrib. If the growth develops into a sore, you must first well cleanse (gently) the sore with tepid water, and then anoint with a little healing ointment; but you must not use sufficient of the latter to run among and grease the plumage. Shall be pleased to hear how the bird progresses a little later.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. Subjects for post mortem examination must be sent packed in a box direct to Mr. Yates, with the fee, this and any accompanying letter being kept from contact with the dead bird. Send by letter post; it is cheaper and quicker than parcel post. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

Miss Tucker.—Bird was suffering from a catarrhal fever extending to and involving the nervous system, and of an infectious nature. Your suspicions are not justified, and, taken together with the fact that you have no evidence of birds having been tampered with, your suggestion is impossible. Bromide would only tend to aggravate the trouble by depressing the nervous system, and debilitating the patient; quinine or ammoniated tincture of quinine would have been a more suitable remedy.

R. D. Williams.—Broncho-pneumonia. The bird was quite sound otherwise; nor is it due to any infectious element. It arises in the first place from chill. Keep your birds free from draughts, and warm.

Rev. J. T. Steele.—Pneumonia was the cause of death—a not uncommon occurrence during or just after the moult. It was a very acute attack.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

Malton Mystery.—We cannot take notice of anonymous communications.

W. Bradley.—Yes, you are still entitled to try for the 10s. cash special.

W. Jessup.—The Photos. are not particularly good, but we will certainly see if we can utilise them.

Pea-throat.—A Goldfinch with a white spot in its blaze (pea-throat) is of no use for competition in an ordinary Goldfinch class.

Major Harley.—Will have sketch made, and utilise next week. Many thanks.

J. P. S.—What you want to ask your chemist for is sulphuretted potash.

Perplexed.—The question you raise is much too delicate for us to deal with. The police are awkward customers to tackle. You should put the full facts before a local solicitor and be guided by him; the cost will be small.

D. McF.—If we were to publish your letter we should have a writ for libel in our office the next day. We can hardly find time to indulge in sleep as it is, owing to the deluge of shows, and if we were hauled into the law courts—well—

Lover of Animals.—We are quite in agreement with your point of view, but the practice of stag hunting is not one that we can deal with in this journal.

Mrs. Monger.—Thanks for the excellent photograph, which we will utilise in our next special issue.

LEICESTER C.B.S.

Table show held Bull's Head Hotel, Nov. 5. Mr. W. Judd judged and gave complete satisfaction.

CANARY 1, 2, Gamble; 3, Bardsley. MULE OR HYB. 1, 3, Abe, he Brooks; 2, c, Leighton. Mr. Leighton gave a successful working exhibition which was both interesting and instructive, especially to the younger members. Schedules for the members' show was put before the members and passed. It is to be hoped that all will rally round for members' show and make as many entries as possible to make the show a success.—J. Cook.

BURNLEY O.S.

Meeting, held Nov. 6, at the Star Inn, Church Street, Mr. Barwise in chair. There was a good turn up of members. The chief item was the washing exhibition, given by Messrs. J. Baker, J. Barwise, W. Spencer, and T. Edwards. Much interest was taken when that well-known fancier and judge, T. Edwards, was washing. The exhibition was very much appreciated by the novices. We have added a £1 selling class to the members' show. A vote of thanks was passed to Host T. Edwards, and Messrs. J. Baker, H. Spencer, and Barwise, which concluded a well conducted meeting.—G. H. Whittaker, Sec.

LOCHGELLY AND DIST. C.B.S.

Annual general meeting, Nov. 8. Mr. Thomas Wildridge occupied the chair. Secretary submitted report and balance sheet of the year's transactions, and was pleased to record a substantial balance to credit on our show held October 11th. We have no hesitation in stating that had birds had a better moulting season, a record entry would have been the result. The society, however, has cause to congratulate themselves, as 805 entries are not to be recorded in many country shows. Secretary intimated that all specials, trophies, etc., should be by this time in the hands of winners. Any who may have been overlooked should at once communicate. —R. Muir, Sec.

BARGOED AND DISTRICT C.B.S.

Meeting held Parker's Temperance Hotel, October 23, Mr. H. Bye in the chair. Mr. C. Farrow, of Merthyr, entertained with a washing exhibition. After he had finished he put a member to wash one. At the conclusion he generously offered a medal for the best staged bird at our meeting, Nov. 8, and J. Vivian was the winner. We are all very grateful to him for the trouble he has taken. We were very pleased to see his CAGE BIRDS diploma, which his bird won at Leicester Show. I have been asked if our club is open for members outside Bargoed. We shall be pleased to have members from anywhere. Our meeting night is altered from Tuesday to Saturday, to make it more convenient for members outside the town. Next meeting, Nov. 22, at 6.30; fanciers, please come.—E. J. Chisholm, Sec.

GREEN CANARY ASSOCIATION.

Novice night show will be held at next meeting, Oldham Hall, Renshaw Street, Liverpool. Classification: Self or foul yellow cock, do. buff, self or foul yellow hen, do. buff (in each section), clear, ticked, or uneven marked yellow, do. buff, do. yellow hen, do. buff (in each section). Britisb open Goldfi., Bullfi., Linnet, Greenfi., Siskin, Twite, or Redpoll. Judges, Yorks., T. Rowlands; Nor., J. Walker; Bord., G. Green; Brit., J. Lloyd. Everything for the old show will be settled, and specials allotted. We hope members will endeavour to fill the classes better in the outside competition. We are glad to see the novice competition booming; keep it up, the specials are worth winning.—F. Handley, Hon. Sec.

CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE

CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE is an organisation of bird keepers and bird-lovers, banded together in mutual interest to promote good-fellowship and union, to inculcate the principles of humane cage bird keeping, and to protect the hobby against unjustifiable interference.

HENRY J. FULLJAMES,
154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

How to become an Associate.

Many readers of CAGE BIRDS have written to say that they would like to join CAGE BIRDS' LEAGUE, but cannot afford the subscription. To meet their wishes we have decided to form, in connection with the LEAGUE, a body of Associates. All we ask of these Associates is that they will promise to give every possible attention to the wants of their birds. And they must induce others to see that their birds are kept happy and contented.

All that the intending Associate has to do is either to sign the coupon herewith, and send the same, together with sevenpence, or to get five of his or her friends to sign each a similar coupon, and send the six, together with a penny stamp, to the Secretary of CAGE BIRDS LEAGUE, who will forward by return an enamelled Button Badge of the LEAGUE. There will be no other charge. NOW, THEN, BIRD LOVERS!—USE YOUR BEST EFFORTS IN THIS SPLENDID CAUSE.

THE BIRD LOVER'S PLEDGE.

I hereby promise to take every care of my feathered pets and to induce others to do the same

BOURNEMOUTH.

The Bournemouth fanciers managed to put up a record show at the Drill Hall on Nov. 11th and 12th. In this hall the Bournemouth members have one with which the most critical could scarcely find a fault. Roomy, with grand light, freedom from draughts, and a comfortable temperature, it made judging and sight-seeing a pleasure. The six hundred birds were well looked after, and beautifully staged, and the hall was tastefully decorated. Although the weather was not upon its best behaviour, there was a capital gathering of visitors, who appeared to thoroughly enjoy the fine collection. The unlighted Nor. cocks managed to muster twenty-six, and the hens fifteen a real good lot. Yorks. were a classy lot, many winners at other shows turning up. Mr. Fulford (Christ Church) put down a very hot team, and won spl. for best members' bird, with a lovely yell. hen. Mr. Holliday secured spl. best unflighted. The two leaders in the Crest class, owned by Mr. John Broad, and Mr. G. Davy, were difficult to separate, the former winning the spl. for best bird in show, and the latter CAGE BIRDS 10s. spl. for best champion coupon bird. The novice classes were well filled, and contained some remarkably good specimens. Mr. Harris (Winton) secured "C.B." novice spl., and Mr. E. J. Edwards the novice cup for best members' bird, with grand Yorkies. In the British classes, Mr. Burr did remarkably well. The foreign birds were a magnificent collection. Miss M. Bousfield had out a wonderful team, and is to be heartily congratulated upon their splendid condition.

The management was splendid. The genial secretary, Mr. J. A. Crawshaw, is in his element at a Bird show; thoughtful and considerate, he has everything in order. In the secretarial department he is ably assisted by the treas., Mr. L. Bousfield. The helpers are a good band of fanciers, with Mr. Jones, the popular chairman, at their head. The lady members, Miss Penrice, and Miss Onslow, both lent their aid, as did also Messrs. House, Fulford, Bryant, Davis, Hill, and Matthews. The show was opened by E. A. N. Cecil, Esq., supported by Mr. and Mrs. Parry-Crooke. Among the numerous visitors during the opening day were the Mayor and Mayoress of Bournemouth. The judges were Mr. J. H. Roe, Canaries, and Mr. H. Norman, Hyb., Brit., and For.

BRISTOL.

Seventh annual show held Nov. 12 and 13, in the Kingsley Hall, a really nice place, having plenty of top-light and being quite free from any draughts. Owing, no doubt, to the number of shows held on the same dates, the entries in many of the classes were down, but the quality right through was most excellent. The exhibits were nicely staged, and were most thoroughly attended to by a good committee. Members' cup best 1913 Yorks. was won by Mr. Yorke with a lovely clear buff hen. The Nor. cup went to Mr. Tristem with a grand shaped, hot-coloured eye-tipped yellow. Mr. Coggins captured Brit. cup with lovely Yellow Wagtail. We are asked to state that should there be errors in catalogue, it is entirely due to the late entries. Mrs. Pool makes an ideal hon. sec., being most courteous and obliging, and keeping everything well in hand. She received excellent help from Mr. Garland and Mrs. Tristem; in fact, ladies were strongly in evidence at this show. We trust they will be rewarded with a good gate. Mr. J. H. Payne judged, and his awards seemed well received.

CREST (2): 3, Greenwood and Burson, clear body, D.C., large round crest, good drop, capital body; vhc, Pool. C.B. REPEATING OF ADVERTISEMENTS

Correspondence.

British Birds at the Horticultural Hall Show.

Sir,—May I be allowed to make it known that the classes which I have undertaken to judge at the above show are all the champion Hardbills and the three for large Softbills; Mr. Longden, I take it, being responsible for the other Softbills. The otherwise admirably compiled L.C.B.A. schedule does not make this clear, but as an exhibitor myself, I know that practically all exhibitors like to know definitely who is to judge their exhibits. This is my sole reason for seeking the hospitality of your columns. I have nothing to add save to express the sincere hope that we shall be favoured with a bumping entry from the whole of the United Kingdom, and so provided with the task of our lives.

C. PRIOR.

Do Early Entries at Shows Get Badly Staged?

Sir,—It may, or may not, be true, but I have been informed that the early entries get placed on the show bench in the most unfavourable positions. Now, there are complaints often from secretaries as to late entries; it is obviously unfair to treat the early entries to worst position on the show bench; it is unreasonable to give hard working secretaries more work than necessary. Therefore, to kill two birds with one stone I venture to suggest that the first entries be placed in a central position and the late entries on either side as they come in. This arrangement would be quite fair to those who try to help by sending in early, and would materially assist secretaries generally.

The Foreign Bird Exhibitors' League.

Sir,—In addition to a fine pair of Chinese vases, on stands, offered to members of the League for the best exhibit in rare Parrakeets, by Mr. Jamrach, the Hon. Mrs. Bourke has kindly given two cash specials of five shillings each for the lady and the gentleman making most entries in foreign birds. I take the present opportunity of pointing out a matter that is not quite clear in the L.C.B.A. schedule (although generally known to members of the L.C.B.A. and the F.B.E.L.) and that is that the entrance fee in Open Foreign Bird classes is 2s. for everyone, members of the L.C.B.A. paying (in these classes only) the same entrance fee as members of the F.B.E.L. and the public generally.

A Playful and Talkative Pet Budgerigar.

Sir,—Seeing the article in CAGE BIRDS about Budgerigars, I thought you would like to hear about the one we have named "Billy." This bird was bred in Mr. S. Martin's aviary, Gt. Harwood, and came to our house quite young. This bird has, with careful training, become very tame indeed; not only does he play all sorts of pranks, such as swinging with one leg, head downwards, tipping over at the side of the cage, but will come out of the cage and come on the arm or finger at call, and will "kiss" me if I ask him to, and so on. But the most remarkable feature of this bird is that he can speak quite distinctly, he is continually saying "Come on Billy," "Billy come on," "Pretty Billy," "Billy's a duck," etc. This bird has surprised many people who would not believe till they saw and heard him for themselves.

JOHN WHITESIDE.

The Missing Norwich Hen at the City of Glasgow Show.

Sir,—It is with regret I have to announce the loss of a variegated hen, No. 4 in class 29, belonging to Mr. A. Harris, of Kirkcaldy, at our last show. I understand that the bird in question was on the bench at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, but when the committee were packing about 5 p.m. the bird was not to be found. Some exhibitor had either maliciously or carelessly taken away this bird, and if he be an honest fancier he will now have the exhibit returned to me along with the cage. Further, I shall be pleased to learn from any visitor or exhibitor if they saw this bird being lifted, or packed, or otherwise, during the afternoon or evening of Saturday. Such information will be greatly appreciated not only by the officials of the society, but by the owner himself.

Late Departure of a Swift.

Sir,—I have noticed several times just recently, especially to day (Nov. 7) a Swift flying about a local tennis court situated on the banks of the River Wye. For this time of the year is this not unusual; is it due to the very mild autumn?

T. Lawley.

Hard Luck for Llanelly.

Sir,—I regret to say that Mr. Daniel John, the worthy secretary of the Llanelly Society, has been admitted into the Llanelly Hospital to undergo an operation. I feel sure that all those fanciers who know him will join us in wishing him a speedy recovery, as it is impossible to over-estimate the value of his services to the society and the Fancy at large.

A "Cage Birds" Fancy Costume Wins Second Prize.

Sir,—I am very pleased to say I won 2nd prize with the fancy costume I made out of Cage Birds coloured plates. I thank you for the plates you sent; they were handsome. I am having a photo taken, and will send you a copy. I think this fancy dress has done good; everybody seemed to like it. I made a cage to fit my head, and put one of my Crested Canaries in it—he did not mind at all.

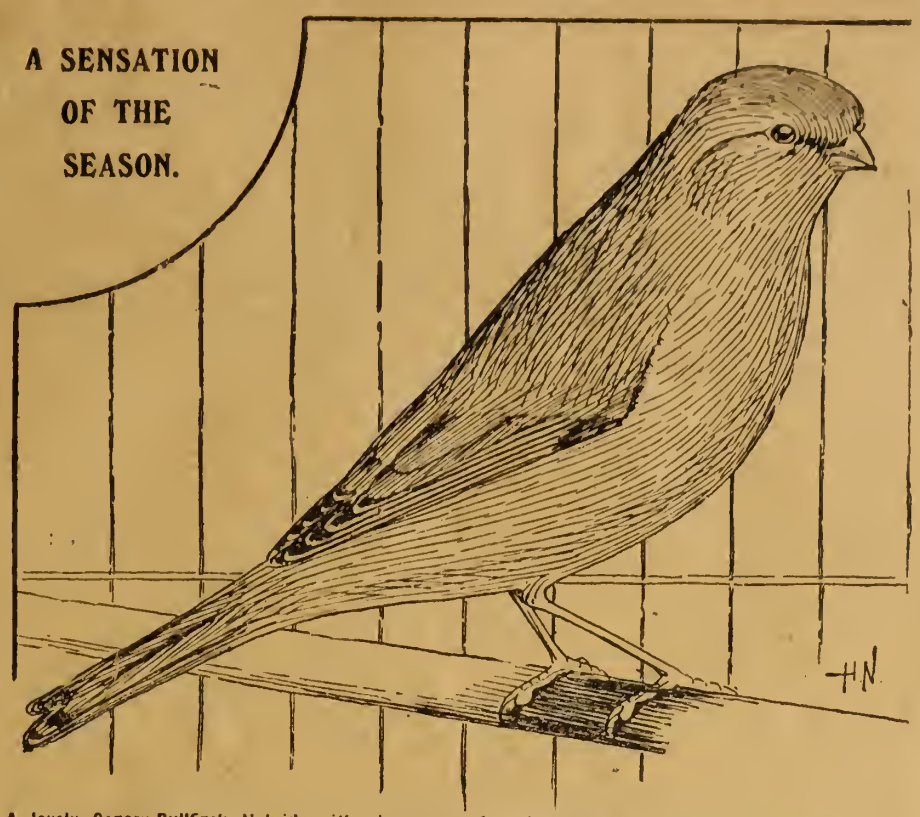
J. Muggeridge.

Why Do Winning Border Fancies Vary in Type?

Sir,—I may state that I have bred Borders for the past fourteen years, and produced many winners. Border men are wondering what is wrong, as the awards are fluctuating in a remarkable manner. I myself had at a show last week a yell. cock, 1st spl. winner in a class of 24, out of cards here, and a yell. variegated, 2nd and spl. in a class of 23, 6th here against birds I have previously beaten. Apparently two or three distinct types are required. Many other fanciers have had similar experiences. Can some expert explain this? It will make interesting reading.

Scottie.

An Interesting Item to Fanciers Around Morpeth.



Sir,—You, along with many fanciers in the North, will be pleased to learn that Mr. Edward Floyd and his father are joining hands for the oncoming season, and are preparing to set up Norwich, Yorkshires and Borders, still keeping—as they have in years past—a fair amount of British birds. Mr. E. Floyd has not been able to see so much of his life-long hobby for two years, owing to so much public work—being a member of the various public boards in the Morpeth Union and Ashington Urban District area—but with the co-operation of his honoured father, who has over forty years' experience, much good can be done to stimulate the Fancy. Mr. Floyd, sen., retired about four years ago, and although advanced in years is still hale and hearty, and having much spare time, can attend to the joint stock, whilst I understand Mr. Floyd will be able to spare the time to lecture and give washing exhibitions. This he does for train fare only to any club who cares to enlist his services. He has much to say on bird life, and his chat is always interesting.

An Admirer.

Judging The Thrush, etc., Class at Sheffield Show.

Sir,—I think, as one of the only two exhibitors (as last year) from London at the above show, I should enter a strong protest against the awarding of a prize in class 74, headed "Thrush, Blackbird, or Starling," to a Missel Thrush. This has now occurred for two years, to my own knowledge; whether it has happened before, I do not know, but should be very sorry if it has. Seeing the error last year, it occurred to me that the same blunder would never occur again, but it has, and the judge has calmly given a Missel Thrush a second prize. I take it for granted that it is quite common knowledge amongst exhibitors that the heading, "Thrush, Blackbird, Starling," does not include any species of Thrush, except Song Thrush. If it did, why not have said so in the schedule? That would have made it quite clear, and then the Nightingales, Fieldfares, and Redwings, Robins, etc. (they are all Thrushes) might have had a run. It is quite surprising to me that this matter has been allowed to get through another year without protest, the schedule being in the hands of such splendid, true and experienced British bird experts (second to none) as run this great and important show in the world-known City of Blades. To have had this matter tested, I should have entered a formal protest if I had been present at the show, so that the judge, with such long experience, could have given his reasons, or explained away his reasons for placing his awards as he did. In my humble opinion, and I think it must be the opinion of brother fanciers and the National British Bird and Mule Club, the Missel Thrush should have been entered in class 76, for large insectivorous birds. Anyway, it is a severe warning for the future, and I shall not again enter a Song Thrush unless a class is properly headed. One small personal item; I should have liked to see those birds which I did not send marked "absent," others were so marked.

A lovely Canary-Bullfinch Hybrid, with cinnamon-coloured plumage, bred by Mr. W. Higham, of Watford, and exhibited at the recent Watford Show, where it took 1st prize and the special prize for best bird in the show.

The Officials of Sheffield O.S. Show Return Thanks.

Sir,—On behalf of the committee, I wish to express our thanks and appreciation to the 299 exhibitors who contributed the 1,244 entries, thus creating a record for Sheffield. All early birds were dispatched as near as possible to exhibitors' wishes, and the remainder were all in the railway company's hands by 10.30, so that if there were any late arrivals or delayed birds, it was no fault of the S.O.S. Committee. I also wish to thank the press for the assistance they have given us.

Wonderful Flight of a Swallow.

From Scotland to the Orange Free State.

Sir,—In sending you the attached, I may mention that the readers of "British Birds" Magazine have now placed over 32,000 rings on wild birds of many kinds and that this is leading to results of great interest and importance in connexion with the study of birds. Should ringed birds ever come into the hands of your readers, I hope they will notify me at once, stating the name on the ring and the number, as well as the date and place where the bird was found. I will then at once inform them when and where the bird was ringed.

H. F. Witherby.

SWALLOW RINGED IN AYRSHIRE AND RECOVERED IN ORANGE FREE STATE.

In August I received a letter from Mr. A. C. Theron dated from "Riet Vallei, District Lindley, O.F.S." stating that a Swallow had been captured bearing a ring with my name and address. As Mr. Theron gave neither the number of the ring nor the date of capture I asked him for these particulars and have just received his reply and the ring itself. The ring is number E937, and Mr. Theron informs me that the bird was captured at Riet Vallei on March 16th, 1913, and adds: "I do not know when it arrived." This ring was placed on a nestling Swallow by Mr. R. O. Blyth at Skelmorlie, Ayrshire, on July 27th, 1912. A few months ago an adult Swallow ringed in Staffordshire was recorded as having been captured near Utrecht, Natal, in December, and the present record is from about one hundred and fifty miles west of that place, which is not far in comparison with the total length of the journey. In writing of the Natal record I expressed surprise that a Swallow breeding in the far west of Europe should emigrate so far east in South Africa, but now that Dr. Hartert has shown by his observations in the middle of the Sahara that deserts are not necessarily a bar to the passage of migrating birds, as was formerly supposed, it may perhaps be presumed that these Swallows take a more direct line than one would previously have thought possible. This second record, taken in conjunction with the first, is extremely valuable, and we are most grateful both to Mr. Blyth who ringed the Swallow and to Mr. Theron who reported it.

Are Singing Hen Canaries Very Common?

Sir,—I would much like a discussion in your paper about singing hens. It is strange how common singing Canary hens are. I have only kept a very few Canaries, but I have had several singing hens; one had a sweet, low note, quite different to a cock's. Another had a loud triumphant song, also different to a cock's. I have at this present moment a young Yorkshire hen, which has reared eight young ones this season (her first pairing). Now she has been by herself some months, and sings all day. At first it was a low chatter; now the song gets louder and surer every day. It is a song of endless variety, quite different to her mate's (who is just now silent). I also some years ago came across an un-paired Canary hen, which laid eggs, and had a loud, continuous song, just like any cock Canary's. She sang all day. Hoping someone will take up this subject.

The L. and P.O.S. Collection of Stuffed Birds.

Sir,—I again, on behalf of the L. and P.O.S., crave a little of your valuable space to thank the donors who have, since the issue of my last appeal, sent me birds for the above collection, and at the same time, now that the birds are through the moult and in good feather, appeal again to bird-keepers to send any birds in good plumage they may have the misfortune to lose to Messrs. Edward Gerrard and Sons, 61, College Place, Camden Town, N.W., who have my instructions as to stuffing. I now have over 150 birds in the collection, but I am still open for many more. About 550 different species of Foreign birds have been exhibited, if to these be added 80 or 90 species of British birds, nearly 50 varieties of Hybrids, and about 110 varieties of Canaries—in all, nearly 800 birds—it will be seen that I still require a great deal of assistance from fanciers. The only complete classes are the following:—

Norwich:—Cl. or invis. tkd. yell; tkd. or uneven mkd. yell; unfligh. (current season); cl. tkd. or uneven mkd. buff; hen, cl. tkd. or uneven mkd. buff.

Crests and C.B.:—Buff Crested cock, other than cl. body; buff crested hen; buff C.B. cock, green or foul green; buff C.B. cock, A.O.V.; yell. crested cock.

Yorks:—Cl. yell.; cl. buff.

Cinnamons:—Buff hen.

Lizards:—Gold, broken cap.

Roller.

British and Continental:—Bullfinch, Linnet, Chaffinch, Bramblefinch, Nightingale, Blackcap, Siberian Goldfinch.

In mixed classes I also have a number of representatives, and although these are too numerous to particularise here, I still want many in these classes. I hope fanciers will not be deterred by what I have just said from sending on any good specimen. Various other classes may be represented, but in some cases perhaps the stuffed bird has not given me satisfaction, consequent on delay in receiving specimens, or from other causes; and so I am still open in such classes.

The Disqualified Yorkshire at Halifax Show.

Sir,—In reply to Mr. House's letter re bird disqualified at Halifax show, I saw the bird, No. 3, class 12, on Friday, and I examined it thoroughly, and I could find no bare patch. I thought the bird was shown honestly. I read Mr. House's replies in Cage Birds, and I thought it my duty to reply.

R. Sutcliffe.

Sir,—We have read with interest the letters of Messrs. Ogden Bros. and Mr. C. A. House appearing in Cage Birds of 1st and 8th inst., re disqualification at Halifax show. As witnesses before the Yorkshire Union Council, and who saw the bird in Mr. House's hand on the Friday when he disqualified same, we can only say that we corroborate in every detail Mr. House's statement.

The Problem of Migration.

Sir,—Mr. Craig appears to have missed the gist of my letter commenting on Mr. E. Kay Robinson's rhetoric on migration. Humour is not my strong point, but I had hoped that I wasn't putting quite too fine a point on it for even a Scotsman to have seen it. However, if he will read my letter again, he will perhaps discern a faint tinge of sarcasm in it. The migratory problem doesn't interest me greatly, and only such a dogmatic (? idiotic) expression of opinion as was given in Mr. Robinson's contribution could move me to interest myself in it. It is sufficient for me that the birds go and come at their own time and pleasure. Still, one can hardly agree with Mr. Craig's opinion. He says that the birds know the position of the sun, and direct their course accordingly. I am afraid that it is hardly feasible. We are told that birds migrate in their thousands at night. In that case, how do they know in which direction the sun is at midnight, hours after it has passed the horizon? Even if they did know, if they flew in the direction of the sun at night, they would fly across the Atlantic, because the sun sets in the west. Mr. Craig seems to forget that the earth revolves on its axis once every twenty-four hours. After all, I think it must be instinct.

Prize-money and Classes at Open Shows.

Sir,—I am in entire agreement with "Sub Rosa" in this. As an alternative, I would suggest that all shows reduce the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes, and with the cash therefrom extend money and medals list down to at least the 6th bird. Or, let the rank and file form classes of their own. It is clear that the method of amateurs having to enter championship classes to compete, is played out. Every years the entries get less, amateurs giving up in disgust. As evidence, when I was on a visit to an old friend in the Lancashire Fancy, I asked him if he had given up showing. He said, "Yes, and don't you think it's time? I'm tired of paying entrance fees as a novice in championship classes to enable the champions to get full prize-money, whilst the novices have to be satisfied with what you call 'codding' cards. Just fancy, year in year out, 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th invariably in the hands of about five persons, who seem to take turns about." I was sorry to hear this, as he was a thorough game fancier, and a lover of birds. Something ought to be done, and I would call the attention of amateurs to Mr. Ramsden's magnificent offer in your issue of Nov. 1st. This offer is, I think, unexampled, and I intend to use every effort to promote it in all possible ways.

CLEATOR MOOR.

Held Nov. 8th, and taken all round, the show may be pronounced an unqualified success. The Market Hall is an exceptionally good room for an affair of this description, roomy, well lighted, free from draughts, and being on the ground floor, is also easy of access. Yorks. only averaged 7 per class, but several birds of outstanding properties were present. Norwich (37 entries in 5 classes) also contained several excellent birds, the local enthusiasts, Messrs. Sumpton Bros., putting forward a capital team, and scoring well. Borders averaged 10 in the 5 classes provided, and contained birds of exceptional merit, typical, and possessed of that fine quality of feather, without which Borders from an exhibition point of view are useless. British, usually a strong feature here, were nice classes; unfortunately the Softbill classes, also foreign, failed to draw the requisite number of entries, and were cancelled. The management was A1, everything possible for the comfort of exhibits and visitors alike, being readily attended to. The committee responsible for all arrangements comprised Messrs. Thos. Adams, J. G. Sumpton, J. Sumpton, jun., J. Whalley, C. Adams, H. Bakin, R. Fowler, P. Branney, G. and J. Bainbridge, H. McCarter, Syl. Byrne, R. Seward, with Ben Gray (chairman), J. G. Sumpton (treasurer), and J. E. Byrne, a very good and able secretary. Judge, Mr. A. Thornton, Liscard, Cheshire, who on the whole handled the birds well.

QUEENBOROUGH F. AND F.S.

A nice little collection of birds was staged on Nov. 7 and 8; it was a first venture, and great credit is due to the society for the way in which they set about the business. The hon. sec., Mr. A. Cundiff, laboured most assiduously, and although comparatively new to the work, achieved a decided success. His efforts were ably seconded by Mr. G. Moon, assist. sec., and a willing band of committeemen and stewards. The show was opened in felicitous phrases by Capt. E. W. Jaffray, the mayor-elect of Queenborough, who was accompanied by Mrs. Jaffray and other ladies, and it was pleasant to note the interest the ladies took in the show. It is hoped another year to make an even greater success of the exhibition, as Capt. Jaffray heartily assured the committee of his sympathy and that of his friends in the objects of the society. Sp for best Nor. was won by Mr. J. Roberts, who staged a bonny Buff of rare quality and splendid type; best Yorks, a smart upstanding variegated Buff cock shown by Mr. H. A. Olive. Mr. Geo. Gardner judged, and his awards were well received.

NOR. YELL.: 1, Smith, cl., beautiful feather, level col., and nice body; 3, Broadbridge, sweet feathered bird, rattling col., not quite so stout. Open show held at Drill Hall Nov. 11 and 12. Owing no doubt to clashing with Swansea, our section did not come up to expectations. The committee all worked hard to make the show a success, and we noticed Messrs. Cleeves and Mortimer taking a great interest in the welfare of the birds. Mr. W. J. Baker made an excellent show manager, and had everything well in hand. Secretary Mr. Ed. Churchill was also a very obliging and painstaking official. Mr. D. A. S. WEST LONDON F.A.

25th annual show, held Hampshire House Club, Hammersmith, Nov. 6 and 7, under the patronage of Leopold de Rothschild, Esq., and other influential people. Mr. J. Dewhurst, the hon. sec., is an old and well seasoned official, holding office in an Association which can boast of having borne the brunt of a quarter of a century's experience. The room was a suitable one, and the arrangements were eminently satisfactory. There was quite a grand display of Norwich, quality being conspicuous, and many of the birds being very typical. Crests and Crestbreds came up well. Yorks. were not so numerous, but good in quality. The novices came out splendidly—where and when is it they do not nowadays? But perhaps the most fascinating section in the show was the foreign, the display being excellent. Mr. Dewhurst contributed a fine class of British insectivorous birds. Specials were numerous and valuable, and were won as follows: Best bird, Mr. J. Turner; green Crestbred Yorks., Mr. J. Dewhurst; Norwich, Mr. Withers; Crest, Mr. Turner; British, Mr. J. Dewhurst; foreign, Mr. Dewhurst; Norwich cup, Mr. G. Butterfield; Crest cup, Mr. J. Franz; Yorks. cup, Mr. W. E. Bennett. Other specials were won by Mrs. Thynne, Mr. Withers, Mr. Bennett, Mr. W. J. Clark, Mrs. Bowell, Mr. A. Beavington, Mr. J. Dewhurst, Mr. J. Robson judged.

The Critique.

CHAMP., CRESTS: 1, sp., Mrs. Thynne, good variegated, with nicely formed crest of good dimensions; 2, Turner, nice thatch, one light feather in crest, good body; 3, Shepherd, neat, but scarcely so full. C.B.: 1, Turner, real fine head, rare length of head feather; 2, Withers, again good, if not quite so massive; 3, Shepherd, a nice one. CRESTS, 1913: 1, cup, 2, 3, Franz, a very fine team, each bird of merit. C.B.: 1, Jonas, lightly variegs., fine skull, and clothing; 2, Turner, scarcely so long in head feather, but nice; 3, Shepherd, wide back skull, fails trille ontrance; vhc, he, Gibbons. NOR., YELL., CL. or TKD.: 1, Withers, grand qual., type and col.; 2, Butterfield, perhaps a little thinner, but really fine qual. SELL.: 1, 2, Butterfield; 3, Sherriff.

NEW CROSS C.B.S.

Third annual show, held Nov. 6 in the People's Hall, Tanner's Hill. The entry was a record, being some sixty odd in advance of last year, and quality was far and away higher than in any previous effort. The great improvement is really remarkable, and looks well for the future. Yorks. have not advanced quite so much as the Norwich. The sensation of the show was the wonderful gathering of Borders, eighty odd exhibits, a really big entry for a members' show in the South, and the quality and type were quite excellent. Messrs. Burton Bros. have done much to advance this variety, and staged some grand birds. Novice exhibits were not far behind, the type being pretty level all through, and with a little more care in staging some of the birds should win elsewhere. A few good hybrids and British birds made up a very interesting exhibition. Special for best bird went to Mr. Pope, runner up (the second year in succession), Messrs. Burton Bros., who also won the spl. for best Border. Best Yorks. Mr. Rouson. The show was nicely arranged, and well managed. Mr. G. Burton doing the secretarial work in his usual able manner. Mr. Hill, the chairman, assisted by Messrs. Fuller, Deane, Culham, Weston, Hall, and Joplin, attended to the staging and care of the exhibits. Mr. H. Norman judged, and his awards were well received.

SWANSEA.

Thirteenth annual show held at Bush Hotel, Nov. 12 and 13. Unfortunately the rooms engaged did not turn out as satisfactory as expected; the day being dull, the light was extremely bad, consequently the judges had a difficult task to sort out the winners, and under the circumstances they did their work extremely well. With this exception the fixture turned out an unqualified success, much of which success was due to the admirable work of the show managers, Messrs. Phil Jenkins and Fred Heal, the latter a young but thoroughly able official, and a willing band of workers, Messrs. J. H. Ford, R. H. Mugford, W. J. Jenkins, W. J. Thompson, J Mock, J Hocking, and A E. Jeffries. We must not forget Mr. S. George, the hon. secretary, whose hard work also contributed very largely to the success of the fixture.

Norwich were a show in themselves, nearly 100 in seven classes, and not a bad one amongst them. Special for best in section and best local was won by Mr. A. Hitchings with a grand cl. yell. hen, a real gem. "Cage Birds" novice spl. was won by Mr. C. Richards with a cl. buff hen of lovely type and qual. Yorks were also well to the fore, 113 facing the music and indeed gave the judge some trouble to separate. The winner of "Cage Birds" Champion prize turned up in this section, Messrs. James and Wells winning with a var. yell. of wonderful length and quality. Border fanciers came up well, both in numbers and quality, Mr. D. Jenkins putting down a wonderful team, winning five firsts with six entries. Messrs. Hocking and Allen also staged some grand greens and accounted for the remaining classes. "Cage Birds" Diploma competition drew a large entry here as elsewhere, and it has now become quite a feature at the important shows.

Hybrids were splendid all round, and some of the best of the day were to be found here. CAGE BIRDS best Hybrid was a very fine Canary-Bullfinch, J. Crone, Glasgow; best open Hybrid, Martin and Archer (perfection), clear Linnet, in the pink of cond.; special best local Hybrid, J. E. Jeffries. British birds came out very strong, particularly in the seedeaters, and all the winners were of exceptional type, and competition ran very keen. Best Linnet open was S. Jones, jun., with a wonderfully fine bird. Also best Hardbill with a grandly conditioned Bullfinch. CAGE BIRDS best Hardbill, E. Lewis. Softbills were only few in number, but a grand Treecreeper and a fine Fieldfare won in their respective classes. Foreign were nice, but not over numerous. A fine conditioned Blue Mountain Lory won CAGE BIRDS special for best Foreign.

The judges were Mr. J. Robson and Mr. C. Houltou (St. Helens).

SITTINGBOURNE.

Held Nov. 12. This was one of the Southern shows, at which CAGE BIRDS Coupon Specials were in competition. As is the case at all such shows, the competition was exceedingly bright and keen, and the quality of high excellence. The committee were unfortunate in not having this year the patronage of the Kent County C.B.A., but for all that the entry was a good one, and the result most gratifying. The Fanciers' Hall, adjoining the George Hotel, was an ideal room, well lighted, airy, and free from draught. It compares favourably with the best of provincial show rooms. The arrangement of the staging and the attention given to the birds could not be improved upon, the hon. secretary, Mr. W. R. Broadbridge, who is comparatively new to the work, buckled on the armour in soldierly fashion, and acquitted himself admirably. Mine host of the George Hotel made havoc of all the difficulties of preparation for judging, and acted as steward to the judge in faultless fashion. There was a nice attendance of visitors, notwithstanding the torrential rain which was accompanied at intervals by thunder and lightning. In the fight for coupon specials, Mr. J. Hodder came off victorious, winning (after a tough fight) with a spanking yellow Norwich, the runner-up being Mr. A. E. Silk's lovely buff Nor. hen. In the competition for novice specials, Mr. H. Stevens scored with his typical and fine-feathered ticked yellow Nor., the reserve being Mr. Grant's splendid Hawfinch. Hyde's special, Mr. J. Roberts; Sandiford's spl., Mr. H. Stevens (also spl. best memb. unflighted), spl. for best unflighted in the open was won by Mr. J. Hodder. Mr. Grant's Hawfinch won spl. best British bird. The society is in the happy position of having funds on the right side, and is contemplating changes in classification next year. The Fillmer challenge bowl was won by Mr. W. Broadbridge. Mr. Grant won spl. most points. Mr. Geo. Gardner judged, and his awards were well received

GOVANHILL O.A.

Annual show and competition of Scotch Fancy Canaries, held Nov. 1, in the Lesser Burgh Hall. The hall is well suited for show purposes, well lighted all over, and easy of access. Secretary Watson, assisted by President Tennant and committee, had ample arrangements made to make the show a success. Entries were down from last year, but quality was of a high order. The Derby winner here was a clear yell. cock belonging to Mr. H. Campbell—a beauty, grand size, plenty of go, splendid length of side, lovely pose. A bird fit to win in the best of society; also winner of the gold medal for best bird. The runner-up for the cup was a nice yellow hen belonging to Mr. Wm. Wilson, which failed to the winner only in size. Winner of 1st and spl. in its class. The yellows and buffs in the ck. and hen classes were a fine lot of birds, and, on the average, much ahead of any former show of this club. There was a goodly muster of fanciers and the general public, amongst whom we noticed Councillor Drummond, Bailie Morton, and Ex-Councillor Dr. Garcy, Hon. President of the society, who, in a few racy remarks, presented the prizes to the winners. The entry numbered about 60. Judges, Messrs. Caldwell, Bailliestou, and Wright, Greenock, whose judgment gave satisfaction.

CITY OF BIRMINGHAM C.B.S.

A very successful members' show was held at headquarters, October 22, and although entries did not come up to expectations, many fine exhibits were staged. Special best Nor. was won by a cl. yell. shown by Mr. Silver, quickly claimed at catalogue price. Special for best Yorks, Mr. Clay, and we congratulate him upon his success in champion classes, he having only just left the novice ranks. Specials also went to Mr. Derry (novice Nor.) Mr. Southon (Cinn.), Mr. G. H. Smith (novice Yorks), Mr. Raby (Mules), Mr. T. Jones (Brit. Hardbill), and Mr. J. Jeffrey (Softbill). Mr. J. Bastock judged, and his awards were favourably received. HARTLEPOOLS.

Ninth annual show held Nov. 8 in St. George's Hall, West Hartlepool. The room was large, well lighted, and free from draughts. There was a record entry for a one day show in the North, over 650 bird being benched. York were a fine lot, rich in colour, rare length, and full of quality. Mr. E. E. Pyman's clear yellow won special for best York; Mr. Dewhurst's yellow won C.B. champion diploma. The Norwich Section brought together some of the best birds in the North, blazing with colour, rare size and quality. These birds must have pleased the visitors, who like to see a "good one." Mr. McGinn won special for best Norwich with his yellow, a bird of high merit, rich in colour, and feathered to perfection. C.B. diploma was won by Mr. Briggs' varieg. buff, and in the A.O.V. class Mr Summers won the diploma. Mules and Hybrid were a fine lot. The champion of the show was in this section, Mr. Butler's clear Goldie Mule winning C.B. 10s., for best coupon bird. Britishers turned out well. Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Greens and Linnets were a fine lot. In the softbills one like birds were on view. In the novice and members' sections we were pleased to see some very fine exhibits, Mr. H. W. Pyman's yellow Norwich winning C.B. 10s. special.

Messrs. Woodhead and Pyman, the two hard-working secs., were on duty all day, and we cannot praise them too much for their attention both to the exhibits and the exhibitors. The success of the show was no doubt brought about by these two and the hard-working committee:—Mr. J. Robinson (chair), and Messrs. Asheroft, Rev. J. Bennett, Rosald, Popples, Fairey, Gledden, Hall Bros., Stankley, Thornton, Pellan, Chapman, F. S. Woodhead, H. D. and Miss Pyman, Hegg, Dixon, Todd, and others. Mr. H. W. Battye (Huddersfield) judged Yorkshires and odd number classes; and Mr. W. Mundell (Bradford) the Norwich and even numbers.

(Ireland).

Annual show held in the Town Hall, Nov. 6 and 7. The entry numbered over 500. There were four silver cups to be competed for, that for best Canary being presented by Mr. A. M'Cagherty, the energetic and obliging secretary, who had his work well in hand and was assisted by a good committee of helpers. Scotch fancies opened the programme and were a fine lot, many champions being on view. This section supplied the winner of the cup for best Canary, the honour falling to Mr. James Ronaldson's yellow hen, a gem of gems. Norwich showed a good entry, which included many well-known winners. In the York. classes competition was very keen in both Open and Novice sections, very little dividing many of the winners. British and mules were a choice lot, most of the winners being well-known. Mr. A. Creighton won the cup for best British birds with a splendid Yellowhammer. The judges were: Mr. J. Kean (Edinburgh), Scotch, Belg., Brit. and Mules; and Mr. J. Trengove (Rishton), Nor. and Yorks., whose awards were received with general satisfaction.

HUGE SUCCESS OF SHEFFIELD O.S. SHOW.

Record Entry of Over 1,240 Birds; Superb Management; Our Coupon Scheme Splendidly Supported; Tremendous Attendance of Visitors.

Great events from little causes spring! Four years ago the Sheffield O.S. was "hatched"; to-day it is a fully-fledged bird, and an eye-opener at that! Nov. 7 and 8 were red-letter days in the Cutlery Capital, for a mammoth and glorious exhibition was the All England Show held by the above very enterprising society. A record entry of about 1,200 birds was obtained, this being far in advance of anything before. A host of noted fanciers, too, participated in the numerous tit-bits provided.

The Cutlers' Hall, an old historic building, where for long years many of the city's great functions have been held, was the rendezvous. Lofty and with abundance of space, up-to-date ventilation, absolute freedom from draughts, perfect heating facilities, and centrally situated, it is a splendid place for an occasion of this kind. With a little better natural light, one could describe it as ideal. The plants and foliage displayed gave a pretty ornamental effect to the carnival. The cost of this magnificent room was enormous, and the beautiful birds were judiciously staged on the tier principle. We congratulate the society on the pluck displayed.

The schedule issued rangs amongst the very best; classification excellent, prize-money and valuable specials very liberal. All prize-money, too, was guaranteed through the generosity of Dr. Craig and Mr. T. Dawn, treasurer and chairman respectively. Would there were more such worthies in the Fancy! Can one wonder for a moment that the "cream" of the Fancy should be present fighting strenuously for the honours?

A Pleasing Opening Ceremony.

Mr. T. Dawn (chairman) presided, and the Master Cutler (T. W. Ward, Esq.), in declaring the show open, spoke very highly of the officials, commended the hobby of bird fancying, and said he was delighted with and greatly interested in the display of birds. He considered the society had made great headway, and hoped to see it shortly with the membership increased fourfold. Dr. Craig proposed a vote of thanks to the Master Cutler for so kindly officiating. Mr. Tom Swain seconded, also presenting to the Master Cutler's daughter a very handsome bouquet of pink carnations. The Rev. W. Bracewell proposed, and Mr. J. A. T. Woodall, vice-chairman, seconded, a vote of thanks to the judges.

The Good Ship's Splendid Crew.

The president of the society is the Right Hon. Earl Fitzwilliam, D.S.O., and there is a long list of influential vice-presidents. The committee of management is most ably led by Mr. T. Dawn, the worthy chairman, who must be classed amongst the very best—no mere figurehead, but a real hard worker, and a great financial help. Chock-full of enthusiasm, his efforts during the show days were of a most strenuous character. Dr. W. Craig, the treasurer, is another staunch supporter, a true faucier, and one of the greatest assets of the society. One scarcely ever meets this popular and esteemed member devoid of a smile. His cheery face denotes the temperament—a thorough, jovial, and enthusiastic Scotsman, and a wonderful worker for the benefit of his fellow-fanciers. Mr. J. A. T. Woodall (vice-chair) and Mr. G. Fletcher, the well-known foreign exhibitor, were a brace of very prominent officials. The amount of work they did and the manner in which the same was executed was splendid. Jointly they acted as all-night stewards, a by no means thankful role. Others worthy of high praise were Messrs. J. Mace, G. Moore, J. Memmott, J. Milne, T. Ridal, P. Walsh, T. Tow, W. Baxby, A. H. Waters, J. H. Richardson, O. L. Sampson, and W. H. Spencer.

The stewards, who rendered fine help, knew their many duties to a nicety, were Messrs. A. H. Waters, A. Somerfield, J. Simpson, J. Milne, G. Moore, and J. Snape. Seeding and watering throughout, and the feeding of the British birds, were judiciously done by Messrs. A. Somerfield (upwards of twenty years' service at this job, to our knowledge), and J. Simpson, along with Mr. Geo. Fletcher, who attended to the foreign.

A Tandem Pair Hard to Outpace.

Now for the two splendid secretaries. Mr. E. Job is the possessor of great tact, and works with promptitude and accuracy, while his geniality, courtesy, and untiring efforts to oblige create for him popularity with all whom he comes into contact. Mr. R. Colton, known throughout the whole Fancy as an exhibitor of famous Mules, acts as assistant. His very lengthy experience of all England show requirements stands him in good stead. All the inner workings are at his finger-tips, and his knowledge was efficiently and judiciously brought into play. On having the services of such competent and painstaking organisers the Sheffield O.S. is to be congratulated. Their equals are few and far between.

Among the Exhibits.

The Greens, both Yorks and Nor., as regards numbers, did not flatter. What do Green men want? Fancy, only 96 entries in the 12 classes! Far from encouraging, this. The Green Canary Association cannot expect societies to give a good classification with capital money if a better response is not accorded. Borders were a neat collection, and as pretty as paint, only we should really have liked to have seen more present—35 in four classes is not great, by any means.

Norwich were both numerous and glorious—a feast to gaze upon, absolutely a wonderful collection, most of the best "stables" being represented. Amongst the novices, too, we located more than one gem. Next came the Crests and Crestbreds. The popular verdict was, the finest collection of "topplns" ever seen in the city. This we wish to endorse; to our knowledge they were far away the best. Fierce were the conflicts, result, Northern birds two firsts, Mid-Yorkshire four firsts, Sheffield two firsts. Mr. J. W. Farrow (local) put down a marvellous buff green C.B. The selling classes contained some of the cheapest birds we have seen for a long time; and a great many were claimed.

Again the Best Collection Ever Seen.

The Yorkshire section was the best ever seen in Sheffield, close on 450 were benched and all the principal exhibitors in the Kingdom were represented, type and quality reigning supreme. Burdekin Bros. won special for best Yorks., and CAGE BIRDS 10s. for best coupon exhibit, a gem of a bird, put down in the pink of condition. Dr. Craig won sp for best Cinn. mkd. Novice members' sp was won by W. H. Webster. The Green Yorks. section was but poorly patronised, and we were surprised at this, seeing the prize money was so liberal, and that it was one of the club show. The judge, Mr. W. Mundell, must have had one of the hardest day's of his life amongst the "straight runs," and we think in all fairness to the exhibits an assistant judge might have been appointed.

A Grand Lot of our Native Birds.

The British bird section was simply teeming with both quantity and quality, and the cracks of the season were to be seen in practically every class. Goldfinches led with greatly improved birds, and they are now fast putting on their richest coloured plumage. The same can be said of Bullfinches, and more of them too. Greenfinches were very good indeed, and must have wanted a lot of care to divide them up; the winner here (Metcalfe) taking CAGE BIRDS Hardbill special, just like wax. Linnets were excellent, and a great class all through. Lesser Redpolls were a real treat too, and some wonderful little gems came up. The small Softbills were most magnificent, led by a gem of a Dartford Warbler. A.O. Large had two grand Choughs, several grand Waxwings, and a rarity in British—a Nutcracker. Albinos contained real gems, led by the well-known perfect yellow Yellowhammer. Mr. H. Walsh's Redpoll-Bullfinch won CAGE BIRDS special for best Hybrid. Foreign as usual here were a rare collection of fine specimens, Mr. G. Fletcher's King Parrakeet winning CAGE BIRDS special best Foreign bird. A very handsome Blue Sugar Bird won special for best bird belonging to a member of the F.B.C. Altogether this section was a treat for visitors all through, and attracted the greatest possible attention. Mr. Houlton judged Hyb., Brit., and For. birds, and apparently had a very stiff day's work.

"Cage Birds" Coupon Competition a Success.

This innovation was a complete success, no fewer than 212 entries competing for the cash specials and diplomas of hooour. This speaks for itself, as to the way in which exhibitors have accepted the scheme, and the great popularity it has attained. The champion was the cl. yell. cock Yorkie staged to the moment by Messrs. Burdekin Bros., this taking the 10s. spl. and diploma of honour. This exhibit we presume is the Great Horton winner; certainly a "knock out." The novice 10s. special and diploma fell into the hands of W. Vardy, jun., a smart and stylish yell. Nor. ben doing the trick. Some of the other diploma winners were:—Champion Nor., A. Hirst; Crests, Colton and Dawn; A.O.V., J. Parker; Bord., W. Middleton. Mules, H. Walsh; Hard Brit., R. J. Metcalf; Soft Brit., A. G. Lewis; For., G. Fletcher.

Other specials went as follows:—Most entries, Dr. Craig; For. bird medal, J. W. and W. L. Drabble; best York nov. (mem.), W. H. Webster; open Cinn. mkd. York., Dr. Craig; open Nov. Nor., A. E. Thorpe; members' Softbill and Hardbill, J. Milne; true pair foreigners (large), G. Fletcher; small, F. Howe. Sandiford's, T. H. Mason, with an unflighted yell. Nor., ablaze with colour. Ramsden's went to Dr. McConaghey, a marked yell. Nor., hot enough to fire his cage.

The Tremendous Attendance.

The patronage of the public was great. Friday brought many to see the sights, but Saturday obliged with hundreds. The very spacious aisles in the afternoon and evening were literally packed. From about 2.30 p.m. until close of show the room was besieged by onlookers, all appearing to be acquiring full value for money. The gate takings amounted up to £14, and the sale of tickets previous to show had been enormous. We heard of one member alone having sold 200 tickets at 6d. each. What a worker and an enthusiast!

The sales were also fine, upwards of £55 being speculated on various specimens. One well-known British bird man plunged to the extent of £27 10s.; good luck to him. Amongst the very many visitors we chatted with were Messrs. J. W. Ramsden (London), J. Bailey, Ogden Bros., Dykes (Bradford), H. H. Towers (Keighley), J. Brotherton (Bolton), Thomas (Halifax), Haigh (Bottershaw), Hunter (Scarbro'), Towl (Sec. Grimsby), Brotherton and Gregory (Rotherham), S. Cook (Manchester), Vardy, junr. (Hucknall), Boalor (Nottingham), Simpson and Potts (Worksop), Smith (Sec. Ilkeston and Freeman), Fox (Long Eaton), Archer (Huddersfield), Beswick (Stockport), Inman (Bradford), O. L. Sampson (Sec. Stocksbridge) and many others. Undoubtedly a fine "gathering of the clans."

Stalls belonging to Messrs. J. Mace (Sheffield), Spillers and Armitage, were nicely set out with the various articles they are noted for, and appeared to do a good trade.

The Troublesome Railway Companies.

The Railway Companies might treat exhibitors and show officials far more considerately than they do. For this show (and other shows we have heard of) the companies would not deliver any stock arriving after 5.30 p.m., and not before 9 a.m. This put the officials on their mettle. Promptly they engaged drays to fetch and return exhibits. Conveyances were plying backwards and forwards practically all night through, on the eve of the show, and Messrs. Fletcher and Woodall dealt with the cases, unpacking and so on, as they arrived at the show room. By 9 a.m. Friday morning everything was in order for the commencement of judging. At 8 p.m. Saturday the show room was cleared and the "dispatch clerks" were soon on the job, carefully packing up for the return journeys.

Hard Lines for Two Exhibitors.

With the exception of Mr. R. E. Griffith's (Carnarvon) Bullie which arrived at about 12.30 p.m. (too late for judging), having been sent off at 2.30 p.m. day previous (hard lines), and the Crest and C.B., 1913 bred, which had been forwarded from Cheltenham, and had wrong labels on (Crest label on C.B. bird and vice-versa), belonging to Mr. J. Brotherton (Bolton), being wrong classed (again hard lines); we heard of no other hitch. For neither of these slips were the society to blame. Summing up the whole show it was a glorious exhibition, very successfully managed.

Judges: Messrs. J. Robson (London), W. Mundell (Bradford), C. Houlton (St. Helens), and J. C. Barnes (Snellfield). Their awards seemed very well received.

NORTH LIVERPOOL C.B.S.

Members' show, held headquarters, "The Hall," Royal Street, proved to be a great success, 134 birds facing the judges, Messrs. J. Walker and J. Lobb, who gave every satisfaction. The stewards arranged the room splendidly, words of appreciation flowing from all visitors. Our best thanks are due to each for making the show such a success. A hearty vote of thanks to the judges was carried with acclamation. The following won specials: Messrs. Frankham, T. Kelly, C. Kelly, Wilkins, Foxcroft, Holden, Aindow, and Broadbent. GOSPORT F.A.

Annual show held in Wessex Drill Hall Oct. 29. Entries and quality were excellent. Mr. J. E. Woodford judged, and gave complete satisfaction. Mr. Backler, sec., with good committee, and Mr. F. C. Harvey as chairman, had the birds nicely staged. The attendance was good and the show was a great improvement on last year.

WARRINGTON.

A YORKSHIRE CLAIMED FOR £10 10s.

Eighteenth Annual Show held in the Cairo Street Schoolroom, Nov. 7, 8. Last year the Society held a one day show only, and met with a considerable amount of success; so this year they decided to run their show over two days, with a most gratifying result. The entry was a record, over 600 birds facing the judges, and those some of the best travelling the boards. Last year the room engaged was taxed to its utmost capacity to hold the birds, and, anticipating a larger entry this year, a larger and better room was engaged, with the result that there was more comfort for birds and visitors alike. The room is an admirable one, lighted on each side, free from draughts, and lofty. The birds all faced the windows, rendering inspection easy. Considerable ingenuity had been expended in the erection of an admirable three tier system of staging, for its usefulness and its simplicity, well worth copying by societies wanting to stage a large quantity of birds in a small space. The society is blessed with a hard working band of workers, amongst whom we noticed an old hand at the game in the persou of Mr. J. D. Leigh, the well-known Mule breeder and exhibitor, working very hard. He was ably assisted by some fanciers who were as determined as himself in seeing to the welfare of the exhibits. Mr. G. M. Nelson, himself an exhibitor of repute, is the man holding the reins, an official the society may well feel proud of, his system of (managing a show being very praiseworthy. Catalogues with awards were out in good time after judging. Exhibits from a distance were got away in good time.

Yorkshires were a fine lot, the classes filling very well. Many of the Yorkshire cracks sent teams, one of the birds belonging to Mr. L. Dykes being claimed at catalogue price of £10 10s. Competition was very keen in the novice section, the novices having six classes provided against the champions five, and they showed their appreciation by an average of 20 per class. Norwich were a fine show, The classes were filled with faces whose acquaintance we have made earlier in the season at N.P.C. shows. Competition was hot and no mistake. Here again the novices had six classes, and some very good classes faced the judge. The Green Canary Club gave its novice patronage here, and some very creditable exhibits were on view, some of them giving the impression that before long they would be quite an acquisition to the upper circles. Borders provided quite a nice show, and again proved what a hold the wee gem is getting on the fancier public. British were a fine lot, especially the Linnets. The winner, Mr. Davies's, being a gem; rare size, lovely head and back markings, with a polish like a mirror. Hybrids again were good; the class for dark Mules providing rare competition.

"Cage Birds" coupon scheme was in great evidence, between 70 and 80 exhibits being nominated for the cash specials and diplomas. The champion diploma and cash special was won by the Canary-Bullie Hybrid belonging to Mr. J. W. Johnson, of Ormskirk, while the novice cash special went to the Yorkshire, exhibited by Mr. N. L. Croft, of Crewe. Diploma for best Norwich went to Mr. T. Johnson, Southport; best Yorks., Messrs. Smith; Bord., Mr. G. M. Nelson, Warrington; Brit., S. T. Oldham. Nov., Nor., J. M. Andrew; Green, W. Bell. The judges were Messrs. H. W. Battye, Nor., and Yorks., Mr. Jno Dixon the remainder, and they gave complete satisfaction.

Show held Nov. 5, in the Public Halls. The entry was not over large, but the quality was grand. Mr. Gunnell took most of the spoil, including a handsome salad bowl with servers for best bird, with a grand yellow Goldie Mule. The Hon. Sec., F. W. Capell, is most obliging and courteous, and is backed np by a committee of real good workers. Mr. W. R. Miles judged.

WEST STANLEY.

Annual show held Nov. 7 and 8. The Hibernian Hall was again engaged, and in the matter of accommodation and comfort it will be hard to beat, the only difficulty being in regard to the light, which on dull days, such as was experienced during the show, is none too good. Entries were only moderate, and, although 63 above the total of last year, an entry of 272 in 28 open classes is scarcely a fitting reward for hard work by such an enterprising committee. No doubt the adjacent fixture at Hartlepool prevented an exceptionally large entry, and it is a pity that two such important societies in close proximity to each other should hold their shows on the same date, especially in view of the fact that on the previous Saturday there was not an open show in the district. The staging was a treat, each section by itself, and the winners in regular order.

The secretarial reins are still in the capable hands of Mr. Wm. Elliott, and he had everything in grand working order, and under his care the whole of the arrangements passed off without the slightest hitch, while his attention to details, combined with his genial manner and willingness to oblige everybody, mark him as just the right man in the right place. That keen northern fancier, Mr. W. H. Butler, is chairman, and it would be difficult indeed to over-estimate the grand work done by him, not only for his own society, but for the Fancy in general, for he is always ready to do whatever he possibly can to further the interests of the hobby, and it is no wonder he is so popular with all. He is well supported by a grand body of fanciers, all keen workers, vice-chairman, Mr. J. Emmerson; treas., Mr. R. Peart; and committee, Messrs. W. Boyd, J. Robson, G. Bates, J. H. Elliott, J. Calvert, R. Coates, S. Foster, W. Thompson, and R. Goodchild.

CAGE BIRDS coupon scheme was in vogue at this show. The 10/- cash special for best coupon bird went to Mr. J. Armstrong, with a lovely variegyellow Norwich cock. The show was well attended, and we hope that it will turn out a financial success. The judges were: Mr. J. Stanger, Canaries; and Mr. J. Maddison, British, Mules, and Foreign.

Mr. Stanger's Classes.

Scots Fancy, not a big one, but grand shape, nice top, good thickness through; hc, Seeley Bros.

Mr. Maddison's Classes.

The two mule classes provided were only poorly supported, but the British and foreign classes were well filled, and competition keen all through, a few of the birds which had been winning at the earlier shows having to be content with humbler positions, owing to new faces turning up, and some of the old competitors getting into better show form. The class for Goldfinch or Bullfinch was a very strong one, headed by a very bright, rich-coloured Goldie, closely pressed by a real model of a Bullie. Other outstanding birds were the winning Greenfinch and Chaffinch, the latter an extraordinary colour, but just a shade small. The winning Linnets in both H.M. and F.M. classes were good all-round birds, as were the winners in the British Softbill and two foreign classes.

LIGHT MULE OR HYB.: 1, 2, Butler, Linnet-Bullie, nice size and shape, good breast col.; 2, head, wing and tail mkd., Goldie mule, fine col. and cond.; 3, Mrs. Purvis, very pretty var. Goldie mule; wrong class, G. Lane, shown as a cl. yell. mule, but the judge being unable to find any trace of the Finch, marked it W.C. DARK: 1, McGuire, yell. Greenie, Norwich type, very rich level col., grand feather and condition, not overdone in size; 2, 3, Butler, yell. Linnet, good size and col., beaten in condition; 3, buff Siskin, fine size, col., and markings. SISKIN, ETC.: 1, hc, Bertram, Twite, fine upstanding bird, of good size, shape, and markings, very steady; 2, Jamieson and Johnson, Siskin, nice cobby shape, grand cap, col., and cond.; 3, Curry, Redpoll, good in cap, bib, and col., excellent markings; 4, Boyd, another fine Redpoll, but not so good in markings; vhc, Reed; c, Mason. GOLDF. OR BULLF. (11): 1, c, Almond, Goldf., very bright rich-coloured blaze, well-tanned breast, good wing bars and buttons; 2, Barkass, really grand shaped Bullf., good cap, wing bars, and breast col., best of feather and condition; 3, Butler, Goldf., good bold shape, very steady, a blaze of good size and col., good wings and tanning, just lacks the condition of winner; 4, Curry, Bullf., good cap and wing bars, very deep coloured breast; vhc, hc, Davidson. GREENF. (13): 1, Gentleman, yell., grand size and shape, rich level col., in good order; 2, Robinson, big sized buff of good feather and condition, not the fine shape of winner; 3, R. Fletcher, grand col., size, and shape, beaten in head and neck; 4, McVay, good big bird, but scarcely at its best; vhc, Elliott; hc, Bentick; c, Lindsay. A.O. HARDBILL: 1, Lane, Chaffinch, very forward in col., bright blue cap, rich breast, excellent wings, and in grand trim; 2, Robinson, very steady Reed Bunting, good in all colours, excellent condition; 3, c, Jamieson and Johnson, Bramble, well spangled head and back, rich coloured breast and flanks, in shining condition; 4, Davidson, Corn Bunting, good bold shape, and crest markings, fairly steady, will improve; vhc, Bentick; hc, Elliott and Stephenson. Linnet, H.M. (10): 1, Davidson, very level in col., profusely mkd. from throat to tail, fairly good size, and very steady; 2, Bentick, a very good bird, but not so well staged, perches too thick, preventing the bird from standing up, grand size and shape, well and finely pencilled breast; 3, Hunter, big upstanding bird, well mkd., bit weak in head; 4, Hunter, good size and shape, faint markings, but good feather and condition; vhc, Bertram; hc, McCay; c, Mason. F.M. (13): 1, hc, Curry, Manchester winner, well up on leg, very steady, good size and shape, nice shade of col., well mkd. breast and flanks; 2, Hughes, good size, shape, col., and markings, does not show so well; 3, Gentleman, nice size, shape, and markings, beaten col. and feather; 4, vhc, Boyd, fine big unstanding bird, nice col., plainer on breast; c, Carr. SOFTBILL: 1, 4, vhc, Elliott, two Bearded Tits, excellent col., feather, and condition; 2, Davidson, Waxwing, very tight in plumage, good wings; 3, Laws, fine, big, well-proportioned Song Thrush, distinctly spangled breast, FOR., LARGE: 1, Butler, Ceram Lory, in fine bloom; 2, Bell. SMALL. (11): 1, Almond, Ruficauda Finch in extra good condition; 2, Petterson, St. Helena Waxbills, also in good order; 3, 4, Almond, grand conditioned Lavender Finch; 4, good Diamond Sparrows; vhc, c, Christer and Son; hc, Murton.

BEDFORD.

Annual show held at the Roise Street Schoolroom, Oct. 29. This room is really more suitable for a show than the Town Hall, as there is a better light, and it is freer from draughts. There was an excellent show of birds, especially Norwich, British, and Foreign. The committee, with the hon. sec., Mr. A. Simons and Mr. J. Beanland, treas., had everything well in hand, and finished up by paying all prize money on the night of the show. Mr. A. Keech won silver cup for the most points during the year for young Norwich, and the "Mortimer" cup for best young Norwich bred by exhibitor, and Mr. J. C. Wilmot silver cup for most points during the year in British and Mule or Hybrid classes. The judge was Mr. F. Martin, of Luton, whose awards were generally well received.

METROPOLITAN C.B.A.

Very successful Members' Show held at New Show Room in the Kelvedon Hall, Walham Green, Nov. 8. The entry was a record, being over one hundred more than last year, and quality, particularly in the Norwich, was quite up to exhibition form. In this section Mr. S. Ward did well, and won the special for best champion exhibit with his buff hen. Yorks. classes filled well, and although we missed some of the old exhibitors' names from the catalogue the present members managed to put down some remarkably good specimens. Special for best bird went to Mr. Hall's mkd. yell. cock. Borders were a hot lot, both in number and merit, some beautifully typical specimens being staged by both champion and novice exhibitors, in this section, the novices have made remarkable strides and will soon run the champions hard for type and quality. Special for best bird went to Mr. W. H. Lathbury with a good mkd. yell. cock., the novice special being annexed by Mr. B. Green, with a good buff green of lovely type, quality, and condition; special for best Hybrid went to Mr. Nichols with his hen Goldie-Bullie, and Mr. Hall's Linnet won the British Bird special. The popular sec., Mr. F. Moore, managed the show in his usual methodical manner, and had the assistance of a good body of fanciers, among whom were Messrs. Thrower, Green, Pegg, Nicholls, Plank, Harrison, W. Nicholls, Ward., Bowring, Walker, and King. Mr. H. Norman judged.

"CAGE BIRDS" WATCH COUPON Nov. 15th, 1913.

Sudden Death of Noted Exhibitor Causes Painful Sensation.

Annual show held in the Co-operative Hall, Nov. 8. The entry was a good one, fully 70 up on last year, and numbered about 500. Scotch Fancy numbered 40 in 10 classes—a poor average, indeed. Borders were very much better in numbers—about 9 per class, and the quality was grand, nearly every bird being in the pink of condition. Yorks. were a fair turn-out, and some grand birds were forward, notably Mr. Heggie's team, which is still going well. Crests were a very disappointing entry, only 31 in nine classes, but some good ones were shown, and quality all over was very fair. Plainheads were the feature of the show, some grand birds being shown, and the entry was about ten per class, while the quality was of the very best.

In the British, Mule, and Foreign Sections entries were slightly in advance of last year, despite a disinclination to seek the patronage of S.B.B. and M.C., which has been looked upon by the executive as a somewhat mixed blessing on previous occasions. A study of the classification makes one wonder why the show did not meet with a better response from British bird devotees. One reason we heard advanced was the points system of allotting specials, and while that system does much to increase entries from those exhibitors who endeavour to annex specials by force of numbers, those who cannot go in for teams have an antipathy to point specials, and no doubt prefer to have specials allotted per class or classes. We heard a few complain that the hall was too cold, and it certainly felt rather chilly, but it was free from draughts, and fairly well lighted. CAGE BIRDS coupons competition created great interest, and the method adopted here of putting an assistant sec. to look after the coupon birds has much to recommend it.

A Real Good Cup Fight.

The battle-royal for points between Messrs. McQuiston and Paterson as challengers, and Bell, of Bo'ness, as holder of Dr. Keay's cup, excited some interest during judging. The score made by the first-named firm was something of which they may be justly proud, viz., 3 points short of possible, with 10 entries (surely a record). The holder, however, managed to annex the cup for the third (consecutive) time, and it now becomes his property.

The foreign section was confined to one exhibitor, Mr. P. Arnott, of Alloa, but he generously withheld one entry, which would have filled the class. Mr. Sykes nominated the foreign winner, as best in section, and even British bird enthusiasts admitted the justice of the claim, the delicate beauty of the purple Sugarbird being admired by everyone, and the class formed the centre of attraction.

CAGE BIRDS diploma winners were: Champion: Hardbill A. Anderson, Mule or Hyb. Mr. Heggie, Softbill E. Taylor; novice diploma: Mule or Hyb. Mr. Malcolm, Hardbill Mr. Clark. We overheard quite a few exhibitors express their determination to annex these honours on another occasion. We were greatly impressed with the attention paid to British exhibits, and a sheaf of letters from owners who have expressed their appreciation on former occasions, bore testimony of Kelty being a safe show, and worthy of patronage.

All over, the show was very successful, and during the day the hall was crowded with fanciers and others, and the usual enthusiastic scenes took place, especially round the British and Border sections; the judges' decisions were freely criticised, and on the whole very favourably received. The executive is a grand band of workers, the pres., Mr. Stonehouse, being a host in himself, and by his example put the young members of the society in grand working fettle, while the vice-pres., Mr. Alex. Anderson, also did his share of the staging work, and acted as a steward with great success. Treas. Mr. D. McConville was also active in the common good, Assist.-Sec. Mr. J. Cordery was efficiently helping, while Sec. Mr. Adam Dickson had all his arrangements in a very forward condition, and was his old genial self with everyone with whom he came in contact. The committee is a grand one, vieing with each other as to who could do most for the society's welfare. The judges were: Scotch Fanciers, Mr. F. Ramsay, Tayport; Borders, Mr. McAdam, Laswade; Yorks., Mr. McLennan, Renfrew; Crest and C.B., Mr. W. Reid, Falkland; Nor., Mr. A. Chalmers, Kirkintilloch; Mules, Brit., and For., Mr. Crossley Sykes, Musselburgh; and their wards gave general satisfaction.

Old Fancier's Very Sad End.

Quite a sensation was caused by a wire received by the show officials, notifying the sudden death of Mr. J. D. Maxwell, of Falkirk, which took place at the railway station in Falkirk, while he was in the act of booking his team of Scots Fancies for the show, and much sympathy was expressed with his relatives in their sudden and painful bereavement. The presence of Mr. Maxwell's birds would no doubt have altered the prize list to a considerable extent.

B.F.C.C. medal was won by Mr. G. Bennet, Kelso, with a dandy yellow hen, Mr. Baxter, Crossgates, and Mr. J. Anderson, Kelty, being equal in points for Border cup. Mr. Anderson solved the difficulty by withdrawing any claim to it, and it was accordingly given to Mr. Baxter. Mr. D. McLaren, Dunfermline, won cup for best bird in show with his grand old Crest cock, and also members' cup for best young crest, with his young Crest. Mr. Stenhouse won points cup for Scots Fancy Section, and also special for best in section with his winning yellow cock. Hyde's was won hy Mr. Adam Dickson, a popular win, and also Hoy cup for most points in Norwich section. Mr. Bell, Bo'ness, won Keay cup for most points in Brit. for the second year in succession, and Mr. Peter Arnott special best in Brit. or Foreign, with a beautiful purple Sugarbird, which was much admired. There was here a marked improvement in the entry for CAGE BIRDS coupon prizes, and the greatest interest was evinced as to the probable winners; after a keen fight the 10s. champion prize was awarded to Mr. McLaren's Crest, and for novices, Mr. Ross's Scots Fancy. The diploma winners were: Champions: Scots Fancy, Stenhouse; Yorks., Holmes; A.O.V., Dickson; Crest, McLaren; Plainheads, Thomson; Borders, J. Anderson; Mules, Heggie; Hardbill, A. Anderson; Softbill, Ed. Taylor. Nov.: Scots Fancy, Ross; Yorks., Campbell; A.O.V., Sneddon; Plainheads, J. Robertson; Bord., J. Weir; Hardbill, J. Clarke; Mule, Malcolm.

(6): 1, Nicolson (Glasgow winner), needs no comment, excels in all points; 2, Allen, good Fluch, beaten blaze, hardly finished yet, well placed; 3, Anderson, old warrior, looking well, better blaze and size than leader, but not ready yet, will lead later; 4, 5, Bell, good tans and wings, excels condition; 6, Paterson. BULLF. (10): 1, Palmer (C.M.), grand breast col., expansive cap, nicely cut, wins; 2, Bell (Boness winner), larger, looking slack to-day; 3, McQuiston and Paterson, another good one, not up to lighting form, feels journey we think, grand cap and back col.; 4, 5, Thomson, on small side, nice breast col., fails under bill, best condition; 6, Grewar. GREENF. (9): 1, Stuart and Dalling, bouncer for size, nicely fed, wins easy; 2, Anderson, better shape, beaten size, rather bare in cere, good one; 3, Muir and Adamson, unfed, good head, just fails subs., well put down; 4, Thomson, good col., fails head, slack to-day; 5, Clarke; 6, Bell. BRAMBLE OR CHAFFINCH (6): 1, Reid, Bramble, good size and back spangle, rather smoky mantle, and pale breast, yet wins; 2, Russell, Chaffie, good breast and wings, good condition; 3, McVicar, Bramble, smaller size, nice spangle, a little rough yet; 4, 6, Bell; 5, Lister. LINNET, R.M. (12): 1, 2, McQuiston and Paterson, well known pair, leader excels size, rare col. and pencil work; 2, showing a bit open in front to-day, well placed; 3, Stuart and Dalling, better shape than 2nd, but a little on dark side, rare condition; 4, Waugh, nice one, run in front a little, paler than leaders; 5, Thompson; 6, Anderson. F.M. (13): 1, McQuiston and Paterson, grand size and shape, nice breast work, steady, wins easy; 2, Watson, lighter col. and weight, even better polish than leader, good second; 3, Robson, best wings in class, nice front, just a little nervous yet; 4, Baxter, paler in col., heaten pencilling, steady; 5, McVicar; 6, Nicolson. SISKIN (3): 1, Nicolson, grand one, nicely fed., distinct bib and wing bars, excels flanks, wins easily; 2, Bell (unfed), good cap and flanks, faint bib, well put down; 3, McVicar (fed), fails bib, yet nice one, some fancied for 2nd. MEALY REDPOLL OR TWITE (6): 1, McQuiston and Paterson, Twite, grand one, rare size and polish, a mass of breast work, wins; 2, Nicolson, equal in condition, just beaten breast and substance, good Twite; 3, 4, Bell, Mealy 'Poll, good size, fails bib and flanks; 4, Twite, good one, we preferred for 3rd, but overshadowed here, rather wild; 5, Russell; 6, Malcolm. LESSER REDPOLL (11): 1, McQuiston and Patterson (H.M.), good size, breast and poll, fails bib; 2, Nicolson, another big one, better flanks than leader, good bib, our choice; 3, Watson (F.M.), good front and poll, nicely laced, inclined to cross wings at times; 4, Bell, better size, fails col., very steady; 5, Fox and Milne; 6, Muir. SOFTBILL, SMALL (4): 1, Taylor, Redstart, well known winner, looking tired to-day; 2, Lawrie, Nightingale, not large, but in grand order, good col. and steady, our choice to-day; 3, Arnott, Blackstart, good col., rather slack at neck and thighs, well placed; 4, Steel, fair Grey Wagtail. LARGE (5): 1, Watson, Waxwing, not largest, grand sheen, rather slack wings, might be better staged; 2, 3, Anderson, Missel, grand size and profuse spotting, unfortunately lacks back claw; 3, Waxwing, old warrior, larger than leader, better waxing, but hangs wing; 4, Malcolm, Starling, good size and sheen, nicely spotted, steady; 5, Raith. BUNTING (7): 1, Russell, Meadow, nice head and moustache, excels condition, well placed; 2, Raith, Yellow, good size, well fed, just a shade heavy in marks, nice one; 3, Watson, Meadow, larger than leader, and quite equal in head, showing age, beaten condition; 4, Robertson, yellow, our choice for 3rd, unfed, good V, just a little broken in cheek, nice one; 5, Nicolson; 6, Bell. FOR. GOLDF. OR BULLF. (7): 1, Howie, right ahead, rare size, depth of blaze, a good Goldie; 2, Nicolson, nice Goldie, but beaten all points to-day; 3, 6, McVicar, Bullie, good size, nice cap, fails col.; 4, Marshal, Goldie, better face than 2nd, fails head and condition, too tame; 5, Cook. A.O. FOR. (6): All honours, Arnott, Purple Sugar Bird leading, often described; Gold-fronted Fruitsucker, pair Cordon Bleus, and Tricolour Tanager; greatly admired team. SELL., MULE (3): 1, 2, Cooper; 3, Bell. SELL., BRIT. (4): 1, Bell; 2, Poulter; 3, Fotheringham; 4, Robertson.

BRIGHTON.

At the show of the Brighton F.F.A., held in the North Road Concert Room on November 5th and 6th, a very nice collection of birds were staged. The entry was not large, but the quality of the exhibits was much in advance of what we have seen in past years at the society's shows. Competition was confined to the County of Sussex. The special for the best Canary in the show fell to a very smart yellow Yorkshire, shown by Messrs. Frost and Rogers. All the arrangements were carried out in a most excellent manner by the committee, whilst Mr. Downe made a splendid secretary, being affable, courteous, and most energetic. Mr. C. A. House judged.

The Critique.

NOR., CLR. (8): 1, 3, sp., Rev. T. W. T. Miller, very neat, grand shaped yell., lovely col. and qual., 3, rather better shape, but had to stand down because a bit of feather had gone from over its back; 2, sp., vhc, he, c, Frost and Rogers, sweet little buff, very silky and close in feather, nicely frosted, lovely col.; res., Miles. YORKS., VELL (6): 1, 3, sp., sp. best bird in show, Frost and Rogers, very slim and stylish, as straight as a gun-barrel, lovely feather, full of nerve, good head, wings and tail; 3, grand shape and nerve, not so clever in wing carriage.; 2, Wall, grand shape, feather, and carriage, not quite so long; res, vhc, Gibb; hc, Nicholls. BUFF (7): 1, 2, sp., Daindridge, not much col., but very silky and tight in feather, neat heads, lovely wings and tail, winner a trifle the most style and length; 3, Wall, capital feather and style, stands up well, just a shade stouter; res., Gibb; vhc, hc, Frost and Rogers; c, Nicholls. CREST or C.B. (6): 1, 2, 3, hc. sp., Gale, very nicely centred, well dropped variegated. Crest, and a heavily feathered wide browed C.B.; res., vhc, Stubbs. A.O.V. ANFIELD, EVERTON.

Third Annual Members' Show, held in Temperance Hall, Haggeia Street, Oct. 18. There was a fine entry, approaching 350. The Green C.A. held their Novice Scheme, providing two classes each for Yorks., Norwich, and Border. This section was interesting, and brought out some strong novices with birds above average merit, and it is a move in the right direction. Yorks. and Yorks. Greens, in both champion and novice sections, held the sway, and quite a number of the very best Greens out were to be seen here. The heavyweight of entries however, appeared in the novice sections all through. Some of the most promising "budding" champions were winning, and the Yell. Green Self shown by Mr. Jones, of Birkenhead, which was voted by all present one of the best seen for a long time, is without a doubt a beauty. A fine list of specials were hotly competed for. Messrs. Walker and Redpath, the hon. secs., did their work in first class style, and were well assisted by a fine band of willing and capable members. Messrs. Wellings and Moulton judged, and their awards met with approval generally.

ABERSYCHAN.

Annual show, held at Co-operative Hall, October 30. Entries were up on last year, but the show, like most of the others in South Wales, had to suffer through clashing. The committee had to withhold the first prize in most classes to save disaster, although there were some first-class exhibits staged. Mr. Sweeting, with a good band of stewards, had everything in perfect order. Mr. J. Houghton judged.

FORFAR.

Fourth annual exhibition and competition held Masonic Hall, Nov. 8. The hall is an ideal one, being well lighted and free from draughts. This society is blessed with a grand management, everyone being a worker. Mr. D. Kerr, sec. and treas., who was ably assisted by a first-rate committee, had everything in first-class order. Entries were just about the level of last year, but quality was better, many outstanding birds being on exhibition. We heard CAGE BIRDS Coupon Scheme coming in for a lot of praise. Norwich were not so strong in numbers as one would expect from a breeding centre like Forfar, but quality was up to the standard. Mr. T. Morrison, Hamilton, judged these, and his awards gave general satisfaction. Borders were strong in both numbers and quality, some really outstanding birds going well in the money. Brit. and Foreign while not a record for numbers contained some extra good ones, while Mules and Hybrids contained the cream of Scotland; Mr. Roy, Auchterarder, scored with his Dark Goldie Mule, the Glasgow and Perth winner; while Mr. Jas. Fyfe, led in Hybrids with his Goldf.-Bullf., looking in grand form. J. Hamilton judged Borders, and R. Watson, Glasgow, Brit., Mules, and Foreign; their awards were well received.

The Norwich Canaries.

CL. OR TKD. YELL. CK. (2): 1, Kerr, grand size, real Nor. type, thick set body, nice short wings and tail, very good cl.; 2, Murray, scarcely size of leader, but close up in other respects, fine front, neat head and wings. BUFF (6): 1, Mitchell, monster for size, lovely frosted, best of type, in rattling order, wins; 2, Kennedy, similar build, scarcely so well feathered, still a good one; 3, Patterson, fine size, good head, neat shape, in fine bloom; 4, Anderson, still another good one, scarcely size of leaders, fine condition; vhc, Paton; hc, Storrar. YELL. HEN: Cancelled. BUFF (3): 1, Craig, grand size, nice full chest, fine wings and tail, in the best of cond.; 2, Bowman, slightly larger, excellent type, good head and neck, not the qual. of feather; 3, Hampton, good one, a little more size only wanted, fine feather and cond. ABERDEEN (Bon-accord) C.B.S.

Annual show, held in the Ball room, Music Hall Buildings, Nov. 8. Unquestionably a very fine room, large enough to hold a show twice the size. The entry was back from last year, which must have been a little disheartening to the executive. Norwich were the outstanding feature, and a grand lot they were. British and Foreign were few; what has come of all the British bird fanciers in Aberdeen? Cup for best young Norwich was won by Mr. Thos. Collie, Stonehaven, with a Buff var. ck. of great size and quality. The Lewis Cup for best bird, Mr. J. Sandison, a grand yell. rock of nice level col., good size and qual. Cup, best Brit., went to a Blackbird we thought somewhat lucky. We were sorry to hear that Mr. J. B. Henderson's Nat. Col. Yell. cock came by a mishap and died before judging took place. Mr. A. Thomson makes an ideal sec., and is assisted by a strong committee. Mr. J. Adams (Dundee) judged Nor., and Mr. D. Ross (Forres) British and Foreign, and gave general satisfaction.

COLINTON AND CURRIE PARISHES O.S.

Second Annual Show held Nov. 1. Entries showed an increase of 40, and quality was well maintained, some bonny birds being shown. Scotch Fancy had four classes provided, and some real good birds were staged, the yellow hen belonging to Mr. Begbie securing cup and three specials, a very popular win. In Borders Mr. Michie had a field day, winning cup and three specials with his yellow cock. Norwich were a fair show, especially the buff classes, the winning buff cock and buff hen were a treat to see, having grand heads and substance. The hall is well lighted and free from draughts. The Society are blessed with a grand set of officials, everyone doing his utmost to make the show a success. Sec. Mr. J. Napier had everything in apple-pie order, and he is the right man for the post. One satisfactory thing is the amount of patronage bestowed on the society. The platform was literally loaded with specials, a total of 74 for 23 classes, and they made a grand show. Judges were: Scotch Fancies, Mr. G. C. T. Hope, Edinburgh; Borders, Mr. W. Lambie, Whitburn; and Nor., etc., Mr J. F. Dewar, Edinburgh.

CLYDEBANK C.B.C.

Third annual show, held Nov. 1, in the Conservative Halls. The show was well patronised by the public, and the gate money showed an increase, while the entries were about 40 up on last year. We understand that the Society is in a strong position financially, with prospects already pointing to a bright future for the management, who are all workers of the right stamp. Mr. G. McGown makes an ideal president, while Mr. W. Kane shines quite as prominently in the capacity of secretary, and seems always brimful of civility and courtesy. Mr. Chamberlain takes good care of the diners, and knows how to make good use of his charge. The committee, Messrs. Tawse, Miller, Brandon, Robb, Simpson, Greer, and O'Donnell, all added to the success of the show in a most creditable fashion. The hall, which was a neat, square building, was roofed with staging, forming a square in the centre of the hall, which allowed visitors to go right round the exhibits. The light, however, was poor, and the dull sort of weather did not tend to make matters any better, and certainly would not lighten the task of placing the awards, by Messrs. R. Marsh, Kirkintilloch, and P. V. Raine, Cathcart, but we did not hear much adverse criticism. Mr. Tawse, Huntocher, made his second win in both old and young bird cups. Mr. Morton won new cup for British Mules, etc.

The Critique.

1913 CL. OR TKD. YELL. NOV.: 1, Simpson, nice subs., stylish, good qual., neat head and neck, fine car., staged in capital fashion; 2, 3, Tawse, leader grizzle tail mkd., nice qual. and style, good cobby make, not just so well filled at top end, still, nice one, 3rd, good one, staged in rare trim, shapely, and neatly got up, might have gone up; 4, Sheridan, nice size and qual., fine car. and style, but not quite so beautifully rounded at front; 5, Morton; 6th, French; 7, Chambers. BUFF: 1, sp., Tawse, fine size and subs., nice silky, level col., good qual. feather, neat head and full neck, only fault just inclined to cross flights at times; 2, 3, French, leader, sweet qual., scarcely the subs. of winner, but hard up for car. and style, very neat and well put down, 3rd, neat one all over, in rare bloom very little behind; 4, 6, Morton, nice subs. and qual., neatly got up, but might have been staged more profitably; 5, sp, Sheridan; 7, Easton. YELL., VARIEG.: 1, cup, and medal, Tawse, capital exhibit, in rare bloom, real warm, even col. and silky texture feather, fine type and qual., grand front, well filled in at top end, clean cut behind, car. faultless, a topper; 2, Easton, rather less subs., but neat, short, cobby make, fine car. and style, but beaten here; 3, 4, Sheridan, leader rather lightly built, neat car., fine col. and sweet qual., well placed, 4, good type and qual., good car., weak at top end; 5, Wright. BUFF: 1, Sheridan, nice one, but could do with more head and neck, two essential points; 2, Tawse, fine subs. and qual., nicely staged; 3, no name, sweet non-fed, in the pink of condition, grand qual., fine type, short, typical, cobby body, neat full head and neck, short neat folded wings and tail, many liked for 1st; 4, McBride, neat one all over, but lacks subs. BORD. CL. OR TCK. YELL.: 1, Tawse, jaunty little fellow, in rare fettle, neat wings and tail, fine feather, might just be trifle sweeter in head points, 2nd, we could not find. BUFF: 1, sp., 2, Walker, leader, nice type and qual., neat car., and shapely body, 2nd, nice one for qual. of feather, very steady, sweetly filled in at top end, better head than leader, showing just little rough at thighs, but presses hard. VARIEG.: 1, Tawse, just a fair one all over. YORKS.: 1, Ferguson, fine, well drawn, shapely, neat waist, fine car. and style, sweet stamp, wins nicely; 2, 3, Kane, leader nice one for shape, style and car., fine qual. feather, but not so clean cut or lengthy as winner, 3rd, plenty subs., but a bit rough. A.O.V.: 1, sp., 2, Lang, winner, nice yell. green, sweet, neat, and shapely, A1 feather and con., 2nd, not quite so good in car. or tight in feather, rightly placed: 3, McArdle, we could not find. MULES: 1, cup, 2, Morton, splendid large variegs. Goldie Mule, plenty subs., fine blaze and markings, showing the Goldie parentage, very plainly, good one, likely to be heard of later on; 2, grand dark Jonque, staged in the pink, shining like glass, nice subs. and qual., hard up en winner; 3, 4, 5, Brandon, two former of the Goldie cross, nice size and subs., but lack the colour of those at front, very similar in appearance, 5th, nice Linnet Mule, in grand feather and very steady. OLD BIRD SECTION: SCOTCH FANCY: 1, 2, Ferguson, massive cl. buff, leader fine reach and good shoulder, thick through, fine drive, steady worker and one of the right kind, 2, broken green, nice make and style, but behind in size and subs., more timorous to work. CLR OR TKD. YELL. NOR.: 1, 2, Tawse, leader fine size and subs., neat, shapely, cobby built and stylish, put down in fine bloom, and very fit, 2, lovely hot, even colour, grand qual., neat, clean cut, and shapely, perfect car., running hard for first place; 3, French, again nice one for col. and qual. feather, shapely front, shade longer behind, and not the subs. of those in front; 4, sp., Easton, shade larger, nice qual. and con., not quite so clean cut or tight underneath; 5 Chambers; 6 McNeill; 7 Tawse. BUFF J, cup, 2, 3, sp., Tawse, leader plenty subs., and rare qual., typical, well filled in and neatly made throughout, the right stamp, 2nd, well up for subs., type and qual., but inclined to be trifle erratic in wing car. when moved, 3, sp., very similar to 2nd, and must have run hard to catch points; 4, French, good all round bird; 5, McNeill; 6, Chambers; 7, Easton. YELL., VAR.: 1, sp., 2, McNeill, leader capital subs. and best qual., fine col., neat, well filled in, cobby, staged in fine trim, 2nd, nice short, cobby, well made one, fine texture, feather, good car., could be trifle better at throat; 3, Tawse, nice one for qual., get up, beaten here for subs.; 4, French, fine subs., nice qual., well filled neck, sweet head, trifle faulty in wing car.; 5, Simpson; 6, McBride; 7, Wright. BUFF: 1, 3, 6, Tawse, 1st, fine, thick-set, massive built, neat, shapely, got up in the form that wins; 3, nice hot, even col., sweet qual. and perfect feather, not quite so massive, but neat through; 2, McNeill, scarcely so hot in col., grand, shapely body, nice full head and neck, well balanced throughout, many like for 1st; 4, McCown; 5, Chambers; 7, McBride. BORD., CL., OR TKD. YELL.: 1, McBride, jaunty, neat and clean cut all over, laid down in fine style; 2, Tawse, nice one for type and qual., falls a bit in head and neck. YELL. VAR.: 1, sp, Tawse, very shapely little saddle mark, in grand order, tight, waxy feather, grandly carried wings, and close tail, wins nicely; 2, Walker, fine type and good qual. feather, still moulting, should improve. BUFF: 1, Tawse, we missed. YORKS.: 1, sp., 3, 5, 7, Kane, leading with a lovely clean cut, well drawn, neat made exhibit, nice top end, could be a trifle better in leg, 3, not so lengthy, but close in feather and nice style, well staged; 2, 4, Ferguson, 2nd, nice qual., good shape and style, not so clean cut or close fronted as leader, 4th, fine length, very stylish and shapely, tightly dressed, good wings and tail, we thought might have won; 6, McNair. A.O.V.: L Chambers, nice qual. yell. Cinn. Nor., laid down in fine trim, a credit. MULE 1, sp., Robertson, nice Siskin cross, to top end, has size and best feather, nice Nor. type, steady and well laid down. GOLDF.: 1, DR BULLF.: 1, Tawse, nice cock Bullie, fine col., steady, good con. and feather, was one what badly. 2, Ferguson, fine hen, topping con., steady as a rock, 3, Brandon, nice little Goldie, not up in col. yet; 4, Laing, similar in condition, and general appearance to 3, 5, 6, Wright. LINN: 1, Morton, fine, massive one, capital feather, neatly pencilled, rich, nutty col., very steady and cobby shown, 2, Hutchison, not quite the cut, but nice col., and close, neat marking, will improve, 3, 6, Greer, leader fine cock, and good feather, nice pencillings, fails in head, 4, McArdle, nice one for condition and make, but behind in size, should improve; 5, Laing. SISKIN, ETC.: 1, 2, 5, sp, 6, Robb, 1st, grand little Lemon Poll, in capital order, beauty for col. and marking, in lovely bloom, 2nd, fine Siskin, in nice feather, rich oily, nicely marked, fine cap and nice wing, well pencilled flank, steady; 3, 4, sp., McArdle, leader nice H.M. Siskin, in top order, very steady; 4, Lemon, fine feather, nice col. and con., only behind winner in subs. GREENF.: 1, Morton, grand size Jonque, in capital order, fine col., steady, perfect feather, fine yellow flights, good win; 2, Hutchison, well up for size and subs., not in such spanking order as leader; 3, sp., 4, Greer, two nice ones, in good order, but lose in subs. BRAMBLE OR CHAFF.: 1, Ferguson, capital Chaff, in rare bloom, nice size, good col., steady, well shown, wins easy; 2, Greer, again a Chaffie, in nice condition and size, not up in col. yet; 3, McGown, finely coloured Bramble, grand size, nice spangling, steady, nicely shown, age seems to be leaving its mark there. LARGE BRIT.: 1, Hutchison, fine Song Thrush, in nice order, and very steady.

WATFORD.

Held Nov. 7 and 8 at the Conservative Hall. The show was a decided success, the excellence of the exhibits through all sections being beyond praise. The birds, numbering well over two hundred, were nicely arranged in the roomy hall, and each section was well filled, and some of the classes were quite strong. Norwich were a capital lot, and in this section the best Unflighted bird was found in Mr. Sear's grand yell., a bird of size, type, and quality. Mr. Wombwell staged a good team in the novice sections, and won the spl. for best novice with a good yellow. Mr. Buckingham turned out a rattling good lot of Yorks, many of them being birds that had done remarkably well in the open. Crests were quite exceptional in quality for a members' show, Miss Hewell and Mr. A. H. Campbell staging some stormers in the champion section, and Mr. Charnock winning the special with a grand Crest Bred in the novice classes. The fine gathering of British and foreign birds, as usual, attracted a lot of attention, Messrs. Goodall and Buckingham putting down some beauties in the former, and Mr. R. J. Watts having cut a lovely team of birds from over the seas. The sensation of the show was the lovely cinnamon Canary-Bullfinch bred and exhibited by Mr. Higham; the bird is only just through its first moult, but is of lovely quality of feather, and a nice soft tone of colour which could be improved immensely during the next moult; it is of good size, and very shapely, and secured the spl. for best in show. The exhibitor is to be congratulated upon breeding such a fine hybrid. The management was in the hands of Mr. J. Goodall, who was well up to the work, and had everything in good order. In the absence of Mr. W. Rackley, Sec., Mr. R. J. Watts undertook the duties attached to the secretarial office in a very able manner. The society has a committee consisting of Messrs. Pretty, Swain, Buckingham, Cox, Campbell, Clark, Bruce, Dumbledon, Fox, Knight, Furley, sen., Watts, Wombwell. Mr. H. Norman judged.

Electric Fleas. Blow or place a few on your friends, will soon cause them to scratch away and be unable to keep still; three boxes, 7d. Mysterious Voice: Place it on a chair when anyone is going to sit down, or place it in a cushion and watch your friends jump, or can be carried in the pocket; on pressing it will give way a funny voice; Price only 7d. for 2. Large catalogue of Jokes, etc. (nearly 200 illustrations), 1d. All lots mentioned above, value 3/-, for only 2/6. Everything post free.—YOUNG, 5, Misterton, Somerset. (992)

The Mystic Skeleton.—Latest mystifying conjuring trick; anyone can do it, no skill required. A jointed figure of a skeleton, 14in. in height, will dance to music, be driven and perform various gymnastications and movements, while the operator may be at any distance from it. May be examined by the spectators, and when handed back the operator simply puts it on a chair or table, when it seemingly becomes endowed with life, and begins to move at the command of the operator, who may be in any part of the room. It is similar to the wonderful skeleton used by Prof. Pepper for public exhibitions, parlour and social gatherings, schools, etc. Never fails to create a sensation; last for years. Price 7d., three for 1/1, with full directions. Send for one to-day, and astonish your friends or the public. Large number of testimonials received.

Mr. H. C., near Truro, writes: "The Mystic Skeletons" are very satisfactory, and cause great amusement." It is posted free, from F. Young, 5, Misterton, Somerset. (993)

PREPAID ADVERTISEMENTS

UNDISPLAYED.—6d. for the first eighteen words. One Halfpenny per Word for each word over eighteen. Name and address to be reckoned. MINIMUM, 18 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and, after the first Eighteen words, are charged at two words a penny, but no single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona fide name and address of the advertisor, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Small prepaid advertisements of a general nature and not connected in any way with the Cage Bird Trade are inserted at the rate of ½d. per word throughout. Minimum 12 words 6d.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

Advt. Manager, "Cage Birds"

ALWAYS USE OUR DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit system should be insisted upon

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient, plus the extra postage incurred, has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Unorossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller, stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expirration of three days.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

WANTED A TRIAL

We are confident our medicines will give you satisfaction. We guarantee to return every penny paid if they fail to do as we advertise. Ditchfield's medicines have been used for over five years by most leading fanciers, and are supplied to the London Zoological Society. We have hundreds of testimonials, testifying to the value of our bird medicines. Mr. Clark, of Port Bannatyne, writes: "Have used most medicines advertised, but have never had anything to equal yours, and have been a breeder for 30 years." J. Duncan, West Brae, writes: "Have used your special Lung Tonic, also your Tonic Drops, for over two years, and they have never failed to cure." A. Sammons, Southend-on-Sea: "You have got a genuine remedy which no fancier should be without." Major B. Horshrough: "Your medicine is magnificent stuff." Our medicines are perfectly safe, and can be fully relied upon. All medicines are sent per return of post; any bottles broken in transit replaced. Ditchfield's Tonic Drops are a Guaranteed cure for soft moult, not singing, going light, dulness, feather plucking, diarrhoea, and inflammation of the bowels. In 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. For bronchitis, wheezing, loss of voice, and hoarseness, get Ditchfield's Special Lung Tonic, also in 7d., 1/1, and 2/- bottles. The grandest chest and lung tonic ever introduced for cage birds. To advertise our medicines we will send a 7d. bottle of each of the above medicines for 1/-, or two 1/1 bottles for 1/9. For cases of constitutional weakness and debility get Ditchfield's famous Revivo. There is nothing to equal it for giving new life and vigour to the bird. As a pick-me-up for birds before and after showing this tonic is absolutely unequalled. Sold in 7d. and 1/1 bottles. All medicines post paid per return. Two valuable seed recipes how to feed Linnets and Rollers for song, given free to all purchasers of our medicines: Frank Ditchfield, Bird Specialist, Oldham. (979)

GOLDFINCHES, SISKINS, LINNETS, ETC.

We are patronised, and have been for 40 years, by every leading Crystal Palace judge and exhibitor, so our reputation stands second to none. We give above reward if it can be proved we send out unhealthy birds or hens for cocks. Editor of this journal has seen scores of original testimonials for birds we have supplied, which have bred hundreds of winning Mules. So if you intend buying British birds, buy from us, who have hundreds each week to pick from. We don't send out birds straight from the field: all are well on seed; guaranteed. Real English 1913 cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/- each, three 4/-, six 7/-, twelve 12/-; hens, 8d. and 10d.; extra picked, for muling, 2/6, 3/- each, three 5/-, six 8/6; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-; hens, 10d. and 1/-; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d. and 1/-; cock Siskins, 2/-, 2/6, 3/-; hens, 1/- and 1/6; Lancashire cock Linnets, 8d., 10d., 1/- each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; Greenfinches, 6d. each, three 1/3; cages for any of above, from 6d., 9d., 1/-, 1/3, 1/6, and 2/-. Mammoth Double No.

Gentlemen, There Are No better F.M. British in the world than what I am offering this week; I have sold hundreds of winners, and have still hundreds to send out. Don't be misled by spurious imitations, with their so called aviaries; wire netting does not make good birds; all my show specimens and songsters are caged separately and are quite tame, ready for immediate exhibition. I have the best and oldest established shop in the city, so send along, gentlemen, if you want satisfaction, as I give 7 days' approval for cash or deposit, and guarantee every bird as described. Real giant Siberian cock Goldfinches, real deep square-cut blaze, broad heads, feathers like wax, cannot be beaten, 4/, 4/6, 5/6, and a few stormers, 7/6 each; Siberian Bullfinches, as large as Thrushes, cocks 5/-; hens 4/-, 4/6, 5/6, 7/6; try one of mine, and if not better than you get elsewhere, let mine go; beautiful yellow cock Siskins, with good cap and bib, well laced, real gems, win anywhere, 4/6, 5/6 each, and a grand lot sure mulers, 2/-, 2/6 each; these can win at small shows; giant Mealy Redpolls, well laced, real gems, ready to win, 2/- and 2/6; Lesser Redpolls, the best behind wires, 2/6; giant yellow cock Greenfinch, a stormer, 1/6; also hen, a beauty, 1/-; real English pear tree cock Goldfinches, with deep, square-cut blaze, broad heads, richly tanned, can win anywhere, 4/-, 5/6, and a grand lot of giants, sure mulers, 2/-, 2/6, 3/- each; cock Bullfinches, beauties, 2/-, 2/6; Norwich type cock Linnet, well pencilled, steady as rocks, real giants, 2/-, 2/6; if you can find better than these let mine go; fierce singing cock Linnets, sing anywhere, 1/-, 1/6; quality songsters, cannot be beaten, 2/-, 2/6 each; muling Linnets, on song, 1/6; book of secrets, 6d.; cock Lark and cage, 1/6; Ubal Rollers, 8/6; Seiferts, 7/6; St. Andreasberg, 6/6; a written guarantee is sent with each Roller, naming their notes, and pointing out their qualities for contest singing; no harsh notes; try a Ubal, best in the world; all birds sent per return; p.c. advising time of train; state wants, please: Fred Allen, British Bird Champion, 156, Porter-st Aviaries, Hull. (1045)

MOST OF YOU

have had a little experience of sending for birds by post. May I ask: Has the result always been to your satisfaction? Haven't you felt just a little disappointed when you found that the stock which you expected was gong to "lick creation" was only just the ordinary after all? By dealing with me you avoid all this. I guarantee everything I sell to be accurately described and exactly as represented in my advt., so that by sending to me you know exactly what to expect. Moreover, I send everything on approval (as per "Cage Birds" rules) on the distinct understanding that unless you are perfectly satisfied you have only to return birds and the whole of your money is promptly and cheerfully refunded. I have on hand a splendid lot of genuine Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, in perfect health and feather all warranted clean moulted, in full colour and superb condition, 2s. each, three 5/-, six 8/6, twelve 16/-; grand lot of selected steady cocks, all separately caged and in free song 3/ each, three 7/6; few real exhibition birds, with full complement of show points, 4/- and 5/- each; hen Goldfinches 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/6. Handsome lot cock Siskins, in full colour, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 8/6, twelve 16/-; selected birds, 3/-, three 7/6; exhibition specimens 4/- and 5/- each; hen Siskins, 1/- each, three 2/6, six 4/-, twelve 7/-. Grand lot cock Brown Linnets, in superb condition, 9d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/6; selected steady cocks, guaranteed in song, 1/- each, three 2/-, six 3/6, twelve 6/-; exhibition specimens 2/6 each. Cock Greenfinches 6d each, three 1/-; exhibition yellows, 2/6 each. Cock Chaffinches 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-. Cock Bramblefinches 1/- each, three 2/-; cock Twites 1/- each, three 2/-; cock or hen Redpolls 6d. each, three 1/3: magnificent stock cock Larks, all big bold birds and real cocks, 8d. each, three 1/6, six 2/6, twelve 4/-; selected steady cocks, guaranteed in song, 1/6, 2/- and 2/6 each; cock Bullfinches, 2/- and 3/- each, hens 1/- and 1/6 each; special travelling cages, 3d. per three birds extra. Exhibitors please note: I do not tell you a lot of rot about "massive giants," and "best in world," etc.; sufficient for me to say is that what I call an exhibition bird is a bird good enough to win first prizes. I know what is wanted, and I know that you know that also. I probably handle more English hardbills than any other three men, and out of them get a few tip-toppers weekly, and as I do not exhibit birds, all are for sale. Every bird I sell is guaranteed properly netted by expert catchers working solely for myself. I get the whole catches, and do not buy from any man that advertises: W. Gore, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (1024)

From 30% to 15% Saved

By purchasing direct from me High-class Norwich. If you pay same price as to others, you get it in quality; if same quality, you get it in lower prices. There can be little doubt but that at the present moment I possess the finest stock of this variety for sale in Europe. Amongst the birds are several winners that will be sold at reasonable prices. I do not mean the so-called winners continually advertised by certain classes at a few shillings that cheap talk is an insult to the intelligence of any sane person; but I will select and match some of the best stock pairs ever seen (so far as value goes) at 21/-, 30/-, and 40/- per pair. Odd Cocks or Hens, same quality, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-. Make a comparison of these with some of the "Stereotyped Bargains." Others as follows:—5/6, 6/6, 8/6 upwards, hens, 2/3, 2/6, 3/6; pairs, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-; cages, 3d. On approval. Easiest of easy payments by joining my Bird Club. Distance no object.

THE most up-to-date manual on this popular breed is "Norwich Canaries: How to Breed, Manage, and Exhibit," by C. A. House. It contains a beautiful coloured plate, and many black and white illustrations. In it will be found fullest hints and instructions on all the various points which go to make up a champion Norwich. It deals in a most practical manner with all the various stages of the life of a Norwich from the egg to the show bench, explains fully how to pair up the stock birds, how to feed the young, the art of colour feeding, and the way to wash and prepare birds for show. Do not be without it, post free 1/1½, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

MY Norwich are winning in keenest competition, see show reports last week, with nine exhibits I won eight cash prizes, including "C.B." diploma. The great point is, I do not exhibit the same birds at every show; I keep no reserved show team; every bird is for sale; it must strike you that my stock of Norwich is consistently good right through to keep selling my winners and keep winning as well. I hold the finest stud living; have still grand show birds from 20s. each; stock pairs from 15/- per pair; approval willingly three days; cash or deposit Editor. Note the name and only address of the great Norwich Specialist: Judge Silk, Whitstable. (1039)

CHAMPION Norwich.—Few real good stock and exhibition Norwich Plainheads now ready for immediate showing; plenty of size, good colour, large heads and full necks, rare type and quality of feather; yellow and buff cocks, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 21/-, to £3 each; yellow and buff hens, 5/-, 7/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 21/-, to £2 each; judiciously matched pairs to breed winners, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 21/-, to £5 pair; all cold room bred, strong, healthy, and vigorous, and in tip-top show condition; for size, type and quality I defy competition: give me a trial, and I will guarantee full satisfaction; state wants fully; approval: Warminger, 28, Guernsey-rd., Norwich. JUST use your own judgment and then think for yourselves. Why you should buy imported rubbish faked up especially for sale, that live for a few weeks only, perhaps not that, then die off; you cannot tell the reason why. When you can get a pure English cold-room bred Hummel Roller that will live 6 or 7 years, guaranteed in full rolling song, day and gaslight, with long bass rolls, sweet silvery trills, bell, harp and gong notes, etc., not one harsh note in its song, on 7 days' approval, on receipt of 7s. 6d.; common sense will tell which is best. Hens 2s. each. All cocks guaranteed as advertised, and sent on 7 days approval on receipt of P.O. Buy from the breeder and get satisfaction: Wilson, the Roller Breeder, Ada-rd., near Shirland-rd., Smethwick, Worcestershire. (See last week's advt.) (1043)

PURE SEIFERT ROLLERS.

I have now a splendid selection of these marvellous songsters, in full rolling song, with many changes, including the beautiful hollow-roll, hollow-bell, water-roll, shockel and Glucke tours, prices 8/6, 10/-, 12/6, 15/- each. Schoolmasters, specially trained for contest singing, 17/6, 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/- each. Hens, guaranteed same pure strain, 2/6, 3/6, 4/-, 5/- each. Every bird sent on 10 days' approval at my sole risk. Travelling cages, 3d. extra.—JOE THOMAS, Breeder, Exhibitor, and Exporter, Ambler Thorn, Halifax, Yorks. Over 35 years same address.

I HAVE some of the best Rollers in England bar none; real contest singing birds; no steam whistles, but birds it is a pleasure to hear, with the full piccolo trills and jug-jug of the Nightingale; send 7/6 for a full week's approval and be delighted: Bedford, 159, Mary-st., Balsall Heath, Birmingham.

DEEP FULL HOLLOW STRAIN

My strain won again last year at the most important German shows three massive gold and massive silver medals. Will send cocks from 10/- to 60/-, hens 2/6 to 5/-. Very fine breeding birds, 70/- to 120/- per dozen. Very convenient for re-selling. Over 50 gold and silver medals in the last 12 years: E. Kaferstein, Leipzig-Neuch, Germany. (947)

SEIFERT ROLLERS

No. 1, 12/6; No. 2, 10/6; No. 3, 8/6; Hartz cocks, vigorous songsters, 5/6; special trained schoolmasters, 15/-, and 21/- each; hens, 14/- doz.; dealers should send for prices: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

WANTED ONE MORE

customer. Will you be that one? If you are looking for a Roller Canary, I have no hesitation in saying I can give you better value at a lower price than any man in the trade. For years past I have invited intending purchasers to test a Leipzig Roller from me against an ordinary Roller costing any higher price from elsewhere, and I have repeatedly published letters from persons who have done this, saying the Leipzig Rollers have beaten birds costing three times as much elsewhere. I now hold a very large stock of genuine Leipzig Roller cocks in full song day and gaslight, with long, hollow and double rolls, sweet, silvery trills, water-bubble runs, soft roulades, piccolo trills, jug-jug of the Nightingale, bell, harp and flute notes, etc., and guaranteed entirely free from any harsh or objectionable notes whatever, price 6/6 and 7/6 each; special Bandmasters, which have an exceedingly soft, mellow tone, and excel in the deep bass and bubbling water tours, 10/6 and 12/6 each; hens of same strain, 2/- each, 3/6 couple. These Bandmaster Rollers are real professor birds, and just the thing for tutors for young birds. For those who prefer a loud, noisy singer, I have a splendid lot of free singing Hartz cocks, all loud, vigorous singers, day and gaslight, and just right for public bar or coffee house, price 5/- each. Special travelling cages, 3d. extra in all cases. Singing box cages, 1/6 each; special Roller cabinet cages, with loose fronts, and folding doors, 3/- and 4/- each. Following few letters are sample of the hundreds I receive, and are guaranteed entirely unsolicited, and unduplicated. Note full name and addresses given in each case. "1, Caroline-st., Seaham Harbour; Nov. 1st. Sir,—Roller arrived in good, health, and singing a treat. I am highly satisfied.—Yours, R. Wilkinson." "Cheddleton Leek, Nov. 3. Sir,—Roller arrived safe, and I am highly satisfied. He sang grand at night. Thanking you for way you have treated me.—Yours, G. Oakley." "15, King's-rd., Whithorn, Nov. 1st. Sir,—Birds give every satisfaction. The cock is singing night and day. Thanking you for such good birds, at the price, and quick dispatch.—Yours, A. C. Christine." "Sybil Villas, Clydach, Oct. 25th. Sir,—Roller to hand, a beauty. I paid double the price for one from ——, which was not so good.—Yours, M. Morgan." "34, South-rd., West Hartlepool, Nov. 2. Sir,—Please send two Leipzig hens. The Roller cock I had from you has done extra well. His singing is great, and better this year than ever.—Yours, G. Wilson." "154, Swanston-st., Glasgow, Nov. 4. Sir,—I am more than pleased with Leipzig Roller cock, as he is singing from early morning ever since arrival. I shall recommend you.— Yours, J. Foley." "14, Herberton-rd., West Southbourne, Bournemouth, Nov. 5th. Sir,—Birds arrived safely, and give me every satisfaction. I shall be pleased to recommend you.—Yours, H. Miller." "35, Kay-st., Freetown, Bury, Oct. 30. Sir,—I have received birds in the perfect condition you advertise them. I can hardly express my thanks, as they are the three nicest birds I have seen, and anyone wishing to see them can with greatest of pleasure.—Yours, J. Lindley." "169, Lenton Sands, Derby-rd., Nottingham, Nov. 10th. Sir,—Please send two more Leipzig Rollers. I was highly pleased with those I had last year; they have such a nice mellow tone, and the changes are so nice.—Yours, H. Garton." Please note all genuine Leipzig Rollers are stamped on wing, "Hans Weber Leipzig," and I am the sole importer of this strain. All are safely and warmly packed with food and water for 48 hours' journey, and sent on full week's trial, solely at my risk, during whole time, immediately on receipt of cash (or if same is deposited with Editor), and unless bird proves in every way satisfactory, and realises your every expectation, you only have to return it, and the whole of your money is promptly and cheerfully returned, and remember, when you deal with me, you are dealing with a continuous advertiser for past 22 years, not here to-day and gone to-morrow sort. MAMMOTH DOUBLE NO.

One Example out of Scores received during past week for Rollers alone.

Nov. 15th, 1913, Oranmore, Ireland. "Dear Sir,—I have to thank you for Roller, which I received today after a long and tedious journey, and was pleasantly surprised to be treated to a Roller song in so short a time afterwards. All who have had the pleasure of his entertainment speak highly of him and his education. It will be indeed a living testimonial to you and your house. With renewed thanks for the very satisfactory way you treated me."—M. Colgan.

GENUINE TRAINED

Seifert Hartz Mountain Rollers, direct from the Hartz Mountains in Germany. 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 15/-, 20/-, 30/- each. Hens, same strains, 2/6, 3/6, 5/-. Hartz Cocks, 4/6, 5/6, 6/6; Hens, 1/6, 2/-. Come and See!

Seeing and hearing is believing, and I invite you to come, see, and hear my birds any day (except Sundays), and you will be convinced who has the best collection, and who gives the best value in singing Canaries. If you cannot come to select the bird you require, allow me to send you one on seven days' approval at my sole risk. I guarantee to give you satisfaction. In 1896 my Roller Canaries took the lead, and they have continually for the past 17 years been in open competition with all comers (including all those fictitious and fancy named nonsuchers), and have not yet been beaten. In every open contest where my birds have been compared with others of the supposed same quality, mine have taken the lead with many points to spare. It is to your great advantage to place your orders with me, for every bird has the reputation and experience of 17 years' practical knowledge behind it, and every bird of such quality as demands repeat orders and recommendation to your friends. I do not use any fictitious or fancy names, but sell every bird on its own merits. My genuine trained St. Andreasburg Rollers are imported direct (by myself) from the most reliable and experienced breeders in Germany. No middleman's profits, hence the high quality at reasonable prices. St. Andreasburg Roller cocks, with full change of song by day and artificial light, genuine up-to-date songsters, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6 each; hens, same strain, 2/6, 3/-, 3/0 each (not common German rubbish). For cheap reliable songsters my Hartz cocks are unequalled, and acknowledged by all to be the real working man's friend. Birds in full, loud, free song by day and gaslight, real loud, sweet songsters, Hartz cocks, 4/9, 5/3, 5/9, 6/3 each, according to quality of song. Matched pairs for breeding songsters, 7/6, 8/-, 8/6. Neat travelling cages, 3d. each; special quotations to clubs and dealers. Travelling cages from 2/- dozen, 20/6 per gross. All birds on 7 days' approval at my sole risk; cash or deposit: E. L. Storey, The Roller Specialist, Crowle, Doncaster.
